

Hawaii Holomua

PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, APR. 16, 1894.

THE HOLOMUA IS A "PEOPLE'S" PAPER AND IT REMAINS AT A "PEOPLE'S" PRICE. DELIVERED DAILY AT RESIDENCES FOR 50 CENTS PER MONTH.

That Tired Feeling.

The enemy are experiencing an attack of "that tired feeling," ever since the arrival of the China this morning. The utmost efforts of the HOLOMUA staff physician have not availed to yield a satisfactory diagnosis of the affection to our friends, the enemy, but it is surmised that the feeling of weariness is caused by the receipt of news from Washington to the effect that the oath of voters, as prescribed in the Convention act, is regarded by the Washington Government as an abandonment of the citizenship of those taken it, this supporting the position assumed in the beginning by this journal. The holy guild were expecting(?) that Minister Willis would receive instructions from his superior that the oath in question should not be regarded as affecting the existing citizenship of those who swallow it. The expected (?) did not occur, hence the tired feeling in the land and the depressed countenances of the "gang."

What's Up.

The Advertiser's change of front in regard to the Constitutional Convention has fairly paralyzed the community. The official organ now proposes that the Advisory Council should not sit in the convention but that all members should be elected by a popular vote and together with the ministry frame a constitution under which Hawaii might get a stable popular and satisfactory government. We need not call our readers attention to the fact that this policy as now outlined by the Advertiser has been advocated in the columns of the HOLOMUA, since the first day on which a constitutional convention was mentioned. We have stated and we repeat that this country can get along very nicely in the future as it has in the past, if a government on truly popular principles is established. We have promised to use all the influence which we are aware that our paper possess to bring the people of Hawaii into a harmonious flock that will solemnly swear to support the Provisional government UNTIL a popularly elected convention has decided what form of government the great majority of voters desire to live under. Provided always that the Provisional government and its supporters solemnly agree to abide by any decision of the majority and peacefully will adopt whatever form of government is formed by such a convention. But the puzzling point is, what made the Advertiser desert its former policy and suddenly appear through its political trap-door like a deus ex machina working for civil rights and liberal ideas? Is it simply a clap-trap to show to the United States that American principles rule and are fostered here? Or is it that coming events cast their shadows? Or is it that the "Tiser" at last is tired of playing second fiddle and wants to intimidate Mr. Dole and the other Kindergarten statesmen? It cannot be presumed that the Advertiser editor suddenly woke up to the fact that an illoberal, unpopular and contemptible proposition like the one made by the p.g. for a convention would cast unmentionable discredit on all connected with the late annexation scheme and cover our alleged American residents with odium, ridicule and contempt. Whatever the motives of our morning contemporary may be we heartily agree with the principle set forth, but we again repeat what we have said in a former issue, "postpone the convention for two months." If the ideas of the Advertiser or of the powerful political organization of the American League are to be recognized the time to alter present conditions is too short and the government will find—if it really has the future welfare of Hawaii at heart—that a more thorough discussion and a fuller exchange of ideas will further the prosperity of this country and the contentment its people vastly better than the railroading of a constitution through a body of non-representative, unpopular missionary planters and their tools. It is yet time to make haste slowly.

The United States Consul at Auckland, New Zealand, says of the women at the first election in which they shared, "I went around all day from the polling precinct to another, and I am pleased to record the fact that I was agreeably surprised to notice the cool and deliberate manner in which women discharged their functions as enfranchised citizens. Throughout the day the utmost good order prevailed. Women voted first for men of the highest moral, social and political integrity many of whom were not always conspicuous for ability experience or education. Altogether the result of woman's first vote in the politics of this country appears to have given satisfaction with the very natural exception of a few disappointed politicians for whom she did not vote, and possibly the brewery interests."

A Big Social Event.

The initial performance by Dailey's talented Company:

Tomorrow evening, the talented company of American players, who postponed their initial presentation so as not to conflict with the Feast of all Nations, will give their inaugural performance of a short seasons stay in this city. The play chosen, "Monte Cristo," is an exceptionally powerful Melo-drama that abounds in striking situations, crisp dialogue and brilliant repartee and calls for considerable scenic effect which Manager Dailey has arranged. The Company bring special wardrobe for all productions which will insure exact productions, more particularly as they have received the highest encomiums of both the press and public of the United States where they have just closed a long season to summer here.

The advent of this organization here will undoubtedly prove a big society event as they are unquestionably the most powerful company individually that we have ever had the pleasure of witnessing on our local stage. Manager Dailey has decided not to repeat any plays; but will give 14 distinct productions which includes two matinees. The very choicest seats are selling fast at Mr. Levey's store.

Corruption, at elections has not altogether disappeared by the going into power of the immaculate p. g. Nomination of a certain candidate for "conventional" honors was carried by a liberal distribution of "beer-tickets" for which value could be received at a certain up-town saloon.
