

IN TIGHT BATTLE

Hard Luck Cost Bill Mitchell a Game Yesterday.

Coffeyville Won, 4 to 3, Making It Three Straight.

Coffeyville, Kan., Aug. 5.—The Coffeyville Refiners made it three straight from Topeka here yesterday when they ousted out a victory in the sixth inning of the final game of the series, winning 4 to 3. Bill Mitchell was the victim.

The Refiners led off in the ninth with a walk to Ems. The Coffeyville manager went to third while Benn was chasing down a passed ball. Dorland then raised a high fly to Ems, who in his eagerness made a return to the plate, dropped the ball and Ems scored the winning run.

The game was a pitched battle between Mitchell and Middleton with honors about even. Mitchell started off well and was given fair support. Three double plays made him to pull out of some tight places.

Yendes was hitting. A home run by Yendes gave the visitors a lead in the second inning. In the fourth, Benn walked but was forced by Beckkopf. Beckkopf took second on a passed ball and scored on singles by Yendes. Beckkopf and Yendes hit in another run in the sixth after Strohm had hit safely and reached second on a sacrifice.

Dorland singled in the fourth, went to second on a passed ball, took third on an infield out and scored on Beckfeld's choke singles by Kahdot, Dorland and McNulty, mixed in with a walk, scored two more Refiners in the fifth. The Solons then put the score in a knot in the sixth but permitted the Ems men to win out in the final half of the ninth.

The visitors pounded Middleton for a total of eleven hits, while the Refiners obtained only nine off Mitchell, but poor work on the part of Benn behind the bat cost Topeka the game. The score:

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 5.—Anderson beat Muskogee to one hit yesterday and Salina made clean sweep of the series, winning 2 to 1. A two-bagger by Corbett, a home run by Robbed Anderson of a no-hit game, also he walked seven men. Rachae, pitching for Muskogee, held Salina to three hits.

SANTA FE TO THE RESCUE. Dean Wells and a Pitcher to Play With Solons Today and Sunday.

The Solons limped into town this forenoon, battered and torn from their recent experiences, but confident that they will be able to gain back some of the lost ground in the short series with the Salina Millers which opens this afternoon and winds up with a doubleheader tomorrow.

The Solons won only three games out of the fifteen played in the south but have a perfectly good alibi in Pierce's inability to get back into condition after hurting his shoulder in a doubleheader at home nearly three weeks ago, and the fact that Strohm has been out and in on account of a bum leg.

Manager Cooley did not expect to beat even on the trip but is confident that had Pierce been in his usual good form the club would have won at least two more games. The club hit well on the trip but Cooley said this morning he wasn't making any promises until he has a chance to take a look at the team which he brought to Yendes seems to have developed into a real slugger and since Mitchell pitched the yesterday game he has enough pitching talent to trounce the Millers in the series starting today.

The Salina team, however, is going strong and may cause a lot of trouble this season and may cause a lot of trouble. The Millers come here after a losing three-straight from Muskogee.

Cooley is not only hoping that his old gang will come back to life, once the common schism in the high schools is also expecting some help in the way of new material. Lisle, a pitcher, is being added to the team.

A few days ago I was asked in what department of the game of golf I considered the greater number of mistakes were made in the recent open championship.

I did not have to think long before stating that more putts were missed which should have been holed, and that the greater number of putts were missed than in any other department.

When I get off in my putting I start with the foot just a foot away from the cup being sure not to grip too tightly.

When I move back to two feet from the cup I take a white, and then get back to three and four feet away. Practicing putting from one and two feet away makes you keep your head still, or helps to develop that habit, as you can see both ball and cup without moving the head or shifting the eyes.

HE'S A HAMMER

Ever, Chicago Lightwight, Hopes for Lightwight Title.

Believes He's the One Who Gave It to Leonard, Anyhow.

THE FIGHT TABLES

Table listing fight statistics for Hammer and Leonard, including weight, reach, and other physical attributes.

Michigan City, Aug. 5.—This little city, nestled in the dunes along the shore of Lake Michigan today was on its feet for the second time within a month. Benny Leonard, world's lightwight champion, will defend his title in a ten-round no-decision bout this afternoon against Ever Hammer, a rugged, aggressive Chicago lightwight.

Leonard is a strong favorite to win, but is prepared for a tough contest, as he says he regards Hammer as one of the world's most dangerous left hand hitters.

Leonard has done no boxing in preparation for the contest, fearing a back cut over his eyes, received in his meeting a week ago with Lew Tender, would be reopened. Except for his unbroken record in the ring, Leonard is in excellent condition.

With an opportunity to win the championship, Hammer promises to put on a terrific pace, and with a puzzling style, always tearing in close and ripping left hooks to the head and body, he is expected to give Leonard confidence in Hammer's camp. He believes he is destined to win the championship and the purse.

Six years ago Hammer boxed Welch in Milwaukee and thinks he gave the then title holder such a punishing that he was "softened" for Leonard, who knocked Welch out a few weeks later. Hammer by the same line of reasoning figures Tender softened Leonard.

The preliminaries will precede the Leonard-Hammer contest and indications are that they will get into action about 6 p. m. central standard time.

Only Two Ways to Get Your Name Into Famous

'Who's Who in America'

Standards of Admission Divides Eligibles Into Two Classes, by Being Somebody, or by Doing Something—New Volume Lists Names of 177 Kansans.

There are two ways of getting into 'Who's Who in America'—one way is by being somebody, and the other is by doing something. Volume 12 of Who's Who in America, has just been published, by A. N. Marquis & Company of Chicago, and edited by Arthur Nelson Marquis.

In its introduction there are stated the qualifications for admission to the book plus ultra of directors, and the qualifications are stated very briefly indeed:

'The standards of admission to Who's Who in America divide the eligibles into two classes: those who are selected on account of special prominence in creditable lines of work, and those who are selected on account of extensive inquiry or discussion in this country, and those who are selected on account of official, military, civil, or naval, religious or educational.

The first of these two classes comprises those who are selected on account of some conspicuous achievement, some thing out of the ordinary, so to speak something which distinguishes them from the vast majority of their contemporaries.

The arbitrary class embraces without regard to the nature of the achievement in any other respect the following: all members of congress; members of the cabinet; all United States judges; all governors of states; all members of the highest state and territorial courts of highest jurisdiction; all American ambassadors and ministers plenipotentiary, and all ambassadors and ministers plenipotentiary; all American consuls at important places in foreign countries; and also the list of arbitrary selections runs through the list of arbitrary selections runs through the list of arbitrary selections.

Volume 12, 24,278 Names. Out of some 110,000 Americans, Marquis has selected 24,278 names of being listed in the book. There are in Volume 12, 3,339 sketches which have never appeared before.

The cards which were prepared for the present volume, 2,594 sketches which appeared in that of last year. Death, disability, or other causes have caused the names to be dropped. Death claimed the names of the late J. B. B. and J. B. B.

In a table of statistics concerning the names in this year's 'Who's Who,' it is shown that the births of the fifty-five states and territories of the United States, including Alaska, during the year 1921, were as follows: New York state has contributed 3,347 names to the list, followed by Massachusetts with 2,930, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Virginia, and Michigan.

Other states contributing more than 300 names are Michigan, Wisconsin, Connecticut, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, New Hampshire, North Carolina, New Hampshire and Vermont in the order named.

England was the birthplace of 177 persons whose names are listed in 'Who's Who' and what is more indicative, has 209 present residents. Some of the names listed are those of those who are living abroad temporarily as representatives of the United States.

It is interesting to note, says the preface to the volume, 'that American residents of foreign countries are comparatively few, with the exception of those who are living abroad temporarily as representatives of the United States. It is obvious that Americans of more than local distinction are, with few exceptions, to be found in their own country as their permanent abiding place.'

There are forty-six Kansans towns in the list with the names of Lawrence, Topeka, and Manhattan. The names of persons connected with the state university, and seventeen of the Topeka names are listed. The names of the ten names from Manhattan are of men or women on the faculty of the State Agricultural college there.

And after a long list of thirty-four state officials, five newspaper men, three authors, two physicians and a surgeon not connected with the state board of health, the list of names is also an author, four persons associated with Washburn college, a

TELLS OF SCHOOLS

Superintendent Wooster Gives Many Pointers to Teachers.

Urges Legislation to Increase Co. Superintendents' Salaries.

The Kansas Rural School Bulletin for 1922, the first pamphlet of its kind ever issued in this state, according to Miss Lorraine Elizabeth Wooster, state superintendent of public instruction, is being finished this week at the state printing plant and mailed to all school boards of the state. The purpose of this bulletin, she says, is to give the school boards a greater interest in their schools and to give them facts and conditions regarding their schools.

Note to Teachers. A note to teachers in the beginning reads: Research within the understanding of the child. Discriminate between essentials and nonessentials. Emphasize essentials. Omit nonessentials. Teach pupils to work study and recite; that the individual may have an opportunity to act, think, speak, gain power, strength and independence by personal effort.

Be cheerful and happy. Like your work. Fit your program to the needs of the pupils. Do your best. Act as a teacher as well as a recreationist. (The study period is the most important.) Give individual help to each pupil. Act as a material for beginners for the first day. Provide a variety of occupation material for beginners. Make plans and prepare for each day. Be loyal to pupils and patrons. Conduct yourself in school and out of school so as to win respect for yourself and your profession. Stay more than one year in a district unless a change means decided advancement. Arouse an interest in your school. Do your part to cause patrons to appreciate a good school and to aid in securing and maintaining a good school. Do your part to cause patrons to appreciate a good school and to aid in securing and maintaining a good school.

Tells of School Needs. A chapter of the bulletin is devoted to 'needed school legislation which will be recommended.' It is summarized as follows: Increased salary for county superintendents for each year for state superintendents' office. A minimum term of eight months. State aid for rural district schools. A more equitable distribution of taxes. More state and county aid for county normal institutes, and credit for attendance upon a term of four to six weeks. All county superintendents should remove heads of state institutions from school book commission and place in charge of their schools. Vocational aid for more high schools, placing the supervision and direction of the work under the state superintendent of public instruction, the same as other high school work. Remove the heads of state institutions from the state board of education, that persons on the board may be beneficiaries of federal funds which they apportion, or beneficiaries of other acts of the board; also that the members of the board may more directly represent the common schools of the high schools and the taxpayers and be held responsible to the people. A minimum sum for a library in every school district.

KEEPS SIGHT AND LIFE

The Shot in Eye, With Bullet in Brain, City Detective of Frisco Will Live and See, Physicians Say.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—Ernest Gable, city detective, who was shot in the right eye by Walter Castor Thursday and who at first was thought mortally wounded, probably will live and retain the sight of both eyes. This announcement was made by surgeons who operated on him.

The bullet fired by Castor but thru the outer corner of the eyeball, passed thru the orbit and into a frontal lobe of the brain. The operation consisted of lifting the eyeball from its socket, extracting the bullet from the brain and replacing the eye. Thru it, the surgeons said, Gable will be able to see. The shooting occurred when the police attempted to arrest a man who was alleged complicity in the murder of Mrs. Henry Wilkins.

Divided Into Squad Rooms. The building is divided into squad rooms with a capacity of nine boys each. It is quite an improvement over the old structure, which had been deemed out of date. It was built by the boys themselves and a portion of the materials were used to build the room. The old quarters had other improvements on the property.

Want Another Building. The 1921 legislature appropriated $125,000 for the building, but the economical measures only $107,000 was expended for it. Major W. B. MacLean, superintendent of the school, hopes to secure a similar appropriation for a second building as less than half the cost of the first building. The modern quarters. A number of the boys are now forced to use reading rooms for sleeping quarters, says Major MacLean.

Lawrence, Kan., Aug. 5.—Street fencing to the extent of several blocks and feet will be used by the University of Kansas in erecting a barrier to surround the new Kansas field and stadium grounds for the football games this fall.

According to Director of Athletics Coach F. C. Allen, students have been using the center track as a playground and much mud and dirt has been left on it. As the unfinished stadium is open to the public, it is desirable to surround the new Kansas field and stadium grounds for the football games this fall.

BOYS IN NEW HOME

Dormitory Completed at Boys Industrial School Near Topeka.

Major MacLean To Ask Funds for Another Building.

The crowded living conditions have been slightly alleviated and improved at the Boys Industrial school, north of Topeka, since the completion of the new dormitory. One hundred and sixty-two of the younger boys have been occupying the new quarters for three weeks and are enjoying them. There are approximately 350 boys in the entire school.
