C. W. Kouns, general manager of the Santa Fe, this morning issued a statement to all employees of the system assuring them that their positions will remain open if they enlist in the national guard.

So far as is known the Santa Fe is the first concern employing a large number of men to take this step which will undoubtedly stimulate enlistment.

At a Recruiting Campaign. President Wilson discussed with his cabinet plans for preventing the loss of salaries or positions by government employees called into service with the national guard.

At 1 o'clock, the battery boys began packing their equipment on flat cars. The tents and cooking utensils will not be placed on the cars until final orders are received.

The Trade. They bear in place of classic names, letters and numbers. They play their grim, blind-fold games in little boxes made of tin.

Few prize courts sit upon their claims; they seldom lawfully argue in; they follow certain secret signs; down under, far from strife or din.

Their feats, their fortunes and their fames are hidden from their nearest kin; his eager public tracks or blames; that is the custom of "The Trade."

London, June 21.—No one knows how the title "The Trade" came to be applied to the submarine service.

Whatever the truth, the submarine service is now "The Trade," and if you ask them why, they will answer: "What else could you call it?"

"The Trade" is the trade, of course, it is a corporation, yet it recruits its men and officers from every class that uses the sea and engines as well as from many classes that never expected to deal with either.

So "The Trade" lives in the dark and thinks out inconceivable, impossible things which afterward it puts into practice.

It keeps books, too, as honest traders should. They are almost as bald as ledgers, written up hour by hour on a little sliding table that pulls out from beneath the commander's bunk.

NAVY INCREASE ASKED FOR

War Council Wants 20,000 More Sailors at Once.

Possible Invasion of Texas Considered in Washington.

Washington, June 21.—The administration is considering a call for 500,000 volunteers.

Secretary of War Baker declined to make any statement on the subject, but high officers said announcement of the plan awaits news from General Pershing's headquarters.

Officials declared there are only two alternatives for Carranza. Either he will submit himself to threats of physical force contained in Secretary Lansing's note, or he will call on all Mexicans to make war on the United States.

In the first event the federal army now in Mexico or along the border, supplemented by the 100,000 or more national guard troops to go there, will be sufficient to carry out any further waiting and watching policy.

May Need Half Million. In the second event, officials have decided, it will require probably half a million more men to face the situation in Mexico.

Military experts pointed out that a campaign in Mexico today would not be like that of General Scott, in which from 6,000 to 10,000 men reduced the country.

Practically a whole army of cavalry is needed now, this officer said, to fight guerrilla bands into which the Mexican army will break up when it is defeated in a pitched battle.

Washington, June 21.—Marching orders for national guard organizations summoned to the colors under President Wilson's call are still held up at the war department pending completion of the mobilization of the troops at state camps.

Only preliminary reports of the progress of the mobilization in various states had reached the war department today.

Washington, June 21.—Strong pressure is being brought to bear upon General Carranza by representatives of European powers to prevent him forcing a break with the United States.

Agencies of the entente allies are understood to be active for peace, particularly as they believe German influence has sought to inflame the Mexican government against the United States with a view to preventing this country from gathering in trade formerly controlled by Germany in Mexico, South America and Central America.

It is pointed out that Carranza might avoid war by calling for an international commission to discuss the border situation as provided for in
