ANOTHER PURCHASE.—We wish to inform our readers that last week we bought from V. Ryan, Esq., all the type, galley, shooting-sticks, Italian sheep-feet, stands, cases, chases, rules, leads, galleys (not current), bank (insolvent), paper stock, etc., formerly used in the publication of the Gazette and Arizonian, both of which papers have (after brief existence, the former as a Republican and the latter as a Democratic paper) some time since been "subjugated." We took pity upon and by this "exterminated" them. By this new acquisition we have made our office second to none this side of San Francisco, both for quantity and quality of our material, which is all nearly new; and we flatter ourselves with the idea that the Miner establishment can never turn out job work of any description in as good style as Towne & Bacon, "or any other man." If you don't believe it, just try it, and we will show you what we can do.

ELYSIAN CLUB.—The following gentlemen have been elected to serve as officers of this club for the ensuing three months: President, R. E. Elliott; Vice President, S. E. Blair; Recording Secretary, E. Darling; Financial Secretary, J. D. Dunlap; Treasurer, W. N. Kelly; Board of Managers, B. H. Weaver, T. D. Kendall, T. Simmons; Committee of Investigation, R. E. Farrington, E. W. Wells, H. Henning; Sergeant-at-arms, G. W. Barnard. The Club is in a flourishing condition, and cannot fail to continue so under the management of the above-named officers.

Mr. Cook's furnace, built of lava rock, for the purpose of testing ores, has not been a complete success. The rock, it seems, will resist very great heat. Mr. Cook, however, informs us that he has received a specimen of rock, said to have come from an extensive deposit in the vicinity of Walnut Grove, which stood a severe test, and, as soon as he is satisfied that enough of the material can be obtained for his purpose, he will dispatch a team for a load of it. We hope the deposit may be found as represented, as it would be of incalculable benefit to the mining interests of this country.

THE COLORADO RESERVATION.—Mr. A. F. Kalleman has finished the survey of this reservation, and it is expected that immediately upon the return of Superintendent Dent from California, a considerable number of men will be set to work upon the canal which is to irrigate the land. Several hundred Indians have been employed upon the river bottoms the past season, and an abundant crop is anticipated.

DISTRICT COURT.—We are indebted to E. W. Wells, Clerk of the District Court, for the following minutes of its proceedings last week: Eberden vs. Lambertson.—Cause continued by consent.

King vs. Poole & Brown.—Trial by jury; verdict, Cause set for rehearing.

Grant vs. St. James & Barnum.—On account of judgment for plaintiff.

Bridge vs. Grant.—On account. Judgment for plaintiff.

Territory of Arizona vs. Louis Chevalier.—Judgment of Supreme Court renitted. Judgment of the District Court is affirmed.

DEATH OF A SURGEON.—The report we published last week, in reference to the murder of a surgeon on the other side of the Colorado by Indians supposed to have been Chiricahua, proves to have been only too well founded. The victim was Acting Assistant Surgeon M. E. Shaw, and he was killed at Camp Cave, sixteen miles this side of Camp Mohave, on the 16th of October. He died in the arms of John Cameron, Acting Hospital Steward, who is now at Camp Lincoln. His remains were carried to Salt Lake, and there interred with as much pomp as the circumstances would admit of. Mr. Cameron also, in obedience to the request of the deceased, communicated the circumstances attending his death to Dr. R. P. Wakelee of San Francisco, and placed his name and foot-boards, appropriately inscribed, at the grave. Dr. Shaw was from Buffalo, N. Y.

THE NAME OF THE ARMY SURGEON who accidentally shot himself on the Mohave, and who on the way to this Territory, is P. O'Neil.

At Walnut Grove, a short time since, James Weickeligh, a Prussian, was thrown from his horse, and his gun being discharged, the buckshot entered his left breast near the nipple. He survived for three days, and was honored and respected by all who knew him.

APPLES.—T. Lambertson of Walnut Grove has raised some excellent peaches this year. They are three years old. One tree produced 200 pounds of fruit.

GEN. GREGG'S EXPEDITION.—For some reason known to us, the contemplated expedition of Gen. Gregg to Tonto Basin has been abandoned, and instead a scout undertaken in the neighborhood of Postle's Ranch. We are informed, however, that the General will probably move upon the enemy's works at Tonto Basin in the course of two or three weeks, by which time the recruits lately returned from California will be ready for active duty.

THE INDIANS lately visited the ranch of Thomas Hoag, at Walnut Grove, threshed out a stack of wheat and carried off the grain, together with a stolen of double harness. They had previously gotten from him 300 sacks of corn.

FROM THE BULLY BUENOS.—Mr. Albert W. Dunn, who arrived here on Thursday from Walnut Grove via the Bully Buenos mine, informs us that the Indians (believed to be the Apache-Yumas) came down one night lately, and carried off the entire corn crop of Jeff. Davis, near the mine. He had quite a large crop. A day or two afterwards a number of Indians came down in daylight, and one of them took a seat on a rock, facing the house, about two hundred yards distant. Mr. Davis got his gun and fired at the redskin, but miscalculated the distance, and the ball fell short, striking the rock between the legs of the Indian, who jumped up and bounded off like a deer, and was still running when Davis and his friends turned back, after pursuing him over two miles.

Mr. Davis lately shot a bear weighing 900 pounds. The fat was three inches thick on the varmint's ribs.

Major Coffin writes from the East that money matters are all right, but that the company have not yet decided what to do.

MR. GRAY arrived here on Sunday last from La Paz, not having returned to San Francisco as reported. He will, however, go to San Francisco about a week hence, and on his return hither will be accompanied by the eminent metallurgist, F. Kuestel, who will introduce here the chlorination process, now so successfully employed in the reduction of sulphurets at Grass Valley, California. Mr. Kuestel tested by this process a quantity of rock from the Galena lode, Big Bug District, and was satisfied that it would pay well to work such rock on a large scale. Mr. Gray speaks very encouragingly, and appears to be quite sanguine as to the prospect of the speedy development and profitable working of our rich mines.

THEATRICALS AT CAMP LINCOLN.—The troops at Camp Lincoln, with a design to beguile the long and dreary nights, have "Thespian" informs us, instituted a Thespian Club, and opened a theater on Monday night with the drama of The Butcher of Ghent; or, the Vision on the Heath, followed by a variety of songs, dances, etc.; the entertainment concluding with the farce of High Life below Stairs. Characters by the members of Companies C and G, 14th Infantry. Our correspondent says that the performances were very creditable, and the audience delighted.

"FRIEND IN NEED," ETC.—Dr. Wilson W. Jones of La Paz, who owns and runs a freight train from that place to Prescott, and who, we have reason to know, is "every inch a gentleman," a scholar and a sound Constitutional Union-loving Democrat, was in town one day last week, called upon us in our sanctum, and, after discussing the topics of the day, and congratulating us upon the result of the elections in the freedom-loving States of Ohio, Pennsylvania and California, took up a pen and asked us for a piece of paper. We complied with the request, and in less time than it would take Ben Butler to steal a silver spoon, he wrote us an order upon the firm of Gray & Co., La Paz, for three hundred dollars, to aid in publishing the MINER, and thereby, as he said, spread the gospel of Jefferson, Monroe and other sainted Democrats before the people of Arizona; likewise, to make known the resources of our Territory, so that immigration may come here and start the implements of development and the car of progress. This act of Mr. Jones took us by surprise, threw our devil into hysterics, and caused an old type at work in the office to let go all holds of his stick and rule, scratch his head and stare wildly at the generous donor. Such acts of kindness towards printers are so rare that we doubt whether we could stand another such occurrence; but Pard Weaver seems to think it worthy we might. However, we don't wish anybody to try it upon us again. No, we don't! It's the Emperor Norton or Rev. Dr. Bellows that can stand such things.

HARDY MAILS.—The failure of the mails from Hardyville and Tucson to arrive here when due, on Saturday and Sunday last, gave our citizens great uneasiness; and, as days passed and neither mails nor news of them arrived, the fear deepened into conviction that both carriers had been murdered by Indians. Great was the relief to the public mind when Charles Spencer arrived on Wednesday evening with the California mail, and explained that its detention was caused by the refusal of the officer in command of Fort Mohave to furnish an escort, on the ground that he had no authority to do so. He changed his mind, however, and on the next regular mail day detailed an escort to accompany the rider. In relation to the Tucson mail, Mr. Gray informs us that he learned in Wickburg that some changes had been made, and that it would reach here on Wednesday, and regularly on that day of the week hereafter. It did not arrive, however; and now it is reported that the sub-contractor has given up the contract. The original contractor resides at Santa Fe, New Mexico, and it may be some time before he can put service on the route. Mr. Meacham, our Postmaster, sent out a mail yesterday by special carrier, Gen. Gregg having furnished an escort.

MEETING OF BENCH AND BAR.—On Monday evening last the Chief and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court and the members of the Yavapai Bar met around the "festive board" at the Prescott House, and enjoyed themselves after the grave and dignified manner peculiar to learned expounders of the law. The affair was impromptu, and on that account none the less agreeable; if the viands and potables lacked variety, they were duly appreciated, and the wit and good humor spontaneous and hearty. Judge Backus, who contributed much to the pleasure of the occasion by his inexhaustible fund of humor, proposed the first sentiment—"The Bar of Yavapai. May it always have a Bench to sustain it." This was responded to by Wm. J. Berry Esq., who concluded a neat and pertinent speech with the following sentiment: "Arizona—the youngest, the fairest, the richest and the least known of the Territories belonging to the American Union. Though her development has thus far been slow, yet with such power to back us, though fortune should still prove unkind, we may hope to be able to Turn-her; but if at last we should be compelled to leave the Territory, we cannot be entirely destitute of transportation while we possess such an illustrious Carter." This was responded to by Judge Carter in a few eloquent remarks. John Howard, Esq., then proposed "The health and prosperity of the members of the Supreme Bench. May we soon meet them again in Prescott." In response to this Judge Turner made an appropriate and cordial speech. As some of the guests designed leaving in the morning, and had their preparations yet to complete, the party, with reciprocal expressions of esteem and good will, separated at an early hour.

A FLOURING MILL.—On our first page will be found an article, written and put in type for our last number, recommending the building of a grist mill. Well, to show the efficacy of editorial advocacy, after we had the article in type, but before we could publish it, the building of a flouring-mill was commenced at Cook's old arastra on Granite creek, about a mile above town, where there is a large overshot water-wheel in good order, waiting to be put to use. Messrs. Bowers & Bro. are the owners of this property and projectors of the enterprise, and Messrs. Blair and Elliott are doing the work. The mill will be in operation some time this winter, and will at first be prepared to make unbolthead flour and corn meal. So soon as there is a wheat crop raised in this vicinity sufficient to warrant it, the capacity of the mill will be enlarged, and machinery introduced for the manufacture of fine flour. Let everybody sow wheat—there will be no difficulty in getting it ground, and the market for flour will steadily increase.

SOLDIERS' RIOR.—On Sunday night last, at an hour when most of our citizens had retired to rest, a party of cavalry and a party of infantry, who had been in town during the day and evening, drinking freely, got into a quarrel on their way to the Fort, and finally commenced shooting at each other. Many shots were fired, but with such inaccurate aim that only two men were wounded, and they not dangerously. The residents in the vicinity of the affray, which took place near the drug-store, were really in more danger than the rioters, but fortunately escaped injury. The shooting was heard at Fort Whipple, and its cause being suspected, in a few minutes Lieut. Pechee took upon the ground, arrested the rioters, and took them to the Fort, where we presume they were punished in accordance with military discipline. The events of Friday and Sunday nights should, we think, suggest to the officers at Fort Whipple the propriety of issuing an order prohibiting soldiers visiting town from carrying with them deadly weapons, which they certainly do not require for defence, and which when under the influence of liquor—a condition to which many of them are subject whenever they have an opportunity to indulge—they are apt to use in a reckless and dangerous manner.

COL. PRICE'S EXPEDITION.—We learn that Col. Price's command, which a factious correspondent (without the remotest intention of ridiculing the gallant officers and men composing it) christened the "Grand Army of the Colorado," was to have left headquarters at the Willows on Wednesday morning last, to make a scout extending from the Willows to the Toll-gate, at which latter place, if not before reaching it, they expect to come upon a rancharia of the hostile Indians. The command have been very active since they took the field; and if they have not accomplished as much as may have been expected from them, it should be borne in mind that the force is small, that the country in which they are operating is extremely rugged and mountainous, and that although they have guides, the Pah-Ute Indians who serve in that capacity are not well acquainted with the watering-places, and the movements of the troops have been much embarrassed by the difficulty of procuring water, without which neither men nor animals can endure the toll and fatigue of the march. Having, in their recent scouts, acquainted themselves with the country and the localities where water can be obtained in the mountains between the Willows and Beale's Springs, Col. Price and his subordinates contemplate a second raid through that portion of the country about twenty days hence, by which time they expect that the Indians lately driven thence will have returned, and may be attracted to better advantage than before. Col. Price is doing all he can to subjugate the hostile Indians in his District and keep the road open between Hardyville and Prescott.
