A Dangerous Fire.

An incipient wholesale conflagration was extinguished Friday morning about 10 o'clock in the second floor of the building occupied by Machida, the Japanese druggist. Passers by saw smoke issuing from an upper window and when entrance was gained to the rooms, a waste paper basket was found to be aflame. The rooms are used as the headquarters of the Japanese League, and some one in the crowd of Japanese who thronged the office prior to the departure of the Kinau each week, must have dropped a lighted cigarette in the paper, which took fire.

Only slight damage was done to the floor and an adjoining desk. Had the fire gotten any headway, it is likely the entire Japanese quarter, composed of many frame buildings, would have been swept away.

A Direlict Captured.

About ten miles off port, Captain Youngren of the S. S. Enterprise passed a huge log drifting on the high sea. He reported the fact to Agent Gaard of the Matson line, and on Sunday the tug, Chas. Counselman went out in search of the direlict. The log was overhauled and towed into port. It was nearly seventy feet in length, white with barnacles showing that it had been adrift many years. The theory is that the tree must have drifted from the Oregon coast and was carried by the currents to the islands. Such floating timbers are a menace to navigation and often cause the sinking of a ship, when run into unawares.

BOYCOTT LYMAN FAMILY.

Local Japanese Retaliate For Action Taken in Labor Troubles.

There is a boycott on amongst local Japanese, directed against the members of the Lyman family doing business in Hilo, but principally against Rufus A. Lyman, Jr., who was prominently identified with the Kukaiaua road labor controversy, which resulted in the discharge of all the Japanese employed on that government work.

And remarkable to relate, the "shut-out" is becoming general among the Japanese who have heretofore done business with various members of the family, and who now refuse to deal with anyone of the name of Lyman. It is stated that the day following the agreement among the Japanese to this effect, the soda works did not sell a case of soda to their former Japanese customers in Hilo, and the Japanese trade of the other lines of business operated by the family has materially fallen off since the order to boycott. The announcement was made in the Hilo Shimban, last Monday morning, November 14th, a translation of which is as follows:

RETRIBUTION FOR THE LYMANS.

There is a white merchant in Hilo by the name of Lyman, whose family is always taking advantage of the Japanese, with whom they do business. A few days ago, we heard the rumor that they took the lead in the labor troubles at Kukaiaua discharging many Japanese laborers. Although this may be simply politics, it is unbecoming in them. If it is a fact, it is very bad for the Japanese.

At present, nobody is buying anything, even beef or soda water from them, but are buying from other merchants. This is a natural consequence which comes upon this family, and step by step, they ruin themselves among our countrymen. In this community, where the Japanese have been their largest customers, they must consider where their profits come from.

As an evidence of the disastrous effect which the boycott is working against the Lymans, Rufus A. Lyman, Jr. caused to be published in the next issue of the Hilo Shimban, a signed statement in Japanese which appears under date of November 16th. The statement is as follows:

NOTICE TO JAPANESE.

We hear the rumor among the Japanese in Hilo, an account of which appeared in No. 607 in the local news column of the Hilo Shimban, published day before yesterday, that our family were the chief promoters in discharging Japanese laborers from the Kukaiaua road work, and therefore the Japanese have decided to oppose our family. We are very sorry for this. The facts of the case are that the Hawaiian Territorial legislature passed a law signed by Governor Dole, April 23, 1903, and published as Act 37, providing that no person shall be employed on the public works except citizens of this country. And if any person employs any other kind of labor, they will be punished by a fine not exceeding $100 and not less than $50.

We acted under the law and we could not help ourselves. We never intended to harm the Japanese and if anybody is angry at us for our action, they should read the Laws of Hawaii. Really we have always sympathized with your countrymen, and as a proof, we employ Japanese in our business—in our stables, soda works and meat market. In closing, we most respectfully beg your best wishes.

(Signed) RUFUS LYMAN, Hilo, Nov. 16, 1904.

The editor of the Shimban comments editorially on the card, stating that the advertising columns of his paper are separate from the editorial department, and that the editor printed the news item from rumors which were common among his people. After an investigation, the editor promised to report the exact facts in the case. Inquiry at the Shimban office reveals the fact that the editor is now in Hamakua to learn the part which the Lymans took in the recent labor troubles there.

HILO'S NEW POSTMASTER.

A Multitude of Candidates Pressing for the Place.

Rumors are rife over the prospective change in the post office at Hilo. Rev. S. L. Desha brought the news from Honolulu that owing to the promotion of Postmaster Madeira, there would be a vacancy. He alleges that the position was tendered to his brother, Geo. L. Desha, who is an employee of the Honolulu post office. In response to an inquiry, Postmaster Madeira says he has received no official notification of his promotion to an inspectorship, and declares that he has not resigned his office. No one can be appointed as long as Madeira holds his commission.

However, the woods are full of candidates. Rev. Desha is pulling for his nephew-in-law, Chas. Siemsen. Two members of the Lyman family, Norman and Henry, are spoken of. W. H. Beers has been favorably mentioned as a satisfactory successor to the office. There does not appear to be any white candidates for the place, as the billet is regarded as a political plum to be given the Young Men's Republican Club.

Japanese Murder in Kau.

Word is received by telephone of the murder on Wednesday night last week in one of the upper camps of Hutchinson plantation, at Naalehu, of a Japanese by the name of Yoshino Takuto. Evidence of the affair is very meagre, but from the information obtained, it appears that the man, who is familiarly known as a "Konishi," a wrestler, was stabbed in the neck below the collar bone by a fellow countryman Akioka, in a drunken brawl as the result of a gambling quarrel. Neither men were employed on the plantation, but were roving gamblers, formerly of Olaa. The murderer is at large, having escaped in a kimono.
