BAD FOR OUR SUGAR.

Duty Recommended With Abrogation of the Treaty.

Among the changes proposed in the Wilson tariff bill by the Finance Committee of the Senate is the following relating to sugar:

Sugar not above eighty degrees polariscope test, 1 cent a pound; for every additional degree or fraction, not above ninety degrees, 1-100th of a cent additional; above ninety and not above ninety-six degrees, 2-100ths of a cent per degree; above ninety-six degrees, 1 1/2 cents per pound.

Molasses, testing not above fifty-six degrees by polariscope, 2 cents per gallon; above fifty-six degrees, 4 cents.

A duty not in the Wilson bill is that on bananas, which is put at 20 percent in the new bill. There is also a 20 percent duty on pineapples, not in the Wilson bill.

In the Internal Revenue section is a provision directing the President to immediately notify the Hawaiian Government that the United States will terminate in twelve months the treaty with Hawaii made in 1875.

The internal revenue section makes many verbal but few essential changes in the income tax. It makes a tax of 2 cents on a pack of playing cards, similar to the Wilson bill; taxes on all tobacco, cigars and cigarettes weighing over three pounds per 1000, $3 per 1000, and paper cigarettes less than three pounds $1; those wrapped in tobacco, 50 cents.

The income tax retains the rate of 2 percent on incomes over $1000, as in the Wilson bill, but broadens the base of incomes by adding the words, "From any source whatever," the tax to apply to "every citizen of the United States and every person residing therein."

The date for going into effect of the bill is changed from June 1st to June 30th.

Among a series of opinions quoted is the statement that the Pacific Coast Senators generally express themselves against the feature of the bill which abrogates the treaty with Hawaii, because so many people of the Coast have large investments and the commerce of the Coast has been greatly aided by the sugar industry.

We have just received another cargo of Hay and Grain by the "Irngard," personally selected by our manager in California; and as we buy the best, a word to the wise is sufficient. Prompt delivery.
