LOCAL NEWS.

The Bands do not play this evening.

The Champion returned to the harbor this forenoon.

The Star had a kabuna fake in last evening's issue.

The 'Tiser editor says that Mr. Blount is a "shyster."

Spanish gymnasts at the Opera House to-morrow evening.

The Australia leaves to-morrow at noon, for San Francisco.

The combined Concert announced for this evening, is postponed.

The Star still continues its abuse against United States Consul-General Mills.

It would perhaps be advisable for those concerned, to request the Star man to discontinue its references to "paramours," "bummers," and "bribe-takers." It would be exceedingly unpleasant and perhaps very embarrassing to some of the present government officials and members of the Annexation Club, to have not only their behaviour exposed, but that of their wives and daughters.

Say 'Tiser editor, after the restoration of the Queen, will you call God Almighty—a "shyster," too?

If you don't carry a gun and become a revolutionist, you cannot expect to receive any "government pap."

That "the eminent witness was intimately acquainted with the affair," we do not doubt. Mr. Blount probably thought the gentleman was so intimately connected with it, as to be unable to make an unbiased statement.

Could not the 'Tiser imbecile understand, that the very reason why such prominent persons as P. C. Jones and the Chief Justice were not questioned as they thought they should have been, was because "nothing but the truth was wanted?"

A P. G. soldier is allowed many privileges, because he is a P. G. supporter; oh yes, he is even allowed the privilege of abusing his wife. The wife has no redress. We advise everyone who doesn't like his wife, to become a P. G. soldier.

In a few days, President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham will be in receipt of sufficient evidence proving to them the true character (by their own evidence) of the so-called Americans, who wish to rule and ruin Hawaii. Mr. Blount knew "what they were" before he left Honolulu.

Vice-President Hatch also said, that she—speaking of the Queen—says, "that force will be used if necessary to put her back on the throne." Did she tell you that Hatch? Don't you think that you had better tell the truth while you are at it?

If it is true that the Queen is now under the protection of the Provisional Government by her own request; why is it, then, that the Executive were not men enough to give her protection, without her asking for it? We are under the impression, that the "loudly talked of protection" has been accorded to her through some other channel.

Vice-President of the provisional Government and President of the Annexation Club Hatch, in his scandalous remarks of yesterday, referred to the Queen, "as that woman across the street." Coming from a man who has not only been too willing to accept personally her hospitality, but on several occasions has asked to have friends similar entertained, shows what, in gratitude may be expected from those who should know better. He is not the only person on the Government roster who shows the same gratitude (?) for such favors extended to them.

The following passengers are booked at the office of the Agents to go forward to-morrow on the steamer Australia: Commander and Mrs W H Whiting, C A Hosier, Masters E Mahlman G W Brown, and C W White, Miss N Burras, Miss Beckwith, Miss E Knight, D K Abeel and wife, A Herbert, J D Tregloan, E H Cranshoy, H E Shaw, Col Z S Spalding, W Steigerwald, Miss Emmes, Wm McDonald, Capt Metcalfe and wife, Mrs C Douglas.

The Albu Concert.

A large and fashionable audience greeted the Misses Albu last evening. The young ladies won the approbation of a Honolulu audience as soon as they appeared on the stage. Their lady like and unassuming manner captivated not only the gentlemen, but the ladies as well.

It would be difficult for us to make any special reference to any one piece on the programme, because they were all so splendidly and charmingly rendered. The intonation of their voices and distinctness of pronunciation was perfect.

Those music loving people who were not there last evening missed a treat, and must go and hear them.

A number of seats are already engaged for the concert to be given next Thursday evening, on which occasion will be sung English, Irish and Scotch ballads. As duets they will sing Blumenthal's "Venetian Boat Song" and "Sainted Mother" (Maritana).

The Government Finances do not appear to be in a very flourishing condition.

OPERA COMIQUE.

The resignation of Minister Damon is now reported on the streets.

The latest song and dance by the P. G. Opera Comique after due rehearsal was put on the boards yesterday, and now "down comes ze curtain."

The Star's Modern Journalism.

We are informed, that the contents of a news article in last evening's Star, referring to a "Testimonial Calabash," "to be sent to J. H. Blount by the Australia," "as a reward for services rendered," on which was inscribed the words.

"To James H. Blount, from the Kuni Kalaiaina in recognition of services rendered," is entirely false.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or the utterances of our correspondents.]

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

What a farcial exhibition the rebel leaders have made of themselves in attempting the overthrow of the Hawaiian Monarchy! Now that they see their attempt has ended in an abortive, they have commenced to lie to such an extent that the accounts each give of the commencement of the revolution, prove to the world, that from old Stevens downwards, they are true descendants and imitators of old Ananias himself.

We are satisfied that by this time the American public recognize Thurston and Co, as lying importors and, in face of the evidence of his compatriots collected by minister Blount, and which evidence is in possession of the Washington authorities. Thurston and Co, stand before the world to-day branded as men who will lie to day, and eat their words tomorrow. Alas! Alas!! why did Mr. Sanford B. Dole,—the most over-rated man in existence,—leave the Supreme Bench to become a worse than Tammany politician? BAZ.

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

That vicious, and viperous old slanderer of a defenceless woman—the Rev. S. E. Bishop—has the gall to say, that "a large proportion of the citizens (meaning his kind) hold in their veins the blood of Lexington and Gettysburg"—which we consider the most damnable insult, that could have been offered to the men of those bloody battle fields. If it could have been possible, that there was a soldier on either of those battle fields, that had the contemptable meanness of a Sereno Bishop—he should have been pierced with a hundred bullets, and his carcass let to the buzzards. We consider it sacrilege, and a mockery of religion, for such characters as the Rev. S. E. Bishop to get up and undertake to preach the word of God.

AU REVOIR.

A Bit of History.

An Extract From A Communication Written at the Time.

There are Perhaps Some Residents Living, Who Remember the Incident.

"I think in reference to this petition against Mr. Judd and Armstrong that the charges brought against them (embezzlement of government funds) is clearly proved, and I should want more information in the matter, before I should decide on any opinion.

But there is one thing clear in my mind, that the public indignation is raised against these two Ministers (Okolekala and Limaikaika,) and the question in my mind is, whether it would be safe for the King's person and his government to keep these Ministers in office when the public voice is raised against them. There are instances of this kind which happen to greater Kings and greater governments."

In Regard to Secretary Gresham's Report, Public Union Says Editorially.

In general, it may be said that with a few exceptions the Republican press of the country condemns and denounces in the strongest terms the attitude of the administration toward Hawaii as thus far announced, while the Democratic and independent press is much divided, opinion ranging from extreme opposition to hearty support for the Secretary's position. Many of the Democratic and independent and some of the Republican newspapers are thus far handling the topic with much caution being apparently loath to take a decided stand for or against the administration until its policy and the reasons therefor are more fully declared. Therefore, the report of Commissioner Blount, the replies of those responsible for the course of the last Administration toward Hawaii, President Cleveland's statement of the case in his forth coming message to Congress, and the developments of events in Hawaii, are all factors that it is felt must enter into any complete and adequate consideration of the serious questions involved before a final judgement can be safely reached.

The President's Hawaiian Policy Upheld.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The disgruntled opponents of President Cleveland's action in the Hawaiian imbroglio assert with vigor their belief of a lack of precedence for it, and that the policy of the administration is not that of friendliness toward the islands, simply because it declines to annex them or to exercise a protectorate. There are at the Department of State official documents containing the utterances of all Presidents who have treated of the subject which is now causing such a howl of indignation by some persons. In every one of these statements the tenor is the same, that of non-annexation. In their denunciation of the recent act of the administration, as they term it, sight is lost of the real stand the country has always maintained in its dealings with the Hawaiian Islands. The writings of these Presidents, and they are numerous, assert in unmistakable terms the disinclination of the country to closer union than that of giving the islands moral support and assurances. While we have indirectly given Hawaii to understand that we did not care to annex it, we have with candor informed it that no other country can.

No stronger or more forcible indorsement of the policy of this administration can be asked than citations of policies outlined and maintained by previous administrations.—Baltimore Sun.
