

IN NORTH TOPEKA

Light Badly Needed at Quincy and Paramore Sts.

The North Topeka Drainage Board in Session Today.

Persons living near Paramore and North Quincy streets want a light for that corner. For a long time, residents of that vicinity have been asking for the light and for an equal length of time they have intermittently received promises that one would be given them. The light, however, has not yet made its appearance.

Monday morning a petition was started. Apparently it takes no considerable amount of time to procure names, for it was stated this morning by a resident of the unlighted section of Quincy that the petition would be in the hands of Commissioner F. M. Newland within a day or two.

North Quincy street near Paramore is extremely dark at night on account of the numerous heavy shade trees along the street. These trees serve to shut off what little light might otherwise come from the street.

The intensity of the darkness can be judged in a manner which might otherwise be considered a considerable difficulty in determining where their houses are.

"It's a matter of a light or learning how many paces from the corner my house is," one Paramore and Quincy street dweller declared this morning.

Drainage Board at Work. Under direction of the North Topeka drainage board, V. R. Parkhurst began a survey this morning for the purpose of determining what repairs are needed between Jetty No. 4 on the Kaw river and the east boundary of the Updegraff farm.

A number of low places in this territory have caused heavy losses to farmers during heavy periods and in all probability they will be refilled after Mr. Parkhurst makes his report.

The drainage board also let a contract for repairs on the drain underneath the dike in Garfield park. The repairs will be started immediately.

Several bids for the topographical survey of Soldier and Indian creeks have been received by the board but will not be opened until later in the week. This morning T. M. Forbes, a member of the drainage board, went to Manhattan where he will consult H. B. Walker, state irrigation engineer.

The contract for the survey of the two streams will probably be let immediately after Mr. Forbes's return.

Where Is Sidewalk? Three weeks ago a gang of workmen employed by the city tore up the sidewalk on North Madison between Fairchild and Gordon streets. Reelants along the two blocks were elated. A new sidewalk was badly needed. When the ground was graded their satisfaction was almost complete.

Now they are on the job again. During the past three weeks not a single step has been taken by the street department to complete the job it started. Persons living on North Madison are up in the air. They haven't the least idea what kind of a sidewalk if any at all will be given them.

This morning a little cloud that threatens to grow appeared in the un-sidewalked district. Persons living on the street claim that their patience is rapidly ebbing. Also their curiosity is growing. If the sidewalk is to be put down, they want to know what kind it will be. Should the street department be contemplating a cement walk, they want the work completed before cold weather arrives. Inasmuch as the cost of the work will be charged up to the property owners, they appear to be a little shy on taking a chance of a new cement sidewalk being ruined before they set a foot on it.

Reception for Pastor. A reception will be held at the Central Avenue Christian church Friday night for the new pastor, the Rev. I. Beckhold, and Mrs. Beckhold. Mr. Beckhold recently arrived from Harrison, Ohio, to succeed the Rev. J. D. Zimmerman, a pastor of the church. A program is being arranged for the affair and refreshments will be served. All members of the church and their friends are being invited to attend.

Lyman Lecture. Mr. Frank Kizer will give an illustrated lecture at Lyman school house next Thursday evening, October 7, on Sunday schools. Mr. Kizer has been in the work for several years and has first class apparatus for illustrating his lecture. No charge for admission. A collection will be taken.

Notes and Personal. George Young went to Emporia today on business. He expects to return this evening.

Mrs. George Wilkinson of Alton, Ill., is expected in Topeka today. She will be the guest of her brother, T. D. Josephs, of 1008 North Jackson street.

The fire cistern on the corner of North Kansas avenue and Norris street was refilled this morning. The fire cisterns which are located in various sections of the city serve as auxiliary sources of water supply to be used in case the mains break during a fire. When there is a repair to the cisterns pressure is obtained by use of the engine.

Arthur Page left Monday evening on a business trip to Kansas City. He will return Wednesday.

Sam Orstein, formerly of North Topeka, has returned and is now with the Benjamin Clothing company of the North side.

A number of North Topeka residents are attending the convention of the Christian Missionary society in session in Lawrence. Among those who are in attendance from North Topeka are: The Rev. I. H. Beckhold, pastor of the Central Avenue Christian church, and Mrs. Beckhold; the Rev. J. D. Zimmerman, office secretary of the Christian Endeavor societies, and Mrs. Zimmerman; Mrs. H. R. Blanchard; Mrs. W. D. Coleman; Mrs. Clarence Waldman and Mrs. W. Marshall; Mrs. J. T. Anderson of North Topeka will go to Lawrence today. Most of the delegates from the North side expect to return to their homes Friday.

The board of directors of the Citizens' State bank held its regular quarterly meeting at the bank Monday afternoon.

North Topeka this morning on business. Lon Berry of Elmont was on the North side Monday.

Gray, Weissender of Silver Lake was in North Topeka Monday on business.

R. Wilson of Indian Creek and R. Rogers of Kiro were in North Topeka this morning on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Eunice Adams and Mrs. Lola Stern of Iola, Kan., are visiting Mrs. Paul Roberson, 1420 North Jefferson street.

Speakers at Denver Farm Congress See Bright Future.

H. B. Walker, of K. S. A. C., Tells of Dry Farming Methods.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 5.—Crops and soil, irrigation and forestry and rural organization were subjects before today's session of the International Farm Congress here.

E. C. Chilcote, agriculturalist in charge of dry land investigations in the department of agriculture, told of his work in the great plains area.

After outlining the provisions congress has made for this work and detailing the results of personal experience and observation in South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma the speaker said:

"Practically all of the level or rolling upland and forested and rural organization were subjects before today's session of the International Farm Congress here.

The speaker urged suppression of weeds as the most effective means of conserving soil moisture.

Extensive, rather than intensive farming was urged.

H. B. Walker, state irrigation engineer of the Kansas Agricultural college of Manhattan declared the greatest economic development could be accomplished only by encouraging irrigation and dry farming to their full application.

The province of dry farming, he said, rightly includes irrigation without over stepping its field of reclamation. The congress was urged to extend its influence in such direction. Mr. Walker said in part:

Rocky Mountain Valleys. The great dry-farming district on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains is ribbed with fertile stream valleys. In some instances these valleys may be developed by gravity irrigation systems and in others the shallow ground-water available makes possible their reclamation by pumping.

The improvement of these areas means not only a greater irrigation area, but substantial reinforcement to dry farming. The problems are not easy but the outcome is promising.

The best educational help through field assistance, demonstration and experiments, is none too good for the advancement of our dry-farming citizenship."

ALMOST CHOKED

J. R. Rose, Traveling Salesman, Relieved in Short Time.

Says He Received Wonderful Results From Medicine.

Highly Recommends Remedy to All Sufferers of Catarrh.

J. R. Rose, a well known traveling salesman, who makes his home at the Pacific hotel, Wichita, made the following remarkable statement regarding the benefits he derived from Tanlac, the new medicine that is now being so widely discussed and distributed in Topeka and vicinity. Mr. Rose said:

"I have been troubled with a severe case of catarrh for the past four years, which seemed to be gradually coursing through my entire system. I had a continuous dripping of mucus from my nose to my throat, which was very unpleasant, causing me to have a very offensive breath. My stomach gave me much trouble, as after eating gas would form in my stomach, and I would feel awfully bloated. I had bad spells of hawking and spitting, which seemed to weaken me. I could not sleep well at nights, as my throat would fill up with mucus and almost choke me.

"I have about finished taking my second bottle of Tanlac, and the dripping of mucus from my nose has stopped completely. I am not bothered hardly at all with my stomach. I don't cough any more, and I have no trouble getting a good night's sleep. I can recommend Tanlac to any one who suffers from catarrh of the nose, throat and stomach, as I have received wonderful benefits from the medicine."

Probably the most prevalent and distressing condition is chronic catarrh of the mucous membranes, such as Mr. Rose evidently suffered from. Catarrh of the stomach and kidneys is the most frequent cause of dyspepsia and Bright's disease. In general conditions in the nose and throat lead to inevitable deafness.

Tanlac, the remarkable new medicine that is proving so successful in such instances, is now sold in Topeka by the personal direction of W. C. Pope at the Tully-McFarland Drug Co., Ninth and Kansas avenue. Tanlac can be obtained at $1.00 a bottle, three for $2.75 or six bottles for $5.00.—Advertisement.

AT THE THEATERS

Novelty Review.

The bill at the Novelty last night was a creditable one and did not have a sameness in the character of the acts. Kitner, Haynes and Montgomery, upon a re-engagement of their singing and comedy act, made the biggest hit at the Monday performance. The trio sang nicely and danced. Kitner's blackface work was exceptionally funny.

The Ishikawa brothers performed their hand balancing feats easily and well. Barto and Clark were in a fast and spicy skit. Mintz and Wertz put over their acrobatic offering in a novel way. Vardman's female impersonation was so good that he had the audience fooled.

The Paramount travogues for the first half of this week reached the acme of perfection. Hitherto this series of pictures was too devoted to fish, sponges and canning factories. Now the film shows Jamaica scenery, roads, falls and natives and is a great deal more interesting than the canneries. S. J.

Hip Review.

Russell Brothers and Mealy in an acrobatic act at the Hip theater should be commended for the manner in which they presented their stunts. McManus and Carlos, a musical duo, pleased. Charlie Chaplin in a review of his Keystone crimes in the past and "Neal of the Navy" were also shown.

Today on Wednesday, in addition to the vaudeville bill, "The Spender," a Pathe Gold Rooster photoplay will be shown.

WILD ANIMAL PICTURES

Animals, birds, and fish are interesting to the layman as well as the veteran hunter, the fisherman and the naturalist, and the scenes shown in "Salisbury's Wild Life of America," motion pictures, at the Grand theater this week are grippingly interesting.

Usually it is very difficult to get pictures of this kind, and the Salisbury expedition which captured enough animals to stock many zoos in the western states, notably, the big zoo at San Francisco, were patient and when they found a "subject" they stayed until they caught a picture, and the reproductions are unusually clear.

The picture, which is seven reels long, is divided into three parts. The first part shows the interesting industry of fish hatching and the habitat of different kinds of fish. The Isaak Walton in the audience Monday night got many pointers. In the second division of the picture the life of the various species of birds in this country is shown. Wild fowl, geese, ducks, pelicans, eagles, cormorants and mud-hens were shown.

In the last section of the picture—that devoted to the wild animals—the scene showing baby cougars brought remarks of delight from the women in the audience. The little "skittens" looked so cute. The capturing of a lynx, or bob cat, was one of the unusual scenes photographed as was the capture of cub bears, wild cats, and mountain lion.

The pictures are an education in themselves and with the lecture given by Dr. Reese are doubly interesting. A special matinee for school children is being planned for Saturday. The pictures are only shown twice a day, once in the afternoon and once in the evening. E. W. W.

Splendid, too, for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you—at a cost of only 54 cents—a full pint of better cough syrup than you could buy for $2.50. Takes but a few minutes to prepare. Full directions with Pinex.
