COMPANY D'S FLAG.

Beautiful Stand of Colors Given the Boys by Judge Little.

No prettier little ceremony could be conceived than that of last Friday evening when Judge Little reviewed and presented Company D, N. G. H., with a stand of colors. The company was out in its best. Captain Fetter had his men well in hand. The Hilo band was present, taking part in the evolutions and discoursing patriotic music. The ceremony was witnessed by a large crowd.

After reviewing the company, Judge Little was escorted by Lieutenant R. H. Reid to Captain Fetter. Taking the flag from the hands of an orderly, Judge Little presented it to Captain Fetter, closing his remarks with the following eulogy to the flag:

"Tell them it is our father's flag, terrible in battle and beneficent in peace. Tell them that the rustle and roll of this grand old flag as it floats on the breezes tonight are as inspiring to our minds and hearts now as they were to our forefathers in the old days at Monmouth, Bunker Hill, Lexington and Yorktown. Tell them that it is a flag which has never been surrendered to any foreign foe. It is a banner whose glorious stripes have been deepened by the successful but Christianized warfare of later years. Its glorious folds inspire its followers to do and dare for the right,—for the liberty and perpetuity of the great nation of which it is the emblem. Tell them that the stars upon it, which glow so brightly in its beautiful blue field, represent the great constellation of states in our national system. Tell them that the stars on this banner like the stars of Heaven which redeem this night from darkness, and the beams of red light that beautify the morning, have been united upon its folds and can never be pulled down. Tell them that the stripes upon that banner which stretch out so grandly in their graceful billowy restless length represent the bands of unity and independence which encircle this magnificent union of states. Tell them that its entrance into any land under the sun, if escorted by the proper guard, and received in the proper spirit means progress and civilization to that land.

"It is the only flag which dare float from any flag-staff in this territory except it be that of a duly accredited foreign representative who shall have been so recognized by the President of the United States.

"It is the duty not only of the military but of all loyal citizens on every proper occasion to unfurl this grand old banner, rally round it and re-assert the fundamental truths of our national liberty and perpetuity. And at any moment if need be pledge to our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor to destroy any fatal dogma tending toward secession in any form which may arise in our midst, or to repel any danger impending against the flag or constitution of our country. Tell them that it is our solemn duty to keep the distinction between loyalty and treason clearly and sharply defined, then hereafter as heretofore no one dare impeach the honor of the men who wear this uniform and follow this flag. For we must all remember that no one is qualified to follow this flag unless his heart be loyal and true. And no one should be permitted to touch it whose hands are disloyal or unclean."

WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED.

German Method of Relieving Distress Existing in Berlin.

Berlin, January 17.—Replying to an interpellation in the Reichstag today Count von Posadowsky-Wehner, Secretary of State for the Interior, said that the best statistics available showed that there were not more than 7500 unemployed in Berlin, their number having been kept down by the effort of the various Federal departments to provide them with work whenever this was possible. The Secretary of State assured the Reichstag that the Government hoped that healthier conditions would soon be created, so that the country labor might again prosper on the land.

This statement from Count von Posadowsky-Wehner was taken as a direct bid for support for the Government in connection with the tariff on grain. The speaker further warned the country against the danger of overproduction, and said that Germany would soon be past the industrial crisis.

Chinese Exclusion.

A clause in the Chinese exclusion bill relating to Chinese in the insular possessions of the United States reads as follows:

"That from and after the passage of this act the entry into the American mainland territory of the United States of Chinese laborers coming from any of the insular possessions of the United States shall be absolutely prohibited, and the prohibition shall apply to all Chinese laborers, as well as to such as were in insular possessions at the time or times of acquisition thereof respectively by the United States, or to those who have come there since and those who have been born there since and those who may come there hereafter, and those who may hereafter be born there."
