

SAY ROSS MUST GO

Republican Leaders Organize Fight on Superintendent. Will Try to Fill Place on Ticket With Woman. MISS LIZZIE WOOSTER CHOSEN New Voters Are Demanding the Fruits of Loyalty. Elimination of Third Term Handicap Part of Plan.

State wide efforts are to be made by a number of prominent Republicans to land a place on the state ticket for a woman. The plan is to call for the elimination of public instruction, who has drawn eight years of service at the state house and is a candidate for a third term as head of his department. Through the elimination of Ross and nomination of Miss Wooster, Republican leaders figure they will recognize the new voters and dodge the burden of a third term candidate on the ticket.

Kansas women will this year cast their first vote for a president. Two years ago they voted for the first time in a state wide election. The Republicans in 1914 did not grant the franchise to the women for their department. This year the demand is doubly emphatic. The women want recognition and they look on the state superintendent of public instruction as their just reward for party loyalty. Even the winning of this place, they argue, will give the state offices to nine of the state offices to be filled in November.

The fight of Miss Wooster is to be based both on her ability to handle the work and the claim that Kansas women should have an opportunity to share the benefits of suffrage with men. Her record in school work is widely known in the state and with an extensive acquaintance she will be a formidable candidate in the primaries. Behind her fight for the nomination are a score of men who are recognized leaders in the Republican affairs in the state. She has also won the support of nearly fifty prominent weekly and daily papers in the state.

Efforts to dethrone Superintendent Ross are based on the fact that he held office in the state house eight years, has served two terms as state superintendent of public instruction and is now a candidate for a third term. It is also urged that the passage of the motion picture censorship act, Ross balked and balked in the enforcement of the law and that his attitude resulted in litigation which tied up the operation of the law nearly two years. In the 1915 legislature Ross urged the passage of the motion picture censorship act, which was enacted in the law. Ross has been charged with the organization of a political machine which operated to his personal and political advantage in the campaign.

Real war on Ross, however, will be waged on his third term candidacy and the necessity of recognizing the new voters in the selection of candidates for state offices. Women have been elected county auditors in more than fifty of the 105 counties in the state. Of the 15,000 teachers in the state, 12,000 are women. All of which has furnished an argument for the women and the men who are leading the fight against Ross and his third term program.

Fay Seaton, editor of the Manhattan Daily Mercury, and a number of other Kansas publishers, have taken up the third term fight on Ross. The campaign is to be waged state-wide with the object of balancing the Republican state ticket with the nomination of a woman.

U-BOAT SINKS 2 EXILES RETURN

British and French Steamers Victims of Torpedoes. Lake Steamer Loaded With Wheat Down in Collision.

Marseilles, June 27.—The French steamer Fournel and the English steamer Cardiff have been sunk by a submarine in the Mediterranean. The French steamer Ville de Madrid, with fifty-two passengers on board, was pursued and cannonaded by a submarine but escaped. The Fournel was a vessel of 2,047 tons built in Glasgow in 1880. There are two British steamers named Cardiff, one of 2,808 tons and the other a trawler. The larger boat had been engaged in the trans-Atlantic trade and was last reported on her way to Sydney.

Lake Steamer Sinks. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 27.—In collision in a dense fog last night late with the steamer Hill of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, the steamer Panther, owned by the Mackay Steamship company, was sunk abreast of Parlan Island after her crew had been rescued by the Hill. The Panther was downbound with a cargo of wheat.

BY MERE CHANCE Casement Was Discovered by Strange Turn of Fate. Farmer Got Up at Daybreak to Replenish Water Supply.

BY WILBUR S. FOREST. London, June 27.—Only the fact that the water supply in the home of a Kerry county farmer ran out on the night before Good Friday, led to the uncovering of Sir Roger Casement's plot to head a rebellion in Ireland.

John McCarthy, a Carrigrohane farmer and the first witness when Casement's trial was resumed today, revealed that fact.

McCarthy awoke before daylight on Good Friday morning and discovered that there was no water in the house. He went to a well a mile distant. On his return he was drifting near shore the collapsible boat in which Sir Roger and his confederates had landed from a German submarine.

McCarthy testified that he found a dagger in the boat and noticed the footprints of three persons in the sand. His little girl found three pistols near by. These discoveries aroused his suspicions, he said, and he sent one of his laborers, Patrick Driscoll, to the nearest barracks to inform the police.

Arming for Domestic War. Mary Gorman, living on a nearby farm, told of seeing three men go by the farmyard shortly after dawn on Good Friday morning. Casement smiled down when she identified him as one of the trio.

Serdt. Thomas J. O'Hearn of the Irish constabulary, who found Casement hiding in an old fort and arrested him, admitted on cross examination that a large part of Ireland was arming in preparation for domestic war. He said it was common knowledge that large quantities of arms had been imported into Ulster.

RESCUER TURNED BACK Shackleton Gets Almost to Marooned Comrades But Failed.

Buenos Ayres, June 27.—Lieutenant Shackleton was actually, within sight of Elephant Island where twenty-three companions of his South Polar expedition were marooned, when he was compelled to turn back by heavy ice according to dispatches from the Falkland islands today. Shackleton believes the men will survive until weather conditions make it possible for another relief expedition to reach them.

SAYS IT IS WAR

Senator Sherman Objects to Beating Around the Bush. He Urges Congress to Face the Issue Squarely.

AS THE RESULT OF WAITING None of Guards Is Prepared to Fight, He Asserts.

Bitter Attack Made on Wilson by Illinois Solon.

Washington, June 27.—The senate has passed the house resolution authorizing the president to draft the national guard for military service for a period not exceeding three years. The debate lasted seven hours and was acrimonious.

The senate struck out the house provision providing a payment of not more than $50 a month for the support of dependent families of guardsmen and substituted the words "The heads of dependent families could be discharged if they requested it." The debate was over the substitute. The vote was 45 to 30.

The resolution was further amended at the instance of Senator Clark, of Wisconsin, by striking out the declaration that "in the opinion of congress, an emergency exists."

The debate ended in a sensational speech by Senator Sherman of Illinois, in support of an amendment declaring that "in the opinion of congress, a state of war exists between the government of the United States and the de facto government of the republic of Mexico." He said:

Sherman's Speech. "I am tired of listening to mere words. Emergency is mere euphemism than war in some cases. We are congress here for? We have declared everything but war. We have declared everything except that which ought to be declared.

"I for one am tired of this insane policy, this system of 'watchful waiting' which has allowed our missions to Mexico of unknown diplomatic representatives. We have sent missions to Villa, to Carranza and we sent one to Huahua. We have not sent our own country was persona non grata to us. The president in one of his addresses said he had information from members of the Carranza camp since have been chosen at both places and a large force is at work sinking wells for an adequate water supply. The first of the wells are expected here within forty-eight hours.

Forty carloads of supplies—everything from a motor car tire to a can of condensed milk—have been sent to El Paso yards for distribution to the state troops.

Fourteen carloads of supplies, the heaviest shipment yet made to the American troops in Mexico in a single day, left El Paso for Columbus.

EXIT MEDIATION Is Dead Issue Until Carranza Makes Answer.

U. S. Attitude Attacked by Deputy in Brazil Chamber.

Mexico City, June 27.—The charge that the United States is attempting to force an exit mediation in Mexico is made by Foreign Secretary Aguilar in a message to the Latin-American republics.

An spokesman of the American government, without adequate reasons for declaring war on Mexico, wished to "qualify" the inevitable, "wired the foreign secretary.

"Mexico should win or succumb with dignity." An earnest communication sent to the Latin-American republic last night declared that the United States is concentrating forces against the Mexican border and that war appears inevitable.

"The Mexican people are ready to defend their sovereignty and independence at any cost of blood and destruction of their welfare," said the communication. "The Mexican government in Mexico who acquire property after the American government is not in accordance with its friendly protests to the Pan-American republics, that the United States is concentrating forces against the Mexican border and that war appears inevitable.

Asks Latin American Support. Buenos Ayres, June 27.—Foreign Minister Jose Luis Murature has received a message from Gen. Candido Aguilar, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, containing an appeal for the support of the governments of Latin-American Mexico's controversy with the United States.

General Aguilar asserts the United States is attempting to maintain by force in weak countries unjust claims on the part of its citizens. He contends that, by agreement, foreigners in Mexico who acquire property after a certain period of time renounce the protection of their respective countries and governments.

Buenos Ayres, June 27.—A lengthy telegram expressing a war sympathy of the Latin-American League was forwarded to General Carranza today following a mass meeting held here last night.

Several pro-Mexican speeches were made in exchange of messages with reference to mediation proposals. It was diplomatically hinted today that some mediators are verging on the over-zealous in moving for mediation. Certain smaller governments are also accused of indiscreet interference.

U. S. and Mexican Forces Await Orders at Ahumada.

Tension at Breaking Point Between Juarez and El Paso.

BY H. H. STANSBURY. El Paso, Tex., June 27.—General Pershing's forces are reported to be within a few miles of Ahumada, Trevino's army at Villa Ahumada, the Mexicans are throwing up earthen breastworks in anticipation of an attack.

The tension at Ahumada is said to have halted, awaiting such orders as may follow the reply of First Chief Carranza to President Wilson's last ultimatum.

A steady movement of Mexican troop trains from Chihuahua City to Villa Ahumada brought reinforcements to the approximately 4,000 for the Carranza army.

Tension between Juarez and El Paso is still at the breaking point. The Mexican town has not been evacuated by General Gonzalez as reported, Consul Andreas Garcia is in command of the civilian army which is supporting Gen. Francisco Gonzalez.

Silence Mexican Guns. Garcia states that the big buildings, of which there are several in El Paso which tower above the general sky line, are the targets of the Mexican artillery in the event of trouble. General Bell claims the preponderance of artillery is on the American side of the border and has announced that he could quickly silence the Mexican batteries.

New York Experiences Real War Thrill Today. Women Throw Kisses, Flowers Along Fifth Avenue.

New York, June 27.—The east caught its first war thrill since the days of '98 today as the national guardsmen from several states departed for the Mexican border amid women's sobbs and shouts of God speed.

Wives and sweethearts embraced khaki clad youths in final farewells at regimental armories in New York before the order groups started them marching down bunting bedecked streets to their trains. The same scenes were enacted at several other military armories.

A great crowd was packed around the depot when the first of the soldiers came tramping into the street. They were greeted by noisy cheers. The guardsmen nearest in line and girls pressed forward with flowers.

"God bless you, boys," shouted a gray haired woman, waving a streamer and bidding adieu.

"Goodbye, Billy!" "Goodbye, Billy—goodbye," cried a red-eyed girl from the sidewalk.

AREN'T WELCOME

Indignation Over Anti-Militarism Peace Mission. Jordan Wires President; Bryan Refuses to Act.

El Paso, June 27.—Indignation over the coming of a peace commission asked by the American Union Against Militarism broke out in a street corner protest meeting here. Dr. David Starr Jordan, first delegate on the group, has acknowledged he had little hope of really attaining the object of the coming sessions between American and Mexican leaders of public opinion.

The following telegram was sent by Dr. David Starr Jordan to President Wilson concerning the Mexican situation: "To President Wilson, White House, Washington: "If armed intervention necessary, which I doubt, undertake it on our merits, not making pretense of obscure clash of irresponsible troops, in which each side blames the other. History will blame us most, being strongest. De facto government impotent, penniless, except for our support. Every other alternative should be tried before declaration of war. (Signed) "DAVID STARR JORDAN."

Bryan Didn't Accept. St. Paul, Minn., June 27.—"Unless the administration asked a civil peace commission to intervene in the Mexican situation, it would be unwise and improper at this time to meet with any one to prevent armed clashes in Mexico," W. J. Bryan said today, while changing cars to fill a Chautauqua date at Stillwater.

There is probably no person that wants the Mexican matter settled with out a clash of arms, more than I," said Bryan. "But please remember that I said settled," he continued. "If I were asked by the administration to represent it at the border, I think I would accept, but without our president's sanction, the conference would be too easily misunderstood."

Thus the commoner declines to meet with Dr. David Starr Jordan, Frank P. Walsh and three Mexicans at El Paso, and the administration to represent it at the border, I think I would accept, but without our president's sanction, the conference would be too easily misunderstood."
