ICE! ICE! ICE!—The subscriber having succeeded, at a very great expense, in filling his large house with Potomac Ice, of a very superior quality, is now prepared to receive orders for the coming season.

He would advise all private families, keepers of hotels, boarding-houses, confectionaries, &c., who wish a supply through the entire season, to make early application, and they will not be disappointed, as many were last summer, by one or two small dealers in that article, who attempted to furnish and failed in the hottest weather, when it was most wanted.

Persons wishing ice before the season for delivering from the wagons, can get it by sending to the store, where it is kept constantly on hand.

Z. D. GILMAN, Druggist, Penn. Avenue.

LOVE AND PATRIOTISM, a Poem, by Richard J. Stewart Evans, Counsellor-at-Law, for sale at Brooke's periodical agency, and at Taylor's, Morrison's, and Farnham's bookstores. The following extracts are taken from some of the notices: From the National Intelligencer.

LOVE AND PATRIOTISM, a Poem, pronounced by Richard S. Evans, at Bowdoin College, at the annual commencement. Portland—Charles Day & Co., printers. The above is the title of a poem, by Richard S. Evans, of Washington, which has been just published in Portland, Maine. The following remarks upon this performance, are from the Portland Daily Advertiser, of September 7. It was amusing to listen to the observation to this performance. Nonsense, says one. Beautiful, adds another. Horrible, splendid, silly, and grand, were epithets profusely lavished. Surely that man is a poet who gains such praise and such abuse. And verily we believe Evans can and did write poetry. There were parts of this Poem which appeared as pure and gorgeous poetry; for instance, the allusion to the American Bird in connexion with Poland; Campbell himself has not done better, &c.

From the Globe. The following brief allusion to Poland, is from Evans's Poem on Love and Patriotism, a production which is very highly praised, &c. From the Alexandria Gazette. Mr. Richard S. Evans is a gentleman who has long occupied a conspicuous station, as an anonymous writer, in some of the principal literary journals; and to whom the world is indebted, for some of the finest specimens of poetry and learning, &c. ap 12—d1wtaw2m.

PART SECOND, POETRY.—Translations and imitations in verse, from the Portuguese, Spanish, Italian, German, and Arabic languages. PART THIRD, ESSAYS.—1st, on the falsehood of Gloomy Theories; 2d, the policy of increasing the Territories of the United States on every favorable opportunity, and the proposed renewal of the Congress of Panama; 3d, expediency of extending promotion to privates in the Army and Navy; 4th, evils of meanness and parsimony in public salaries; 5th, means of encouraging the emigration of the rich as well as the poor to this country; 6th, influence upon public prosperity of having men of genius at the head of affairs, illustrated by the examples of history. The above work is nearly ready for publication. Many of the articles appeared originally in the journals and periodicals. ap 12—d1wtaw2m

VALUABLE FARM AND WOODLANDS NEAR WASHINGTON CITY FOR SALE. THIS estate is situated about two and a half miles from the Centre Market, northwest of the Columbian College, adjoining the lands of Dr. Worthington and Messrs. Holmead and Pearce. It contains 300 acres, from 80 to 100 in cultivation, chiefly set in timothy, orchard, grass, and clover, and nearly 200 acres in wood, considerable portions of which are heavily timbered. The uncultivated lands are of excellent quality, and the cultivated portions have been found to be kind and easily improved; lime, ashes, and plaster, having been abundantly applied by my father, the recent owner, with the finest effect. By a recent survey, these lands have been divided into the following portions: Lot 1. Containing about 128 acres, with the improvements, consisting of a dwelling-house, barn, stable, manager's house, negro quarters, and other out-buildings, all erected within the last two years. The dwelling is in the cottage style, having piazzas on three sides, forming a square of 50 feet; it has six rooms on the principal floor, a stone basement, and comfortable attics. The situation is elevated and commands a fine prospect, forming a delightful and retired country residence. There are young and extensive orchards, comprising the choicest varieties of fruit. Lot 2. Containing about 50 acres. Upon this portion there is a beautiful building site, and excellent stone quarries. It is bounded on the south by the county road leading to Pearce's mill. The soil is good, and admirably adapted to the purpose of market gardening. To each of these lots there is an abundance of wood. Lot 3. Containing 37 acres 2 roods 35 perches, chiefly in wood. Lot 4. Containing 34 acres 3 roods 16 perches, heavily timbered and rich. Upon each of these lots there are good building sites overlooking the Washington and Rockville Turnpike. The water is excellent, and a stream runs through the whole tract. From their proximity to the city, and the perfect healthiness of the region, these lands are deemed to be desirable. The title is good, and immediate possession can be given. Terms accommodating. Mr. KING, the manager, will show the boundaries; and for price, and other particulars, apply to me at Georgetown, D. C. I am only induced to dispose of this property from a desire to locate myself in one of the States with a view to the practice of my profession. If not previously sold at private sale, the above will be disposed of at public sale on Monday, May 20, at 4 o'clock, P. M., at the auction rooms of Messrs. Holmead & Wright, Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington. The plats will be left with Messrs. Holmead & Wright. RICHARD W. REDIN. may 7—2awtmay20

MISCELLANEOUS.

From the Philadelphia Forum.

THE WHIG PROCESSION. Written on seeing a procession of Whigs with Ashland Hats and Clay Banners, marching through our streets.

By R. D. R.—A LADY OF PHILADELPHIA.

AIR—"I see them on their prancing way. I see them on their winding way, With Ashland hats and banners gay; Their hearts are true, their banners wave In honor of the good and brave. Bright wreaths they bear to crown the brow Of him whose name's the watchword now; Against the storm they'll proudly ride, Nor tremble at the swelling tide,— Their hero is the nation's choice; They will support with heart and voice, The honest farmer of the West, The wisest, bravest, and the best. Then cheer them on their winding way— Hurrah! Hurrah! for Harry Clay!

Again the bugle blast I hear, The hearts of gallant Whigs to cheer— At every note the Locos quail, Calhoun and Tyler both turn pale! March on! march on! and raise on high The glorious flag of liberty, Its beautiful stripes and brilliant stars, Shall wave for him who cheered our tars, When British cannon, o'er the sea, Its thunder rolled towards the free. Then let your bugles sound a blast, Longer and louder than the last! Brave Hal will surely win the day,— Hurrah! Hurrah! for Harry Clay!

INDUSTRY, HAPPINESS, AND HEALTH.—We were forcibly struck, a few days since, with a remark made by an old and affluent citizen. Speaking of his habits, and of his constant attention to something which occupied his mind, he said that he always felt better, physically and mentally, when employed in some useful pursuit; because, in the first place, he knew he was discharging his duty as a member of society and a man, and, in the second, he was prevented from indulging in painful thoughts. This is sound philosophy. The idler, whether rich or poor, young or old, is far more apt to be annoyed by disagreeable reflections, to feel moody and discontented, to be hurried on into temptation and crime, than the individual, who, no matter what his condition in a pecuniary point of view, he seeks to keep both mind and body properly employed, and thus to shut out feverish desires and nervous phantasmagoria, which idleness is certain to call into existence. Every individual has a part to play in the drama of life, and that man is happiest, to be rich or poor, who, with a proper consciousness of right and wrong, virtue and vice, keeps his mind and his body in a wholesome state of exercise, always careful to be prompted in his movements by honor, honesty, and conscientiousness.

DIGNITY OF LABOR.—In early life, David kept his father's sheep. His was a life of industry, and though foolish men think it degrading to perform any useful labor, yet in the eyes of wise men, industry is truly honorable, and the most useful man is the happiest. A life of labor is man's natural condition, and the most favorable to mend all health and bodily vigor. Bishop Hall says, "Sweet is the destiny of all trades, whether of the brow or of the mind. God never allowed any man to do nothing." From the ranks of industry have the world's greatest men been taken. Rome was more than once saved by a man who was sent for from the plough. Moses had been keeping sheep for forty years before he came to be the deliverer of Israel. The Apostles were chosen from amongst the hardy and laborious fishermen, from which I infer that, when God has any great work to perform, he selects as his instruments, those who have been distinguished by their previous occupation, habits of industry, skill and perseverance; and that, in every department of society, they are the most honorable who earn their own living by their own labor.—Rev. T. Spencer.
