

HELPING THE BOY.

Professor McKeever Helps a Lot With His "Boy" Bulletins.

William A. McKeever, professor of philosophy at the Kansas State Agricultural college, is helping solve the boy problem—what Young America should do, how he shall work, and where he shall play. The author of "Farm Boys and Girls" has a famous slogan: "Train the whole boy and not merely a part of him." In addition to lecturing on child problems, Professor McKeever is issuing a series of "Home Training Bulletins," treating the following subjects: The Cigarette Smoking Boy; Teaching the Boy to Save; Teaching the Girl to Help in the Home; Assisting the Boy in Choice of Vocation; A Better Crop of Boys and Girls; Training the Boy to Work; Teaching the Girl to Save; Instructing the Young in Regard to Sex.

"I have profound faith in the common boy," Dr. McKeever is quoted as saying. "The common boy has within his being at infancy all the latent possibilities of intellect, of morals, of spirituality, necessary for developing him into a citizen of great worth, and all these may be wrought into his character provided we begin his training in time and deal with him intelligently throughout his growing years."

Dr. McKeever is a recognized authority on questions of child culture; his words carry weight. "Home Training Bulletin No. 9," deals with the timely subject of the "Boy's Vacation Employment." "Take the boy's point of view," is Professor McKeever's first warning. "Work the boys in groups," is another suggestion. Dr. McKeever touches on the necessity of play and gives an interesting list of possible summer occupations. In the introduction he says: "The vacation period is a time of peculiar trials and difficulties for the parents of the typical American boy, especially if they dwell in the town or city. What to do with such a boy during the summer season, how to direct his energies into ways that will be helpful to his character, how to select his employment suitably for giving him training and discipline such as will be properly related to the joyous activities that are his as a kind of divine inheritance—these are the questions they must try to answer. Parents may be assured that the boy continues to learn either good or evil during practically every day of the summer season. His buoyant energies, if not directed into ways that are praiseworthy, will most probably lead him into ways that are permanently hurtful."

YANK POLOISTS WON.

Defeated Bloomin' British by Narrow Margin.

Meadowbrook Club, Westbury, Long Island, June 15.—By the narrow margin of one-quarter of one goal, the American Polo team won the second and deciding game of the International cup series at the Meadowbrook club and thereby retains the trophy for at least another year. The score was 4½ to 4.

The slight advantage of the United States four over the English challengers at the end of one hour of the most desperate kind of play is fully indicated by the trifling difference in the scores of the two teams. Each play of the game shown by both fours has never been seen heretofore in either national or international contests in this country.

The spectacle thrilled the crowd of 25,000 persons until it was fairly carried away and "red" like a typical baseball crowd during the final period of play. Never for a moment did the action lag and the game was one continuous spectacle of rushes.

In the sixty minute melee, the English

FACE SERIOUS CHARGE.

Duck and Marcelle Charged Sending Obscene Matter in Mails.

Ernest Duck has pleaded guilty to the charge of sending obscene matter through the U. S. mails and John Marcelle, colored, pleaded not guilty to the charge and his preliminary hearing will be held in the U. S. District Court, tomorrow afternoon.

Duck is charged with sending obscene letters to girls working in a Topeka factory and attempting to make a date with the girls in North Topeka. One of the girls found the letter and turned it over to the manager of the factory who immediately gave it to Chief of Police J. W. F. Hughes. A trap was laid for Duck by the chief which led to the arrest of two men. A date was made by Police Woman Miss Eva Corning and Miss Jennie Smith to meet the two men at a dyke at North Topeka.

Four police officers, Sergeant Ross and Lytle and Officers Hall and Hanon accompanied the women who appeared at the dyke at the appointed hour. They were met by John Marcelle, a colored man, who was immediately arrested. Duck was hiding in some tall grass at that time. Marcelle was taken to the police station where he revealed Duck's identity and gave a description of him. Later Charles Lytle located him at the City park and arrested him.

Marcelle, who is suspected of being John E. Jordan, is in the city jail awaiting trial and Duck was released on a $500 bond. Duck stated that Marcelle had written several of the letters. He (Duck) signed his name as Delbert Charlton and Marcelle changed his first name to Leon.

NOT WAITING FOR CARS

The Crowds Walked and Drove to Gage Park Sunday.

Topeka didn't bother about waiting for a street car line to Gage park Sunday. The city's beauty spot was crowded from morning until late at moonlight.

And the Gage beach—at one time Sunday afternoon, 110 legs, 110 arms, and 55 bodies were splashing, frolicking and plunging in the cool waters of the small lake.

Many entire families spent the afternoon in the waters—the women catching their breath in the shallows, the children paddling and wading along the beach and the bald-headed fathers, bleaching their naked "domes" out in the sparkling sunshiny ripples.

The city has just completed a new bath house with 40 additional lockers for the convenience of the bathers. A new board walk—rivalling in attraction and sensation the famous board walk at Atlantic City—will be built from the bath houses to the edge of the water.

It was a gala day at Gage park—a day that should have been witnessed by the city commissioners who voted against a street car line.

SUFFRAGE WORLD WIDE

Bills in Seventeen National Parliaments and Many States.

Budapest, June 15.—The Woman's Suffrage congress was formally opened here. The minister of education, in behalf of the government, the burgomaster of Budapest and Countess Oská Teleki, president of the Hungarian organizing committee, delivered addresses of welcome.

Mrs. Chapman Catt, of New York, in her presidential address, devoted her attention to the phenomenal growth of women's movements, saying that there are only a few countries now without an organized movement.

During the past winter women's suffrage bills had been considered in 17 national parliaments and 33 states and other legislatures. The greatest gains had been in America.

Mrs. Catt denounced the "white slave" bondage of brown and yellow women by western men living in the east, as one saddest and most tragic of all western influences whereby thousands of eastern girls are sacrificed every year.

LONG ROW BOAT TRIP.

Navy Man to Travel Length of Mississippi River.

St. Paul, Minn., June 15.—Andrew Koehn, honorably discharged quartermaster of the United States navy, who is out to row the entire length of the Mississippi river, left Lake Itasca on his long journey. He will reenter the navy when he finishes his trip, which he expects will consume about 90 days.

The trip is being made in a galvanized steel boat of Koehn's own design. He expects to cover the distance between here and Lake Itasca (about 500 miles) in 30 days. He will not leave the boat until the end of his journey has been reached and will pay his expenses by selling en route the official magazine of the navy. The adventure has been approved by the navy department.

BIG FIRE AT RESERVE.

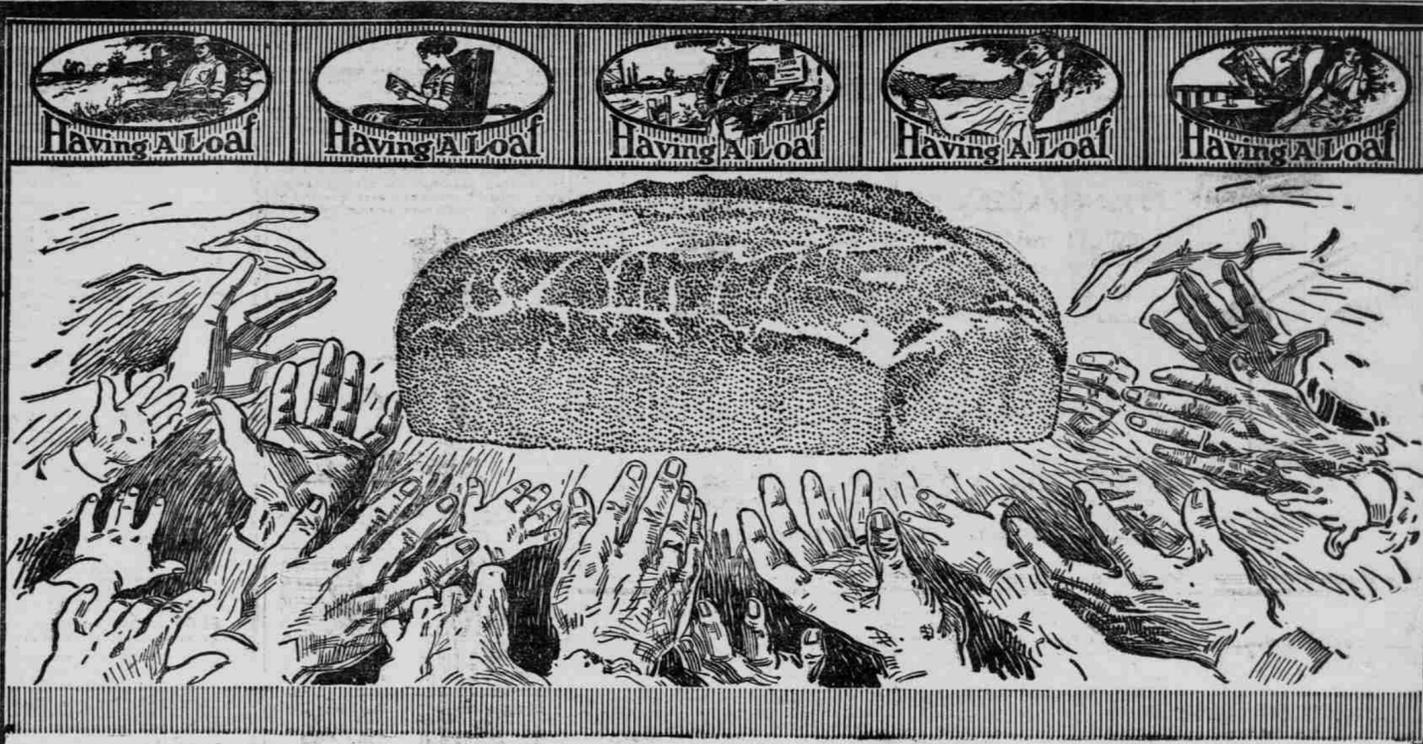

Business Section Damaged to the Amount of $25,000.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 15.—The business section of Reserve, Kan., a little town about fifty miles from here, was almost totally wiped out by a fire which is supposed to have started in a pile of oil-soaked rags in a harness shop. The harness shop, a restaurant, a general store, a furniture store, a newspaper plant and a butcher shop were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $25,000. Citizens of the town turned out in force and fought the flames by forming a bucket brigade.

Reserve's business section was almost totally destroyed seventeen years ago by a cyclone.
