LUNING VS. LEDERER.

In the Civil Court this morning the case of J. W. Luning vs. S. H. Lederer and J. L. Rosenberg, assumpsit, for $105 with arrest under the Fraudulent Debtors' Act, was commenced before His Honor Justice Bickerton. Mr. Whiting for plaintiff, Mr. Russell for defendants. A note for the amount was produced, signed 'J. L. Rosenberg, S. H. Lederer, manager.' J. W. Luning, Henry Poor (2nd deputy clerk of the Supreme Court), S. Whitman, Thos. Krouse and Frank Higgins were called for the prosecution. J. L. Rosenberg was called for the defense and his evidence taken, when, at half-past twelve o'clock, the Court took a recess until two o'clock. The evidence is very lengthy and the case will probably take all the afternoon.

THE SILK WORM.

In Mr. J. E. Wiseman's window on Merchant street are exhibited specimens of silk cocoons raised in Honolulu, also of the worms themselves feeding upon mulberry leaves. They were raised by Mr. Leon Malterre, from eggs obtained from Miss Rossiter, whose advertisement has for some time been in this paper. Mr. Malterre was a little 'too previous' in getting the eggs before securing a food supply for the worms. Yet, by hard scratching, he managed to get from the few mulberry trees in the city and vicinity, sufficient to bring the worms on to the cocoon stage. On account, however, of necessarily short rations, the cocoons are not so fully developed as they should be for the market. Mr. Malterre, from his experience so far, is enthusiastic as to the possibilities of silk culture here. He is convinced that a family of three workers could raise $500 or $600 worth of silk in a year, besides attend to other business. It is his intention to immediately begin growing mulberry trees for much larger operations than those as yet undertaken by him. The cocoons on exhibition are rather pretty—woolly, oval shapes, cream and yellow colored—and the worms themselves are the most aristocratic-looking grubs imaginable.

THE ZEALANDIA'S DELAY.

From the Sydney Herald of April 28th, we have full particulars of the reasons which delayed the Zealandia at Sydney. It appears that the engineers of that vessel struck on account of the alleged incompetency of the crew engaged by Captain Webber to replace Union men. Mr. Watt, the Company's Manager at Sydney, worked with great energy and ability to get the vessel away at the proper time, but without success. He was willing to accede to the main demand of the Union, viz., 'that no colored men shall be carried in future on the Zealandia and Australia, but there are several points in the programme of the Union which he considers unreasonable, and so long as the men insist on these being complied with, he will do his utmost to resist them. The two main points he objects to are—(1), the proposed dictation by the Union of the number and country of the men who shall be employed on the Company's vessels; and (2), the rule providing that only Union men shall be employed.' However, on the third day they obtained men and at once proceeded to sea.

FAREWELL.

To-night the farewell performance of the San Francisco Dramatic Company will take place in Music Hall, when the beautiful play of 'The Two Orphans' will be presented. The box office plan at Wiseman's shows a good sale of seats, which is gratifying, for the company deserves support, only it comes too late. They have given us during their short stay a fine series of plays, and have worked hard to present them in a proper manner. With one or two exceptions, they certainly have succeeded. One thing is to be regretted, and that is, that the excellent comedian, Mr. Willie Simms, has not been seen in one of his own plays. He is a great favorite here, and he has some plays where he takes the leading part, which would have drawn any amount of patronage. Let everyone be present to-night, for there is no finer play on the dramatic stage than 'The Two Orphans.' The Royal Hawaiian Band will be in attendance and discourse some of its excellent selections.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Last night Officer Mehrtens and a couple of native policemen went out prospecting for opium. They got wind of some Chinamen who were in the habit of using it, and who live in the rear of the large market garden opposite the Lyceum, Nuuanu Valley. The officers proceeded very cautiously and were rewarded by coming across three of them smoking opium and having a jolly time. Their names are Charley, Ah Kin and Ah Lan, and they were taken to the Police Station along with their paraphernalia.

To-day is the fortieth day after Easter, observed as Ascension Day. Special services have taken place at St. Andrew's and the Roman Catholic Cathedrals. Before Police Justice Bickerton. John Smith and Chas. Patterson forfeited bail of $15 each for disorderly conduct. Keaku, a wahine, was charged with having opium in possession.
