

What the Press Think of Us.

The Hannibal Renelle, Hannibal, New York, says: "It should be in the hands of every ex-soldier in the land. We cordially recommend it as being well worth the money."

The Local Item, Bardstown, Kentucky, endorses it thus: "It is a very neat and interesting paper."

The National Greenback, Shamokin, Penn., states: "It is full of valuable information to soldiers, and should be in the hands of every soldier and sailor in the land. It contains all new bounty and pension laws."

The Spencer Herald, Spencer, New York, says: "It is well worth the money to any one, seeking pensions or not."

The Anti-Monopolist, Rochester, New York, states: "It gives information on all subjects of interest to soldiers and sailors, advocates their cause before the country and the Government, exposes fraudulent bounty agents and fraudulent pension agents, besides giving a versatility of other reading matter."

The Republican Sun, Kansas, Illinois, says: "We welcome to our exchange table THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE, published at Washington, D. C. It is devoted to the interests of the soldiers and sailors of the late war. It should be in every home."

The Greenbush Democrat, Greenbush, New York, remarks: "The paper is a good one, engaged in an honorable course, and should be supported in its efforts to secure justice to the noble men who gave their services, and in many cases their limbs and health, for the good of their country."

The Bitche Democrat, Cairo, West Virginia, says: "Soldiers and sailors greatly need some advocate of this kind."

The Ellinwood Express, Ellinwood, Kansas, publishes "It should be taken by every ex-soldier in the country."

The National Greenback Herald, Big Rapids, Michigan, states: "In this paper the pension laws are discussed, and all information necessary to secure the soldiers a full measure of justice. It should be in the hands of every soldier."

The Ewart Review, Ewart, Michigan, says: "It is published in the interest of Union soldiers, and in it all necessary information is given relative to the pension laws, with instructions for securing pensions."

The Brandon Union, Brandon, Vermont, states: "It is devoted to the interests of soldiers and sailors."

The Enterprise, Cedarville, Ohio, writes: "It is a neat little sheet, and published in the interests of pensioners and old soldiers."

The Ladora Herald, Ladora, Iowa, says: "All who are interested in matters pertaining to soldiers, sailors, and pensioners should send for it, as from it they may gather much useful information."

The Hamiltonian, Hamilton, Missouri, states: "It is devoted to the interests of soldiers, and is a paper that all soldiers should subscribe for."

The Alta Advertiser, Alta, Iowa, publishes: "It is devoted to the interests of soldiers and sailors of the late war. It is very interesting, and should be read by everybody throughout our land."

The Western Sentinel, Kansas City, Missouri, says: "We are in receipt of THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE, devoted to the interests of the soldiers and sailors of the late war, and all pensioners of the United States. It is positively the most complete journal of its kind in all the land. Every soldier wishing to keep posted in movements common to their interests should subscribe for it. There are a number of persons writing us concerning their pensions, bounties, &c. We are now prepared to refer all to this worthy journal for information. Published at Washington, D. C. Every soldier take it."

The Bath Sun, Bath-on-the-Hudson, New York, states: "The paper is a good one, engaged in an honorable cause, and should be supported in its efforts to secure justice to the noble men who gave their services to the country."

Many other like notices have been received. Among compliments from individuals which we daily read, L. R. Atwater, Esq., of Grand Rapids, Michigan, says:

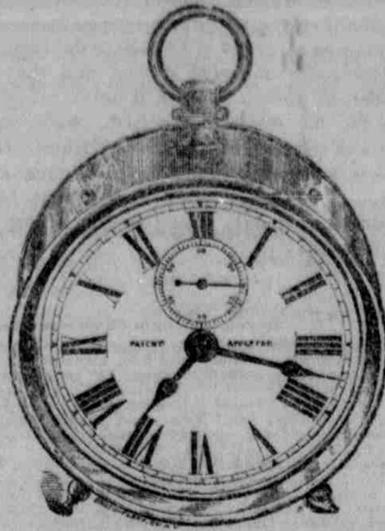

"A few years since, when more immediately engaged in the pension and bounty business, I would cheerfully have paid five dollars for the information the paper gives."

The Indian Passion for Larceny.

The passion of a contemporaneous American savage for stealing is irresistible. In order to its indulgence he will risk his life, and even take large odds against it almost any time. The recent feat of an Apache Indian in Arizona illustrates this. An American had a rancho on which a herd of four hundred fine cattle, belonging to a fort near by, were nightly kept. To secure them against the Apaches he had built a block house, and adjoining it a court-yard and corral, surrounded by an adobe wall. Several vain attempts had been made by the Indians to capture the herd while grazing two or three miles from the block-house, but the vigilant herdsmen had driven the cattle into the corral before they could be stampeded.

One stormy night, however, a solitary Apache, unarmed and covered only with a blanket, climbed over the wall, crouched in a corner, and waited for the day. Soon after dawn eight herdsmen, mounted and armed to the teeth, were ready to protect the cattle. As these passed out of the gate, the savage sprung up, vaulted on the nearest horse, clutched his mane with one hand, and waving his red blanket with the other, yelled like a demon. The horse plunged into the midst of the herd, which, greatly terrified, fled pell-mell, and the Apache, throwing himself on one side of the rushing animal, rapidly disappeared from view. Nothing could have stopped the wildly speeding cattle. The herdsmen fired at the Indian, but only wounded and killed some of the herd, about which two bands of Apaches darted out from opposite sides of the valley, soon closed and drove off irrecoverably every hoof. This feat will add another feather to the Apache's head, and furnish a theme for an aboriginal epic.

Special Announcement to all Our Friends.

Quite recently we have been enabled, through fortuitous circumstances, to make arrangements for procuring a large supply of those beautiful little gems, of nickle-plated clocks, with heavy plate-glass fronts and stem-winding, which are now so exceedingly popular in the East and wherever used. (See illustration above.) All the movements of this clock are perfect. They are manufactured of the best materials, with polished steel springs, and all the plates are screwed together. In short, this clock, as we state, is a gem, thoroughly reliable as a time keeper, and admirably fitted to grace any mantle, shelf, or stand in any parlor, dining, or sleeping room. Now, having related these unquestionable facts pertaining to this clock, which we designate as the "NATIONAL TRIBUNE" Clock, we beg leave to impress it upon the minds of all readers, that owing to special arrangements, we are enabled to offer to any and all the "National Tribune Clock" and the "National Tribune Newspaper" for the unprecedented low price of One Dollar and Seventy-five cents. In clubs of ten or more subscribers we will allow one extra clock and paper, for the getting up of every said club of ten. The clock and paper will be sold, under no circumstances, for less than one dollar and seventy-five cents, whether in orders for one or a hundred, and in all cases of so ordering, parties must pay the freight, the amount of which will be but a trifle. No fears need be entertained of a breakage of the clock or disarrangement of its parts by transportation. Thus, we give you a superior clock and an excellent newspaper, of special interest to the thousands of soldiers of the country, concerning their patriotism, their rights, and their pockets, while the general news it publishes relating to matters at Washington, its social gossip, lively sketches, choice selections, &c., will render it a welcome guest in every family circle. Now, here is a prospectus for some good, profitable business, which soldiers especially could make a great success. Almost every householder would buy one of these clocks, even if he had several on hand, and those who have none, would surely buy. Go to work then and get up your clubs. Think of it. A beautiful family clock, entirely reliable, and an interesting family newspaper, both for one dollar and seventy-five cents, with a clock and an extra clock and newspaper for every getter up of a club of ten. Eleven clocks and eleven newspapers for seventeen dollars and fifty cents. Remit by money orders, which can be obtained at almost every U. S. Post Office, by registered letter, by draft on New York, or by express. Specimen of paper sent free.

A Convenient Land Measure.

To aid farmers in arriving at accuracy in estimating the amount of lands in different fields under cultivation, the following table is given: Five yards wide by 168 long contains one acre. Ten yards wide by 484 long contains one acre. Twenty yards wide by 242 long contains one acre. Forty yards wide by 121 long contains one acre. Seventy yards wide by 69½ long contains one acre. Eighty yards wide by 60½ long contains one acre. Sixty feet wide by 726 long contains one acre. One hundred and ten feet wide by 397 long contains one acre. One hundred and thirty feet wide by 368 long contains one acre. Two hundred and twenty feet wide by 181½ long contains one acre. Four hundred and forty feet wide by 99 long contains one acre.

The attention of the former clients of B. F. Pritchard, Esq., of Indianapolis, Indiana, who have not written to me since December, 1876, is again called to the following:

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., NOV. 12, 1876.
GEORGE E. LEMON, Esq., Washington, D. C.:
DEAR SIR—You are hereby authorized to notify each of my clients that I have transferred to you all their claims, evidences, &c., and that it is my desire that they should correspond with you hereafter, and forward such evidence as you may need to complete their claims.

(Signed) B. F. PRITCHARD,
This proposed transfer was submitted to the Hon. Z. Chandler, Secretary of the Interior, for his consideration and action. The following extract from his letter, written to the Hon. J. A. Bentley, Commissioner of Pensions, explains itself, and to it your attention is invited:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, D. C., December 6, 1876.

In view of the peculiar state of facts existing in the case, and the good standing of Mr. Lemon as an attorney before this Department, as well as his apparent good faith in this entire transaction, I am of the opinion that it would be proper to allow the transfer to be made.

Z. CHANDLER.

In accordance with the foregoing, the Hon. J. A. Bentley, Commissioner of Pensions, issued an order recognizing me in all cases filled by Mr. Pritchard prior to October 6, 1876; wherein he vested the power of substitution.

This is the most economical plan you can adopt to secure valuable and interesting reading this winter.

Send us on your subscriptions at once, in money-order or registered letter.

We can furnish any other leading papers or magazines in connection with the NATIONAL TRIBUNE, and when you think of subscribing to any paper not on the above list, just write to us, and you may rely upon us securing it upon the very best terms, and that it will be forwarded very promptly. No subscriptions received for less than one year.

Now, we specially call upon the soldiers to help us in the work of enlarging our subscription list by the means here presented. It can readily be done, if they will put their shoulders to the wheel. If they regard it as their paper—which it is, most emphatically—they will feel a pride in its success.

The larger our subscription list, the more money we can afford to expend in making it an additionally attractive sheet.

We would like to hear from any soldiers, North, South, East, or West, who would be pleased to labor in the cause. Let us hear from you, boys.

GEORGE E. LEMON & CO.
