The lassie used to attend church regularly, and after returning home would pick up a Bible and read passages for hours at a time. She always sought an isolated corner where she would go through the services of the church, and after concluding would sob and cry. The father on hearing that the girl wished to join the sisterhood gave his consent readily.

Business dead? Not much! Leastwise it is not so with the California Feed Company. We have made a business for ourselves, which has steadily grown through all the hard times other people are complaining about. We have just secured from Mr. J. F. Colburn his old stand, corner Queen and Nuanuu streets, and taken possession of those large and convenient premises. We had to do so, because our old place at Lelele is too small for our fast-increasing business. In a few days the bark "Mauna Ala" will be here again with her fourth full cargo of Hay and Grain, bought by our Mr. J. N. Wright who will arrive on that vessel. We prefer to select our merchandise ourselves rather than have others do it, which means that we get better goods at a less price.

We thank our many friends for their liberal patronage for the past three years, and hope by strict attention to a business we thoroughly understand to merit the patronage of as many more.

Hood's Cures

Even When Called Incurable

Terrible Seige—Sciatic Rheumatism

Mr. Arthur Simon of Galatia, Ohio.

"They said I was incurable, the doctors did, but the result has proven that Hood's Sarsaparilla was able to cure. I had Sciatic Rheumatism and was confined to my bed six months. Three physicians did not help me and I was given up to die."

When I was in this terrible condition, unable to move hand or foot, I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle had a little effect, and while taking the second, I gained so rapidly that I could sit up in my chair. My system had been broken by other medicine, that it took me quite a while to recuperate. By the time I had taken four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, I could walk around, and now, as I have taken six bottles, I am cured and can do a good day's work. I do not feel I can praise enough. ARTHUR SIMON, Galatia, Ohio.

WHY LUCOL

IS THE BEST

PAINT OIL.

Dries perfectly solid inside of twenty hours.

Forms a durable and elastic, not a brittle coating.

Retains its gloss longer than any other oil.

Resists the action of acids and alkalies better than any other oil.

Flows freely from the brush without running and spreads well.

With the addition of Litharge, yields a hard surface, suitable for floors, steps, etc.

Mixes readily with pigments ground in oil in paste form.

Brings out the real shades of the colors and keeps them unaltered.

Is a solvent for the most delicate of the new coal tar colors.

Added to varnish greatly improves the working of the varnish.

Does not darken white lead or any delicate colors.

Has greater body than any other oil.

Requires one-third less pigment than any other oil.

Can be added to linseed oil and it will greatly improve the linseed.

Can be thinned with turpentine.

By actual tests, has outlasted the best linseed oil.

Therefore, is the best paint oil ever manufactured.

Direction for Use. Use Lucol in every respect in the same manner as you would linseed oil, with the single exception that you may add fully one-quarter more Lucol to the same quantity of pigment than you would of linseed.

In using metallic, Venetian red, the ochres, and other dry pigments, it is advisable to mix up the paint at least one day before it is to be used, then add a third more Lucol, and the paint will be found to cover well and have a good gloss.

NEVER USE JAPANS. Where hard surfaces such as floors, steps, etc., are required use litharge only, never use Japans.

LUCOL MIXES WITH VARNISHES

and assists their working and improves their appearance BUT THEY SHOULD BE USED SAME WAY THEY ARE MIXED, otherwise the gum of the varnish may be precipitated or the mixture curdled.

The addition of from 1/4 to 1/2 of Lucol to varnishes does not reduce their lustre nor retard their hardening and drying and it prevents their cracking.
