Pershing Sent Strong Column
to Gather Fragments.

Brownsville, Tex., June 23.—Officers in Fort Brown were investigating a report this afternoon that twenty armed Mexican bandits had crossed the Rio Grande fifteen miles west of Brownsville early today. The point of the reported crossing is a short distance beyond the San Pedro ranch.

Columbus, N. M., June 23.—An unofficial report has been received here that Mexicans crossed to the American side near Hachita early today and ran off with a number of horses and mules. American troops, according to another report, immediately gave chase and crossed into Mexico after them.

The reports stated they were driving off horses from Parker's ranch in Pecos valley, southwest of Hachita. N. M. Loss of life from fighting was not mentioned. (Deletion by censor.)

Fear Worst for Troopers.
El Paso, June 23.—Unconfirmed reports received here today stated that Troops C and K of the Tenth cavalry were practically annihilated in the fight in Carrizal, when led into the Carrizal trap.

The little handful of American soldiers made a gallant stand, but, greatly outnumbered, they were forced back. The Mexican cavalry poured shots down on the United States cavalrymen, whose mounts had stampeded after the fighting at Carrizal.

These reports are contradicted by official Mexican reports.
No news from Pershing.

San Antonio, June 23.—Whether the little force of the Tenth United States cavalry under Capt. Charles T. Boyd, fought their way out successfully through the ring of Mexican troops which had almost surrounded them at Carrizal June 21 still was unknown at General Funston's headquarters today.

No news from General Pershing has been received since the arrival late last night of the report based on the stories of several stragglers who made their way back to the main column before the fighting at Carrizal had ended. General Funston expects a complete report at any moment, however, as it was believed General Pershing soon would have word from the two squadrons of the Eleventh cavalry which he sent out to meet and reinforce Captain Boyd's men.

Search for Wounded.
Columbus, N. M., June 23.—General Pershing has sent out large scouting parties to locate wounded stragglers of the ill-fated negro patrol which encountered Carrizal troops at Carrizal Wednesday. It was learned here today, by late evening, that the cavalry detachment are known to have returned to their base. Fear is expressed in some quarters that the American losses may have been greater than reported from Mexican sources.

ROBINS DESERTS
Progressive Chairman Goes Back to Democrats.

Chicago, June 23.—Raymond Robins, chairman of the last Progressive national convention, announced today he is going back into the Democratic party.

Declaring the Progressives dead as a national organization, Robins told Illinois Bull Moosers, gathered here for a "funeral conference," today that Theodore Roosevelt, Governor Hiram Johnson of California, James W. Garfield of Ohio and Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania all have gone back into the G. O. P.

"These things are settled in my mind," Robins said. "There is no hope for us as a party. I will not join the Republicans if the rest of you do. I will go back into the Democratic party."

Washington, June 23.—Secretary Baker today issued orders to all army departmental commanders to send to the Mexican border all guardsmen available immediately upon their organization without waiting for completion of the mobilization of the separate states.

The commanders were requested to notify General Funston when each troop, battery or other unit completes muster. General Funston will indicate where he wishes the forces sent in each instance, and the departmental commander without further instructions from Washington, will arrange transportation and send them forward.

Wants Emergency Action.
Washington, June 23.—Immediate action on his resolution authorizing the president to draft into the federal service national guardsmen willing to take the oath under the new army law was asked in the house today by Chairman Hay of the military committee. At the same time he offered an amendment to declare that the emergency for the draft now exists, instead of leaving the question to be determined by the president.

Questioned by Republican Leader Mann and others, Mr. Hay said that the resolution did not contemplate a state of war, but that the mere fact of the introduction of the resolution showed to him by the war department "shows that in the opinion of the emergency, the emergency does exist and that this resolution is absolutely necessary to meet the emergency."

Congress Will Not Interfere.
Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said the state department early seeking information about the situation. He was not an official statement. Mr. Stone said congress would do nothing in the crisis that might interfere with negotiations between the state department and the de facto Mexican government.

Await Pershing's Full Report.
Washington, June 23.—A preliminary report from General Pershing on the Carrizal fight based on stories told by stragglers reaching the headquarters of the American expedition and on Mexican rumors was taken to the White House early today by Secretary Baker. The secretary said General Pershing himself did not regard the report as an official statement, although it had happened and indicated that he attempted to decide the course to be pursued by the United States would be until a complete account had been received.

In the meantime the preliminary report will not be made public, although it is understood to be substantially in accord with the version given in border press dispatches last night. Officials are greatly worried over the delay in getting news from the surviving officers of the Tenth cavalry detachment which engaged a superior force of Mexicans. According to Mexican official accounts there were about seventy-six Americans, seven of whom were taken prisoner, Capt. Charles T. Boyd, Lieut. Henry A. Adair and ten men are said to have been killed. Of the remaining forty-seven stragglers, only one reached General Pershing's headquarters yesterday and today there had been no word from the two cavalry troops sent out to get in touch with the shattered command. General Pershing said he hoped to have a report from surviving officers by courier during the day.

Gets New Tenth Order.
New York, June 23.—The department of the east was notified by the war department today that as soon as national emergency regulations under its control are ready they will be dispatched to the border "without a moment's unreasonable delay."

Washington, June 23.—After a cabinet meeting that lasted nearly two hours in the morning, Secretary of War Woodrow Wilson today announced that a complete report from the Carrizal incident still was wanted.

There was a wail from the Santa Fe shops whistle. There was a cry of all aboard, a last clapping of hands, a hiss of steam and a scream from a locomotive. The special train of fourteen cars carrying Battery A, the medical corps, the Second regiment band and the quartermaster's corps of Company M. Lawrence, began to move. It was noon today, and Topeka's answer to Mexico was on its way.

It was rumored among officers and men that the battery will not unload its equipment in Fort Riley, but will pitch the tents only. There isn't a man in the battery but expects to be on his way to a border training camp by Monday night.

Prospects Exceed All Former Crops Except Two.

Kansas companies will need nearly 1,000 men to bring the national guard organization to full war footing, according to an estimate today by General Martin. That sufficient men may be recruited, officers will be stationed in all towns where guard companies have been maintained and a campaign will be conducted for recruits. Applicants for enlistment may apply either at local recruiting stations or to officers at Fort Riley.

"We will make an active campaign for more recruits," said General Martin this afternoon. "Some of the companies are barely above the minimum strength, while others are recruited to almost full war strength. It is probable that 800 or 1,000 men are needed to bring the Kansas guards to full war footing. For that reason, recruiting officers will be stationed in all towns where local companies have been maintained. Recruiting will also continue at Fort Riley."

TO BATTLESHIP REFUGE

Five Coach Loads of Americans to Go
Aboard the Nebraska.

Vera Cruz, June 23.—Five first class coaches full of Americans arrived here last night. They will go aboard the battleship Nebraska today and afterwards will be transferred to a transport. A special coach also arrived with the American employees of the Agulla Oil company.

James Rodgers, the United States diplomatic representative at Mexico City, will arrive here tomorrow with special trains bringing refugees from Real Del Monte and Pachuca in twelve coaches.

According to the arrivals the general belief in Mexico City is that the trouble between the United States and Mexico finally will be settled by arbitration.

May Burnett Found Guilty.
Washington, June 23.—Officials here today announced that May Burnett was found guilty in police court this afternoon on a charge of drunkenness. She immediately filed notice of appeal and her bond was signed by Dr. Eva Harding.

Men Will Be in Camp on Schedule Time.

OVER 3,000 AT FORT TONIGHT
Will Be Formally Transferred to Federal Government.

Ready to Move As Soon As Word Is Given.

If confirmation of reports from Washington are received by Kansas National Guard officials, it is probable that the cars of general army equipment destined to Fort Riley today will not be unloaded. The equipment will be checked while on the cars and immediately directed to some border point. Plans for the prompt mobilization of the Kansas National Guard were completed today and General Martin stated that he believed all of the troops would be in camp on schedule most any minute. The plan means that more than 3,000 troopers will tonight sleep at Fort Riley. They may appear in uniform at once and formal transfer of the troops and equipment will be made by the state to the federal government.

"We are ready for any orders or instructions now," said General Martin. "Everything has moved smoothly. There has not been a slip. The plan worked out three months ago was perfect in every detail. The Kansas guard can entrain for the border almost any minute. There is but one thing holding them back. That is the checking of the equipment at Fort Riley. We are ready to complete that work and engines are provided for hauling our trains."

General Martin declined to discuss the probabilities of an immediate movement of the state troops to the Mexican border. He merely stated that his troops were ready. After completing the final issuance of orders to subordinate officers this morning General Martin announced that he himself would go to Fort Riley on one of the troop trains this afternoon. He will be accompanied by several of the staff officers who were mobilized directly to the mobilization camp.

Troop Train Schedule.
Five special trains carrying Kansas troops are scheduled to leave Topeka today, leaving as two trains for Fort Riley, over the Union Pacific, the first leaving at 10:30 o'clock, carrying the Second and Third regiments. The second train will leave at 10:35 o'clock, carrying Lawrence headquarters Company 3d, and picks up the Second and Third regiments at Topeka. The Santa Fe will bring in companies from Oskaloosa and Hiawatha in the meantime, and their four coaches and two baggage cars will be attached to the Union Pacific special here.

A Santa Fe special carrying the companies from Yates Center, Garnett, Fort Scott and Paola, is scheduled to reach Topeka at 12 o'clock. The companies from Holton and Horton will also be attached to the Santa Fe special here, and their four coaches and two baggage cars will be attached to the Union Pacific special here.

A second Santa Fe special carrying troops from Independence, Fredonia and Humboldt is scheduled to arrive in Topeka and is turned over to the Union Pacific at 1:30 o'clock. The coaches falling off arrive in Topeka in time to connect with the earlier special for Fort Riley will be attached to this train.

At 2 o'clock the Santa Fe will turn over to the Union Pacific a special carrying the companies from Hutchinson and Great Bend at 2 o'clock today. The Union Pacific will run a special from Salina to Fort Riley carrying the troops from Morris, Lawrence, and Salina. It left Salina at 9:30 o'clock today.

A few cars, the character of which is not known here, will be turned over to the Union Pacific at Junction City by the Katy and will be shunted to Fort Riley with a switch engine.

So far as railroad companies know this covers the entire movement of troops to Fort Riley. The schedule provides for the mobilization of all the troops at Fort Riley by tonight.

The first Union Pacific special from Lawrence carries twenty-five coaches. The Lawrence contingent will have three coaches, two baggage cars and one stock car. Topeka's troops will require four coaches, two baggage cars, seven flat cars, and one box car. The companies from Hiawatha and Oskaloosa will have four coaches and two baggage cars.

Apparently the men who made their way back to Pershing's headquarters did not encounter the two squadrons of the Eleventh cavalry sent by General Pershing to reinforce the two troops of the Tenth and no report from this source had reached General Pershing last night.

General Funston pointed out a discrepancy in the report coming through from the source that reported that the Captain Morey had been killed. The Mexican report stated the American commander had been killed, while General Funston's report stated that Captain Boyd was the senior officer. There, according to the message received by General Funston, the story of the stragglers ends.

San Antonio, June 23.—General Funston eagerly awaited today further details from General Pershing of the attack near Carrizal by a greatly superior force of Mexicans under Gen. Felix Gomez, on troops C and K of the Tenth United States cavalry under Capt. Charles Boyd.

The final account of the battle was not made known in General Pershing's report received at headquarters late last night nor was any indication given of the number of casualties suffered by the little American force which had been almost entirely surrounded by a ring of Mexican troops. The report was based on the stories of several stragglers, who had made their way back to the main column. These men apparently had been horse-holders, not actively engaged, and had made their escape before the fighting was over. According to the story told by General Pershing to the stragglers, the attack was entirely unprovoked and was made after the Mexican force had partly surrounded the Americans under cover of a parley between General Gomez and Captain Boyd. It was not until after the Mexicans had opened with a machine gun on the American troops that Captain Boyd dismounted his command and returned the fire, according to the stragglers' story.

Reached Carrizal at 7:30 a. m. They reported to General Pershing that the forces under Captain Boyd and Major Morley, who were joined at Ojo Santo Domingo on June 20 and proceeded together toward Carrizal, were not able to reach that town at 10:30 a. m. on June 21. Captain Boyd, the senior officer, ordered a halt at that point and sent a courier into Carrizal to inform General Pershing. The Mexican commander to pass through the town. This permission was refused, according to the courier, but would be allowed to pass through the town. A messenger arrived from General Gomez with word that the American troops would be allowed to pass through the town. The Mexican commander to pass through the town. This permission was refused, according to the courier, but would be allowed to pass through the town. A messenger arrived from General Gomez with word that the American troops would be allowed to pass through the town.

Before Captain Boyd had dispatched a messenger to this message, General Gomez himself rode out to meet the American commander, accompanied by several members of his staff. They were talking, according to the stragglers, large numbers of the Mexican garrison poured out of the town. The American troops were surrounded. The American forces from all sides as they were in danger of being surrounded.

Dieht Meet Reinforcements.
Captain Boyd, according to the report, protested emphatically against this movement. What reply was made to this protest by General Gomez was not known. The moment he reached his men, according to the report to General Pershing, the Mexicans opened fire with a machine gun. Captain Boyd immediately dismounted his men, according to the report to General Pershing, the Mexicans opened fire with a machine gun. Boyd Had Precaution.
General Pershing's report stated that he had warned Captain Boyd before the latter left the main column of the Tenth cavalry to reinforce the stragglers.
