WELSH IS SHREWD

He Never Licks an Opponent in Initial Go With Him. But in Second Match He Always Wins by a Mile.

BY FRANK G. MENKE. New York, Nov. 3.—Didja ever notice that Freddie Welsh rarely gets out-punched a few the first time he meets him—and that he rarely fails to do it the second whiff? The first time Charlie White ran afoul of the lightweight champion he looked awfully good—and Welsh not so good.
