

BREAK IN SENATE

Borah Proposal for World Conference Starts a Row.

Relationships With Europe Are Opened Up for Debate.

AMENDMENT TO NAVAL BILL

Quarrel Is Expected to Bring Out Views of Harding.

Lodge Leads Fight for the Administration Group.

Washington, Dec. 27.—Administration senators, under the lead of Chairman Lodge, of the foreign relations committee, began in the senate today a determined fight against the proposal of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, for a new international conference in Washington to discuss economic conditions and disarmament.

Senator Lodge, who was said by his colleagues to have ascertained the views of President Harding and his administration advisers, opened his attack as soon as the senate began work on the Borah proposal. The foreign relations chairman recounted the difficulties of further armament limitation countered at the Washington arms conference a year ago, and declared that in view of the attitude taken by other powers it would be "useless" to attempt to limit armaments unless a treaty established beforehand that France had changed her position.

The fight on the senate floor began after a score of administration senators had conferred in Senator Lodge's office and mapped out a program providing for resort to parliamentary tactics if necessary to defeat the Borah plan. A part of the senate irrecconcilable groups which have voted with Mr. Borah on many other questions of foreign policy also were arrayed against his amendment while the attitude of the Democratic side of the chamber seemed to be a waiting one with members undecided whether to support or oppose the conference plan.

In Hands of President. Senator Lodge declared the amendment's proposal for an economic conference was an entirely new subject, foreign to the provision put into the bill by the House for a conference on "grave importance." He recited that the conduct of foreign affairs was the hand of the president and he would not be bound to accept any advice offered by the senate altho as almost any expressed opinion would be given to senatorial advice. Reviewing the work of the Washington arms conference he said that the conference that France could not consent to any limitation of land armament.

Of course that put an end to any further action by the conference on the question of land armament, said Lodge, "because no action could be taken except by unanimous agreement."

Questions France Stand. "France may have changed her attitude within the year but if so I have no information to that effect," he said, "and it is a conference of land armament without knowing that France is ready to withdraw her objection. It would be a conference of land armament without knowing that France is ready to withdraw her objection. It would be a conference of land armament without knowing that France is ready to withdraw her objection."

Favors More Light Craft. Great Britain then proposed abolition of the use of heavy armor, but to this all of the other powers objected, and the only thing the United States could do was to bring about a limitation of the number of guns on craft below 10,000 tons. Senator Lodge said he was informed of the completion of the program in small naval craft, submarines and aircraft, permissible under the Washington treaty.

Senator William, Democrat, Mississippi, agreed with Lodge that the United States has not demanded or received anything as the result of the world war but said he wanted the senate to remember that President Wilson—now a soldier entering from the wounds of battle—first enunciated that principle at the council table in Paris.

After a week of conference administration leaders indicate that they could not support the proposal in its original form and negotiations were proceeding for modifications to make it acceptable. Meantime a definite break had developed between the ranks of the senate irrecconcilable group, of which Senator Borah has been a leader since the league of nations fight. Senator Charles McNary, Oregon, California, and others taking the position that a conference like that proposed would ensure the United States helplessly in European politics.

Turk Demands Bring About Danger of a Blowup.

Great Britain Stands Pat on Mosul Oil Stand.

London, Dec. 27.—A Reuter dispatch from Lausanne says: "There is serious danger of the Near East conference becoming abortive if the Turks persist in their present methods."

(By the Associated Press.) Lausanne, Dec. 27.—Thru Foreign Secretary Curzon, Great Britain informed the Turkish delegation that it never will abandon the Mosul oil vilayet as requested by the Turkish delegation, and that no prolongation of the negotiations can influence the British government to recede from the position it has taken on the Mosul oil vilayet.

The British position is outlined in a statement by Lord Curzon, to Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, covering the formal reply to the British delegation to the Turkish note of Sunday, last, which insisted Mosul be returned to Turkey.

Lord Curzon said in this letter that the British government had expelled the British from the Mosul vilayet and administered it. The British had taken a pledge to free the Arabs from Turkish rule and establish the government of the Iraq and England since then had repeatedly given her word that the Arabs would not be interfered with.

Lord Curzon added that Great Britain had given her solemn pledge to the British government to free the Iraq and England since then had repeatedly given her word that the Arabs would not be interfered with. The foreign secretary said, however, that the British government would have her experts meet the Turkish experts to define the northern boundary of the Iraq.

Petitions for Special Election Will Be Circulated Soon.

There were more than two score men and at least half a dozen women at the meeting of the Topeka City Club at the Chamber of Commerce at noon today, when the old organization of that name was formally reconstituted. George C. Bowman was elected permanent chairman of the club, on motion of Joe Nickell; Mrs. G. A. Smith was elected chairman, on nomination of George W. Stansfield; W. A. Bily was elected secretary, and J. J. Dolley, George W. Stansfield and George C. Bowman, on nomination of F. G. Drenning.

At the same meeting it is hoped to have C. E. Green, head of the research bureau of the city of Dayton, O., the first city of the United States to adopt the city manager plan, and several members of the club, and the plans of the organization include meetings to be held during the coming week and at the meetings of the civic organizations. The plan of the organization include meetings to be held during the coming week and at the meetings of the civic organizations.

Civic Clubs To Be Reconstituted. It was voted today to send representatives to each of the civic clubs of the city, with a view to explaining the plans of the city club to the membership, or would appeal to the organizations to send delegates to the meetings of the general club.

Petitions for an election to determine upon whether the city manager plan shall be adopted in Topeka are being circulated during the coming week and at the meetings of the civic organizations. W. H. Davis, a former mayor, spoke briefly on the advantage of concentrating responsibility in municipal government on one pair of shoulders, and expressed his opinion as favorably disposed toward the adoption of the city manager plan in Topeka.

Want Something New. The mayor's son, Henry Helsey, 321 Jefferson street, a carpenter, ross and declared that he was tired of hearing agitation for some new form of government, and proposed every two or four years by disgruntled and discontented persons. He challenged the agitators to tell him of a better regulated government than Topeka under the old council form of government or the present council form of government.

"You are like children—you always want something new, and haven't got the brains to know what is good for you when you get it," Helsey declared. "Cries of 'time's up,' and the unceasing chorus of 'something new' sounded from the audience while Helsey was speaking brought the meeting to a close."

Petitions were circulated among the men and women present at the meeting with the request that they be signed.

Inaugural of Governor To Be Held in State House.

New Executive Will Not Interfere With Poultry Show.

Plans for the inauguration of Governor-elect Davis and state officials have been sidetracked in order that the Kansas chickens may have the stage. All inaugural arrangements were set aside today and the ceremonies switched back to representative hall when the new governor said he would not interfere with the annual poultry show by using the Topeka auditorium for the big political show, January 8.

The act to hold the state's big free inaugural ceremony a special committee recently arranged to hold the swearing-in of state officials at the auditorium. Today Governor-elect Davis learned that the state poultry show was scheduled for the auditorium for the same date as the inaugural. So the new governor issued a pre-official executive order to the effect that the inauguration be transferred back to representative hall.

Chickens Mean Much to Kansans. "Chickens mean a whole lot more to the people of Kansas than the swearing-in of a governor and few state officials," said Davis, who refused to yield his loyalty to the farmer. "I don't care where I am sworn in, but I don't propose to interfere with anything that will promote the farm interests of the state."

The act will accommodate a crowd of 4,500, while fewer than 1,000 people will be able to find seats in representative hall. The new governor's plan to eliminate issuance of invitations for the inaugural will be carried out. New state officials, members of the legislature and Kansas celebrities will be given choice seats if they arrive early. But no invitations will be extended and no reservations made as in former years.

Pass at This or Next Session, Declares Owsley.

Commander Outlines Legion Program for 1923.

Fort Worth, Dec. 27.—Passage of the adjusted compensation bill at this session of congress, is practically assured, said Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, who spoke at a luncheon in his honor here Wednesday and attended a session of the state executive committee of the legion.

Even should the bill fail at this session, that it will be cared for at the next session is already certain, Owsley said, as requisite number of senators and representatives already have been obtained to pass it over a presidential veto.

A merchant marine for the United States, subject to the payment of a sum bill's passage, total exclusion of immigrants and registration of all aliens from the remainder of the farm work of the legion's 1923 program, Owsley said.

Stress Ownership Features. Special stress is being laid on the farm and home ownership features in the new compensation bill being drawn, Owsley said. In this respect it will follow the Smith-Towner bill, he said.

Regardless of the subsidy question, America should possess a real merchant marine, carrying American goods to America's markets in American bottoms, manned by Americans and flying the flag of the United States, Owsley said.

Finding of a life boat yesterday containing the frozen body of Michael Paystos, one of the eight members of the crew dispelled any belief that the Cornell is safe.

The tug, listed with port authorities as missing, will probably be transferred to the lost list today.

Captain Thomas W. Gould, United States hull inspector here, said that an official investigation would be begun as soon as the last hope for the tug and its crew had been given up.

AXE TO FALL AGAIN

More Arrests Expected in Louisiana Murder Cases.

Attorney General Says Evidence Is "Horrrifying."

SCORE OF MEN TO ANSWER

Two Former Officials of Parish Are Under Arrest.

Dr. B. M. McKoin Denies Any Knowledge of Crime.

New Orleans, Dec. 27.—"Horrrifying" was the word Attorney General A. V. Cocco used today to describe what the state of Louisiana has adopted in its evidence against alleged members of the hooded mob that killed Attorney General W. A. R. Richards and Thomas F. Richards, last August. "I never felt more sure of having hold of the right lines and of having the evidence to convict within our grasp," said Cocco.

Mer Rouge, La., Dec. 27.—With two former officials of Mehoussin parish behind prison bars in connection with the kidnaping and murder of Tom Richards and W. A. Richards, last August, citizens of this section were waiting stolidly today for the axe to fall again. Department of justice agents who, for months, worked to uncover the evidence on which the state of Louisiana will seek to convict men for murder have promised that they will eventually uncover the evidence which they uncovered in the water of Lake LaFourche.

The two men already looked up are: T. J. Burnett, a former deputy sheriff and a man of high standing in the neighborhood; and Dr. B. M. McKoin, former mayor of Mer Rouge, who was arrested in Baltimore. That other arrests will be expected momentarily, naturally the consensus of opinion here. Other arrests have been promised and they are expected to be made just as soon as the men show signs of nervousness or when authorities believe there is no need of waiting further.

Rumors that a change of venue might be asked by the state when the public hearing is held at Eastport county seat, on January 5, were not given much credence here. The laws of Louisiana on this question provide that venue may be made where prejudice may be shown but only to adjoining parishes and this, in this particular case, would be useless, according to authorities.

Doctor Obtains Writ. Baltimore, Dec. 27.—A writ of habeas corpus for Dr. B. M. McKoin, former mayor of Mer Rouge, was granted yesterday on charge of murder, for the return of Dr. McKoin to Louisiana, would be issued immediately. The doctor has retained an attorney and he will fight any attempt to extradite him.

Dr. McKoin yesterday denied knowledge of the murder of W. A. Richards and W. A. Richards, whose bodies were found in Lake La Fourche. He said, however, that the men who were with him at the time of the bootlegging, gunmen and others of bad repute.

He also stated yesterday that altho he was not a member of the Ku Klux Klan he praised their methods in helping rid Mer Rouge of its lawless element.
