JAYHAWKERS NOT DISCOURAGED BY THEIR DEFEAT AT HANDS OF ILLINOIS

Baker's Big Score Over Kansas Wesleyan Boosts Baldwin Stock Skyward.

Followers of Jayhawker football destinies are not mourning much over the 30 to 0 defeat administered to K. U. by Illinois because most of the clear visioned expected defeat, but many are rejoicing that the score was not bigger and it is the general opinion of all that the experience the Olcott men gained will be of inestimable value to them thruout the remainder of the season. Also they never had a chance against the men of Zuppke, the Jayhawkers played good football and it is argued that such a defeat at the hands of an eleven ranking as high as the Urbana team ranks is of more real value in a seasoning way than any of the victories gained by the conference opponents of the Lawrence men.

The Kansas Aggies were not in action Saturday, having had their week's workout against the Southwestern lads Friday; but Nebraska had easy picking with Drake and Missouri's clash with Central College was nothing more than a practice affair for the Tigers who won 40 to 0. Saturday was rather a tame day for the Kansas conference teams, most of the big ones having played their games Friday. However, the score of the Baker-Kansas Wesleyan game made the other coaches turn their eyes Baldwinward and many are now predicting that Baker will be a real factor in the contest for state honors. The Baldwinites overwhelmed the Salsina crew 72 to 3, featuring open play work and showing a strong backfield.

The closest game played last week and the only one of any importance in which neither team was able to score was that between Ottawa and Bethany at Lindsay. This game, from all reports, was a real game, and Greek battle with both teams displaying a spectacular defense. Ottawa threatened several times to get its scoring machine into operation and twice got within five yards of a touchdown, but every time the Sweden hardened their defense and held tight like the Dardanelles. Captain Olson, Fullback Tibbets and Halfback Thompson played a star game for Bethany and Fogelman and Cassidy did the best work for Ottawa.

In their contest with the Kansas City Vets, the St. Marys players verified reports that the Catholics are on the "come back" to old-time form, winning by the score of 19 to 7, despite the fact that they were out-weighted. With only one old man in the line-up at the University of Kansas, O'Rourke's lads went at their opponents like veterans and by the use of the forward pass and long end runs played their opponents to a rout. Lane, Maloney, Kelly and Gavin did the most effective work for the Catholics.

Puhrer's Pittsburg Normal team had weak opposition in Drury college, of Springfield, Mo., and won 21 to 2. This Week's Games. This week's games in the Missouri Valley and Kansas conference offer much more entertaining cards than any of the young season so far, and the comparative strength of the various teams ought to be dopable by next Saturday night.

All of the Valley teams will get in action against each other Saturday with the Kansas Aggie-Nebraska clash being the feature card. The Aggies will meet the Huskers at Lincoln and they are expected to put up a stronger fight than in years. K. U. will play Iowa at Ames, and Missouri meets Washington at Columbia.

Practically all of the Kansas conference games of the week will be played before Saturday. The first and most important will be the Washburn-Friends engagement at Wichita Wednesday. The Ichabods were expected to go into this game a favorite, but since the Quakers held the Emporia Normal to a 13 to 13 tie last week, the dope has shifted and even Doctor Kennedy and the Washburn men admit that they will not depart for Wichita tomorrow night afflicted with overconfidence.

Friday Fairmount will play Southwestern at Winfield. Hays meets Wesleyan at Hays. Cooper entertains Bethany at Sterling and St. Marys with an open date will probably meet an outside team.

GLOOM IN CHICAGO

Defeat of Maroons by Carleton Upsets Dope.

Stagg's Chance of Championship Considered Slim Now.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 9.—Carleton's defeat of Chicago, practically the only upset in middle western football Saturday, not only surprised Maroon rooters but discouraged many of the fans who expected to see Coach Stagg deliver a championship. Of course, it is still possible for Chicago to take the conference title, but it is recalled that few teams have beaten the Maroons in early season games when that team won the championship. In the face of the Maroon defeat, the one-sided victory scored by the Minnesota over South Dakota, State and Illinois' unexpectedly easy win over Kansas, tend to make the gloom here thicker.

Reports from Minneapolis are that while Coach Williams' team showed a lack of coordination, the individual play bordered on the brilliant and that his stars—Short, Long and Judge Weyman, especially, upheld the reputation of the University of Minnesota. K. U. Fought Hard. Macomber's forward pass was a leading factor in the Illinois scoring. Kansas made a hard fight but reports from Urbana are that the visitors were hopelessly outclassed.

Wisconsin's failure to pile up a big score against Lawrence will not raise false hopes among Wisconsin's rivals, since it is realized a week or two of training will correct the team's error that the Appleton eleven was a strong aggregation.

Iowa had an easy time against Cornell college, as was expected. Ohio State was given a stiff battle by Wesleyan, but managed to win. Notre Dame again came into prominence as a scoring machine, running up 48 points against Reserve.

FIRST TO BOSTON

Sox Took First Game From Brooklyn by 6 to 5 Score.

Robbies Made Vain Spectacular Ninth Inning Rally.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 9.—The Boston Red Sox took the "jump" game of the 1916 world's series from Brooklyn, but it was only by an eyelash. The Red Sox finished up on the long end of a 6 to 5 score, but a remarkable ninth inning rally by the Dodgers, coupled with the weak inning of Ernie Shore, in the box for Boston, and an error by Janvrin nearly upset the world's champions.

SHORE WILD LAD

His First Appearance in Big League Was a Flyver.

But He Is Getting Better All the Time Now.

BY FRANK G. MENKE. Ernie Shore, who pitched the opening game of the world series for Boston, is an exception to the rule that "first impressions always are lasting." His first real appearance as a major leaguer created the impression that he was an awful flyver—that he never would do as a major leaguer.

INSIDE GRIDIRON TIPS

BY CHARLES E. BRICKLEY.

Backfield Qualifications. First of all, a boy playing in the backfield either as a halfback or a quarterback must be a good, quick thinker, for he must be able to decide in a flash just which way he will run. Of course, this applies to the line men also; in fact, the quick thinkers are the ones who succeed in football in everything else. The ideal backfield is heavy and yet at the same time fast on his feet. This combination is not often found, usually the heavy man is slow, while the light man is fast on his feet. Of course, the line-plunging type of halfback does not have to be as fast as the open field runner. The open field runner must be able to run fast, to begin with, to dodge and to change his pace.

By change of pace in football, I mean the sudden change, either slowing up after running fast or speeding up after running slow. A change like this tends to throw the defensive man out of position to make a tackle. Jim Thorpe, of the Carlisle Indians, was the greatest of all players in this department of the game. He would almost walk up to a defensive man and then all of a sudden would gather speed so fast that he would leave the backs standing there bewildered. To be a good backfield one must know how to interfere. This is seldom learned to any great degree by schoolboy players. They either do not take the time to master such hard work or, more often, they are not coached right.—(Copyright, Wheeler Syndicate.)

IT TAKES 5 MILLION BUCKS TO JOIN THIS GOLLUF CLUB

A "high brow" golluf club is in the making in Gulf Mills, near Norristown, Pa. It's an organization said to be limited only to folks who have a bankroll of $5,000,000 or more, and a family tree that branches back beyond the reign of Old King Cole.

The members of this new club once belonged to the regular link organizations and near Philadelphia. This reported that it peevish them mightily to be forced into contact with the unpedigreed "newly rich" so "blue-blood" Jim held an indignation meeting. As a result, they are building their own golluf outfit. It will be far removed from the zone of those who jab napkins between their necks and collars, accompany soup-sipping with weird noises and otherwise fracture the dear old laws of "etiquet."

Merkle Lost Chance.

Fred Merkle had a chance to become the world's series hero in the ninth inning but failed. He came up with only one out and the bases full. Three runs would have tied the score. He drew a ball, then a strike, and so on until the count stood three and two. The crowd stood tense. But when Shore pitched the last one wide, Merkle walked, forcing in a run. The Red Sox entered the ninth inning with a five run lead. Daubert walked and singles by Stengel, Olson and Meyers, coupled with Janvrin's error and Cutshaw being hit by a pitched ball, kept the bases choked to such an extent that four runs came over.

Against Boston's one error, the Dodgers had four. They did not look like champions. Olson made two bad fumbles. Cutshaw contributed a miff of an easy liner, and Stengel uncocked a wild throw. The game will rank up with most any world's series contest in the number of extra base hits that were made.

Wheat and Chief Meyers of the Dodgers each connived for triples. Walker and Hobby of the Red Sox also drew three-ply swats and Hooper and Janvrin smashed out doubles.

The attendance was 35,137 according to figures given out by representatives of the National Commission.

CHOSE BREAD OR BEER

Barley in German Beer Would Feed Ten Million Daily.

But He Is Getting Better All the Time Now.

BY FRANK G. MENKE. Ernie Shore, who pitched the opening game of the world series for Boston, is an exception to the rule that "first impressions always are lasting." His first real appearance as a major leaguer created the impression that he was an awful flyver—that he never would do as a major leaguer.

When Shore first came from the "boshes," he was given a chance to display his wares. The enemy promptly proceeded to mace him for something like ten runs in one inning. Shore was as wild as an African lion and on those rare occasions when he did make him cover the plate, it promptly was belted to the distant confines of the ball park.

Yet that same Ernie Shore assisted in pitching the Red Sox to a world's championship in 1915. Once he looked like the worst pitcher that ever got into the majors. Now he ranks as one of the very best. And he is improving right along.

John McGraw once owned Shore, but failed to recognize any pitching worth in him. That was in 1912 and 1913. So John let him loose, like he did Hank Gowdy, Dick Rudolph and the others. Now John regrets it.

Tia Juana Race Mecca. Jim Coffroth hopes to make his Tia Juana track the mecca of racing America in the winter season. "I've got a beautiful one-mile track down there, the weather is almost always ideal and I hope to lift racing to the highest possible standard," said Coffroth, who quit the fight game that made him famous, to take a "flyer" in the turf sport.

Tia Juana is twelve miles from San Diego, Cal., and just across the border in Lower California, perhaps the only peaceful section in Mexico.

The season opens November 11, and will cover 100 or more days. Despite some torrential rains during the meet last year, and other misfortunes, Coffroth cleaned up $24,000.

"Our need this season is faster horses and far better jockeys," declared "Sunny Jim." "I came east

Berlin, Oct. 9.—The newest suggestion for saving grain in Germany is offered by Dr. Bonne, of Klein-Fleischbeck, who asks in a petition to the imperial chancellor, that a rule be passed whereby beer may be served only on presentation of a bread card. His plan is in effect to require all Germany to choose between bread and beer daily nourishment, instead of allowing an unlimited consumption of the latter. The petition is signed by some 80,000 persons.

The petition declares that 42,000 hundredweight of barley is used daily to make beer, or sufficient to feed ten million persons for one day. A liter of beer contains 230 grams of grain, whereas the average daily bread ration is but 220 grams. Dr. Bonne insists that barley is just as much a food as rye and white flour.
