SENATOR HOAR, PAUSE!

COL. JASPAR, OF ARKANSAW, UTTERS WORDS OF WARNING.

He Pours Forth His Indignation at the Attempt to Pass the Force Bill, and Gives Some Startling Illustrations from Jasperville.

Col. Jasper, of Jasperville, Jasp County, Arkansaw, while seated with a friend at Chamberlin's Club House, before a bottle of his favorite sour mash, thus discoursed upon the Force bill: "They proceedings of the great American Congress, I ventuah to say, sab, are as full of interest as a razor-back hog killin' in Jasp County, in they State of Arkansaw. Now, it has come undah my observation, sab, that Mr. Hoah, a blasted descendant of the Pilgrim Fathahs of Plymouth Rock, sab, has abandoned for they time being they customary scramble for they Federal poak fanh, they erection of public buildings, and they improvement of they rivers and they barboahs, sab, to place upon they Revised Stattoots a piece of obnoxious legislation known to these presents as the Foahs bill. Now, I do not happen to enjoy the honah of they acquaintance of Mr. Hoah, sab, but as a public-spirited Southern gentleman, sab, whose father and whose grandfather before him, sab, explained with their boots on, and who expects to maintain they reputation of they family in that respect himself, sab, I desiah to discuss his cussed proposition in as cool and unblased a mannah, sab, as they Honorable John Henry Rogers, they membah from Fort Smith, conducted himself in his parliamentary passages with they condemned tyrant of they House at they last session of Congress. I desiah to say, sab, that I regard this Foahs bill of Senatah Hoah as one of they most pernicious and iniquitous pieces of legislation the world has seen since they condemned town council of Jaspahville, Jaspah County, Arkansaw, sab, passed under they suspension of they rules an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for a tax-payah to pasture his own cowah in they town Squah. Now, what was they swift and emphatic answer of they incorruptible freemen of Jaspahville to they blasted selectmen who had impinged they spirit of they great American bird of Freedom on they pale fence of intolerance? What, sab, I ask, was they sweeping answer of they condemned polls of they liberal-loving, yeoman of Jaspahville, who had received they paladium of they liberties from they cussed sword of Bunkah Hill? Paralyze my occipital artery! They cowah ordinance was made an issue at they impending election, sab. Notice was served on every niggah that if he took they cussed money to vote for they reciant public servants who were being arraigned at they open bar of public opinion, sab, they would find themselves knockin' at they golden portals of they Heavenly Kingdom in their stocking feet, sab, and with they freah and unfettahed winds of they empyrean sougthing through they perforations in their cadavahs at a registered velocity of 3,213 kilometers every twenty-foah hoahs. I may be permitted to state in this connection, sab, that they foah of they town council of Jaspahville aftah they blasted votes had been canvassed in an impartial mannah, sab, bore a singular resemblance to they surface of a Wisconsin wheat-field twelve hoahs after an army corps of able-bodied buck grasshoppers had had a dinnah party in it."

Col. Jasper at this point paused to take a drink. Resuming, he said: "Now, my deah sab, what is they intent and they meaning of this blasted proposition of the Senatah who represents a constituency that eats plah for breakfast, by God, sab, and fills up they intestines of they intestines with they beans of commerce? Dam they sluice-way of my alimentary canal, sab! Does they Senatah propose to establish they principle in American jurisprudence, sab, that when a horse don't want to drink and won't drink, sab, that they cussed specimen of they animal kingdom must be made to drink? Stop they pulsation of my heart, sab! Now, sab, let us submit this Foahs bill to a crucial and analytical examination. Let us peel they skin off 't, sab, without digressing to discuss it from a constitutional or a pessimistic point of view, sab! It has been my privilege foah a period of time extending ovah some years to have enjoyed a credit for my lickah at they bar of Majah Peelin's tavern, which is they leading caravansary of Jaspahville, and they only tavern, I might add parenthetically, sab, which gives they grand jury a square meal for they money and which allows they cussed drummahs from they town of St. Louis they usual commercial rates. Now, suppose that this iniquitous Foahs bill should be added to the cumbersome stattoots of they glorious American republic, and that they majah, at the instance of his blasted lawyer, should take advantage, sab, of its provisions and foahs me to a settlement, willy-nilly: what would be they inevitable consequences, sab? Why, sab, it don't requiah a school mastah to answer, sab. I should be compelled, a Southern gentleman, sab, who has served his country faithfully both as a jury commissioner and a poll-tax collectah, to post a notice on they doah of my wagon-house that I was unable to meet my just obligations, and that I no longah had a credit for sough mash at they bar of they leading tavern of Jaspahville. But Senatah Hoah even goes fathah with his cussed proposition. Suppose, sab, that I, Col. Jasper, a man of influence, a lineal descendant of they F. V.'s, sab, who would shoot a membah of they human family down in his cussed tracks, who should dare to cast an imputation upon my honah, sab, should be they innocent victim of the platonic love of a designing widow of Jaspahville or elsewhere—suppose, sab, that said widow had matrimonial designs upon me, and had determined in her blasted mind to double up with me—where would my protection, my self-preservation come in, sab? Faking advantage, sab, of Senatah Hoah's Foahs bill, they repugnant and misguided female could foahs me into a matrimonial alliance against my own judgment and inclination, sab. Paralyze my intestines, sab! Into what an unfathomable sea of contention, misery, and strife, sab, will society eventually drift undah they operations of this condemned mestah. Let us suppose, sab, that they blasted abolitionists of Jaspah County, sab, were in need of a candidate whose name on they cussed ticket would be a towah of strength, sab, and that their condemned caucus should pick me out foah they standard-bearer undah they hydraulic principles of they Hoah bill, sab, I could be foahsed and coerced into a nomination that I could only accept, sab, by holding my cussed nose and filling myself up with sough mash until the cussed stuff would run out of my eahs, by gad, sab. I have obtained they loan of a frank from they Hon. Clifton R. Breckenridge, of Pine Bluff, sab, and telegraphed to they town council of Jaspahville and to they Hon. Felix Jenkins, of they Court of Oyah and Ternah, and general jail delivery of they county of Jaspah, that they inoffending and patriotic citizens of Arkansaw must meet in public assembly, sab, under they inalienable rights guaranteed them by they cussed Constitution, sab, and denounce they principle which they Senatah from Massachusetts is endeavoring to engraft upon they organic and fundamental laws of they blasted country, sab."
