

THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE

(ESTABLISHED 1877.)

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

One Dollar per Year, Variably in Advance.

Six months, 75 cents. No subscription for a less period received.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

MONEY sent us, otherwise than by registered letter, postal notes, postal money order, or draft on New York, will be at the risk of the sender.

AGENTS.—We employ no agents. THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE has many volunteer correspondents, and they are generally honest and faithful; but persons who consider their subscriptions to them must be their own judges of their responsibility. The paper will be sent only on receipt of the subscription price.

ADDRESSES.—RENEWALS, Etc.—Addresses will be changed as often as desired, but each subscriber should in every case give the old as well as the new address. In renewing, subscribers should be careful to send us the label on the last paper received, and specify any alterations or changes they desire made in name or address.

CORRESPONDENCE.—Correspondence is solicited from every section in regard to Grand Army, Pension, Military, Agricultural, Industrial and Household matters, and letters to the Editor will always receive prompt attention. Write on ONE SIDE of the paper only. We do not return communications or manuscripts unless they are accompanied by a request to that effect and the necessary postage, and unless we can otherwise guarantee their publication at any special date.

Address all communications to THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C., MARCH 4, 1886.

THE SOLDIERS' BULLETIN

MERGED WITH THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE.

That very excellent little paper—the Soldiers' Bulletin, published by Col. Miles B. Stevens, has ceased to be. It has been merged into THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE, and its subscribers will receive a number of this paper for every number of the Bulletin that is due them.

They will remember that the Bulletin is a semi-monthly, while THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE is a weekly. Therefore those who have paid for the Bulletin a year will receive THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE for six months, and shorter periods in proportion. We trust and believe that they will be satisfied with the change, for while the Bulletin was conducted by Col. Stevens with marked ability, and loyalty to the best interests of the soldiers, yet THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE is in a position to serve them more acceptably than the Bulletin could. We welcome them to the great ranks of THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE's constituency, and congratulate them on being in line with communication with the 115,000 comrades whose names appear on our list.

THE G.A.T. WATCH.

When a watch can be procured without any expenditure of money and with very little trouble, there is no excuse for a person to be unacquainted with the time of day. THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE's G.A.T. Watch is conducted for a club of 10 new subscribers an elegant nickel stem-winding watch, included in a handsome stationer's case. This watch is manufactured expressly for use by the Gold Watch Waterbury Watch Co., of Connecticut, and has nearly engraved a miniature representation of the Grand Army badge on the back case. These watches are of the highest accuracy, and can be fully depended upon. The price of the watch and a year's subscription to THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE is $3.50, which sum is also the cost of the watch alone. Send for sample copies.

THE GRAND ARMY BLUE BOOK.

The best annual that newly-elected officers of Posts can have is instructive in their duties and in the duties of the Post room. It is the "Grand Army Blue Book," by Past Commander-in-Chief Robert H. Beth, of Philadelphia. A new and improved edition of this admirable digest of Grand Army law has just been gotten out, and THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE will send it to any address on receipt of $1.

WORLD'S CYCLOPEDIA.

So many inquiries have come from our subscribers for copies of the World's Cyclopaedia, which we distributed several thousand last year, that we have secured a new supply. This book is a wonderful little mine of information on every-day topics, and neatly bound in cloth. We will send it to any address on receipt of $1.50.

FACTS FROM THE CAMPEIRE.

For five new subscribers to THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE we offer as a present this most thrilling book. It is a digest of the most interesting and desperate adventures of the privateers of the sea, in thrilling language the incidents of the camp, the march, and the scout. Those not wishing to canvass for THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE can procure this book for the small sum of 50 cents.

CAPTURING A LOCOMOTIVE.

Every day applications for agencies for this thrilling war romance pour into this office, and those wishing to engage as canvassers had better not delay or all the valuable territory in the United States will be secured by the best of the best-selling books of the times and all who have engaged in canvassing have been highly delighted with the results. For particulars send for a copy of this book to THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE, Washington, D. C.

EVERYBODY DELIGHTED.

The pictures of Grant, Sherman and Sheridan are going off very rapidly, and everybody who gets them is delighted with them. They could be finer pictures or better portraits if they cost $1 a piece, and that is not a large sum for that any which are selling in the stores for $1 and upward apiece.

THE RED ACORN.

It is a bright, humorous and attractive story of the late war—of the life of a young man who is in the hands of young people who are hungering for the true story of the war. Sent by THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE to any address on receipt of $1.

MRS. SHERWOOD'S POEMS.

We have on hand still number of copies of Mrs. Sherwood's exquisite lyrics, which we will sell, handsomely bound, for the small sum of $1, or elegantly decorated in blue and gold for $1.50.

The number of pension certificates issued during the week ending Feb. 27, 1886, was as follows: Original, 764; increase, 187; re-issue, 56; restoration, 21; duplicate, 23; accrued, 32; Act of March 3, 1863, 3; Order April 3, 1864, 10; Act of March 3, 1865, 4; total, 1,100.

The number of pension certificates issued during the week ending Feb. 20, 1886, was as follows: Original, 1,440; increase, 225; re-issue, 93; restoration, 37; duplicate, 22; accrued, 22; Act of March 3, 1863, 6; Order April 3, 1864, 20; Act of March 3, 1865, 6; total, 1,570.

THEY DON'T BELIEVE THE AGE OF MIRACLES IS PAST IN AUSTRIA. The Emperor of that country has just succeeded in getting the Pope to canonize a priest who is believed to have performed many miracles during his lifetime. Perhaps the greatest of them was maintaining life on the salary his congregation paid him.

HOW MUCH THEY PAY.

In the course of the debate on pensions in the House of Representatives last Friday Mr. Tillman, of South Carolina, said: "Considering that the Cotton States, or rather what are known as Confederate States, pay about one-third of the amount derived by the Federal Government from taxation—being based on consumption on imported goods and whisky and tobacco—I say, considering that the taxation of the Federal Government is based upon consumption and not upon property, and, therefore, the South, or the ex-Confederate States, pay about one-third of the total amount paid by the Federal Government for pensions, of which they do not get back three cents; considering also that $8 a month from the foundation of the Government to the present time has been deemed a sufficient pension to a widow, can the gentleman blame the Southern members for trying to restrain the necessarily large expenditures for pensions within the rule that has prevailed heretofore?"

The gentleman from South Carolina is very badly misinformed. The States lately in rebellion were: Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1884, the collections of internal revenue in these were as follows:

Alabama	$5,308,333
Arkansas	91,869 87
Florida	178,562 10
Georgia	379,741 84
Louisiana	569,184 89
Mississippi	504,419 53
North Carolina	1,700,667 74
South Carolina	647,806 51
Tennessee	1,249,975 96
Texas	2,101,189 10
Virginia	5,232,725 10
Total	7,892,061 23

As the whole amount of internal revenue collected was $121,590,039.83, it will be seen that the States lately in rebellion, instead of paying one-third, only paid about one-fiftieth; that is, instead of the people of the lately-rebellious States paying one dollar in every three of internal revenue taxes, they pay less than one in 15. This is an astounding discrepancy to be found in a statement made in so formal a manner as a speech to the House of Representatives. But possibly Mr. Tillman will insist that Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri should be included among his "Cotton" or "ex-Confederate States." The internal revenue collected in those States in the fiscal year of 1884 was:

Kentucky	$18,383,172 18
Maryland	3,146,491 15
Missouri	6,478,806 51
West Virginia	599,228 28
Total	$28,767,680 12

Even if we add this amount to the aggregate collection of the 11 "ex-Confederate States," it will fall several millions short of one-third the total amount. But it is manifestly absurd to allow any such addition. Even if Kentucky had gone into the rebellion as thoroughly as Virginia did, it would be preposterous to allow her credit for more than a small percentage of the $18,583,172.18 which was collected in her limits. She produces five-sevenths of the fine whiskeys consumed in the country, and consequently it is not she who pays this immense tax, but the people who drink her "hand-made, sour-mash, fire-distilled" staple products. The tobacco, cigar and cigarette manufacturers and the breweries are the main sources of internal revenue in Maryland and Missouri. It is very absurd in every way to class among "ex-Confederate States" those which sent to the Union army—

Maryland	59,316 men
Missouri	22,068 "
Missouri	109,111 "
Kentucky	79,205 "
Total	270,700 men

His statement that the "ex-Confederate States" pay one-third of the revenue of the Government is made to embrace the amount of indirect taxes they pay in shape of enhanced prices for dutiable articles. Here again he is badly at fault. The people of the "ex-Confederate States" pay but a very small proportion of the income derived from the Custom-house. We do not refer now to the actual amounts of imports through Custom-houses situated in the "ex-Confederate States," because we will admit that is unfair, since the greater portion of all the foreign goods consumed in the United States passes through the New York Custom-house.

MR. TILLMAN'S MISTAKE.

When Mr. Tillman, of South Carolina, made his astonishing statement that the "Cotton" or "ex-Confederate States" paid one-third of the sum expended for pensions for Union soldiers, he added another almost equally astonishing one that "they (the aforesaid ex-Confederate States) do not get back three cents." Mr. Tillman probably has not looked over the report of the Commissioner of Pensions recently, or he would not have let his temper betray him into talking so wildly. In the report for 1885 we find that pensions are being paid to citizens of seceding States who served in Union regiments or other organizations from their States as follows:

Alabama	347
Arkansas	575
Florida	124
Georgia	8
Louisiana	533
Mississippi	26
North Carolina	504
South Carolina	8
Tennessee	8,832
Texas	36
Virginia	47
Indian Territory	402
New Mexico	62
Total	9,904

This does not include the citizens of seceding States who made their way through the lines and joined the first Union regiments they came to. There were many thousands of these, who were enrolled in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Kentucky and Missouri regiments.

IT IS ABSURD.

For any one to say that he cannot afford to take THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE. An expense of two cents a week for something that brings so much instruction, entertainment, and comfort to every member of the family can be afforded by anybody.

THE EX-PRISONERS OF WAR.

The visit to this city of the officers of the Ex-Prisoners of War Association cannot help being productive of great good to the cause. The committees of Congress are never approached by able men than Comrades Longenecker, Mack and Gessner, and their presentation of the claims of the victims of rebel prison-pens carried conviction to all who heard them.

President Longenecker made a logical statement of the position of the prisoners; Dr. G. A. Gessner reinforced this with an array of solid and unanswerable figures, and I. F. Mack closed the statement with a sledge-hammer argument on the justice of the case. Every Member of Congress who heard them expressed himself as satisfied that pensions are justly and rightfully due all who suffered imprisonment for any length of time. We look for good results from the visit of the delegation to Washington.

CROCKER'S IOWA BRIGADE.

We have received a copy of the printed report of the Reunion of Crocker's Iowa Brigade at Iowa City, Iowa, Sept. 23 and 24, 1885. It is a handsome pamphlet, gotten up in that "style" that characterizes everything that Crocker's boys do, or ever did do, whether fighting, marching, "burning," or holding Reunions. The pamphlet is ornamented with an excellent steel-plate portrait of Gen. Belknap. The gem of the report is the magnificent oration of Gen. Hick-enlooper, of Ohio, at one time commander of the brigade. Besides this, it contains eloquent speeches by Gen. McArthur, Capt. Hedley, Gen. Gresham, Gen. Strong, Gov. Sherman, and others.

PERSONAL.

Incidents, Accidents and Happenings Where Corrades are concerned.

Comrade Laid, a Member of Congress from Nebraska, left Washington Sunday morning for Alabam, N. M. He was summoned by a telegram announcing that his brother had been killed by a train of cars at that place. A few weeks ago he was in the city of Alabam, N. M., and his mother. A year ago he suffered for a long time with a broken leg. He is having a large portion of the afflictions and sorrows of life.

George Jones, editor of the New York Times, has been named by Gen. W. H. Hazen, of the Signal Service Bureau, for $100,000 damages for alleged libelous statements concerning Gen. Hazen's character as a Signal Service officer, and also in connection with the recent famous Arctic expedition. A motion in behalf of Gen. Hazen was granted, and a commission issue to Washington to take the testimony of Gen. Logan, Prof. Baird, and others which Gen. Hazen deems will be necessary for him upon the trial of his case. Some of the newspapers have been in the habit of saying that Gen. Hazen was evidently thinking it about time for them to "give him a rest."

Gen. Ferdinand Vandever, who was well known in the Army of the Cumberland as Colonel of the 35th Ohio, and afterward a brigade commander, has been appointed by the President to the position of Postmaster at Hamilton, O.

Mr. Swails, of South Carolina, a Register in the Money-Order Division of the Post-Office Department, who has been holding his position since 1877, and against whom no charge of any kind has ever been made, has been peremptorily dismissed at the request of Senators Butler and Hampton. Mr. Swails was a soldier in the Union army, and after he was settled in South Carolina, he was engaged in politics as a Republican, and several times a member of the Legislature and President of the State Senate. The reason given for his dismissal is that he is offensive to the South Carolina Democrats. In other words, he fought on the wrong side of the Civil War.

An Enoch Arden case has been developed at Urbana, O. During the rebellion Chas. Hopkins enlisted for three years. He failed to return home at the close of the war. Six years rolled around, and Mrs. Hopkins, hearing nothing from her absent husband, supposed him dead. She then married Dr. T. J. Martin, and removed to Kentucky. About six weeks ago she returned to Urbana on a visit. She was greatly astonished by the reappearance of Chas. Hopkins, who had been absent for three years. He had been in the original Enoch Arden case—where he could get no postage stamps. So far as the returns are in, it appears that he deserved to lose his wife.

Dr. George Henderson, of this city, formerly of Co. F, 7th Wis. (Inf. Brigade), has purchased for a large sum of money the portrait of a man, and has named it after his own name. The man, he says, was a member of the Bull Run who with his brigade was engaged, and will build a residence there.

Gen. Newton, who was given a reception by the Catholic Club, of Philadelphia, one night last week, being a gallant soldier, is one of the greatest American heroes of the war. He is now in the service of the United States Army, and is engaged in removing obstructions to New York Harbor, especially the blowing up of Hell Gate, has made his name known all over the world. He is a square-jawed, broad-shouldered man, and is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

It is very hard now to get men to admit that every man who served in the Union army ought to be pensioned at $8 a month, without reference to his physical or financial capacity to take care of himself. But nearly every one will admit that the Government ought to provide for every soldier who is now disabled and poor. We can get a thousand friends for a law which will take every broken-down old soldier out of the poor-house, and put him once more in his own home, to where we can get one supporter of a measure which will pay all old soldiers—rich and poor, strong and decrepit—$8 a month, or any other sum.

It is very essential that Congress shall pass a law at this session which will make such provision as we have spoken of for the thousands of broken-down soldiers who are suffering for the common comforts of life, and who are practically denied a pension by the years of time which are expended in examining their claims and satisfying technicalities. Every month's delay in the passage of such a law is the greatest cruelty to them. We can get the law passed if we will temporarily drop everything else and concentrate on this. If we do not so concentrate, its passage will be greatly endangered.

It is the silliest nonsense to charge that pension attorneys are interested in the passage of such a law. They cannot have any interest in it. It is really against them. If it passes, all that a claimant will have to do will be to present himself before a Board of Examining Surgeons, armed with his discharge. If he can prove that he served in the army, that he is now physically disabled, and that he is dependent on his labor for support, he gets his pension without any more ado and at once. A pension attorney will be of no use to him at all.

Comrades, let us up our shoulders to the wheel and get this measure through at this session. Next year we can urge $8-a-month service pensions, equalization of bounties, land warrants, etc., and so on. Getting the disability-pension law now will not interfere a particle with the agitation of other measures in the future.

THE MARCH NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW, says the New York Commercial Advertiser, "contains Gen. Sherman's reply to Gen. Fry's answer to Gen. Sherman's statement of a statement made by Gen. Fry in some number of the Review last month, and the announcement is made simultaneously that the proprietor of the Review has been elected to the position of Secretary of the War Department."

Gen. Philip Sidney Post, the newly-elected commander of the Department of Illinois, O. R. A., has a most brilliant record. He was born in Orange, N. Y., and went to the service as Second Lieutenant of the 5th Ill. Cavalry. He was promoted, and was seriously wounded at Pea Ridge, Ark. While in hospital from the effect of this wound he received his commission as Colonel of the 5th Ill. Cavalry. He was again wounded at the battle of Vicksburg, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of Nashville, and was promoted to Lieutenant-General. He was again wounded at the battle of Chattanooga, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of Lookout Mountain, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of Missionary Ridge, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of the Clouds, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of the Lookout, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of the Chickamauga, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of the Battle of the Clouds, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of the Battle of the Lookout, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of the Battle of the Chickamauga, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of the Battle of the Clouds, and was promoted to Major-General. He was again wounded at the battle of the Battle of the Lookout, and was promoted to Major-General.
