Giants, Hopelessly Outclassed, Win Only One Game.

Polo Grounds, Oct. 11.—The Philadelphia Athletics, pennant winners of the American League, are the world's series champions of 1913. Defeating the New York Giants by a score of 3 to 1 today, the Athletics captured their fourth victory of the series. The National League pennant winners won one game. Plank's marvelous pitching today when he held the Giants to two hits makes him the pitching hero of the world's series games. Last Wednesday on the Philadelphia field Plank shut out the Giants for nine innings only to lose the contest in the tenth. The Athletics left hander was never in better form, his bewildering cross fire sending the Giants on their heads. Had not Plank muffed a pop fly with a double play in sight, the Giants would have gone scoreless through the game. Mathewson also pitched superb ball and after the third inning held the Athletics safely. The Philadelphia club garnered its three runs in the first and third innings. After the game Manager McGraw hurried over to the Athletics' bench and congratulated Connie Mack. The Philadelphia rooters swarmed down upon the diamond and bore Eddie Plank across the field on their shoulders. Thirty-five thousand people saw the game.

First Inning.—The crowd gave a big cheer when Mathewson walked out to the hurling hill. Murray singled on the first ball pitched. Fletcher being barely able to reach it with his un-gloved hand. Murphy was forced at second when Plank pitched to Fletcher. Mathewson made a nice play on the ball. Collins shot a single to right. Oldring easily making third. Oldring's sacrifice fly. Burns made a wild throw to the plate, the ball going over McLean's head. Collins went to second on the wild throw. Herzog took McLean's splash and threw to Doyle, who touched out Collins. One run, two hits, one error.

Second Inning.—Doyle tossed out Strunk at first. Mathewson's big looping drop curve was in fine working order. Barry out on a high fly to Murray. Schang faced the pitcher for the first time in the series. Schang got an infield single which bounded off Matty's glove. Plank popped out Herzog. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning.—Philadelphia—Murphy got his second single to left, the ball going like a rocket between Fletcher and Herzog. Doyle made an error on Oldring's grounder. Murphy going to second. Collins out when Merkle took his sacrifice bunt and touched him on the line. Both runners moved up. Murphy scored when Merkle took Baker's smash and threw to the plate. It was a Cincinnati base hit for Baker. Oldring's sacrifice fly to Burns. Baker was held at first. Doyle threw out Strunk at first. Two runs, two hits, one error.

Fourth Inning.—Philadelphia—Fletcher threw out Barry. Murray took Schang's short fly after a good run. Fletcher caught Plank's fly back of second base. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning.—Philadelphia—Doyle threw out Murphy at first. Doyle also took care of Oldring's grounder and had him an easy out at first. Collins out on a fly to Shafer. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning.—Philadelphia—Baker shot a liner to right for a base. McLean threw out McInnis. It was a sacrifice bunt. Doyle threw out Strunk. Baker going to third. Fletcher threw out Barry at first. Fletcher made a bad throw and Merkle made a beautiful stop. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Seventh Inning.—Philadelphia—Doyle threw out Collins at first. Matty threw out Baker. Fletcher threw out McInnis at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning.—Philadelphia—Doyle threw out Collins at first. Matty threw out Baker. Fletcher threw out McInnis at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning.—Philadelphia—Strunk out on a fly to Shafer. Herzog threw out Barry. Schang struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Official score:

Philadelphia: R. 3, B. 3, E. 1. New York: R. 1, B. 0, E. 0.

FARMERS WIN OUT

Supreme Court Orders Release of Tannhill and Keller.

Convicted in Shawnee on Resisting the Law.

DODGED OCCUPATION TAX

But Neodesha Butcher Will Do It No More.

Other Decisions of Interest Handed Down Today.

The supreme court today reversed the decision of the Shawnee county district court when it ordered the release of John Tannhill and Robert H. Keller, convicted 18 months ago on a charge of resisting a process of law when they secured the return of several head of horses which had been seized under an attachment. Tannhill and Keller are well to do Shawnee county farmers and their trial and conviction attracted considerable attention at the time. An attachment placed in the hands of a Shawnee county official resulted in the seizure of some horses belonging to the defendants. Tannhill and Keller swore out a writ of replevin and went to the home of Jerry Estes, with whom a deputy sheriff had left the horses. At the Estes home, the defendants told Estes that they had come for their property and that they had "the papers" for their return. Estes permitted the men to take the horses. Then Tannhill and Keller were arrested. A jury found them guilty of violating a section of the criminal law. The defendants appealed and the supreme court today reversed the decision of the lower court and ordered their release.

BLOWN OFF TRACK

Freight Train Wrecked by a Storm in Wisconsin.

Man Struck by Lightning and Big Property Damage.

Lacrosse, Oct. 11.—One known dead, many injured, many thousands of dollars worth of damage to buildings, large numbers of live stock killed, large numbers of trees uprooted, fires, and one train blown off the track are the results in western Wisconsin of the storm late Friday. Walter Spangler, aged 27, was struck by lightning near New Amsterdam, Wis., and killed. Many sustained broken arms and other injuries around Sparta, Tomah and Virouqua, but all those thus far heard from will recover. A freight train was blown off the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul track between Lisbon and Mauston, and the cars were piled in a heap, delaying traffic for hours. Factory buildings at Tomah, Lacrosse and Onalaska were unroofed. Miles of tobacco sheds, with their valuable contents southeast of Virouqua were destroyed.

LACK OF EQUIPMENT.

To That Is Attributed Failure to Release the Volturino.

New York, Oct. 11.—When the attention of Captain Garden, in charge of the district of Cape Hatteras for the release of the Volturino, was called to the failure of a number of vessels to put a line aboard the Volturino he explained they must have lacked equipment in use in the American service. "We have a very simple hand gun on each of our boats which we can throw a line over any vessel at a reasonable distance," he said. "It is a very simple matter where the distance is not more than 200 feet. If it goes beyond that course we have an attachment to a six pound gun which will carry a thousand feet under ordinary circumstances and a storm will easily carry two-thirds of that distance."

FIGHT NEAR LAREDO.

Mexican Federals and Rebels Have Been Engaged Two Days.

Laredo, Oct. 11.—A battle between Mexican federals and constitutionalists that was begun yesterday is reported in progress today fifty miles south of here. Federals at Nuevo Laredo admitted five dead, including one lieutenant, in yesterday's fighting, and many more were today reported killed on both sides. "I suppose in the light of this disaster the first thing that occurred at London to consider safety at sea will recommend that each passenger steamer carry appliances of this sort."

GIANTS' LAST STAND.

With Their Big Gun Matty in the Breach.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 11.—The New York Giants stood in their last line of entrenchments today, and with their "big gun," Christy Mathewson, wheeled into the breach, faced the Philadelphia Athletics, who needed but one more victory charge to make them world champions of 1913. With all his pitching artillery shattered by the Athletics' bombardment, Manager McGraw was forced to send Mathewson to the firing line with only two days' rest. The National League champions have won only one game in the series. Thirty-five thousand or more persons came out to the Polo grounds to view the battle.

The gloomy weather kept the Philadelphia crowd down to a small number, but those enthusiastic few sat behind the Athletics' bench and never missed an opportunity to cheer their team. With heavy clouds drifting in from seaward, there was a constant fear that rain might end the struggle. Canvas mats protected the inner playing field from the night's downpour and the ground-keepers had the diamond in shape for smart fielding play.

STOPS CONGRESS

Huerta Suspends Both Branches of National Legislature

After Locking Up 110 Members of the Chamber.

THEY SIGNED RESOLUTIONS

Warning Him Because of a Senator's Disappearance.

New Election of Senators and Deputies Oct. 26.

Mexico City, Oct. 11.—Both branches of the Mexican national congress were formally declared suspended at a late hour last night by Provisional President Huerta.

The declaration was made after 110 members of the chamber of deputies had been arrested and lodged in the penitentiary for signing resolutions of warning to General Victoria Huerta, because of the disappearance of the senator for Chiapas, Dr. Delisario Dominguez. A proclamation was issued just before midnight calling for a late hour last night by Provisional President Huerta.

The arrests followed a demand by President Huerta that the chamber withdraw the resolution, which carried the threat that the deputies would abandon the capital owing to an alleged lack of guarantees for their personal safety.

Senator Dominguez early in the month made a speech in the senate violently attacking Huerta, saying that not only had nothing been done during Huerta's regime toward the pacification of the country, but the present situation in the republic was infinitely worse than before. He said the currency of Mexico had depreciated, field had been neglected and towns razed and that famine threatened. He added that the situation was first and foremost due to the fact that the Mexican people could not resign themselves to be governed by Huerta.

Huerta Becomes Dictator. Mexico City, Oct. 11.—Provisional President Huerta's coup last night, where he hid himself in a spectacular manner of the legislative bodies of the government and constituted himself dictator of the Mexican republic, has led the city today in a state of tense expectancy.

The dissolution of the National congress was not wholly unexpected in political circles, but the manner of its accomplishment served to demonstrate the lengths to which the executive was prepared to go to maintain his grasp upon the administrative affairs of the nation. The capital was alive with rumors this morning, one of them being to the effect that three deputies arrested last night, who were most active in promoting the clash with Huerta, have disappeared.

This report was not given much credence. President Huerta before the arrests were made had given his word that none of the deputies would be harmed. Senator Dominguez, upon his attack on the provisional president in the senate was the starting point of the row, has not come to light. He is said to have prepared for events in advance. Having determined upon his conduct, he made his will and bade his family and friends goodbye, declaring that he expected to pay for his efforts with his life. By many, the senator is believed to have fled the country.

Gives His Reasons.

The dissolution of the national congress was based upon the alleged usurpation by the deputies and senators of the prerogative of the chief executive in the matter of Senator Dominguez. Provisional President Huerta declared that the chamber of deputies had constituted itself one of the executive's worst enemies, hostile to all his acts and invading his jurisdiction, even to a point of questioning his selection of a minister of state. By its demagogic tendencies, Huerta said, it had attacked the bases of the existence of the nation and had taken upon itself all branches of the government.

He declared his patience with the body had been taxed to the limit. The president referred to the recent refusal of the chamber to grant leave to Deputy Eduardo Tamariz to occupy the public instruction portfolio on the ground of his affiliation with the Catholic party. He also referred to the recent investigation instigated by the deputies of certain acts of Jose Limantour, when he was minister of finance under General Porfirio Diaz.

INSIST ON ADJOURNING.

General Huerta charged that the investigation which the deputies proposed to make, was solely within the province of judicial power. He called upon them to withdraw the resolution warning him of their intention to dissolve the parliament, and hold sessions elsewhere.

The deputies, who had listened sullenly to the reading by Manuel Garza Aldape, the minister of interior, of General Huerta's reply, moved at its conclusion to refer the president's demand to a committee and motion was put to adjourn. Minister Aldape interposed an objection, saying that the president required immediate action. At this the deputies demurred and persisted in putting the motion to

ALL ARE RELEASED.

Members of Congress Imprisoned by Huerta Turned Loose.

Washington, Oct. 11.—State department advices from Mexico City late today announced that the members of the Mexican chamber of deputies who were thrown into prison last night by order of Provisional President Huerta, were released today.

The Volturino With Several Hundred Passengers Aboard

Is Lost as Result of Storm and Flames.

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE PERISH

Ten Vessels Respond to Call of the Wireless.

Unable to Help Owing to the Raging Ocean.

HER LIFE BOATS SMASHED

When an Attempt Is Made to Lower Them.

Many Rescued From the Water by Other Crews.

Fishguard, Oct. 11.—Fire in a raging storm in mid-Atlantic on Thursday destroyed the liner Volturino on her voyage from Rotterdam to New York with a loss of life of either 128 or 236 of her passengers and crew. Ten other liners, called by wireless to the rescue, were standing by impotent to avert the tragedy owing to the mountainous seas.

Again the wireless played a leading part in the drama. By its means and through the heroism of those who responded to the call, the lives of 521 of those on board the vessel were saved. The Volturino was owned by the Canadian Northern Steamship company but had been chartered to the Uranium line.

Officials of the latter company declared this morning that those on board included 24 cabin and 540 steerage passengers with a crew of 93, making a total of 657. The wireless dispatches received from the Carmania say that 521 had been saved and 236 had lost their lives. This makes a total of 757, or just 100 more than the number on board as given out by the company.

Checking from all available sources would indicate that an error in the wireless transmission of the figures had been made and that the lowest total, 126, is correct.

Captain Barr of the Carmania received the distress call of the Volturino when 78 miles distant in latitude 48.25 north, longitude 34.23 west. The Carmania crowded on full steam and within an hour had made over 20 knots an hour in the teeth of the gale.

The wireless from the Carmania said that the Volturino caught fire in mid-Atlantic and the flames raged so furiously that the abandoned steamer was seen to be burning brightly in the morning. A few details coming through by wireless promise a graphic story of the fight made by the crew of ten iron-hulled steamers who responded to the Volturino call.

The Volturino sailed from Rotterdam on October 2 for New York by way of Halifax, where it was due to stop next Monday. It is believed the steamer carried 24 cabin passengers, 540 steerage passengers and a crew of 93 men. The wireless reports say that 521 persons were saved, making 206 persons unaccounted for thus far.

When the Carmania reached the vicinity of the Volturino at noon she found the forward end of the distressed vessel burning fiercely. The flaming ship was a mass of white smoke and all her propellers were fouled with boat tackle used in lowering her lifeboats.

Lifeboats Smashed. It was learned by the captain of the Carmania that two out of six lifeboats had succeeded in getting away from the Volturino. The other four crowded from stem to stern with passengers and members of the crew had been smashed against the side of the vessel and all their occupants thrown into the sea and drowned.

In spite of the terrific gale raging when she arrived near the Volturino, the Carmania lowered to proceed to the Volturino to help in the rescue. The boat was launched with such difficulty for even on the lee side of the Carmania the sea was terribly rough and it was only by extraordinary efforts that the small craft was prevented from being smashed or capsized as she left the side of the ship. The Carmania's lifeboat, in charge of First Officer Gardiner, made a gallant but futile attempt to get along side of the doomed Volturino. After two hours' battling with the waves during which the lifeboat lost all but three of her oars, the real being broken or torn from the hands of the crew, First Officer Gardiner returned to the Carmania, which he succeeded in making without loss of life or broken limbs among the members of his boat's crew.

Aid Was Impossible. Captain Barr of the Carmania then maneuvered his big vessel very close to the Volturino and finally got the Atchison Too Light and Failed to Score.

The Atchison high school team failed to make a contest, or even a good practice game in the first part of the game with Topeka high school here this afternoon. The Atchison players were unable to put up any kind of a defense and the Topeka team ploughed through the line for touchdowns practically at will.

The Topeka team was heavier than the visitors on an average of from eight to ten pounds per man. The Topeka back field men were fast and the Atchison men could not stop them. The score at the end of the first quarter was Topeka, 39; Atchison, 0. Touchdowns were made as follows: Glass 3, Wolf 1, and Willard 1.

Coaches Morse and Frank have been hard at work all week bolstering up the weak spots in the Kansas machine, training the men, particularly on offense and apparently were satisfied their heavier players would prove more than a match for the speedy Washingtons. The game with William Jewell proved little for the Kansas team except that it had a fine defense.
