THE Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party, But established for the benefit of all. THURSDAY, SEPT. 11, 1890.

The Select Committee on hours of service of Government employees want all Government offices opened not later than 8 o'clock, a. m., and kept open until 5 p. m. We do not believe for one moment that the general public want anything of the kind; and why should they? They find the present hours quite long enough for the transaction of their business with government offices.

The Government is not supposed to be a shop-keeper, making direct monetary profits on its expenditures. Public works of whatever nature within the proper sphere of Government are supposed to be executed for the public advantage, and not for the purpose of deriving gain from the public. And yet some of our legislators, judging from their utterances, seem to think that the shop-keeping idea should prevail in the affairs of state.

The most sensational element in the foreign news by the Oceanic consists in the statements by Admiral Brown, of the Charleston, to the effect that a revolution at Honolulu was imminent when the vessel left here. According to private advices, considerable concern was created thereby in San Francisco. The effect of the Admiral's representations, or more correctly, misrepresentations, was the ordering of the Charleston back, and she is now due here. The arrival of the Alameda at San Francisco was opportune, and allayed anxiety. Captain Morse, Purser Sutton, and several of our own people who were passengers by the Alameda gave assurance that peace and quiet reigned at Honolulu. The Coast papers have made the most of Admiral Brown's statements.

Article 20 of the Constitution says "no Executive or Judicial officer, or any contractor or employee of the Government, or any person in the receipt of salary or emolument from the Government shall be eligible to election to the Legislature of the Hawaiian Kingdom, or to hold the position of an elective member of the same. And no member of the Legislature shall, during the time for which he is elected, be appointed to any civil office under the Government, except that of a member of the Cabinet." This is a provision which requires no amendment, unless, indeed, it be to make it more stringent. It is a great check on a certain class of corruption, which it would be extremely unwise to remove. Many other countries have found it necessary to establish and maintain a similar. Some of the British constitutional colonies go much further, even to the extent of prohibiting a member of Parliament accepting Government employ until the expiration of a term of years after his membership has ceased.

SAIL IN.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—"One Who Wishes You Well," in the BULLETIN of Sept. 8, who seems so handy with the pen, should give the public a digest of the Finance Committee's Report, and spoilation of good Government. Sail in "me darlin'," and give us something on the square; write no more "blarney," it is useless and won't pay. ERN GO BRATOR.

SAUCE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—At the mass meeting held in the Armory 30 of June, 1887, L. A. Thurston in the course of his speech referring to a new Constitution used the following language: "A Constitution is a contract, and if the King and the people both agree to change it, there is no violation of constitutional rights and no revolution." Now then Mr. Editor what was sauce for the goose in 1887 must surely be sauce for the gander in 1890. CONSISTENCY.
