TO LIVE LONG

A recipe given by a famous physician for long life was: "Keep the kidneys in good order! Try to eliminate thru the skin and intestines the poisons that otherwise clog the kidneys. Avoid eating meat as much as possible; avoid too much salt, alcohol, tea. Try a milk and vegetable diet. Drink plenty of water, and exercise so you sweat—the skin helps to eliminate the toxic poisons and uric acid."
For those past middle life, for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation, as backache, scalding "water," or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, "rusty" joints, stiffness, get "Auric" at the drug store. This is a wonderful eliminator of uric acid and was discovered by Dr. Pierce of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. If your druggist does not keep it send 10c to Dr. Pierce for trial package and you will know that it is thirty-seven times more potent than lithin and that it dissolves uric acid as hot water does sugar.—Advertisement.

THRU FIELD OF ICE

Shackleton Led Party 750 Miles in Open Boat.

Member of Expedition Brings Details to London.

RESCUE HIGHLY IMPROBABLE

Storms and Ice Constantly Endangered Little Party.

London, Aug. 4.—Harry McNish, a member of the Shackleton Antarctic expedition, arrived in London today, bringing details of the terrible experiences undergone during the escape from Elephant Island.

McNish told how Sir Ernest Shackleton and the little party in an open boat 750 miles through mountainous seas, driven by great gales and filled with floating ice. They were forced to jettison most of their supplies and even lost their sea anchors. During the weeks of struggle they ran out of water and food but finally reached South Georgia Island.

McNish has little hope of the rescue of the men left behind on Elephant Island. Sir Ernest now is engaged in a second expedition to attempt their relief.

"Perhaps the worst fact we have to reckon with regarding the men left on Elephant Island," McNish said, "is that they may think the small boat in which we reached South Georgia Island has foundered with all hands and that consequently the world is still ignorant of their fate."

One Chance in Hundred.
"It was, I suppose, one chance in a hundred that the boat ever would get through and time after time it was only by a miracle that we escaped drowning. It was only by an act of Providence that we were able to make Elephant Island at all. Even then the wind blew everlastingly and we had to crawl on our hands and knees to make headway against it."

"The chief decided that a push must be made to the nearest land where help could be found, and I was set to work to fit our largest boat for the adventurous voyage. It was a difficult job, but with the help of George Marston, the artist, and McCarty, a seaman, who made a great hand at sewing frozen canvas—the most difficult proposition in the way of sewing that there is—we managed to make good."

"We decked the boat with sledge runners, decked the canvas and made it as seaworthy as possible, but even then it seemed a crazy craft in which to sail 750 miles through ice and gales."

"The journey was almost worse than our expectations. Though we set out with a fair wind, that was the last decent weather we had and for a fortnight there was a constant succession of storms and gales. I do not think we saw the sun half a dozen times and it was very difficult to get an observation."

"Ice was constantly forming on the boat and was the worst handicap we had to face."

Lost the Anchor.
"One man was employed all the time in cutting the ice away with an axe, but we were never free from ice, and we had to jettison quite a lot of stuff, even the oars, to keep the boat afloat."

"A week after we started, while hoisting up a sail, we lost our sea anchor, the rope being cut by the ice."

"This seemed to be almost the last straw, but Sir Ernest Shackleton rose to the occasion and I never saw him in better form than he was that day."

"We are going to get there all right," he said when things seemed hopeless. And, sure enough, we did."

"We first sighted the west coast of Georgia. It was during a great snow storm and as we knew nothing about the tide or the island, we had to hold off until daylight the next day. The tide was in and the bay showed and we had great difficulty in keeping the boat afloat on a dead shore and it was hopeless to try to land."

"At that time we found that we were drifting onto the cliffs. It was just touch-and-go and if Sir Ernest had not seen a reefed sail I believe none of us would be alive now."

"We had to ball continuously and but for the wind shifting at a critical moment, we could never have put ashore alive."

"When we got to South Georgia—on the wrong side of the island, as it happened—we were just about at the end of our water. We were all frost-bitten, too, but the main thing we troubled about was something to fill our stomachs and that we found soon after landing."

Nebraska, Iowa and Oklahoma have been taken care of in a like manner.

"What has America to protest about? Japan does not talk of remonstrances and protests, and she is our ally. Neither, so far, has Brazil nor other countries concerned, except Argentina."

Australia Has Blacklist.
Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 4.—The commonwealth has issued a blacklist of American firms. Trading with these firms is prohibited.

MANY SHIPS ON WAYS

California Is Experiencing Largest Building Boom in History.

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—The ship yards of California are humming with the greatest building boom in their history. Figures gathered from the six yards around the bay show that ships valued at $1,350,000 are on the ways.

The Union Iron works has the bulk of this work. Four thousand men are at work in these yards, with work in sight for two years and a half. Ships valued at $28,350,000 are being built at the Union Iron works and the Moore and Scott yards of Oakland.

A fleet of thirty-six vessels is being built at other Pacific coast ports. Twenty-one of these vessels will be controlled by San Franciscans. The United States government is building six submarines and tenders at the Long Beach yards.

MUST BE CITIZEN

Foreigners Can't Own Property Under New Mexican Rule.

Nationalization of Oil Field Latest Carranza Action.

Brownsville, Texas, Aug. 4.—If Carranza's recent mandate against foreign shareholders in Mexican properties outlives the protest of foreign governments, the next step in the de facto government's slogan of "Mexico for the Mexicans" may be the nationalization of the oil fields. This is the project Carranza's government is shaping up, being masked temporarily under instructions to notaries and registrars of deeds, according to advices from Mexico City coming to the border today.

The project for nationalizing the oil fields already in typewritten form, awaiting only agreement and a decree of Don Venustiano to become operative. If it put through it will require all companies to incorporate under whatever rules and regulations the de facto government may devise and these articles will prescribe that members of the corporations and shareholders must be Mexican citizens.

Must Become Mexican.
By the recent mandate, if you wish to associate yourself with the company seeking incorporation, you must become a Mexican citizen and if you wish to purchase shares in a Mexican corporation you must subscribe to the condition of changing your nationality.

Publication of the mandate has already thrown foreign investors completely up in the air. It is believed in Mexico City that the issuance of the mandate may serve to effectually put a stop to foreign money seeking investment in Mexico. The next step in the Carranza program, the Mexicanization of corporate companies, their nationalization, is believed to be imminent. Up-to-date a vigorous protest from the United States government has kept Carranza from promulgating any such measure.

An advance copy of any decree Carranza may put forth on the project has been demanded by the United States government. Carranza has been asked to withhold issuing it so the state department may have ample time for studying the proposition. The mandate against foreign personnel in Mexican corporations supplements the first chief's instructions in February, last, to notaries and registrars of deeds forbidding the transference of immovable property of any kind from Mexicans by foreigners unless the latter first renounce their citizenship.

RESUME ST. JOE INQUEST

Neighbors Testify to Cordial Relations in Household.

St. Joseph, Aug. 4.—The coroner's inquest in the case of the murder of Mrs. Oscar D. McDaniel, wife of a prosecuting attorney of the county, who was killed by an unknown assassin in her home here the night of July 17, was resumed today, after a two weeks' adjournment.

One of the jurors was absent, but the attorneys agreed to proceed without him and the hearing may be concluded today.

Among the witnesses today were neighbors who testified to the cordial domestic relations of Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel. There were no developments as to a possible clue.

Speak Now or Keep Still Hereafter.
Following the examination of witnesses in the McDaniel inquest, this forenoon the state's attorney wanted any person who could throw any light on the murder to come forward and testify, or else keep quiet hereafter. There was no response and the coroner adjourned the inquest until next Wednesday.

VILLA IS ACTIVE AGAIN

Back in Saddle Bandit Leader Leads His Men in Person.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 4.—Panchito Villa, having recovered from his wound is again "in the saddle," according to reports received here today by General George Bell, Jr.

The bandit, within the past few days, has attacked Amador and Rosario, southeast of Parral. He personally led the latter attack with a force of about 300 men. It was stated while he succeeded in taking Amador, a small settlement garrisoned by 150 Carranza troops, Villa is said to have been forced to retreat from Rosario after inflicting a heavy loss on his enemy. Rosario is a town of about 4,000 population and has a garrison of 500 Carranzas.

Offsetting the two Villa victories, General Jacinto Trevino at Chihuahua City reported that General Lasareo Aviles, Villa's chief, with 51 men had surrendered to General Hilario Rodriguez at La Mancha. Tereso Morales, with 45 bandits also has surrendered, Trevino claimed.
