For an Agricultural College. The regular Board of Trade meeting held last week was not largely attended but a goodly number were present to hear the secretary's report of the transactions of the Executive Council and to consider unimportant matters which came up for action. A letter of T. J. Ryan of Oloa, was laid before the body, wherein he called attention of the Board of Trade to the question of the establishment of an Agricultural College in the Territory of Hawaii. He recited the efforts made by himself at the first session of the legislature in March 1901, to secure the passage of a bill providing for an Agricultural College to be located on a tract of government land in Oloa. The bill was introduced by Senator John T. Brown of Hilo, favorably reported by the Senate committee on education, but for want of further time, it failed of passage. It appears that Senator H. P. Baldwin who was a minority member of the committee, while favorably disposed to the establishment of an Agricultural College in the Territory, advocated its location on Maui. Mr. Ryan urged prompt action by the Hilo Board of Trade, looking to the establishment of such an institution on Hawaii, and referred to the reasons set forth in the article by Jared G. Smith, in charge of the United States Experimental station, which appears elsewhere. The letter together with enclosures were referred to the committee on agriculture.

CHANGES AT BOARDING SCHOOL.

Will Establish a Department of Theology.

The Hilo Boarding School reopens on Wednesday, September 7th, with a new teaching force and perhaps seventy-five or more students. Principal Levi C. Lyman is much pleased with the new corps of teachers and anticipates a very successful year for the Boarding School. He has already received a number of applications from prospective students, but is unable to say at this time the exact number that will be on the rolls. A new department of Theology has been instituted for post-graduate students and others, wishing to prepare for the ministry. This will be in charge of Rev. Curtis E. Shields, who will also have charge of the normal work, which will likewise be an innovation in the curriculum of the School. In connection with the School farm, the students under the supervision of Principal Lyman will conduct the cocoa plantation, which was recently started by Expert J. E. Higgins, of the United States Experimental Station. Already there are 700 plants set out in a nursery, which will be transplanted within a month. There are three acres of land ploughed, harrowed and ready for cultivation set apart for this experiment, which promises to be an interesting and important one. C. E. Neff of Bucyrus, Ohio, will have charge of the printing office, the musical department and be one of the instructors of the academic branches. Mrs. E. N. Hittcock and Mrs. Ellen G. Lyman, who have been added to the faculty, are new teachers in the Boarding School. Principal Lyman will have several classes in the higher branches as well as general charge of the institution.

A Gallant Rescue.

Policeman Mahi Lonoaea, Sheriff Andrews' crack mounted patrolman, made a brave rescue of a runaway horse attached to a hack belonging to the Volcano Stables last Wednesday. The hack was standing in front of the stables on Waiannuene street, and to all appearances the horse was safely tied by a lasso fastened to the bridle bit. Manager Wright says this is a very bad way to tie up, and he has repeatedly warned his drivers against the practice. The horse, which is a restless animal, worked the bridle over his nose and proceeded on a jaunt about town with an empty hack behind him. Starting up Waiannuene street some one headed the animal into Bridge street. The hack and runaway horse made the entire circuit of Puna, returning on the Pitman street bridge and started on a tear down Pitman street. In the meantime word was quickly sent to the Police Station and Patrolman Mahi, with lasso in hand, went forth. He overtook the speeding animal in front of the Hilo hotel grounds and with a dexterous twist threw the rope over the animal's neck and brought the rig to a standstill in front of the First Foreign Church. No damage except to the bridle was found to have occurred, and Manager Wright is congratulating himself that the vehicle was not smashed and his horse badly injured.

Serrao Incorporates.

J. G. Serrao has incorporated his wholesale and retail liquor establishments in Hilo. The name of the new corporation will be the Serrao Liquor Co., Ltd., with main place of business at Hilo, Hawaii. It will be capitalized at $25,000 and is incorporated for a period of fifty years. The purpose of the incorporation is to operate a wholesale and retail liquor business. The officers of the corporation are J. G. Serrao, president; C. E. Wright, vice president; W. Conrath, treasurer; Wm. Fernandez, secretary; R. T. Guard, auditor. The above officers with Antonio Cabrinha and I. E. Ray constitute a board of directors. At a meeting held Thursday week, J. G. Serrao was selected as manager of the new corporation.

Boat House Proposed.

Secretary A. L. C. Atkinson has aroused renewed interest in a boat club, which has been proposed from time to time in Hilo, but not met with success heretofore. In order to get a club started, Secretary Atkinson has generously offered to present the proposed club with a $50 from the Healan Boat Club of Honolulu. Atkinson is vice president of the Healan and is very anxious that Hilo have a similar organization, so that later on it may compete with Honolulu clubs in inter-island boat races. W. I. Madela and Geo. N. Day have the matter in hand, and it is believed a sufficient number of local oarsmen can be found to form such a club.

SUN'S ECLIPSE.

Get Your Smoked Glasses Ready For Friday.

On Friday next, September 9th, if the weather be clear there may be seen in Hawaii between 8 and 10 o'clock in the morning a partial eclipse of the sun. To the islands of the Pacific Ocean south of us a total eclipse of the sun will be visible, but the line of totality lies several hundred miles south of the Hawaiian Islands. The central eclipse begins generally in the vicinity of the Marshall Islands in the Micronesia group, longitude 163° East of Greenwich, and latitude 8° North, and terminates on the west coast of South America in the north part of Chili, in latitude 36° 38' South and longitude 69° 45' West. The line of the total eclipse lies almost entirely over the Pacific Ocean, and is visible only to the Western portion of South America, the Hawaiian Islands, Micronesia and Polynesia islands.

A solar eclipse is the total or partial concealment of the sun by the moon, and by the movement of the moon in its orbit around the earth, there cannot be less than two conjunctions of the sun and moon in a year. The point of conjunction, however, makes a complete circuit of the heavens once in a year on an average. If the conjunction occurs with the moon so near the ecliptic, as to hide the sun's disk wholly or partially, then to a certain portion of the earth, there would be a solar eclipse; if the conjunction is one of the moon with that point opposite the sun, towards which the earth's shadow is thrown, the moon would enter that shadow wholly or partially, and the world would witness a lunar eclipse. While the total obscuration of the sun by the moon may not be visible on Hawaii next Friday, there will be sufficient shadow if the sun's rays to be clearly discernible. Owing to the intensity of the sun's corona, during an eclipse the unprotected eye cannot withstand the light without the aid of smoked glasses, and to those lovers of natural phenomena who take the trouble, the sun's eclipse may prove interesting.

Echos of the Convention.

Harmony was the watchword! Prince Cupid was the recognized leader. Admiral Beckley demonstrated his continued popularity. Some of the delegates in the Hilo delegation did not get all they asked for. After cleverly managing both the Territorial and District conventions, Secretary Atkinson departed.

Andrews wonders now where the flaw was in his program to make Editor Sucker a central committee man.

The Sheriff's political manager discovered too late that the time was not ripe for springing his boom.

The Andrews-Stacker combination to dominate the delegation and gobble all convention honors fell by the way side.

Every visiting delegate went home happy, satisfied with his own labors and the reception accorded him by Hilo and the Big Island.

Prince Kuhio's speech rings true for harmony and in elucidation of the same theory, the reader should peruse, digest and compare the speeches of Secretary Atkinson and Candidate Smith.

Copying the report of the TRIBUNE and appropriating the wireless news of the war placed on the bulletin board, the Herald was enabled to publish a loose sheet "extra" late Saturday night, which was gratuitously distributed among delegates to the District convention.

One of the pleasant features of the Territorial convention was the gift to each of the delegates just prior to adjournment by W. C. Peacock & Co, a handsome tray bearing the likeness of President Roosevelt. They proved to be popular souvenirs of the gathering. Some practical joker in the crowd of delegates on the Kinau from Honolulu waylaid 400 Parker badges consigned to Sen. Palmer P. Woods, and distributed the buttons among the republican delegates aboard. Frank Thompson called a mock democratic convention aboard Beckley's flag ship, adopted a platform, and among other things declared the nomination of Parker and Davis off. Upon arrival at Kawaihae the buttons were collected and turned over to Senator Woods, who in his joy to meet the republican statesmen entrusted the package to a friend on board the Kinau and left the vessel without securing his badges. Upon arrival in Hilo by telephone messages from Kohala to return the badges as the Tammany braves in need of encouragement of this character.
