THE LEGISLATURE.

104th DAY.

THURSDAY, Oct. 16.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The House resumed at 1:35 o'clock.

Noble Muller moved that Sec. 2 of the wholesale business bill, as amended by the commerce committee, pass.

Rep. White moved that the section and the whole bill be indefinitely postponed. This was only a measure on behalf of Honolulu dealers to keep up prices. Two or three prices were charged for furniture. People saved money by buying through traveling agents. What was the license these merchants had to pay, anyway? It was only $52. If it was proposed to increase their license to $250 you would see them swarming into the lobby, to beg Mr. White not to vote for the bill, and even to buy up those reporters, in order to get long articles in the newspapers. They were told that the reciprocity treaty would reduce prices, but on the contrary goods were dearer than ever.

Noble Macfarlane said that the bill was not introduced in the interest of any class but for the benefit of the public. It was approved on submission to a committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The bill was to prevent commercial travelers, who paid no taxes nor contributed anything to the treasury beyond a paltry license fee, from coming here and competing against our merchants who paid high rents and taxes. If these drummers were to be allowed a continuation of such privileges, the merchants might as well close their stores and have all their business done through foreign agencies. The talk against the bill was specious but contained no argument. He referred to the statement of the member for Hilo (Nawahi) that he had been deceived by the rest of the commerce committee.

Rep. Nawahi denied that he had made such a statement.

Noble Muller described the proceedings of the committee, to show that everything was open.

The interpreter stated that a literal interpretation of the hon. members remark in the morning was that a wrong had been done to him by the committee.

Noble Macfarlane had held a higher opinion of the foresight of the hon. member than that he should have signed a report before he understood it. Resuming his argument he asked if they were prepared to see the wholesale business houses shut up for the sake of a few commercial travelers.

Noble J. M. Horner was afraid this bill was one of those where there was a nigger in the fence.

Noble Crabbe said there was no such thing. There was no nigger about it.

Noble Horner resumed. The bill was a restriction on liberty. What the people of the country wanted was cheap goods. This was a time when the people must look after the cents as well as the dollars. Some of his friends in California made fortunes from very small amounts. Let everybody have a chance to climb. His principal objection to the bill was as to the amount required for the commercial travelers in order to have liberty to do business.

Noble Crabbe had introduced the bill and could assure the hon. Noble that there was no nigger in it. It was to prevent the wholesale business from being swamped by drummers. Under present conditions Tom, Dick, and the Devil could open out samples in a room, and, without contributing to the general prosperity of the community, run opposition to the merchants who had to pay heavily for all their privileges and accommodations.

Noble Muller corrected misapprehensions of opponents of the bill as to its origin and objects.

Noble Isenberg could not agree with the hon. Noble from Hawaii. Besides paying taxes the wholesale merchants had to maintain expensive business establishments.

Noble Horner would be satisfied with the bill if convinced that it was only directed against drummers. He had been annoyed at the visits of whiskey drummers to his neighborhood.

Rep. Brown explained that the bill had no reference to the drummers of local wholesale houses.

Noble Horner thought when the bill appeared this morning that as it was a merchants' bill he would leave it alone. But on looking at it a little closer he began to think it was of a piece with the opposition to the San Diego steamship bill, having the object of preventing people from getting their supplies cheaper.

Noble Macfarlane knew that the hon. Noble felt sore over the San Diego matter. The bill would not prevent competition in the wholesale business. Anybody complying with the same conditions as those in business could start a wholesale store. These drummers for wholesale warehouses abroad did not sell goods any cheaper than the houses maintaining warehouses in this country.

The ayes and noes were called on the motion to indefinitely postpone the bill, which was lost on the following vote: Ayes—Nobles Pua, J. M. Horner, W. Y. Horner, and Anderson; Oppo—Cummings, R. W. Wilcox, Kaubi, Nawahi, Baker, A. Horner, Kaho-kano, Apiko, White, Kanouli, Kamaui, Hix and A. S. Wilcox—17.

Noes—Ministers Cummins, Brown and Peterson; Nobles Widemann, Macfarlane, Muller, Crabbe, Hind, Marsden, Cornwell, von Tempisky, G. N. Wilcox, Kanoa and Isenberg; Reys, Brown, Rickard, Cockett, Halstead and Knudsen—19.

The section passed, also the remainder of the bill, to be read a third time Tuesday.

Second reading of bill to provide for taking the Census of 1890. Minister Brown thought it was not possible to make preparations for taking the census on the 1st of December this year. He moved that the time be placed one year later.

Rep. Marques considered it would be unfortunate to break the record by having the census in 1891. Other countries took their censuses this year, and our country would interfere with comparative statistics.

Rep. Brown left the force of the hon. member's argument, but it might be impossible to take the census this year.

The amendment carried. Rep. Marques, on other amendments being proposed, moved that the second section and the whole bill be indefinitely postponed.

Rep. R. W. Wilcox seconded the motion. The bill was indefinitely postponed and a motion to reconsider the vote was lost.

Second reading of bill to provide and to regulate the sending of Hawaiian youths abroad to be educated. Noble Pua moved that Sec. 1 pass.

Minister Brown said the only objection that occurred to him against the bill was the provision that the youths must be selected from certain islands, which seemed to be opposed to judicious selection.

Rep. Hookano said that this objection was removed by a provision in another section.

The section passed. Noble von Tempisky moved that Sec. 2 and the whole bill be indefinitely postponed. He saw no use in it. We had the Kamehameha School and other institutions for educating youths.

Rep. Hookano did not know why the bill should be rejected when the House had appropriated $10,000 for the education of Hawaiian youths abroad. Perhaps the hon. Noble from Kula (laughter) meant to stop sending youths abroad.

Noble von Tempisky—That's just it. Rep. Hookano mentioned an old tradition that the people of Kula were so stupid that they would attempt to take the scales off a squid (laughter) but he was hardly prepared for such a stupid motion as that of the hon. Noble. He would advise him to withdraw it.

Noble J. M. Horner saw a great injustice to Hawaiian youths in this bill. The money to be expended on these seven youths would educate scores of youths at home. Was it any benefit to the many ordinary boys left at home for one smart boy to be sent abroad. Book-keeping was one of the branches they were to learn abroad. If there was nobody in the kingdom who could teach book-keeping, then import a teacher who could do so. It would be cheaper than sending boys abroad. Then there was the profession of teaching. Why not put the $10,000 to the aid of the normal school about starting at home? Then there was carpentry. Had we no good mechanics in the country. His observation was that youths educated abroad would not look at a mallet or a chisel when they came home, but wanted to stay round to make a living by their brains when they hadn't any brains. (Laughter.) It was because he was for and not against the Hawaiians that he favored the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Noble Cornwell was in favor of the bill from the beginning. He did not agree with the hon. Noble who had just spoken. How far would $10,000 go in endowing a school where the youths could be instructed in special branches? It would only be a flea-bite. There were clever youths finishing their courses at Lahainaluna and other schools, who had not the means of going abroad for further advancement. It would be a very good thing to enable these to go abroad, under the conditions provided in the bill, and he for one would support the bill.

Rep. Nawahi was in favor of the bill. We have not got the schools referred to by the hon. Noble from Hawaii. A youth from one of the schools such as we have would be obliged to go abroad if he wanted to enter a learned profession. How could a young man become a doctor or a lawyer in any of the domestic schools? The foreign residents sent their children abroad for higher education, and this bill was intended to do the same for children of Hawaiians.

Rep. Lucas supported the bill. It would be impossible for youth to acquire certain branches of education at home. There was not a foreign family in the kingdom able to afford the expense which did not send its children abroad for education. He understood there was a young Hawaiian doctor ready to honorably graduate in London. There was another young Hawaiian learning engraving in the States, who had received a diploma for excellence. A Hawaiian boy in this country could scarcely expect to fit himself for a position above a plantation lina, and he suspected that this was where some planters wanted to keep him.

Noble Widemann said the money was appropriated, and they were now making rules for its expenditure. Let that be done without any further nonsense.

Noble Isenberg was glad that the country was so well off in schools, and it was the graduates of these schools that this bill proposed to help. He would be glad to see Hawaiian youths become physicians in foreign colleges, as they would probably be more successful among their own people than any other doctors. He very gladly supported the bill.

The motion to indefinitely postpone the bill was lost, and Sec. 2 and the remainder of the bill passed in order, and third reading was fixed for Tuesday.

The House adjourned at 3:50.

Barry's Tricopherous

Established 1801. Infallible for renewing, invigorating and beautifying the hair, removing scurf, dandruff, and all affections of the scalp, and curing eruptions of the skin, diseases of the glands, eruptions and integuments, and relieving stings, cuts, bruises, sprains, etc. The affinity between the membranes which constitute the skin and the hair which draws its sustenance from this triple envelope is very close. All diseases of the hair originate in the skin of the head. If the pores of the scalp are clogged, or if the blood and other fluids do not circulate freely through the small vessels which feed the roots with moisture and impart life to the fibres, the result is scurf, dandruff, itching of the hair, grayness, dryness and harshness of the ligaments, and entire baldness, as the case may be. Stimulate the skin to healthful action with Barry's Tricopherous, and the torpid vessels, recovering their activity, will annihilate the disease. In all affections of the skin and of the substrata of the scalp, and in the progress of the disease, the effect is the same. It is upon the skin, the muscular fibre, and the glands that Barry's Tricopherous has its specific action, and in all affections and injuries of these organs it is a sovereign remedy.
