COURT CHRONICLE.

Progress at Circuit Term—Dissenting Opinion in a Will Case.

Kamae was convicted by the native jury on Saturday, on the charge of violating the anti-gambling law of the Provisional Government. He was fined $75 and costs $18.50 to-day.

Kaawaloa was acquitted on the charge of selling liquor without a license.

Akama, convicted several days ago of assault and battery, was fined $20 and costs.

Malihi was tried this morning for housebreaking and acquitted. Rosa for defendant.

Molaka was on trial after noon for liquor selling without license. V. V. Ashford for defendant.

Judge Cooper over-ruled the plea in abatement of defendant in C. A. Brown vs. The Bulletin Publishing Company and allowed the amendment of the complaint. C. W. Ashford for defendant noted exceptions.

Majority and dissenting opinions of the Supreme Court have been filed in the case in re estate of Kamaka. The majority opinion is by Justice Bickerton, concurred in by Justice Frear, while Chief Justice Judd is the author of the dissenting opinion. Following are the findings of the prevailing opinion:

"The question submitted to the jury was, 'Is the proposed will a good and valid will in law?' The contestants claim that the signature of one of the subscribing witnesses was a forgery. The verdict was for the contestants. The proponents moved for a judgment non obstante veredicto.

"Held, this is not a case of confession and avoidance, and does not come within the class of cases where such a judgment can be given."

It appears that the verdict of the jury, against which the proponents of the will wanted judgment entered, was the same as had once before been given only to be set aside and a new trial ordered. On the second trial the motion to set aside the verdict did not include a request for a new trial. It was over-ruled by the trial judge, from whom an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court.

The majority of the Court say in conclusion: "This is one of those cases where it would seem that an injustice has been done, but we are helpless to remedy it, for the necessary steps have not been taken to enable us to do so. The exceptions are over-ruled." C. Creighton for proponent-appellant; A. Rosa for contestants.

Chief Justice Judd, in dissenting from his brethren, says that "the judgment against the verdict is by the common law on the pleadings alone. But we have in this country departed from the common law and established a different procedure." He finds that in the first case where judgment was rendered against the verdict—Emma Kalesonala vs. Hoopiopio et al., 3 Haw. 682 (1876)—the Court, by Justice Harris, declined to enter judgment for the plaintiff, but ordered a new trial although there was no motion for a new trial. He gives other cases where judgment was entered, sometimes for plaintiff and sometimes for defendant, contrary to the verdict, when the verdict was clearly against the law and the evidence. The Chief Justice admits that in the present case a judgment for the proponents of the will, contrary to the verdict, would hardly be justified in view of certain disputed evidence, but says he can see no reason why the Supreme Court cannot order a new trial. He claims for the Court the power either to order judgment against the verdict or to order a new trial. The Judiciary Act is cited as authority, and the Chief Justice concludes, "The supervision by the Court of the verdicts of juries is in my opinion a wholesome exercise of power and is conducive to the public welfare."

Judge Whiting at Circuit Court chambers has appointed W. F. Allen as administrator of the estate of the late P. Opegetu under $10,000 bond. Hatch for petitioner.

W. R. Castle, assignee of the bankrupt estate of Tai Loy, has had his accounts approved and himself discharged.

L. J. Levvy, assignee of the bankrupt estate of D. M. Crowley, has also been discharged, with accounts approved.

The "first Japanese divorce case" has been partly heard by Judge Whiting and continued until Thursday next.

CHINESE THEATRE.

The Tenancy Sold at a Good Figure at Auction.

The tenancy at will of the Chinese Theatre, King street, was sold at noon to-day, in front of the Executive building, by Clerk J. A. Hassinger of the Interior Department. The upset price per month was $80, and it was started at that figure. A $5 contest ensued between Ng Monwar and Chun Mee Hing until the sum of $250 had been reached, when Monwar retired and the lease was knocked down to Chun Mee Hing.

The tenancy of the building is to be from month to month, until the Government or tenant wish to terminate the lease, when thirty days' notice is required by either party.

LAND AND STOCK.

Mortgaged Real Estate and Delinquent Pineapple Stock.

Mr. Jas. F. Morgan held an auction sale at his saleroom at noon to-day of two pieces of mortgaged lands under foreclosure by Bruce and A. J. Cartwright. The first property offered was a piece of land, 188-1000 of an acre situated at Kamakoa, having formerly one of the lots of the old Buckle homestead. It was knocked down to W. H. Halstead for $350. The second piece of 5680 square feet situate on Kuakini street, was bought in by Patrick Silva for $200. This lot, which is in the rear of Mr. S. M. Damon's residence on Nuuanu street, was sold by Mr. Sereno E. Bishop to the present mortgagors for $410.

After the disposal of the real property the shares of Woodlawn Fruit Co.'s stock, certificate No. 43, were put up for sale, for nonpayment of assessment. The company has its ranch at Pearl City, and according to Mr. Chas. McCarthy, manager, there are at present 20,000 pineapple plants of the rare variety known as Smooth Cayennes, and 750 orange trees, growing on the land. The ten shares were purchased by Mr. J. H. Schneck at $22.50 a share. The par value of the company's stock is $45.

TOO KEEN FOR COIN.

Two Portuguese Lads Who Failed in Extorting a Reward.

A Chinaman jumped off his wagon this morning for the purpose of going into a store to purchase something. His horse started to walk away, when two Portuguese lads with an eye to making a few dimes grabbed the reins. The owner came out, and jumping on the seat was about to drive off, when the lads demanded a reward for stopping the horse. The Chinaman answered that he had no money, but the boys persisted. As the reward was not forthcoming, the lads led the whole outfit down to the Police Station, the Chinese driver, looking foolish and simple, perched on the driver's seat. At the Station the lads explained their catching the runaway at great peril to themselves, and the refusal of the Chinaman to "dig up" for the daring attempt. The Chinaman stated that the animal was just walking off and he could have stopped it himself without assistance. All the time explanations were being made the lads held the horse's reins. A police officer ordered the boys to release the horse and was obeyed, the Mongolian driving off much elated.

A Boston Boy's Eyesight Saved—Perhaps His Life

By Hood's Sarsaparilla—Blood Poisoned by Canker.

Read the following from a grateful mother: "My little boy had Scarlet Fever when 4 years old, and it left him very weak and with blood poisoned with canker. His eyes became so inflamed that his sufferings were intense, and for seven weeks he Could Not Open His Eyes. I took him twice during that time to the Eye and Ear Infirmary on Charles street, but their remedies failed to do him the faintest shadow of good. I commenced giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and it soon cured him. I have never doubted that it saved his sight, even if not his very life. You may use this testimonial in any way you choose. I am always ready to assist you in this.

Hood's Sarsaparilla because of the wonderful good it did my son. Annie F. Blackman, 2588 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

WHY LUCOL

IS THE BEST

PAINT OIL.

Dries perfectly solid inside of twenty hours.

Forms a durable and elastic, not a brittle coating.

Retains its gloss longer than any other oil.

Resists the action of acids and alkalis better than any other oil.

Flows freely from the brush without running and spreads well.

With the addition of Litharge, yields a hard surface, suitable for floors, steps, etc.

Mixes readily with pigments ground in oil in paste form.

Brings out the real shades of the colors and keeps them unaltered.

Is a solvent for the most delicate of the new coal tar colors.

Added to varnish greatly improves the working of the varnish.

Does not darken white lead or any delicate colors.

Has greater body than any other oil.

Requires one-third less pigment than any other oil.

Can be added to linseed oil and it will greatly improve the linseed.

Can be thinned with turpentine.

By actual tests, has outlasted the best linseed oil.

Therefore, is the best paint oil ever manufactured.

Direction for Use.

Use Lucol in every respect in the same manner as you would linseed oil, with the single exception that you may add fully one-quarter more Lucol to the same quantity of pigment than you would of linseed.

In using metallic, Venetian red, the ochres, and other dry pigments, it is advisable to mix up the paint at least one day before it is to be used, then add a third more Lucol and the paint will be found to cover well and have a good gloss.

NEVER USE JAPANS.

Where hard surfaces such as floors, steps, etc., are required use litharge only, never use Japans.

LUCOL MIXES WITH VARNISHES

and assists their working and improves their appearance BUT THEY SHOULD BE USED SAME DAY THEY ARE MIXED, otherwise the gum of the varnish may be precipitated or the mixture curdled.

The addition of from 1/4 to 1/2 of Lucol to varnishes does not reduce their lustre nor retard their hardening and drying and it prevents their cracking.
