

TO PREVENT WAR

Nations Must Cut Down "Supply of Cannon Fodder."

Dr. Anna Blount Strong for Control of Births.

TO BRING UNIVERSAL PEACE

Women Must Assort Right to Reject Motherhood.

Physicians Will Tell Them How, Eugenic Advocate Says.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Would you prevent future wars? Then limit the size of your family. Cut down the supply of "fodder for cannon."

Dr. Anna Blount Strong, president of the Chicago Eugenic Society, in an address before the Chicago Society of Anthropology Sunday in Corinthian hall, Masonic Temple.

That war is principally caused by pressure of population, forcing nations over boundaries and into conquests for land to support its hungry hordes and to establish "a new place in the sun," Dr. Blount amply demonstrated by citations from history, past and present.

And how will you limit the size of families and thus eradicate the source of wars?

Repeat the federal statutes prohibiting dissemination of methods of birth control.

Then prevent epileptics, the insane, feebleminded and otherwise unfit from reproducing their kind.

Action should be taken immediately to bring about the desired result, according to Dr. Blount.

And when the birth rate of nations is under perfect control and races are not restricted on breathing space, war will be of historical interest only—one of the curious monstrosities of the past.

Under universal peace women will be absolutely free.

Patriotism will be planetary, not merely national. Politics will be of the world, not of any one country.

That of one hand. Laws will be made by one parliament and enforced by one police department. It will be interplanetary, not international.

Such is the ideal of a world society whose families are limited in size.

"But before such a state can obtain, women must assert their rights," said Dr. Blount. "They must be free from the shackles of convention. They must be able to say whether they shall become mothers. They must know how to control conception."

"If a girl, loving too well, attempts to hide her shame by killing her unborn child, we call her a criminal, and rightly," she continued. "I do not believe in abortion as a method of birth control."

"Moral restraint is one method which I dare to mention and which any one may mention. It means practically celibacy. Of the other methods, I shall not speak, fearing a $5,000 fine and imprisonment. They are obtainable from other sources. Certain of our fashionable and popular physicians will gladly give explicit directions on payment of the requisite fee."

To Control Balance.

"The new and better population increases at a much faster rate than does the food supply of the world has not been discovered. Until we nicely balance population and food of sustenance, wars are inevitable. And until scientific methods of regulating conception are common knowledge we cannot control the balance."

2 DIE IN DEATH PACT

Mother and Daughter Take Poison After Planning Tragedy.

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Elijah Dudley, 51 years old, and her daughter, Miss Minnie Dudley, 21, were found lying on the floor of their home in New Canton, Ill., twenty-eight miles south of Quincy, last night. The daughter was dead, and the mother died soon after being found. The discovery was made by Elijah Dudley, husband and father, who kicked in the door of his home on his return from a hunting trip. Mrs. Dudley said both she and her daughter had taken poison.

The mother was dressed in white. She previously had selected her casket and tombstone. Mother and daughter had attended Sunday school together in the morning. The mother had objected to her daughter's plan to marry a young man in the neighborhood.

LUSCIOUS WAR BRIDES

Dabbling in Stocks Made Theatrical Manager Big Fortune.

New York, Oct. 25.—A chance remark by a friend led William A. Brady, theatrical producer, to invest $1,000 in Wall street "war brides" six months ago.

His earnings on this original investment, Mr. Brady acknowledged today amounted to more than $100,000.

"And now I am through forever with Wall street," said Mr. Brady. "I know I am pursuing the wisest policy in getting out while ahead."

"You want to know my role in playing the market? It was never to listen to the advice of brokers."

THEY REFUSE TO EAT

At periods in most children's lives they fail to relish their meals and refuse to eat even the delicacies prepared to tempt their appetites. They lack ambition, and growth seems impeded which causes anxiety and worry.

To compel them to eat is a grave mistake, because nutrition is impaired. Healthful exercise in fresh air and sunshine is important, but equally important is a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion three times a day to feed the tissues and furnish food-energy to improve their blood, aid nutrition and sharpen their appetites.

The highly concentrated medicinal food in Scott's Emulsion supplies the very elements children need to build up their strength. They relish Scott's—it is free from alcohol.

AT HOME NEWS.

A marriage license was issued Saturday in Kansas City, Mo., to Joseph A. Dyer, 25, of Topeka, and Miss Birdie George, 7, of Topeka.

Marshall Y. Cunningham and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Johnson of Auburn, Kan., were married Thursday in Topeka by the Rev. S. A. Alt. They will live in Auburn.

Honey Davis entertained the members of D. 5 at a birthday dinner Sunday at his home on Clay street. Only two members of the club were present.

W. O. Rigby, postmaster, who has been attending the convention of postmasters in Washington, D. C., has gone to Somerset, O., to visit with relatives. He is expected to return to Topeka next Saturday.

The Young Men's class of the Swedish Baptist church will hold a sale at the church Tuesday evening, in the interest of the building fund. The articles to be sold will be on exhibition at 7:30 o'clock and the sale will start at 8. Refreshments will be served free.

Following a dispute between Henry Jones and the proprietor of the Palace restaurant on Kansas avenue Sunday evening, John S. booked at the police station on a charge of drunkenness. About two weeks ago Jones was arrested on No. 2 fire station after he had taken a shot at a second party with a revolver.

In his address Sunday night at the Central Congregational church, the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon said the eight million who had inspired him most were Phillips Brooks and Minister Joseph Parker, a British clergyman, William Stead, a newspaper man, F. D. Coburn, W. G. Mason, Luther Burbank, Henry Ward Beecher, and Dr. Cecil Bancroft, his old teacher. The subject of the address was "Eight Men of Purpose Whom I Have Known."

"Chan Townsley, a former Washburn student now living in Pasadena, Cal., has given two of his paintings to be displayed in the Washburn art gallery. The titles of the paintings are 'The Peninsula of Monterey' and 'The Margaret Reading.' The last is a portrait of Miss Margaret Lovewell, the daughter of Professor and Mrs. J. T. Lovewell of Topeka, and was painted recently in New York city."

The "Margaret Reading" will be given to Professor and Mrs. Lovewell later.

Work for the Belgian relief fund is being pushed by the chairman of a women's section, Mrs. Ida M. Walker. In the last week contributions amounted to $99, the W. C. T. U. of Marion contributing $15, and the remainder from the contributions of the Belgian family food boxes. Thousands of Belgians are still dependent upon American aid to keep them from starving.

At the Grand.

There are many bits of excellent character drawing in "The Shepherd of the Hills," the dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's most widely read novel, which comes to the Grand Tuesday matinee and night, Nov. 2.

Bird of Paradise.

Wherever possible the properties employed in "The Bird of Paradise," a native Hawaiian bird story, souvenirs picked up by Richard Walton Tully, during his residence among the inhabitants of several of the South sea islands, are used in the scenic play, which comes to the Grand Tuesday matinee and night, Nov. 2.

At the Iris.

When one of the leading modistes of New York received a telegram from the Jesse L. Lasky company to prepare thirty gowns of the latest Parisienne design, it was thought for a moment that the Lasky organization had retired from the production of high class photodramas and had returned to the theatrical profession.

She called up the executive offices of the Lasky company for confirmation and was assured that the gowns were merely wanted for the chorus scenes in James Forbes' wonderful drama, "The Chorus Lady," which will be attraction at the Iris today and tomorrow.

UNIVERSAL TALK

Human Voice Will Soon Girdle Globe Via Wireless.

Secretary of Navy Can Talk to U. S. Ships at Sea.

NEW TELEPHONE WONDERS

Carrying of Voice a Matter of Electrical Power.

Captain of Navy Predicts Communication Revelations.

Washington, Oct. 25.—"The day is not far distant when the secretary of the navy will be able to take the telephone receiver at his desk off its hook and talk directly with the command officer of any American battleship anywhere in the world."

This amazing prophecy for the future was made today by Captain W. H. Eullard, U. S. N., who is superintendent of the fifty-two wireless stations in the United States and insular possessions. He said:

"Neither the land telephone nor wireless telegraphy is new but the discovery that they can be combined is new and it is that that has solved the problem of communicating with any part of the universe. We now have the principles and agencies and all we need is the mechanical apparatus."

How They Are Linked.

When asked to describe the arrangement by which the land telephone is linked up with the wireless station, Captain Eullard said:

"All that is necessary to complete the operation is to throw a switch in the wireless tower. The conversation instead of stopping at the base of the wireless tower, is sent to the top of the tower, thrown on the electric waves and continues to its destination."

The human voice can girdle the globe with the same ease that it was heard across the Atlantic ocean."

Asked what was the secret of the success of the attempt to establish communication with Paris by the use of the human voice, Captain Eullard said:

"It grew from wires."

"The recent completion of the transatlantic land telephone line gave the telephone engineers the idea. It is chiefly a question of electric current to create the electric waves to transmit the sound. It was found that electric current in a wire became too weak to perform its functions after a certain distance. Four 'booster' stations were established between New York and San Francisco to strengthen the current when it began to grow too weak to carry the vibrations on the telephone wires."

"The engineers, I think figured that they could save wire expense and other charges by having these 'booster' stations supply the current to wireless stations and that happy thought solved the problem."

At the Bohemian Girl.

There is little wonder that there are not more comic opera companies on the road. Saturday matinee and night the Boston English Opera company headed by Joseph Sheehan presented "The Bohemian Girl" before two rather small audiences. The reason for the manifestation of such little interest is not hard to find. While the company sang the opera well there was a tragedy in the intensity that was lacking. The absence of the "punch" in operas is causing the lack of interest.

When "The Bohemian Girl" was in its prime as a favorite opera of the American stage there were no motion pictures. Now the "movies" have educated the public to demand a dramatic quality. Miss Ruth Cameron, as "Annie," the daughter of "Count Arnheim," was particularly likable in her part.

A chorus of twenty—half men and half women—enhanced the singing quality of the company but added little to its beauty. E. W. W.

LITTLE DESIRE.

J. M. Lichtenburg States He Had Lost All Sense of Smell.

Suffered From Catarrh and Stomach Trouble in Very Bad Way.

FRIENDS ADVISED TANLAC

Says a Big Improvement in His Condition Came in Short Time.

Has Better Appetite Now Than He Has Had for Many Years.

Wichita citizens of the highest honesty and integrity, who have been benefited by Tanlac, are now testifying daily to the merits of the premier preparation. J. M. Lichtenburg, a car builder, residing at 221 South Melwood, Wichita, has just said:

"I was troubled with catarrh in my head so badly that I had entirely lost all sense of smell. I suffered with dull pains between my eyes and in the regions of my kidneys, and the catarrh had caused my stomach to be so bad I had very little desire for food. My condition was gradually getting worse and I was very much worried."

Friends spoke to me many times about Tanlac, and advised me to try it for my troubles. I finally made up my mind to buy a few bottles and before the first bottle had been taken I could see a big change in my condition. My head feels very much better. My stomach trouble has about left me. I have a better appetite than I have had for some time. I can honestly recommend Tanlac to those who are suffering with the same ailments."

Tanlac can be obtained in Topeka at the Tully-McFarland drug store, where W. C. Pope, the Tanlac man, is meeting the public daily from nine to nine.

Other exclusive agents for Tanlac in this territory are: E. T. Price, Burlingame, Kan.; A. C. Rosser, Osgood, Kan.; Dryden's Pharmacy, Parsons, Kan.; C. O. An All-Star Cast of Noted Photographers in Picturesque Settings

The Chorus Lady

By James Forbes

The story of life behind the foot-lights as it really exists in all its temptations, sorrows, joys and triumphs. The most human American play of a decade with most interesting situations.

When Governor Capper cuts politics out of the censor board and appoints members who can fill the positions capably and without favoritism and prejudice, he will meet the demand of a majority per cent of the people.

When two hundred exhibitors begin concerted action on the screens viewed by a half million people in Kansas, and when this absurd censorship is now conducted and the slides referring to the censorship are intelligently edited, appealing for justice to both the exhibitors and the people, the censorship will be eliminated and different officials in the future. When the people are aroused things will happen.

The Capital in "What the Movies Left" column says "Carmen" has been kept from Kansas altogether. Ross says it will now be "passed." "A get together meeting" should be held at the state house.

"Ross now says he did not mean to be so outright. He is representative, the censor room owner, when asked, a few minutes after Mr. Ross says it will now be "passed." "A get together meeting" should be held at the state house.

She further said that she would "pass" "Carmen" without an elimination if she had her "way" but that she was "working under instructions."

The Capital calls the Iris' plain talk of the censor situation an "attack." If the little mention of the subject is an "attack," wait until the battalion of censors gets into action. When diplomacy fails, nations go to war.

Governor Capper and wife viewed "Carmen" and both expressed admiration and praise of the great classic.

LATER.

Censor Ross now says he will pass "Carmen." That is all he has contended for. Through public sentiment and plain English language, Mr. Ross says "the light." We congratulate him.

PAROLE FOR BUSSEY

"Red Kimono Woman" Friend Made Good Prisoner.

Ray Bussey, sentenced May 11, 1915 to serve a year in the county jail on a charge of assault upon James Foy with intent to kill, was paroled today by an order issued by Judge Dana of the first division of the district court.

Bussey got into trouble with Foy at the house of Mrs. Maude Wolfe, the "red
