Executive committee, passed through Topeka twice within the past twenty-four hours. At midnight last night, his special train whirled through Topeka on its way to Wichita. He went there on Rock Island business and stayed but a short time.

At 9:25 o'clock this morning his train came through Topeka again. The mate's special did not stop, but continued on its way to Chicago. No Topeka officials were in his party, nor met them.

SNAP SHOTS AT HOME NEWS.

Four car loads of race horses arrived for the big fair, Topeka, this morning.

The Commercial club urges all business firms to prepare for decorating for fair week.

Devis and Hines from Marshall, Mo., arrived at the fair grounds this morning with their entries for the horse show.

Paul Hyatt of Carbondale and Miss Fairy Gillan of Topeka were united in marriage by Judge Hugh McParland in the probate court Thursday.

Crosby Brothers, the Mills Dry Goods company, and the Warren M. Crosby company are preparing displays in the Arts building on the fair grounds.

W. H. Wasson, city auditor, who was taken from his office to his home Tuesday suffering from an attack of hay fever, is still confined to his bed. His recovery is very little improved.

The principals of the city schools will meet at 2:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the assembly room of the manual training building for final instructions before the opening of the city school Monday. The general meeting of teachers will be at the same place at 4 o'clock.

Rev. Arthur S. Henderson will lecture his Bible class tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the First Congregational church, corner Seventh and Harrison streets. The Geography of the Old Testament World and the Relation of Israel to the Nations." All men cordially welcomed.

Only two births have been reported at the office of the city clerk in the last three days. Frequently a dozen births are reported in one day. "The stork loafs in September and January," said C. B. Burge, city clerk. "Fewer births are reported in September than in any other month of the year. January is the next lightest month."

A. J. Carrel, a West Eighth street livery stable keeper who was sued for divorce last week, was brought back from Leavenworth by Sheriff L. L. Kiene to straighten out other complications in his private affairs. Carrel is charged with issuing to C. C. Booher, a local transfer man, a check on a bank where he had no deposit to protect it.

For many persons Topeka's municipal market is not as accessible as it should be. This is the opinion of R. L. Coffran, mayor. He believes a city market located in the east part of the city, and another in the west part, in addition to the market in front of the city hall, would be well patronized. Subject, "The Geography of the Old Testament World and the Relation of Israel to the Nations." All men cordially welcomed.

Although the commission of the members of the board supposed to examine the automobile and motorcycle drivers to issue driver licenses expired July 1, the board is still issuing licenses. The city commission, having under consideration a new ordinance regulating automobiles and motorcycles, has failed to make appointments and the old members of the board will serve until their successors are appointed.

Topeka people have until Saturday at noon to inspect the remarkable collection of coins and paper currency exhibited by Farran Zerbe in the lobby of the Merchants' National bank. It has been a center of interest throughout the present week, presenting as it does coins of almost every epoch of the world's civilization. Some of the pieces of money shown date back thirty centuries before Christ. The proprietor of the collection, which has been brought here as a free educational exhibit, is a prominent member of the American Numismatic association and of the United States assay commission.

EPISODE OF WAR

German Captain of Reserves Writes a Letter

Detailing Some of His Experiences in Belgium.

London, Sept. 11.—An episode of war comes from the Lokal Anzeiger of Aug. 24. It is a letter from Paul Oskar Hoeccker, a Berlin playwright, now serving as captain of the reserve. His play, "A Nation in Arms," is being given at the Berlin opera house. He describes a mission on which he was despatched to search for arms in Belgian villages in which shots had been fired by civilians on German troops. His instructions were to summon the villagers to deliver up their arms and those in whose possession arms were found after they declared that they had none were to be instantly shot. Describing a visit to Jungbusch he says that at one house were found an old man, a woman and a girl of thirteen.

"Then a terrible thing happened. A sergeant and a private dragged a young fellow out of the house. They had found him hiding among the straw in the loft. He had in his hand a Belgian rifle loaded with five cartridges. From the opening of the roof he may have aimed at many an honest German. The youth had to put his hands up. Stammering and deadly pale, he stood there. "Who is this youth?" I asked the old man.

He had to be shot. "As if struck by lightning they all three fell on their knees wailing. The woman groaned, 'He is my son. For God's sake you are not going to kill him?' and the little girl sobbed as if her heart would break. The prisoner tried to escape but was put up against the wall by the men.

"He is to be shot. Three men—ready." "The three men commanded, who were fathers of families, two from Berlin and one a farmer, did not turn a hair. This is a just business. We had got a ruffian who merited no compassion. The volley rang out. The trembling body collapsed to the ground and did not move again. Three tiny holes were visible in the blue blouse. The boy's eyes are closed his face has not changed its expression. Death by our rifles is painless.

"We ought to burn the old man's house over his head," said one of my men. "Quick march," I ordered.

"Yes," said nonchalant Mr. Wombat, "I was in Egypt."

"I suppose you stood around with the crowd and saw some shooting?"

at a grocer named Fletcher, who swore out the complaint. D. D. Mote, assistant city attorney, declined to prosecute the case and A. J. Bollinger acted as attorney for the plaintiff, T. D. Humphreys acting for the defendant. Judge Huron will pass judgment this afternoon.

Jennie Thomas was arrested this morning by Officers Douglas and Pinkston on commitment. Mrs. Thomas was engaged in a carving tray in the "bottoms" last July and was fined $15. She promised to pay the fine, but the money has not been forthcoming. She will have to serve out the fine in the woman's quarters of the city jail.

A. L. "Lon" Sauls, police sergeant, is taking a few days' rest before starting on his campaign for sheriff on the Democratic ticket. Sauls took a two months' layoff and his place is being filled by A. A. Woodward.

The hours of Topeka's motorcycle officer, C. B. Arthur, are from 11:30 o'clock in the morning until 11:30 at night. Arthur will answer emergency calls and it is also his duty to keep automobiles running within the speed limit.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

Daring Burglary at Clayton Drug Store Last Night.

The Clayton drug store, 1019 East Sixth street, was entered last night by thieves and $7 in cash was taken. There were three good locks on the front door and during the evening the door was broken open and all locks broken. It was a bold piece of work as the store faces on Sixth street in a well populated part of the city. No clue that will lead to the identity of the thieves has been discovered.

John Kaberline must now either pay the city $50 or spend 50 days working on the jail rock pile. Kaberline was fined $25 Thursday morning by Judge Huron for being drunk. He has been arrested before for the same offense. Kaberline, who is a native of Russia, promised to pay as soon as possible and was released. At 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, a few Cotswolds were made gaily. John was arrested by Officers Pinkston and W. L. Douglas on a second drunk charge. He was found guilty in court this morning and a second $25 assessment was made against him. This time the Russian was not permitted to leave on his promise of quick payment and must serve out both fines.

Four colored people, Ed Davis, Ray Turner, Gertrude Walker and Mary Floyd, were this morning arrested and booked at police headquarters on the charge of disorderly conduct. They were arrested by several officers, headed by Sergeant Woodward. The arrest was made at 3 o'clock.

Charles Anderson was arrested last night on a warrant served by Police Officer Bryant and is charged with cruelty to animals. He has furnished bond for his appearance in police court.

W. R. Wood was arrested last night by Officers Ferguson and Hill and is charged with carrying dangerous weapons. He furnished a cash bond of $100 and was released.

John Holm was arrested last night by Officer Holman on the charge of intoxication. He is a farmer and a Swede. He has not yet been tried.

The case against Mrs. S. J. Halliwell was tried in police court Thursday afternoon. She was charged with carrying a dangerous weapon. She was released on a $100 bond.
