RHEUMATISM

AND PILES CURED BY

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

Mr. W. JENNISON, Adelaide, S. A., formerly of Hawthorn, near Melbourne, Vic., writes:

"For the past 3 or 4 years, I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism and piles. I tried all sorts of medicines, but derived no good from them. I determined to read one of your books and thought I would give you a trial. I did so, and after taking one bottle I felt better, and after taking 4 bottles I was a new man. I was sorry I never took it before, for it would have saved me very much pain."

IN THE HIGHER COURTS.

INTERESTING DECISIONS BY THE CIRCUIT JUDGES.

Wilhelm vs. Robinson—Brief in Lopez vs. McChesney—Judgment Record in Achi vs. Kila.

Judge Cooper of the First Circuit Court has rendered a decision in Aswan vs. Pang Lum, Pang Yok and others. It is an action for the recovery of a balance due upon two promissory notes for $1000 each. The transaction was connected with the purchase of a rice plantation at Laie from plaintiff. Only $600 have been paid on the notes, and the Court renders judgment for the plaintiff in the amount of the balance together with interest and costs. Magoon for plaintiff; Neumann for defendants.

Judge Whiting of the First Circuit Court has rendered a decision on the bill for cancellation of a deed sued out by Fritz J. Wilhelm against John Robinson and Elizabeth and John J. Robinson, his minor children. John Robinson executed a mortgage for $450 to Wilhelm on April 30, 1892, to raise another mortgage given to H. Dimond, and pay expenses of the transaction. The mortgage was later increased by $202.50. At this time a deed of the mortgaged property, made by Robinson to his children on July 7, 1897, was on record. Wilhelm made no search of the records before making the advances in question to Robinson.

The Court decides that the money advanced by Wilhelm to take up the Dimond mortgage was for the benefit of the children, that therefore Wilhelm ought to be subrogated and substituted for Dimond, and that a lien for $450 and interest at 10 per cent per annum attaches to the premises in favor of Wilhelm. In the case of the second loan the Court cannot sustain the argument that it was for the benefit of the minor children, and that there is for the amount in question, $402.50, no charge upon the land in law or in equity owing to the benefit of the plaintiff.

The Court cannot find that the deed in question was fraudulent, and, having been made five years before the debt to Wilhelm was incurred, could not have been intended to defraud Wilhelm. A conveyance is not to be set aside because it is voluntary but only on the ground of frauds in case of this nature. Wilhelm loaned the money on the land as security, and he ought to have investigated the title. Plaintiff may have leave to amend his bill if, upon examination of the pleadings, it should be so deemed advisable to perfect the relief allowed by this decision.

The decision concludes thus: "As to the liability of John Robinson, I adjudge and order that he is indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of $652.50 and interest from May 1, 1893, at 10 per cent per annum, for which execution may issue upon the filing of the decree herein."

Castle for plaintiff; Carter for minors; Kane for John Robinson. In W. C. Achi, trustee, vs. S. K. Kila and Maeha, judgment record has been entered against defendants for $95.75 and costs of execution, a total of $100.75.

A. S. Hartwell, attorney for defendant in A. J. Lopez vs. F. W. McChesney, assignee, has filed a brief of thirteen typewritten pages. The plaintiff asks for relief in equity to enable him to set aside the judgment of $1900 and costs, obtained against him June 12 last at the Circuit Court term by the defendant, by deducting an equivalent amount from a claim of $7083 against the assignee which was allowed June 19 last by the Court in bankruptcy.

New Consul-General.

Japan is to have a new Charge d' Affaires and Consul-General for Hawaii. He was expected by the China but did not come. Mr. Shimamura is the appointee, and he has served as Consul-General in New York and in Mexico. He will have the same rank here as had Consul-General Fujii, possessing diplomatic functions. Mr. Shimizu, the present Consul-General, will remain in Honolulu.

The Fishmarket.

All the stalls in the fishmarket have been moved to the concrete floor on the makai end of the building. Brick drains are now being laid on the makai end of the market preparatory to covering that with concrete also. Stone curbing is being laid to mark the line of the streets around it and everything in the neighborhood is beginning to assume a business-like aspect.

Amateur Athletic Club.

This association met last evening at Y. M. C. A. hall and decided to form a lacrosse team at once, and the necessary sticks were ordered to be purchased. The club also decided to ask the Oahu college boys what they proposed to do about football this year. If the college will put a team in practice the Athletic club will do likewise. It was also decided to have a road race on Saturday, the 26th inst.

Yokohama Passengers Ashore.

Four solo passengers by the steamer China, two of whom at least were from Yokohama, were allowed to come into town. Themselves and their baggage were first fumigated in quarantine. The ship came here clean, having had no infectious or contagious sickness during the passage, therefore the usual rule of allowing cabin passengers to land without being subjected to a season of quarantine was observed.

Bicycle Accident.

Henry Olds, son of James Olds, while passing the residence of the British Minister on King street at 11 o'clock this morning, upon his bicycle, was thrown from his wheel and fell under the heels of the mules of a passing tramcar. He was struck on the head and quite severely wounded. Luckily he fell between the rails, and although the car passed over him, he was otherwise uninjured. Dr. Murray attended him and pronounced him out of danger. The accident was due to the chain connection slipping off the sprocket of the machine.

The following civil judgments have been rendered in Judge Perry's court: In favor of S. Nishimura and against N. Braham by default for $82.19, and in favor of Mrs. Bennie Hilarion against Peter Martin for $25.55. The latter case was for the wrongful conversion of a sewing machine, which the defendant took in lieu of $5 back rent owing to him by plaintiff's father.

FITS CURED

(From U. S. Journal of Medicine.) Prof. W. H. Peete, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any living Physician; his success is astonishing. We have heard of cases of 50 years standing cured by him. He publishes a valuable work on this disease which he sends with a large bottle of his absolute cure, free to any sufferer who may send their P. O. and Express address. We will use anyone wishing a cure to address, Prof. W. H. PEETE, P. O. 4 Cedar St., New York.

IT WAS VERY GOOD WINE.

FOR FIFTY CENTS A BOTTLE OR TEN CENTS A DRINK.

Mrs. Francesca Fined One Hundred Dollars and Costs For Selling Liquor Without a License.

The first individuals to answer to the roll call had by Judge Perry in the District Court this morning was a gentleman by the name of Boggs and a native who rejoices in the cognomen of Keaweama, both of whom took advantage of the saloons being open last night to get gloriously and disgracefully drunk, and they were glad enough to get off with the usual $2 fine and $1 costs for the trouble they gave the police department.

Joe Rachel, whose name as copied from the police register makes it somewhat difficult to determine whether he or she is a lady or gentleman, forfeited his or her bail of $8 rather than face the majesty of the law this morning, and his or her sex will consequently remain a mystery for the present.

Jack Duane was also up for drunkenness, but whether it was the same old drunk or an entirely new and fumigated edition thereof the record does not show, anyhow it cost him $3.

The charge of violating the rules and regulations of the Board of Health preferred against Senora Crispulo de Assis was dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney.

The cases against eleven Chinese domino fiends was continued to await the pleasure of the prosecution.

A large proportion of the Portuguese population of the city was present at the interesting exercises which obtained during the trial of a Portuguese lady for selling liquor without a license. The lady's name was Francesca, but whether she is any relation to Bulwer's heroine does not appear. She lives in a house located on McKibbin's lane. On the 8th of last September Mr. Julius Lundenberg made her a friendly visit and was accorded a private interview in the lady's bed chamber, which resulted in the production of a demijohn of wine. Mr. Lundenberg paid ten cents to Senora Francesca for the privilege of imbibing thereof one time, after which he called in Charles Ott who did likewise. Further negotiations resulted in the purchase of a whole bottle for fifty cents more, but the testimony shows there was not enough wine left in the demijohn to fill the bottle and Francesca went into another room to procure another. The record does not show whether the empty state of the demijohn was caused by the size of the drinks taken by the informers or not, neither did it appear to affect Francesca in the least, for she had more wine and filled up a second demijohn. By doing this, however, she emptied a barrel, which Officer Cordes testified later on had once contained wine. Cordes is an expert on wine and according to his own testimony can swear to it by the smell, and so can a good many other people for that matter. The informers paid the lady with a Kalakaua piece of silver which they were unkind enough to have previously marked for the purpose, and taking thirty cents in change left the house and reported to Cordes who was waiting near by. Owing to its being Sunday no warrant was sworn out, and to make out a sure case the informers paid Francesca a second visit on the following day. Probably owing to the size of the drinks taken the preceding day wine had advanced 50 per cent in price at the establishment, and Julius Lundenberg had to pay 15 cents for a drink which was measured out to him in a glass. He took Robert Jennings with him this time, but Jennings didn't even get a smell of the demijohn, being, as the lady said, already half drunk. In case of refusal to supply them with wine on this occasion, it was agreed between these two worthy gentlemen beforehand that Lundenberg should be seized with a violent fit of shaking which would work on Francesca's womanly feelings to such an extent that she would produce some liquor at once.

After the second visit Cordes arrested the woman and searched the house, finding a bottle of gin and other liquor, which was confiscated. The defendant's attorney introduced no testimony in her behalf and will probably try to prove a conspiracy against the informers when the case gets into the upper court.

Judge Perry found the defendant guilty and fined her $100 and costs, from which judgment the defendant has appealed.

HIRED VANDALISM.

Destruction and Damage to Shade Trees by Workmen.

The gang of laborers who are engaged in trimming the shade trees on King, Alakea and other streets, are performing the work in such manner as to destroy the beauty of the trees, if not kill them. One man climbs up into a big algaroba or monkeypod, and, armed with a small saw or an ax, cuts into a huge limb, as large as one's leg, perhaps an inch. Then he will swing out on the branches and tear the limb from the body of the tree by his weight. The limb is wrenched and twisted loose, scarifying the trunk, stripping off bark and inner covering.

The tougher, hardier varieties may stand this treatment, but their appearance is ruined, while more delicate specimens are almost certain to die. The shade trees are the greatest beauty of our streets and avenues, and it is a shame to have them destroyed by a lot of ignorant wood butchers.

There are 339 contract laborers among the Chinese immigrants by the Belgic. The trial of A. B. Proita for malicious injury was commenced in the Police Court at 1:30 p. m.

Professor A. N. Krosnov, Yokohama, is registered at the Hawaiian Hotel, having arrived by the China.

Dr. Rodgers, secretary of the Labor Commission, does not appear to know where he is at, or whether there is any Labor Commission or not, or even whether there will be one.

Mrs. Freimann is going to open a first-class boarding and lodging house in the Dickson premises on Beretania street. W. S. Bartlett, formerly manager of the Hawaiian Hotel, will be the steward of the house.

The road jury which visited the old Waikiki road and vicinity last Saturday has recommended the widening of the John Eua road to 60 feet. The bridge over the Pinaia stream is being replanked, but it is recommended that a stone bridge be erected in its place, which recommendation will probably be carried out in the sweet mahope.

CLASSES TO BE RESUMED.

AT THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Stenography, Drawing and Singing Classes to be Continued Next Week.

On Monday evening next at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, the enrollment of pupils for the various evening educational classes in connection with the institution will take place, and intending pupils should present themselves for classification.

The class in typewriting will be held every Monday evening at 7 o'clock with D. W. Corbett as instructor, and he has the assurance of a large number of pupils.

Bookkeeping will be taught on Tuesday evenings at the same hour under the supervision of W. W. Harris, the well-known bookkeeper of Lewers & Cooke.

T. E. Petrie, the stenographer for Castle & Cooke, takes the class in shorthand every Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Mechanical drawing will be taught on the same evening at the same hour by Professor Colsten of Oahu College.

On Friday evenings at 7:30, Professor E. Cooke, a recent arrival from Portland, Oregon, where he was prominent in Y. M. C. A. work, will instruct a class in singing.

To supply the demand for further instruction of young men who have lately left school and desire to continue their studies in the evening a class in reading, writing, arithmetic and grammar is also to be formed, which will meet on Monday and Thursday evenings at 7 o'clock.

All of the above studies will be conducted in the new class rooms over the gymnasium which have recently been described in these pages.

These classes, together with those in the gymnasium to be inaugurated next week, are open to all, irrespective of membership in the Association, and will not be connected in any way with religious exercises conducted under the auspices of the Association. Applicants must be of good moral character and conform themselves to the proper rules and regulations.

Now that every department of the institution is in a completed state, Secretary Corbett intends to make the work done worthy of its elegant quarters, and with those associated with him will spare no efforts to accomplish the ends for which the Association was organized.

There is still no little business in the Board of Health office in connection with quarantine.

Big yellow labels of "Permitted" decorate packages of goods being trucked to the steamers.

G. R. Harrison, practical piano and organ maker and tuner, can furnish best factory references. Orders left at Hawaiian News Co. will receive prompt attention. All work guaranteed to be the same as done in factory.

A Chinaman was compelled to substitute corrugated iron for redwood boarding in a new building within the fire limits on Alakea street. Though not pretty the shanty is reasonably safe against fire.

The Rev. Mr. Catlin has discovered a passage in the Bible that pronounces "due to the woman who sews pillows to all arseholes," but the reverend gentleman's discovery will not affect Honolulu fashions.
