These will be completed by the time Mr. Peck reaches Honolulu, and Saturday night or Monday everything will be signed up and the election of new officers will take place.

Upon his return to Hilo Mr. Peck will take up the matter of a resurvey of the line and the securing of right of way.

BACK FROM ORIENT.

Tom Ridgway Talks of Conditions in Far East.

Tom C. Ridgway, who returned with his mother this week from a four months' trip through the Orient, has many interesting tales to tell of the trip and countries visited. They spent a few days in Manila, were in Hongkong ten days and visited Canton, Amoy and Macao. They were at Shanghai, the Paris of the East, and spent two months in Japan.

Mr. Ridgway was in Japan when the war fever was at its height. The people in Japan, he says, were eager to be called to fight Russia. All elements alike were imbued with the war spirit, and the ministry found it necessary to adopt stern measures to stem the tide of popular feeling. The press was put under a strict censorship and every diplomatic art was used by the government to maintain peace between the people of Japan on the one hand and the Russian Bear on the other. In fact it was only the financial embarrassment confronting the ministry, that prevented its giving way to the popular clamor.

Mr. Ridgway says: "Shanghai is the best place in the Orient. There are 10,000 Europeans and Americans in the city and business is good. From this city as a base some of the most extensive enterprises are being prosecuted.

"Manila," said Tom, "is a beastly place. It is not Americanized to the fraction of a degree. Hawaii is a Yankee hotbed in comparison. I even had to talk Spanish to the policemen."

The pleasantest part of the tour was the visit to the interior of Japan. Three weeks were spent at Kyoto, the ancient capital.

Pays a High Compliment to M. d'Albert.

The Chicago Record compliments M. d'Albert very highly as a violinist by saying:

"M. d'Albert has never been heard to better effect than yesterday. He chose that sympathetic and flowing composition of Sarasato, 'Andalusia.' His bowing and phrasing, delicious staccato passages, harmonious thirds and inspiring octaves, earned for the artist spontaneous applause."

The seat sale will commence at the Owl Drug Co. Saturday morning, and it is believed that the music lovers of this end of the Island will take advantage of the opportunity afforded to hear this talented artist. Out-of-town people can have their seats reserved by telephone.

To Overhaul Enterprise.

The Enterprise will make one more trip to Hilo and then lay up for extensive improvements. She will be out of service one trip, the Hilo run being taken by the Rosecrans. The improvements to be made on the Enterprise are to give her better facilities for carrying fruit. Captain Matson has believed in Hilo as a banana exporting port and has had in mind for sometime these improvements on his steamer.

Not only will the Enterprise have better and larger facilities for handling bananas but the Rosecrans will touch at Hilo whenever the offerings are sufficient to require it.

THE OLD RELIABLE

KILAUEA PLUGGED.

No Connection With the Mauna Loa Smoke Columns.

The crater of Kilauea is now a dead hole. The bottom is covered with thousands of tons of rock and pulverized lava. The dense clouds of smoke and steam rise no more from the bottomless throat of Halemauau.

A big rock slide from the Puna side last Saturday did the work. For a distance of 500 feet along the rim at the surface a section six or eight feet thick caved in and tumbled down the 1000 foot walls, with a roar that was heard three miles away. The throat of the volcano was choked with the debris. The depths of the big crater are now as visible as the dead bottom of Kilauea-Ici. The lava flow, which was a shelter to visitors on the Puna side now stands sheer on the edge of the great hole. One corner projects over the chasm and the edifice is ready to crumble.

Almost coincident with the rock slide, there were seen on the summit of Mauna Loa, over the caverns of Mukawewewo, three or four funnel shaped columns of smoke or steam. This at once gave rise to the theory that, with Kilauea dammed up, the volcanic forces were seeking an outlet further up. This theory has not been borne out however, for the reason that no smoke has been seen on Mauna Loa since Saturday.

Fred Beckley of Hunaula Sheep Station was in Hilo yesterday and stated to a TRIBUNE representative that he with other men of the station were up on Mauna Loa Friday night. They slept at the 9000 foot line and in the morning saw the steam or smoke going up from Mauna Loa across the valley. They attributed the sight to the fact that a heavy snow had fallen, and as is usual at such times, the heated lava in the old craters caused the columns of vapor to rise.

HOW MOSQUITOES MULTIPLY.

Prof. Henshaw Gives Result of Close Observations.

After numerous experiments I have discovered that neither of our two species of mosquitoes will deposit eggs in fresh clean water. When, however, water has been exposed long enough to smell, and be covered by a nasty scum, then it is in the proper condition to receive the mosquito eggs; and it is surprising how soon the female mosquito will discover the presence of such water, even though it be no more than enough to fill a blacking box cover.

So long therefore as water is in a sanitary condition, mosquitoes will not breed in it. The discovery of wrigglers in a pond or container of water is proof positive that it is in an unsanitary condition and is inimical to health from every point of view.

In one of my experiment vessels, some eight inches in diameter, sixteen lots of the day mosquito eggs have been laid in less than twenty-four hours. These lots or rafts average above 200 eggs each. So this one container held 3200 eggs, practically all of which were sure to hatch within 24 hours after deposition. Within an area of 100 feet in a yard in Hilo, I have found sixteen containers, pots, boxes, bottles and the like, all having wrigglers and eggs in varying numbers.

Does any one wonder that mosquitoes are on the increase in Hilo? If every yard in Hilo averages one such container—and while some premises contain none others contain many—the daily output of mosquito eggs per house is somewhere near 3,000. It needs no imagination to see what Hilo is coming to unless a remedy is found for this state of things. The principal remedy is a little care on the part of householders in the future and a little labor at the present time to destroy the now existing breeding places of the pest about the houses.

H. W. HENSHAW.

THE MOSQUITO FIGHT.

The Pest Does Not Breed in Waialama Swamps.

Prof. Henshaw has explored the Waialama swamps and holds that the stream and the ponds through which it runs are not mosquito breeding grounds. "This stream is full of gold fish and other fish and the mosquito has an up hill business in these waters. The larvae of the mosquito and the wrigglers are favorite foods of the fish. Besides the mosquito avoids clean or fresh water preferring the stale and dirty water of stagnant pools. Within a few feet of the edge of Waialama swamp I found a stagnant pool of very filthy water. This was literally alive with mosquito larvae.

"As soon as Mr. Bowman, the sanitary officer, recovers from the dengue, he will give special attention to mosquito breeding pools. It is believed that the Board of Health could authorize its sanitary officers to proceed against the mosquitoes on regular lines. That is to say, tackle it as a sanitary measure, drawing on the regular appropriation. Mr. Bowman is quite willing to undertake the additional duties and will carry out the work faithfully.

"I found an interesting thing in the Courthouse yard Wednesday," continued Prof. Henshaw. "A cuplike crevice near the base of one of the palm trees had been filled by the rain and the water had become stagnant. There was less than a pint of water, but in it were fully a thousand embryonic mosquitoes. This one little cup was sufficient to furnish mosquitoes enough to drive a neighborhood frantic. The fight against mosquitoes must be a matter of detail."

AN OLAA SEES IT.

Letter From One Who Knows the General Drift.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: As an American and a voter I feel it my duty to let you know that in my opinion, and that of a good many others up here in Olaa, you are doing what is right when you call attention to Andrews' past record for inefficiency. Why, what has he ever done to merit the confidence of the people? He breaks into men's houses without legal warrant, and hangs up some poor Porto Rican by the thumbs so as to force from him confession for a fancied crime. Why, there never was such a meddling official, whether to recommend some saloon license against the wishes of the people and for reasons which the public may guess, or else works his prisoners on private graft in hauling dirt for his own use, or using his policemen as flunkies and coachmen for his mules and horses, as I saw when I was in Hilo the other day. Why, only a few months ago it was reported that one of his subordinates was guilty of embezzling license money, and the man was retired, but I see he is back there again, and working tooth and toe nail for Andrews' election. And a Home Ruler, too, at that.

This may be strong talk, but it is the truth. Of course, unless one is a plantation manager his views do not carry much weight, and you may prefer to accept as gospel truth views of McStocker, Clay and the rest of the plantation outfit up here. But you will find they are false alarms, for they cannot deliver the goods, any more than they did at the last election. They can go it pretty strong, for talk is cheap, but see what Peter Lee did to them last time, and this time it will be much easier. "MOUNTAIN VIEW."
