POPE ASKS FOR PEACE?

Rumored in Rome That France Is the Only "Holdout."

Rome, May 11.—Though no confirmation is obtainable from the Vatican, it is generally reported in Rome that Pope Benedict, through Monsignor Bonzano, apostolic delegate to Washington, has requested President Wilson to initiate a movement for peace.

The above cablegram from the Rome bureau of the United Press was transmitted through Havre, and therefore, passed through the hands of both the Italian and French censors. WARN AMERICANS

"Quit Mexico" Is Proclamation of State Department. At Last Counting 3,000 Still Were Across Border.

Washington, May 11.—New warning to Americans to quit Mexico has been forwarded to consuls by the state department, it was officially announced today. The action was taken by calling their attention to orders hitherto given.

Developments which caused the warning to quit Mexico have been responsible for the reiteration of the warning to get out of Mexico. While officials inclined to believe that General Scott's 10 o'clock conference with General Olagun might be satisfactory, the Mexican insistence upon a time limit for the stay of the Americans caused uneasiness which resulted in the double warning.

Obregon May Have Designs. Reports compiled several weeks ago showed that there are less than 3,000 Americans remaining in Mexico. This number probably has been reduced since the census was taken.

Secretary Baker took an optimistic view of the situation after Scott's latest word last night. From a high official came the statement that Obregon and Carranza might be endeavoring to grasp a political advantage at the conference, it being pointed out to some quarters that Obregon is trying to establish a power of his own.

DISMISS SIXTY SUITS

Woman Who Claimed Tracy Estate Will Pay All Court Costs.

New York, May 11.—Sixty suits instituted to recover alleged dower rights of Mrs. George Washington Adams of Boise City, Idaho, were discontinued here today under a stipulation signed by counsel for herself and for Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Henry C. Phipps and other wealthy persons who, named as defendants, now are owners of some $10,000,000 worth of New York real estate once in the possession of the late Edward Tracy, millionaire brewer. Mrs. Adams, who sued Hortense Tracy, had been ordered to produce a certificate to substantiate her claim that she married Tracy when she was 16 years old, in 1871. She produced a certificate but according to an affidavit filed by counsel for the defendants, the document was submitted to an expert, who declared it a forgery.

The certificate bore the signature of C. E. Stoughton, according to the affidavit, whereas Mrs. Adams had declared that she was married by the Rev. Norman Cook Stoughton, once an episcopal minister in Athens, N. Y., daughter of a builder in Lansingburg at the time of her marriage. In 1887 the marriage was annulled in Idaho, according to the defense, because the bachelor until his death in 1904. His property was left to a sister.

Last year Mrs. Adams obtained a judgment against a holder of property Tracy once owned and the actions dismissed today. The actions, about $1,000 worth, were then begun. The cost of bringing the suits, about $1,000 will, under a judgment entered against the plaintiff today, be paid by her.
