DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE,
Honolulu, H. I., Nov. 11, 1895.
Notice is hereby given that claims against the Government for the month of July, 1895, i. e., claims filed with the respective Departments previous to August 5th, 1895, will be payable on FRIDAY, November 13th, and MONDAY, November 25th, 1895.
S. M. DAMON,
Minister of Finance.

The Evening Bulletin,
DANIEL LOGAN, Editor.
WEDNESDAY, -- NOV. 13, 1895.
THEN MERC SHOW.

President Dole, in his proclamation of a day of national thanksgiving, says: "With abundant crops and fair business prosperity, both foreign and domestic, have come the critical incidents of domestic disturbance and dangerous pestilence; from both of which the country has been mercifully delivered with small loss of life through the blessing of Providence on the efforts of the government and its citizens." All the people should say "Amen!" to that sentiment, but there are some who will say it with peculiar heartiness if the President, while acknowledging divine mercies, would on the day of thanksgiving show mercy to the political offenders still in prison. To exercise mercy and forgiveness to those who trespass against us is the only price set upon heavenly favors in holy writ. There are circumstances in the cases of those still undergoing punishment for the affair of January which argue for their release. One is that others equally guilty in fomenting or assisting the domestic disturbances have been set at large. Another reason for showing mercy on the fitting occasion that approaches is that the innocent families of the captives are enduring the most bitter part of the penalty. And still another plea is that the Government, having proved itself to be strong, ought to show itself to be generous. Punishments of the law in these days are regarded as being more for prevention of crime than for wreaking vengeance on its perpetrators. Without any thought of extenuating the offense of the prisoners, this journal would respectfully submit that their sentences have been carried far enough to form all the warning example necessary to prevent future attempts at overthrowing an established government in this country. Mercy may now safely be dealt to them, and it would indeed in itself be a strong preventive against revolution. Some of those already released have been enlarged on parole. It would be quite satisfactory to simply suspend the sentences of the remainder subject to good behavior, a continuance of which for a certain term to be rewarded by restoration of civil rights. Those who are in exile, having ties of business or blood with the country, might well be allowed to return on the same conditions. Remember, Mr. President, the paraphrase of the petition in the Lord's prayer, "As we to others mercy show, we mercy beg from heaven."

Says principal Townsend in the Progressive Educator: "Much is said and comparatively little done concerning new and diversified industries in this country. Now as our undeveloped material resources are for the most part agricultural, the logic of events seems to point to the establishment of an extensive agricultural experiment station and the assembling of intelligent young men to learn as much as possible concerning the products and possible though unrealized products of the land—in other words, of an agricultural college. The country may not be ready for this at present, but it is to be hoped it will be before many years. It would be in the nature of an investment which, in the end, would pay the country in money."

OBSERVATIONS.

Among local athletic organizations none occupy a prouder position than the Healaui Yacht and Boat Club. It has made a fine record for enterprise in the brief period since its organization.

Principal Townsend of Lahaina-luna is making creditable publication of his Progressive Educator. Besides a variety of technical matter in the October issue, there is a good array of editorials on educational topics in general.

An exchange states that in some places it is proposed to tax bicycles to add to the revenues of the county. The reason advanced for the proposed innovation is that the extensive use of wheels has cut down the business of liverymen and kindred lines, thereby reducing the taxable property to an extent which should be made up by the wheelmen. An amusing sidelight on the growing importance of the wheeling community is seen in the fact that the only reason why the tax is not made legal is that the Board of Supervisors or other officers of the counties which have had this proposition under consideration do not care to antagonize the large number of wheelmen who are among their constituents.

MADE A NEW WORLD'S RECORD.

Miss Rita and Josie B Paced a Mile Double in 2:13 1-4.

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 14.—When the two pacing mares Miss Rita and Josie B went a mile this afternoon, double, in 2:12 1/4, they made a new world's record.

Another world's record was broken in the 2:06 pace, as there developed a result of the only instance when five horses earned money out of a race where only four moneys were given, as Rachel, Vera Capel and Direction divided third and fourth moneys, Guineete won second quite handsily by finishing three times second to Star Pointer.

Geers drove the three winners in today's events, and with Boreal in the Kentucky stake his mastery hand had much to do with the victory. On form Boreal was hardly regarded in the contest, but he developed high rating in the stamina test. Oakland Baron and Fred Kohl fought a battle to the half in two heats.

Kohl won two heats and Kilonia one and Geers, who had been circling the track well behind, showed up next time and outposted Oakland Baron home in 2:16 1/4. Though defeated, by no means was he disgraced, as every inch of the five heats was he an active contestant, figuring in the fray as long as he remained in the race, forcing Fred Kohl to earn his best record of 2:12 1/4, and it was the fight of Fred Kohl and Oakland Baron that gave Boreal the race. The day was perfect, track fast, attendance large.

SELLING WOMEN IN HAWAII.

The Traffic Leads to a Shooting Scrape at Hilo.

Suyetani, a Japanese carpenter, who lives in Hilo with his wife, has got himself into trouble that has ended in his receiving a sentence of one year and $100 fine. There are two Japanese agents in Hilo who make a business of buying and selling Japanese women. These men are named Yanigaba and Maruichi, and their latest victim was Ito, wife of Suyetani. Suyetani is a peaceably inclined man, who labored at his trade in and about Hilo. On returning home one evening he discovered that his wife had left for parts unknown. Later the two women dealers called and gave him $130 in consideration for which he was to sell his wife to some purchaser whom the agents had found. He assented but afterward repented of his bargain and determined to return the money and demand the restoration of his lawful wife. Fugimoto, who had bought and paid the purchase price, refused to give her up. Suyetani then went to the place, crawled under the house and at midnight fired two shots from a revolver through the floor, one shot taking effect in the calf of the leg of the woman, causing a disagreeable flesh wound. The husband was arrested and confessed to the shooting and was sentenced as stated. The woman is being attended by the Japanese who bought her.

Deputy Sheriff Williams says that there is a regular traffic carried on by Japanese of buying and selling women. The two men above named are the principal dealers. Yanigaba was arrested and sentenced as a common vagrant to 30 days. This same man was convicted once before for using loaded dice which he manufactured. Sheriff Hitchcock in his report of 1892, brought this traffic to the attention of the proper authorities, but no official action was taken. There is no law that can reach this practice, which is carried on quite extensively in Hawaii.

Timely Topics

The able address by Mrs. Sturtevant-Peet, president of the California Woman's Christian Temperance Union, on the occasion of the annual convention of that body in San Francisco, contained a passage which takes strong ground on the benefits of the bicycle. In speaking of physical culture and the relation of the clothes to the subject, she said:

"All know the value of a strong unhindered body. For this reason the banishment of the corset and restricting bands is a foregone conclusion. Dress reform has pressed its claims for forty years, with little progress till the bicycle, that graceful, silent steed of motion, dashes through and bursts open the door of prejudice. This mystic wheel that we meet on every road and street is the mute but telling advocate of dress reform. It has its virtues as well as its charms. It invites, yea, demands, simplicity in dress. It encourages physical exercise and utterly refuses to carry a drunken rider. Unlike the horse, it balks when touched by the hand of inebriety. It inconveniences and discourages the use of cigars and cigarettes to the number of 65,000,000 a year. In short, the wheel is a reformer, and, though, it came not through the virtue of moral conception, we should welcome its presence as we do the advent of every new invention and corporate edict bearing the balm of sobriety, with the promise of stronger and better men and women."

This is a straightforward expression from an able woman who led the California forces of one of the greatest National organizations ever instituted for the uplifting of the race. The dignity and earnestness which characterize her opinion cast into the shades the hallow objections which some physicians have made to the bicycle. Mrs. Peet gives us to understand that in the sole aspect of requiring women to dress sensibly this simple instrument of locomotion has accomplished more at a dash than the preachers on sensible dress for women have been able to bring about in nearly half a century. With so eminent an endorsement as this, even the most timid woman who is not held in what amounts to physical restraint by father, husband or brother from obeying an instinctive impulse to dress rationally and enjoy life and health on a bicycle, may at least console herself with the reflection that her impulse was right and lament that she was born a few years too soon.

In addition to the above Mrs. Peet might have mentioned the saving in labor attained by the patent sprocket attached to the Tribune wheel, which amounts to over 15 per cent, no small desideratum when ladies are concerned.

The Tribune is the wheel par excellence for ladies' use, it has the newest patents and improvements and can be run with 15 per cent less work than any other wheel in existence.

DRY GOODS

In Honolulu there is always something that demands the attention of the fair sex. More especially is this true when good bargains are offered. In catering to the wants of the Honolulu ladies, the merchants must buy judiciously and select only the most artistic designs. Especially is this true of white dress goods. I received by the AUSTRALIA a new line of these goods that are very pretty. They must be seen, however, to be appreciated. I also received a fine line of Ladies' Shirt Waists and Corsets. Now that the Cholera is over and life, socially, has resumed its normal condition, the dry goods business must increase materially in the next month. Anticipating this demand I have laid in this fine stock of goods and they are now ready for your inspection, and can be purchased at a reasonable figure.
