

"Flag of the Free! thy folds shall fly, The sign of hope and triumph nigh."

FOR PRESIDENT, HENRY CLAY, OF KENTUCKY.

WASHINGTON.

MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 6, 1843.

OUR STANDARD we unfurl to-day, for the first time, and give its folds to the breeze—there to wave, as we fondly trust, until its genuine counterpart floats gaily over the dome of the capitol for the presidential inauguration of HARRY OF THE WEST.

THIS PAPER will be published daily at 3 o'clock, P. M., until the meeting of Congress, when it may be necessary to defer the publication an hour or so longer, in order to give the entire substance of the proceedings of that body on each day, which it is our design to do in the best form that the limits of our columns will admit.

To those who have kindly extended to us their confidence in advance, giving us a friendly hand upon the threshold of our undertaking, we here return our warmest thanks, with the assurance, that whatever may be the result of our enterprise, their disinterested kindness will ever be retained in grateful remembrance.

The first number of the "Whig Standard" will be distributed generally throughout the District, in order to facilitate the carriers in the formation of their routes. Those persons who desire to be furnished hereafter with the paper, will inform the carriers on the day following.

Those friends who design advertising with us, will confer a favor by sending their advertisements to the office by 1 o'clock, p. m., or leaving them at the store of Mr. Mills, in the same building, where a box has been placed for their reception.

ELECTIONS TO COME.—Three States have yet to hold their regular elections. Michigan for governor, three members of Congress, and members of the Legislature, on the 9th of November; Mississippi for governor, four members of Congress, and members of the Legislature, on the 6th and 7th of November; Massachusetts for governor, members of the Legislature, and four representatives to Congress, to fill vacancies in their delegation, on the 13th; and Vermont on the 14th for a member of Congress in the second district.

The election for members of the Legislature takes place in New York to-morrow.

THE ANGLO-AMERICAN, advertised in another column of this paper by the agent of that popular work for the District of Columbia, commenced its second volume on the 28th ultimo. It is no more than justice to say, that we know of no periodical which on the perusal has yielded us more abundant intellectual gratification than the Anglo-American, which, being edited by A. D. Paterson, Esq., formerly of the Albion, a writer of eminence well known in the first literary circles in New York, bids fair to obtain a wide and extensive circulation and a permanent support.

Mr. Henry Russell's Concert.—The lovers of true and genuine melody will no doubt be highly gratified by the announcement, in another column, of Mr. Russell's Concert, this evening, at Carusi's saloon. Those who had not the pleasure of hearing Mr. R. on his last visit missed a rich treat. Each song announced for the entertainment to-night is well worth the price of admission.

TO THE CLAY CLUBS OF THE UNION.

Respect! aspic! prospice! Look back, around, before—for upon the vigilance of your associations depends the issue of the next Presidential election. Discipline alone can cope with discipline. The same drilled corps of office holders whom you met and signally routed in the last campaign is again in arms. In vain does a portion of your opponents disclaim their alliance—never doubt that they will be ready enough to profit by it when the period of conflict is at hand. Even were it otherwise, what difference can it make to us how our adversaries are marshalled, or in what manner they take up their position in the field. It is sufficient that we see what is their present order of battle. In the centre are the forces of the Northern man with Southern principles; the wings are occupied with South Carolina chivalry on the one side, and subterranean democracy on the other; while sneaking in the rear, or acting as scouts and outriders, are found John Tyler and his minions of office. These, whatever form they may ultimately assume, are the adversaries whom we have to encounter, and we know their strength.

Experience and reflection convince us, that we do not overrate the importance of the Clay Clubs, nor the responsibility which attaches to them in the approaching contest. They constitute the Whig Magnetic Telegraph: to whatever point of which the political battery is applied, whether at the centre or the extremities, the response is felt alike throughout the whole extent of the Union. To animate them to exerting, they have only to recall to mind a period of some twelve years prior to the election of Gen. Harrison, when the mad will of one man, and the foolish efforts of a parasite to follow in his footsteps, brought such fatal disasters upon the country; when the Constitution was violated, the Treasury plundered, and the integrity of the Union itself endangered—to remember the effort it cost them to throw off the rule which, by a shameless system of rewards and punishments, had been, as its authors vainly supposed, permanently fastened upon the people—and then to consider, that to the same contest they are summoned anew; and, in all probability, against the same leader, who has not yet measured the whole distance trodden by his "illustrious predecessor." The Whigs interrupted him in the midst of his journey, and broke the charm of the power that sustained him; but, alas! they have not reaped the full fruition of their toil. Hardly was their arduous task accomplished, when he who, under God and the Constitution, was the chosen instrument to effect so much promised good, was smitten by the hand of death. What followed is too painful and humiliating for comment. Let us turn then, from the contemplation of the past and the present, to the future.

Again is the opportunity drawing nigh when the Whig party, who, for nearly sixteen years, have been shut out from all direction in the affairs of Government, may assert and enforce their just rights; and with what a leader, with what unanimity and determination have they entered upon this contest! How inspiring is the prospect which is opened—how ample the reward held out for patience and long suffering! Never did a party, in any time or country, struggle for success under nobler and happier auspices than now smile upon the Whigs; but this success cannot be lightly attained. Again must we appeal to the people in their primary assemblies; again must we oppose reason to reason, system to system, and, if need be, cunning to cunning. Bring out then the armor of 1840; let the rust and tarnish which it has accumulated during this reign of treachery, under that "general apathy" with which we have been taunted, give place to the polish of that general vigor whose strength and keenness our opponents have been compelled to acknowledge. Wipe off the dust from the insignia of your State, county, and village associations. Unroll the banners of the Clay Clubs—for we were loth. Their silken folds should feast the moth." Let the lukewarm and timorous take counsel of their doubts and fears, but let nothing repress the enthusiasm of the Clay Clubs. They aided powerfully in 1840 to overthrow the spoils-office-dynasty, and the vanquished party has never recovered from the confusion of their defeat. Power was their bond of cohesion, and its loss has left them scattered and discordant; but their effort to recover it will be proportioned to the mortification they have suffered; and, if not met with determined resistance, the country will be thrown back into the same condition which preceded the present parenthetical administration. The discarded President will next be succeeded by the Missouri mobocrat, and this one again by some lower leveller, if such can be found, until that period in our history arrives which the enemies of republican government predict and desire. The remedy for this downward tendency, and this terrible catastrophe, is action! Let every true-hearted Whig who would not be driven to expatriation or rebellion hereafter, exercise his powers now, in the approaching contest, to the best of the ability which he possesses.

It was alleged against the Whigs in '39 that they sought an "available" candidate whose opinions upon the important political topics of the time were not generally known, and the long period which General Harrison had passed in retirement gave a semblance of truth to this charge; but no such complaint can be reiterated. That must be an obscure corner in our land, wide as the country is, where Harry of the West and the opinions he entertains are not known. If, during a long life spent in the service of his country, Mr. CLAY has endeared himself to his friends by the exhibition of any one pre-eminent quality, it has been his manly frankness; he has never hesitated to combat error when it was popular, or to lift his powerful voice in behalf of truth, even when at the time it was distasteful to the majority. In this respect he exhibits a striking contrast to his principal rival, whose political policy now, after a four year's presidential service, is the subject of violent dispute among his own partisans! What are the opinions of Mr. VAN BUREN upon many subjects it would be difficult to say, but we know he runs for a "second term," and that he advocates the condemned "sub-treasury," into which he would put the proceeds of the "public lands." Mr. CLAY's opinions upon these and other kindred subjects are as follows, to wit: he advocates—

- 1. A sound National Currency, regulated by the will and authority of the nation.
2. An adequate Revenue, with fair protection to American Industry.
3. Just restraints on the Executive power, embracing a further restriction on the exercise of the Veto.
4. A faithful administration of the public domain, with an equitable distribution of the proceeds of the sales of it among all the States.
5. An honest and economical administration of the General Government, leaving public officers perfect freedom of thought and of the right of suffrage; but with suitable restraints against improper interference in elections.
6. An amendment to the Constitution, limiting the incumbent of the Presidential office to a single term.

These objects attained, says Mr. CLAY, "I think we should cease to be afflicted with bad administration of the Government."

It is to attain these objects, under the administration of HENRY CLAY, that the Whig party is now summoned to a contest in which success, in any event, will be glorious, and defeat no otherwise disgraceful than as the result of their own negligence and folly.

Judge Story has a son, says the New Haven Courier, about twenty-three years of age, who is a beautiful sculptor, paints superbly, is a poet of more than ordinary promise, plays exquisitely on a number of musical instruments, is familiar with a number of languages, practises somewhat extensively at the bar, and is about to publish a legal work of great value and acuteness.

We have received from G. Brooke's Periodical Depot, Penn. Avenue, the following new works: "Cousin Hinton," by Miss Ellen Pickering; "Howard, or the Mysterious Disappearance," by Professor Ingraham; "Italian Without a Master," by A. H. Monteith; "Ellen Ramsay, or the Adventures of a Greenhorn in Town and Country," by T. L. Nichols; "Peter Schlemihl," translated by William Howitt; "The Deserter," by John H. Mancur; "The Village Inn," by H. M. Herbert, and "The Attic Salt-cellar."

Sons of Temperance.—We are requested to state that Timothy Division No. 1, Sons of Temperance, of the District of Columbia, holds its meetings at Buckingham's room, on C street, every Wednesday evening, at 7 o'clock.

This order is of recent origin, having been founded in New York in September, 1842, by a few philanthropic individuals, in furtherance of the great cause of total abstinence from all that intoxicates. The order has rapidly increased—numbering at this time about three thousand members. There are nineteen or twenty divisions (or lodges) in different parts of the United States. The motto of the order is "Love, Purity, and Fidelity;" its object, benevolence in the highest degree. The Division in this city already numbers between sixty and seventy members, and accession are being made weekly, although but little known to the community generally. We take pleasure in recommending an institution, which has for its object the welfare of mankind, to the good citizens of this metropolis.

MARRIAGE. In this city, on the 27th ultimo, by the Rev. Mr. BROWN, MR. ISAIAH BURTLEY to Miss ANN C. BLAIR.

ATTENTION, VOLUNTEER AND FIRE COMPANIES.—The Captains of Volunteer Companies and the Presidents of Fire Companies of Washington and Georgetown, being a committee appointed at the late Military and Firemen's Convention, to lay a memorial before Congress, are hereby requested to meet at Fuller's Hotel, this evening, (Monday), at seven o'clock. JOHN MASON, Jr., Capt. Potomac Dragoons, Chairman.

HEADQUARTERS, NATIONAL BLUES. The regular monthly meeting of the company will be held this evening, (Monday) at half past 7 o'clock. Punctual attendance of the members is requested, as business of importance will be laid before them. By order: M. P. MOHUN, Secretary.

ATTENTION! MECHANICAL RIFLEMEN!—A stated meeting of the Company will be held at the armory in the City Hall, on Monday evening, the 13th instant. Punctual attendance is required of every member, as matter of great importance will be brought before the Company. By order: GEORGE K. BOYD, Secretary.

TAVERN-KEEPERS, COME FORTH!—The Tavern-keepers of the City of Washington are respectfully invited to attend a special meeting on Wednesday evening next, at 8 o'clock, to be held at Thomas Baker's Franklin House, at the corner of 8th and D streets, to take into consideration business of importance to all who come under this head.

DUCKWHEAT FLOUR.—The subscriber has just received a choice lot of Duckwheat Flour, which will be sold by the bag or pound; also a choice lot of "Moore's" Hams, at his Family Grocery Store, nearly opposite the Patriotic Bank on 7th street. S. HOLMES.

AMUSEMENTS.

CONCERT.—MR. HENRY RUSSELL will give on a third and last Vocal Entertainment THIS EVENING, at Carusi's Saloon; on which occasion he will have the honor of presenting to the public several of his most popular compositions, which will be illustrated by remarks. During which he will sing "Cato's Soliloquy on the Immortality of the Soul," by Addison; Cantata, the "Maniac," new song; "Life in the West;" the "Brave Old Oak" Cantata, "Wind of the Winter Night," the "Old Arm Chair," the "Fine Old English Gentleman," new "National American Song," "Woodman spare that tree," &c. Tickets 50 cents each, to be had at Fuller's Hotel and at the usual places. To commence at half past 7 o'clock. nov 6-1t

GRAND EXHIBITION AT APOLLO HALL.—COMBINATION OF SCIENCE AND NOVELTY.—The citizens of Washington are respectfully informed that the Grand Camerascopo, for exhibiting Diaromic Paintings similar to that which has attracted immense crowds nightly at the great hall of the Pyrotechnic Institution, London, and which has been exhibited in the northern cities, and received with the highest approbation by crowded audiences, will be exhibited in this city for this week only, commencing on Monday evening, November 6, at half past seven o'clock.

This splendid apparatus, for the exhibiting of Diaromic Paintings, the Hydro-oxygen Microscope, and the grand Solar Microscope, will be exhibited in this city for the first time. Together with the Drummond Light, as represented in New York by the celebrated Dr. Lardner.

With a view to add to the amusements of the evening, and to suit the tastes of all, the following novel exhibition will be presented: The Youthful Bramin Demologist, who will appear for the first time. His astonishing exhibitions will commence with a series of Hindoo Miracles of the Pagan Priesthood, Deceptions of Budah, Miracles of Joss, Incantations of El Jaceaid, the whole being a series of Magical Tableaux, as performed in the Temple of El Jawdah, among which will be found the Oracular Money, a most mysterious and incomprehensible feat, as practised by the priesthood of Joss, a Chinese deity. The truths will be found astonishing. The Oracular or Enchanted Money will tell the private thoughts, written correspondence, secrets, the past, present, and future, of any number of persons in company, without a single mistake. Sacred Taper of Rahama, the Enchanted Bride Cake, the Mantel of Juggernaut, Bodaa's Gift, or the faithful rewarded, the Flying Handkerchief, the Impregnated Fruit, or who shall be the next President, which will be decided by patent politics, or a way to please all parties, the Mysterious Timepiece, Chinese Rings, &c. Also, a few experiments in Hindoo Occulogy, which are merely amusing, but to the uninitiated will appear passing strange. They are of such a nature that the most fastidious can feel no repugnance in witnessing. It is the principal amusement of the Khans and Khoulas in Hindostan.

The Virginia Minstrels, the most original and best organized band of Ethiopians in this country, (who are now performing at Philadelphia to crowded houses) have been engaged, and due notice will be given of their first appearance.

Tickets 25 cents—children half price. Doors open at 7 o'clock—exhibition commences at 7 1/2 o'clock. nov 6-1w

WISTAR'S COUGH LOZENGES.—These Lozenges cannot be too strongly recommended to public attention as a safe and effectual medicine for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthmas, &c. They are very serviceable in soreness and tightness of the breast, difficulty of breathing, hoarseness, &c., and give almost immediate relief in troublesome sensation, tickling in the throat, which is so tormenting in this complaint.

They have been used very extensively in this city and other places, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have used them; price 25 cents per box. A large quantity just manufactured and for sale, with directions, at GILMAN'S, (late Todd's), Drug Store. A liberal discount made to druggists and others dealing in the article. nov 6-1m SOUTHERN TONIC.—This preparation is offered to the public with feelings of delicacy, for in this age of quackery, the proprietors are well assured it is harrassed by an enormous catalogue of stuffs for the cure of all maladies. The inventors of this valuable medicine, from a long residence at the South, and from the nature of their vocation, have come immediately in contact with all the diseases incident to that climate, and have been astonished at finding so great a proportion of invalids suffering from fever and ague. Having witnessed the want of success in the practice of the most skillful physicians, and the entire failure of the best prescriptions put up by themselves, they were induced to try the Southern Tonic, a preparation which had long before suggested itself to them, and were gratified beyond their most sanguine hopes by its virtues.

This will be found a valuable alternative, as well as tonic, in most cases of general debility or weakness, and in cases of a torpid and inactive state of the digestive functions, this medicine will regulate the bowels, give tone to the stomach, and increase the appetite, and leave the patient in a comfortable state of health. COSTER & COXE, Montgomery Alabama. CHARLES STOTT, Agent for the District. nov 6-1m

TWO PARENTS AND TEACHERS.—The subscriber has just received from the North a large assortment of School Books. The best editions have been carefully selected and well bound, consisting of every kind of school book and other requisites that are used in the District and the surrounding country, and will be sold at unusually low prices. R. FARNHAM, corner 11th street and Penn. av. nov 6
