4 HOLDUP MEN PULLED BOLD JOB IN CHICAGO

Daylight Bank Robbery Yields Bandits $15,000.

Twenty Depositors Lined Up by Wall Not Molested.

SPEED FROM SCENE IN AUTO Banker Gives Chase but Soon Is Outdistanced.

Occurs in Fashionable Washington Park District.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Four robbers armed with revolvers entered the Washington Park National bank in East sixty-third street today, threatened the lives of the cashier, clerks and twenty depositors and escaped with between $12,000 and $15,000.

None of the depositors who were ordered to stand facing a wall, were searched by the bandits, who gave their sole attention to the money in the teller's cage.

After grabbing the money, the four hastily backed to the door and escaped in an automobile. Policemen and detectives were quickly summoned and search for the bandits was begun.

J. Garland Stahl, manager of the Boston American where that ball club won the world's championship in 1912, is vice president of the Washington Park National bank, Stahl became connected with the bank after leaving the Boston team.

Were in an Auto. Every detail of the robbery seemed carefully planned, according to Mr. Stahl, who was forced to remain at his desk, facing a revolver, while one of the robbers entered the teller's cage and took the money from a drawer.

"I was sitting at my desk," said Mr. Stahl, "shortly before 9 o'clock when four men, their faces masked in black, and each carrying two revolvers, entered. There were about ten persons in line at the cashier's wicket. Ten clerks, the bank's officers and two stenographers were in the room. Three of the men threatened us with their weapons while the fourth entered the cage and took the money. They then backed to the door and ran to their automobile."

The engine of the car, a small four-passenger automobile with a license applied for sign on it, had not been stopped and they went down the street at about 40 miles an hour.

"They got more than $15,000," Municipal Judge Sherman E. Fry was among the depositors who were forced to witness the robbery.

Covered President. The bandits paid special attention to Mr. Stahl, who was snatched out by one of the men. Two revolvers were pointed at his head and he was ordered to hold up his hands.

"I obeyed without any hesitation," said Stahl, "and the fellow kept his eyes pointed at me and the cashier while his companion got the money."

The same command was given to all the others in the bank and not a hand was dropped until the last robber backed out of the door. Then there was a rush for the telephones to notify the police.

A. W. McAuliffe, assistant cashier, ran quickly to the street and jumped into an automobile standing at the curb. He attempted to follow the robbers but they quickly outdistanced him, and turning several corners, disappeared.

Officials of the bank said that none of the robbers appeared to be more than 20 years old.

The bank is situated in one of the business sections of Chicago outside of the downtown district.

FUNSTON SAVED U. S. FROM WAR

On Two Occasions Hostilities With Mexico Were Averted By the Cool Headedness of the Kansas General.

NEAR START TO MEXICO CITY

Several Times While He Was Occupying Vera Cruz.

Talked With Villa Across a Barbed Wire Fence.

(By L. W. Thavis.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—Gen. Fred Funston of Kansas twice averted war with Mexico, in the story broadcast to Washington by J. S. Hammond of New York, who is a close friend of the officer commanding the American troops at Vera Cruz. In an interview given to the Topeka State Journal, Mr. Hammond said:

"Had there been a less capable man in command of the United States troops at Vera Cruz we should have been involved in war with Mexico. General Funston was on the verge of starting for Mexico City several times when he was in Vera Cruz, but each time his tactfulness saved the situation. Recently he has had to face the Villa troops. While the general refused to discuss that situation with me, one of the state officers of Texas told me that when Funston was at Nogales, Ariz., he was within seconds of giving a command to attack Villa. I asked the general about the story, but he would not discuss it."

"From others, however, I learned that Funston had a dramatic ten minutes talk with Villa through a barbed wire fence. Villa was on the Mexican side. Funston had 8,000 soldiers, Villa some 12,000 and Carranza about 8,000. In attacking the Carranza forces, Villa's men fired across the border many times. Funston warned him that it had to cease and gave him ten minutes to comply. General Funston was under orders not to cross into Mexican territory, and as a result, he had to march his army 100 miles to the trench. If he had not done so there would have been a second Custer massacre of the American troops."

"Funston is a man who thinks. He told me to think quietly when he was in Alaska. He took a trip down the Alaskan rivers in a rowboat alone, a trip that lasted 67 days and this taught him how to think, he said."

WHAT'S THE USE OF LOVIN' ANY MORE, ANYWAY!

Now Topeka Postoffice Issues Order Against Cupid.

Ban on "General Delivery" Love Affairs Is Ordered.

HIDE NOTES IN HOLLOW TREES

Primitive Methods for Those Who Would Act Secretly.

You Must Explain Your "G. D." Mail Hereafter.

Sweethearts, swindlers, pirates in the fields of love and finance—have a case.

The postoffice authorities have put the lid on the "friendly" refuge, otherwise known as the "general delivery."

No longer may such individuals hide their clandestine love affairs or confidence games behind the cover of those two words. Postmaster W. O. Righy has an order from the post-department which makes it necessary for him to extract a good reason from the individual who wants to decline mail through the general delivery window.

Of course there are people in Topeka whose use of the general delivery window is perfectly legitimate and they may continue to use it. They are people who are transients, who have no permanent address. It would be impossible for them to get their mail otherwise. They are not the people the postoffice authorities are after.

Too Bad, Lovers! Youthful maidens who wish to deceive their parents and carry on clandestine love affairs, use fictitious names and get their mail at the general delivery window. Young girls carry on such correspondence with older men in this and other towns in that manner. The postoffice authorities want to put a damper on that kind of love-making and incidentally are forcing the young people back to their parents.

The government is determined to put a stop to nefarious devices. Cupid may have to give up.

Hereafter when an applicant appears at the general delivery window, said applicant will be required to state reasons for receiving mail that way and will be compelled to leave the full name of the recipient, if it is not a parent or young boy who appears to have no good excuse, there will be nothing doing unless the recipient is a relative or guardian. That rule will apply to minors. Experiments are being made to operate through the general delivery window, if they remain in town for any length of time.

HOCH DER KAISER! Berlin Gay, Celebrating Emperor's 57th Birthday.

President Wilson Wires Congratulations to "War Lord."

Berlin, Jan. 27.—Flags were out everywhere in Berlin today in celebration of the fifty-seventh birthday of Emperor William. The emperor's birthday observance consisted of religious services. The emperor granted amnesty in several cases.

The principal celebration was held at the general headquarters yesterday. Congratulations were extended to the emperor by the German press and by the Austrian throne, on behalf of Emperor Francis Joseph; by Field Marshal Erich Conrad von Hotzenplotz, Austrian chief of staff; Prince Henry of Prussia; Lieut. Gen. Zekki Pasha, head of the special Turkish military mission to Germany; and by Colonel Santshev, representing Bulgaria. Emperor William thanked them for their felicitations and expressed conviction that final victory in the war would rest with the central powers.

All the newspapers of Berlin publish eulogistic articles concerning the emperor, recalling the fact that he was able to maintain peace for 25 years.

Washington, Jan. 27.—A message to Emperor William of Germany congratulating him upon his fifty-seventh birthday anniversary was sent to Berlin today by President Wilson.
