DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

"I am going to send my boy to your gallery to have his picture taken," said a druggist to a photographer. "Think you can get along without me?"

"Well, I should say so, was the confident rejoinder.

"I'm not so sure of that. You'll find him a tough customer to manage; however," he added reflectively, "I can put the directions on the bottle," and he bade the puzzled photographer good-day.

In due time the druggist's son a mischievous youngster, visited the photograph gallery, and the artist found him indeed hard to manage. He exhausted all the known devices for keeping the boy quiet and invented a host of new ones, but in vain: finally he remembered the apothecary's odd remark about the directions, and upon inspection of the boy he discovered pasted upon the back of his neck the legend: "To be well shaken before taken."

Acting at once and vigorously upon the suggestion he succeeded in intimidating the boy and obtaining a picture.—[Cincinnati Saturday Night.

"I wish I was the trapper and was tied to the stake, going to be burned alive by the Indians," said little Johnny Fizzletop, who was reading a dime novel on the sofa. "Why do you wish to be in such a horrible predicament?" asked his mother. "Because, in the last chapter, the trapper scalps Jewwillkins Jim, the Jumping Jackass of Juniper Jungle and his Indians allies, and carries off White Pawn, the lovely maiden, in triumph to his mountain fastness." "I think there is too much fastness, anyhow, about the boys of Austin," remarked his mother, thoughtfully.

THE EVILS OF PAINTING And their Remedy.

"It has been said with much truth, too, that house painting might, with study and acquirement of taste, resume its rank as a liberal art."—Painters' Manual. Believing the above to be true, A. B. KERR has now re-organized his system of working the business in Honolulu. In the first place he has secured the services of that celebrated artist, Mr. MAX KONN, formerly of San Francisco, whose work in the line of plain and decorative paper-hanging, frescoing, &c., is up to the present time unsurpassed, and on these Islands has never been equalled. For house painting jobs first-class mechanics only will be employed. In future patrons can depend upon my filling every order on the most scientific basis known to the trade. The Sign Painting and Lettering department will be permanently presided over by Mr. GEO. STRATMEYER, (further comment unnecessary.) P.S.—Send for designs of frescos for ceiling and cornices. Something new; and if you want any glass put in call at "Tiger" Paint Store, 247 1y 78 King Street.
