JURY TAKES A RIDE

Men Sitting in Judgment on John Collins Case

Taken to Scene of the Alleged Motorcycle Accident.

HE WILL TRY FOR AN ALIBI

Defendant Will Try to Prove He Was at Home.

Dick Cooley Gives Important Testimony for Defense.

In order that they might personally examine the places, members of the jury in the Theodore Hammatt-John Collins alleged black hand case, which is being heard in the second division of the district court before Judge Whitcomb, were loaded into automobiles this afternoon and shown the scenes of the attempt of city and county officials to capture the man who tried to obtain $15,000 from the Theodore Hammatt with the use of black hand letters on the night of September 23.

The jury was placed under guard and taken south on Topeka avenue to Twenty-third street and west on Twenty-third street to Baughman's ice cream factory. From the ice cream factory they were taken back to the Topeka avenue road and south to the culvert just south of the Allenhurst farm.

An examination of the soil where John Collins claims that his motorcycle accident occurred and the place on the road where tracks of a motorcycle, claimed by attorneys for the state, to have been made by the machine ridden by the man who rode on the running board of the Campbell car on the night of September 23, was made by the jury.

Following the jury's trip court proceedings were resumed this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. No proceedings will be held tomorrow. The case was continued this evening until Monday morning, when it is expected that John Collins will take the stand to testify in his own behalf.

Testimony for Defense. Several witnesses for the defense were placed on the stand today. Testimony to the effect that black hand letters were numerous in numerous places which were testified that they have known Collins for a number of years and that his record has always been clean and unquestionable were also placed on the stand.

An effort is also being made to prove an alibi for Collins. Mrs. Catherine Smith on the stand this morning testified that she and her son, Malcolm, passed the scene of the flashlight incident while the officers were on the ground immediately after the arrest of Collins. She said that the moon was just passing below the horizon.

According to the testimony of "Sunny" Flora, the local weather observer, the moon set about 8:30 o'clock on the night of September 23. The defense will attempt to prove that Collins was at home at the time with the members of his family at this time.

Dick Cooley, former manager of the Topeka baseball club, was placed on the stand today and testified that he had known Collins for fifteen years and during that time his record has been unquestionable.

Cooley testified that Collins was at his residence, 15 West Thirteenth street, between 7 and 7:30 o'clock on the night of September 23. Collins, according to Cooley, was clean shaven, wore a brown suit and tie, also wore a collar and necktie that evening. Those who were in the Campbell car on the running board of which attorneys for the state introduced testimony to the effect that the man connected with the attempted black hand case rode within two miles of the scene of the flashlight incident, testified that the man who hailed them and rode on the side with the auto was dressed in a dark suit, was unshaven and did not wear a collar or necktie.

Dick Cooley also testified on the stand and corroborated her husband's statements. In an effort to prove that Collins trip to Emporia was not the result of any questionable act on his part, E. E. Herring, Collins' brother-in-law was placed on the stand and testified that Mrs. Collins gave him a card to mail several days before they left, to people in Emporia notifying those in Emporia of their intentions of making the trip. Herring stated that he read the card. When the case was again taken up Monday afternoon the defense will make an attempt to completely turn the tide of evidence that the state has attempted to wage against Collins during the last week.

MAY TRY IT AGAIN.

Reconsideration of Tax Amendment Resolution for House Tonight.

That the house may rescind its action in the passage of the tax amendment, was indicated today when I. N. Williams of Sedgewick county, speaker pro tem, moved a reconsideration of the resolution. It is probable that the tax measure may be called up for further consideration at tonight's session.

Among the constitutional provisions which went through the house this week was the Kincaid tax provision. The measure was similar in many respects to the amendment submitted to the voters last fall. Williams voted for the measure and today voted his right for a reconsideration.

All election bills before the house were today made a special order for next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

KLOIST JURY DISMISSED

It Was Feared Newspaper Stories Would Influence the Verdict.

New York, Feb. 12.—A jury trying a suit for $250,000 damages brought against E. N. Branting, millionaire owner of the steamship Dacia by Max Kleist, who married Miss Juliet Branting, the defendant's daughter was discharged today in the federal court because of the publication yesterday of stories to the effect that Kleist had been twice assaulted since his wife had ceased to live with him. The court held that publication of these stories would doubtless tend to influence the jury in Kleist's behalf.

According to the testimony of the defendant's attorney, the jury was directed that the expense of a new trial, if ordered, be borne by Kleist. Kleist was quoted as saying yesterday in New York by gangster who other in a New Mexican mine owned by the defendant.

SUNDAYS TO COME.

Speaker Stone Will Not Cut Out House Salaries in Past.

Speaker Stone today receded from his stand to compel house employees to return to the state money received Monday when no service was performed in behalf of the state. The policy announced by the speaker today means that employees will receive no Sunday pay during the remainder of the session unless actually engaged in state work.

Under the original ruling of Speaker Stone $115 would have been deducted from the pay check of each house employee who had not worked Sundays. As a result of this ruling several house employees resigned and there was a general protest among employees concerning the refunding of money received for the five Sundays of the present session. The $115 thus received will not be deducted from the pay checks next week, although the speaker has clamped on the lid as affecting Sunday pay in the future.

WHEN YOU WASH YOUR HAIR DON'T USE SOAP

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain mulsified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Adv.

COLLEGE MEN WON.

Bowman "Tax-Frat-House" Bill Killed by Senate Today.

College organizations which receive the benefits of section 2513 of the general statutes of 1905, commonly known as the fraternity tax exemption law, will go unmolested so far as this session of the legislature is concerned. Senate bill No. 13, which has been worrying the fraternities and sororities of Kansas colleges ever since the present session opened, was killed this morning in the senate committee of the whole. It was introduced and defended by Bowman of Anderson. Wolf of Franklin county tried to amend it to include the property of all other fraternal organizations but his amendment was voted down before the main bill finally came under the axe.

A supreme court decision of the past summer bearing on the charge of class legislation, which was the principal ground for the fight for repeal, was cited by Senator Price of Clark county and cleared the air. The supreme court held that the exemption is applicable to any college organization whether a fraternity or otherwise whose object is to maintain a dormitory. Porter and Simpson also made vigorous attacks on the repeal measure.

At the Iris. A scene taken by moonlight, without the aid of artificial light; a sunset and a sunrise; another taken on the beams of a moving freight car; the rounding-up of a whole town in an effort to capture a gang of desperadoes; and some of the most thrilling ever seen on a screen are some of the incidents that appear in "Buckshot John" by Charles Van Loan, which is being shown at the Iris today and tomorrow.
