SHIPPING NOTES.

Capt Nelson reports a whaler top-sail schooner rig off the Island. The British smack that arrived by the Chilena from Liverpool the other day has been launched. The three-masted schooner Mary Dodge, Capt L. Nelson, came in port this morning and docked at the Esplanade. She is 30 days from Eureka, Humboldt, and was reported 15 miles off this harbor three days ago. She brought 273 feet of redwood lumber to Wilder & Co. and 50 boxes of apples on the ship's account. The captain reports light southerly winds most of the way. On Jan 14th, during a rain squall her foresail was carried away and never seen again.

LOCAL & GENERAL NEWS.

There will be a blood and thunder play at the Queen street Chinese theatre to-night.

A POEM by Mr. John Brash is on the fourth page; also an interesting article on the Treaty.

The Fourth Judicial Circuit Court will open at Nawiliwili, Kauai, on Wednesday, Feb. 10th.

The Custom House was not opened to-day and many of the business houses closed at noon.

"BELIEF and Confession," Rom. 10:10, is the subject at the Bethel Union meeting this evening.

Rev. Geo. Wallace will conduct the usual devotional meeting at St. Andrew's Cathedral this evening.

Wm. Mullen has accepted McWayne's challenge of a one-mile skating race at Yosemite rink Saturday night.

The Y. M. C. A. boys will meet to-morrow afternoon, Thursday, at regular time and place. Subject, Hawaiian Islands.

"The United States in Prophecy," will be continued at the tent to-night. A large audience listened to the opening of the subject last night.

Mr. W. E. Herrick has turned out a beautiful piece of work, in the shape of a kou calabash. It is without a flaw, and bears a mirror-like polish.

FORT-STREET congregation will have a missionary concert this evening, when Mrs. W. W. Hall will read a paper on the heathen condition of our ancestors.

CAPT. Jenks, of the bark Elsinore, evidently thinks that on account of the tremendous flow of gin to-day the atmosphere became dead drunk. He was flying about town this morning trying to start a racket or do something desperate to create wind enough to blow his vessel to sea.

The meeting of the Honolulu Rifles last evening was largely attended. The boys were enthusiastic over the prospects of coming events to be given by the Rifles, that will much enhance the popularity of the company. On the 12th inst. the Rifles have a target shooting practice that will likely be interesting.

CAPT. Nelson, of the schooner Mary Dodge, from Humboldt Bay, reports business as booming at Eureka, Humboldt. The "California Redwood Company," after having closed the mill for several months, have re-opened for work. Several new mills are building, and times are likely to be brisk at Eureka.

The Advertiser erroneously states in to-day's issue that the Hawaiian bark R. C. Wylie was burnt at sea off the Falkland Islands and had the original statue of Kamehameha I. on board. The vessel alluded to is the German bark G. J. Handel, and the R. C. Wylie was burnt at sea in the Pacific Ocean, about the latitude of Valparaiso, where the captain and crew were landed.—Com.

The fire companies will muster at 9:30 o'clock to-morrow morning, for the annual parade of the Department in the square opposite the hall of Mechanic Engine Company; thence by Hotel, Fort, Beretania, Nuuanu, Queen, Fort, King, Punch-bowl, Beretania, Fort, School, Nuuanu, King, Fort and Hotel streets, to the starting point, the companies dropping out at their respective houses on the return march.

Last Saturday the six sailors of the Mount Lebanon, who were locked up in the Station House for refusing duty on board ship, begged to be released, saying they regretted their bad behavior and would like to return to the ship. So at noon they were discharged and that afternoon they worked like true sailors, but on Sunday night three of the unruly seamen failed to return to the vessel and have not been seen since.

A COMING VISITOR.

Harper's Bazar says Mr. Locke-Richardson is gradually making his way further west toward the Sandwich Islands. The Call says the same gentleman is in San Francisco; that he has been invited to accept a chair in the American School of opera, as professor of elocution; has cancelled all his engagements in the East, and purposes to visit the Sandwich Islands, and possibly Australia, before his return to New York. Possibly we may have a series of entertainments from the gentleman named during his stay here.

THE ELECTION.

From an early hour this morning omnibuses and other vehicles have been rolling to the polls, laden with the "free and enlightened." Voting was very brisk all morning, 1156 ballots having been cast by one o'clock this afternoon. There has been no disturbance to speak about in the Government yard, although it is thronged with natives of both sexes and many foreigners. The Government party claimed to be about five hundred ahead at noon, when they probably had polled most of their strength. Voters were still keeping up a steady procession at half-past one o'clock. There was a good deal of haranguing going on from the mauka verandah of the Government building, but good-nature seemed to rule the throngs. A telephonic message from Kaneohe states that the Independent candidates are well ahead in the districts on that side of the Island, particularly mentioning Mr. Rowell in Waialua.

THE ROYAL VISIT TO KAU.

On Wednesday evening about six o'clock, His Majesty and suite landed at Kaalualu. The royal visit was quite unexpected, and consequently only the few residents of the landing place were there to welcome him. The King despatched a messenger to Waiohina for the Honorable Judge Martin and J. Kauhane, and those gentlemen were in the saddle by eight o'clock, en route to meet His Majesty. Surmises as to the object of the royal visit were various, but the general opinion was that it was political, to help the Cabinet party in the impending election, and yet it was impossible to suppose that he could support a man of the stamp of the opponent of an honorable man such as J. Kauhane, who is said to be his own near kinsman. His Majesty dined with Mr. John Buck at Naalehu, on Saturday, where there was a grand political spread for the natives. There was to be political music from the Cabinet organs; but to the honor of the royal visitor, he it said, he stipulated that no political or party speaking would be had, and this arrangement was carried out. His Majesty addressed the people in a statesmanlike fashion, and in answer to a question about the rumored sale of the Islands, said: "The rumor about the sale of the Islands originated with a newspaper reporter who had no authority or foundation for the statement. The Islands will never be sold by me, for they belong to the whole people; but take care that you do not sell them yourselves. I hear rumors of selling your ballots, and a man who SELLS HIS BALLOT SELLS HIS COUNTRY. Act honestly and choose good men by your ballots, and let it not be said of any man that he has sold for money what should be most prized, his own independence." These are noble words, ably spoken, and their utterance lifted a cloud of suspicion. His Majesty is the guest of the Hon. Henry Martin, at Waiohina, and will return by the Hall on Monday. One of the objects of the royal visit has been to look after the bones and relics of old chiefs, of which numerous caves in the district are the depositories. On Sunday, he attended the native church, and displayed his skill as chancellor of the ecclesiastical exchequer in presiding over a collection, amounting to about $450, for the use of Honouapo church. His Majesty exercised no little dexterity and wit in raking in the coin, as well as in the way he frequently brought down the house with remarks on the leading men and their wealth.—Com.

CHINESE NEW YEAR.

Last evening the celebration of Chinese New Year was begun by the celestial residents with universal spirit. The streets in Chinatown were transformed into beautiful vistas of chromatic light, from thousands of lanterns ranged in mathematical lines from above and below the everlasting verandahs. A terrific bombardment of fireworks was sustained against the slumbers of all within earshot of celestial domiciles through the livelong night. The store on the ground floor of the Benevolent Society's new Club-House, King street, was cheerfully lighted up, and the manager of the firm was there to receive visitors. Opposite the door was hung a brilliantly-colored picture of an Imperial statesman of the remotest antiquity, with his beautiful wife and child, walking in anlysian bower. It was probably Fo-hi, the most famous of the god-descended personages, who, according to Chinese history, ruled over the Empire and revealed to men the essential arts of life. A table in front of the picture was covered with rich ornaments and magnificent bouquets that seemed to blend with the bloom and foliage on the canvas. Two rows of handsome chairs were ranged at right angles with these center decorations, and in one of them sat a well-dressed and comely little Mongolian boy. Many passers-by were attracted by the rather pretty scene, pausing to take it all in.

A hideous noise like the beating of a thousand coal oil cans by an army of urehins, the firing of combustible crackers and the clamor of a hundred Chinamen on Nuuanu street this forenoon announced the coming of the Chinese dragon. The procession stopped in front of the principal Chinese houses, and while batteries of fire crackers were exploding, the dragon would rush forward with mouth open and fangs projecting, as though to destroy imaginary victims, but retreating at the fantastic movement of a magical wand in the hands of a coolie. While the riot continued people in upper windows pelted the dragon with sweet potatoes.

OPENING OF THE CLUB HOUSE.

The ceremonies connected with the formal opening of the New Chinese Club House commenced at 11 o'clock. The Royal Hawaiian Band had taken a position in front of the building at 7 o'clock, and played in their usual effective style, and were relieved a little before eleven by the Reformatory School Band. According to previous announcement and invitation, there were present: Her Royal Highness the Princess Liliuokalani; His Majesty's Chamberlain Col. Judd, and Vice-Chamberlain Col. Purvis; the Honorable Chief Justice Judd and Mrs. Judd; His Honor Justice McCully and Mrs. McCully; His Honor Justice Preston and Mrs. Preston; His Excellency W. M. Gibson, Minister of Foreign Affairs; His Excellency C. T. Gulick, Minister of the Interior; His Excellency Paul Neumann, Attorney-General; His Excellency the United States Minister Resident, G. W. Merrill and Mrs. Merrill; H. B. M. Commissioner and Consul-General, Major J. H. Wodehouse; the Chancellor French Legation, Monsieur Georges Bouleeh; U. S. Consul-General, J. H. Putnam and Miss Putnam; Italian Consul, Mr. F. A. Schaefer; acting German Consul and Austro-Hungarian Consul, Mr. H. F. Glade; Consul for Sweden and Norway, Mr. H. W. Schmidt; acting Danish Consul, Mr. H. R. Macfarlane; Mr. J. H. Paty, Consul for the Netherlands and Belgium; Mr. Theo. H. Davies, British Vice-Consul; Jiro Nakamura, Japanese Consul and suite; Mr. A. J. Cartwright, Consul for Peru; the Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, Hon. J. S. Walker, Hon. C. R. Bishop, Hon. G. W. Macfarlane, Mr. J. H. Soper, Marshal of the Kingdom; Mr. J. S. Webb, Secretary to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and a large attendance of citizens.

An address was read by Mr. C. Alec, Commercial Chinese Agent, in Chinese, and by Mr. C. Winam, in English. Following is the address:— To-day is our Chinese New Year, a day which it has been our custom from time immemorial to celebrate as we celebrate no other in the year. It is a day to which we look forward with the most pleasing anticipations, and being Election Day for this nation it is also memorable on that account. May the representatives now chosen be men of wisdom to direct aright the councils of this much favored land. It gives us the greatest pleasure to express on behalf of our countrymen the gratification we feel on being honored upon the entry into this our new Society house with the presence of so many of our friends. We trust that the mutual friendly relations that have existed between us in the past may continue in the future and grow stronger as this Society grows in usefulness. In our capacity as President and Vice-President of this Association we, Ching Alec and Goo Kim, feel it to be our duty to make a few remarks in reference to the future object and maintenance of this Society. In compliance with the suggestion of His Excellency Ching, Chinese Minister at Washington, this Association was formed under the name of "Chung Wa Ui Qwu"—The United Chinese Society—in 1882, and on the 27th day of August, 1884, it was properly organized under charter of incorporation granted by His Excellency Charles T. Gulick, Minister of the Interior of the Hawaiian Kingdom. As we had no place of our own in which to hold our regular meetings during the past four years, the China [Engine] Company No. 5 has been so kind as to lend its hall to us. This Society building is now completed entirely through the voluntary assistance of our Chinese residents in the Hawaiian Kingdom. Our object in forming this association is to exercise a care and supervision over such of the Chinese residents as shall connect themselves with this Society; to make them acquainted with the laws and ordinances of the Hawaiian Government, particularly with those laws and ordinances which concern in any way our Chinese residents; to render assistance and advice to such as may stand in need thereof, especially to sick Chinese and those in destitute condition—to prevent and settle disputes among Chinese if possible, and to prevent, as far as it may be in our power, all unlawful combinations or posting of seditious or otherwise objectionable placards, and to render such aid to the Government as they may request or authorize in matters pertaining to the Chinese residents in this kingdom. All the future funds for maintenance of this Society are to be raised from the Chinese residents. We therefore trust that the purposes of this Society shall be attained, that it will grow in its benevolence and usefulness, and that its officers shall ever administer its affairs in the spirit in which it was founded, that it may be of advantage not only to ourselves but to the non-Chinese residents of this community, and that through it you may obtain true glimpses of Chinese customs and manners. We now by virtue of the official position delegated to us as President and Vice-President of the United Chinese Society declare this Hall open.

A magnificent triangular yellow flag, with an enormous dragon spread on it,—the Chinese Imperial flag,—floated from the tall flagpole on the roof. An able-bodied policeman stood at each side of the door at the foot of the stair leading to the upper flat where the reception and collation were given. The rooms on this floor are handsomely furnished. Over the doorways were hung Hawaiian and Chinese flags, tastefully arranged. A steady throng of visitors poured into the building, from the hour of opening until about half-past one p. m. Visitors received the initiatory hand shaking from Mr. Ho Fon, who stood on the landing robed in a suit of green silk. Officers of the Society, Messrs. C. Alec, Goo Kim, Wong Kwai, C. Winam, Lan Chung, Yim Quon, L. Ahlo, L. Tukong, Loo Chit Sam, Lam Chung Wa, Lee Shing and C. Mow Keong, did the honors of the occasion and were assiduous in their attentions to the guests, who were ushered in to the dining tables. A splendid collation,—turkey and other meats, salads, sandwiches, wines, and tea—was spread and duly honored.

MacNEALE & URBAN SAFES,

206 California Street, San Francisco, Cal.

GENTLEMEN: In reply to your inquiry concerning the opening of the Burglar-proof Chest in the safe in the office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court—now so well known as THE MCCARTHY SAFE—I will say that I took charge of the office on Wednesday, the 6th inst. For some days previous unsuccessful attempts had been made by various experts to pick the lock. On Thursday, further, similar efforts were made, with the same result, by Mr. Ensign and other noted experts, ALL OF WHOM FINALLY DECLARED THAT THE LOCK COULD NOT BE PICKED, and that the safe must be opened by force.

On Friday I employed the expert of one of your competitors, who did faithful and honest work for that purpose.

On Saturday morning work was begun, and this morning (Wednesday) FOUR DAYS AFTER, the expert succeeded in drilling through the door and opening the safe.

I consider it was an extraordinarily severe test, much beyond what a burglar could possibly employ under any circumstances, and can assure it has inspired me with the highest confidence in the security of your Burglar-Proof Safes, and that YOUR LOCKS ARE PICK-PROOF AGAINST THE BEST EXPERTS.

After working for some hours on the lock, one expert said he had found that V was one letter and another that C was one. On examination, neither of these letters appeared in the combination. Yours truly, J. D. SPENCER, Clerk of Supreme Court.

The above was a No. 8 MacNEALE & URBAN Fire and Burglar Safe.
