Rev. Daniel Battin, of Phoenix, will preach in the Methodist church tomorrow at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Messages remaining undelivered at Western Union telegraph office: Miss Lillie Mau, Gus Madersbach, Charles Gruner.

Fresh California fruits, candies, cigars, tobaccos, stationery and the latest newspapers always on hand at Abee's news depot.

J. Lyon and family left for their home in St. Louis yesterday, to spend the winter months. They will return to Flagstaff next spring.

Switzer & Son have repainted their storeroom and remodeled their restaurant. They keep everything clean and serve only first-class lunches and meals.

Dr. W. M. Johnston, the well-known physician of Williams, visited the skylight city this week. The doctor reports considerable activity in the way of new buildings at Williams.

John Coates has opened a bakery in the rear of Dyke's fruit stand, and has fresh bread and pies constantly on hand. Special orders for cakes, buns, etc., for families and parties promptly filled.

Sheriff Francis left for Yuma on Monday's west-bound express, having in charge Thomas Wood, under sentence to serve 51 years in the Territorial Prison for the murder of E. W. Crockett.

Let your wife off on Tuesday evening next. Don't make her get supper at home, but come down to Hoxworth's hall and take in the Conundrum Tea. Only 50c, and its worth it.

Our enterprising groceryman, John Sanderson, is selling goods in his line at wonderfully low prices. Read his new "ad." in this paper, and call on him and get prices. It will more than repay you for the trouble.

B. O. Bayless is now ministering to the wants of the thirsty—in the water line. He has purchased the outfit formerly belonging to Tom Crockett, and promises to be prompt in the delivery of fresh, cool spring water to all parts of the city.

The firm of Daggs Brothers was dissolved in August, 1890. I retained my French merino sheep interests, and am running a free lance, and have a few hundred French rams of all ages for sale, and solicit the patronage of all wool growers. J. F. DAGGS, Flagstaff, Ariz.

B. N. Freeman, cashier of the Colorado State Bank, of Durango, and one of the partners in our home bank, is stopping with his family for a few days with Cashier Hoskins. Mr. Freeman expresses himself as well pleased with the outlook of our town, and is satisfied with his investment here.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a Conundrum Tea at Hoxworth hall on Tuesday evening next. All those who have never had the opportunity of attending an entertainment of this character will do well to come. To those who have been so fortunate it is not necessary to say a word, as we know they will not miss it. This is the latest fad in the social line, and should be participated in by all our people.

The Sykes boys are doing some very artistic work in painting the scenery and curtains for the stage in Powell's hall. When this hall has received its finishing touches, we can boast of the best opera-house of its size in the territory. The stage is large enough for the setting of all ordinary plays, while the seating capacity of the house is sufficient to amply repay theatrical companies to visit us. Besides, Flagstaff is rated as a good show town.

Cheapest place in town to buy groceries—John Sanderson's.

W. P. Lockwood, of this place, is in charge of the store at Big Bug.

I can furnish Land Scrip of all kinds. WILL L. VAN HORN.

The New Mexico Territorial Fair opens at Albuquerque on Monday next.

Postmaster Cook is having a new sidewalk laid in front of the postoffice.

Dan Francis, of the firm of Campbell & Francis, is doing the town this week.

A good-sized audience witnessed the sparring match at Powell's hall last Saturday evening.

Miss Edith Alvord goes to Albuquerque next week, where she will resume her studies.

The Old Reliable Flagstaff Photo Gallery will be open for a few days only. Melven, operator.

The Valley Clothes Bar is the nearest thing of the kind. John Sanderson keeps a full supply of them.

The second term of Sam Flint's dancing school opened with a large attendance Tuesday evening.

The tenth annual session of Arizona Mission Conference of the M. E. Church will convene in Flagstaff on October 7.

W. L. Van Horn left for Albuquerque yesterday. Will go in the interest of the Coconino county exhibit at the fair.

Dr. D. J. Branner arrived home Saturday evening from the East, whither he had been called by the death of his little girl.

While horseback riding last Sunday, Miss Ella Hawks had the misfortune to fall from her horse, dislocating her right arm.

Harry L. Weems, of Los Angeles, Cal., is the new principal of our public school. The school opened on Monday last with an attendance of 60 pupils.

Bring your sweetheart, or some other fellow's, to Hoxworth hall on Tuesday evening next, and take in the Conundrum Tea. You'll learn something.

Walter J. Hill left for Albuquerque yesterday, taking with him samples of the products of his famous Volunteer Springs ranch, which will be placed on exhibit at the fair.

A party from Prescott, composed of W. W. Riggs, Dr. Maus and wife and Lieutenant Johnson and wife left Thursday morning for a trip to the Grand Cañon.

Jake Salzman, the Williams merchant, was circulating among his Flagstaff friends Sunday. Jake reports business good at Williams, and predicts a brilliant future for the place.

The Mohave Miner says Harvey Hubbs has been removed from Beal Springs to his home in Kingman. He is getting along nicely, and it is thought that the fractured bones of his leg have begun to knit.

The Curley Kid and a man named March were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Fairchild on Tuesday for breaking into Babbitt Bros' store and stealing several articles of merchandise. March had his trial before Justice Gibson and was bound over in the sum of $350. Curley's trial was postponed, awaiting the arrest of other parties implicated.

Judge E. W. Wells, who concluded his first term of court at this place on Saturday last, left for Kingman the same evening, where he is now holding court. During his stay in Flagstaff Judge Wells made many friends. He is very conscientious in all his rulings and decisions, as all who attended his court will readily assert. We look forward to the time when the genial Judge Wells will be with us again.

On Sunday evening last the Coconino Cornet Band, accompanied by a number of our most prominent citizens, serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schultz at the Bank hotel. After a few selections had been played the serenaders were invited into the dining-room, where a sumptuous repast was spread. Champagne, toasts and music were in order, and a couple of hours were most pleasantly passed.

On Monday morning last the body of a man named Copeland was found in the bed of Beaver creek, 40 miles south of Flagstaff. It appears that Mr. Copeland had visited Lou Bristol, a neighbor, Sunday afternoon, and was returning home after dark when he missed the road, getting onto the edge of a bluff above the creek, and in attempting to turn around the horse backed over the precipice. When found the body was lying near the water, where it is supposed Mr. Copeland had managed to crawl, dying from injuries received by the fall. Deceased was between 60 and 70 years of age, and was father-in-law to William Cliff. The horse was also killed in the accident.

To save money, buy your groceries from John Sanderson.

The Methodist church is being repainted.

Ice cream and soda water at Switzer & Son's.

Frank MacCauley, the painter, has contracts all around town.

Our exhibit at the Albuquerque fair will be a creditable one.

T. C. Norris is attending the Constitutional Convention at Phoenix.

There are 475 names on the property tax rolls of Coconino county.

W. H. Moffit has struck a fine well of water, and is erecting a residence on his property in the west end.

Don't forget to bring your sisters, cousins and aunts to the Conundrum Tea on Tuesday evening next. Lots of fun.

"Cuba Blossoms" and the "Reception" cigars are of the finest quality. Try them. John Sanderson keeps them.

If you want to meet "a woman of grit" and find out the "result of a squeeze," attend the Conundrum Tea on Tuesday evening next.

The Young People's Meeting at the M. E. church to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock will be led by Mrs. A. E. Van Horn. All are welcome.

MAKING.—In Flagstaff, September 9, Gus Moe, of Big Bug, and Miss Lizzie Murphy, of this city. The bridal couple left for Big Bug, their future home, on Wednesday evening's train.

Rev. N. F. Norton went to Winslow yesterday, and is to preach in the school house there to-morrow at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m., and will administer baptism and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Arthur M. Millan, of San Diego, Cal., representing the Coronado Mineral Water Company, was a guest at the Bank hotel several days this week. Mr. Millan is making a tour of the territory in the interests of his company.

The Ditchers' Gazette, of San Francisco, says that Arizona stockmen are about preparing to ship beef cattle to that market. That stock is reported to be in good condition, and higher values are expected by them than the present ruling prices.

At its meeting last Tuesday the Board of Supervisors entertained propositions for a court-house site. Three locations are suggested, all of which have their advantages, but the Board deemed it advisable to make haste slowly, and no action will be taken in the matter until the next meeting.

B. O. Bayless, water dealer, has purchased the water tank formerly belonging to Tom Crockett, and will deliver water in all parts of the city promptly. Orders may be left at J. A. Vail's or Bayless' barber shop, and prompt attention will be given them.

When two more Western Union clocks, now ordered, are put in service at this place, making a total of fifteen, a master clock will be put in, and the time regulated hourly from the local Western Union office. Flagstaff has the proud distinction of being the only town in the territory that is supplied with these time pieces.

A glove contest between Billy Roberts, of Colorado, and Jim Sayers, of California, will take place at Powell's hall this evening, for a purse of $100. Both gentlemen are light-weights, and evenly matched. Ten rounds will be fought, 3-ounce gloves being used. There will also be a wrestling match between two unknowns. Time will be called at 9:30.

R. C. Brown, editor of the Florence Enterprise, arrived in Flagstaff Wednesday. Mr. Brown is one of the Republican members of the Territorial Board of World's Fair Managers, appointed by Governor Irwin, and, in connection with the business of his paper, is making a tour of the territory in the interests of the World's Fair exhibit.

Among the most noteworthy enterprises of Flagstaff is the Arizona Central Bank, located in the elegant corner rooms of the Bank hotel building. This bank was established in 1887, since which time its business has continually increased, making it now one of the permanent and substantial institutions of Northern Arizona. It is the only banking house on the Atlantic & Pacific railroad west of Albuquerque. —Needles Eye.
