

CLEVELAND DEEPLY CONCERNED

It is said he is anxious to make no mistakes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—The Cuban question is giving President Cleveland great concern. Those who have talked with him recently say it is plain that this matter is one of grave anxiety for him.

It is declared that the President is not, in this case, the confident and aggressive man that he was in the Mexican matter.

It may be a matter of sympathy of the two cases. There are points of dissimilarity the two cases are enough alike in certain important features to make the recognition of one as a check and warning in the treatment of the other.

The President, it is said, has learned this. He knows more now about the sympathies of the American people and, when aroused, how strong they are, than he did thirty months ago.

The Doctor Was Positive.

A singular affidavit was filed in the United States Land Office at St. Cloud, Minn., recently. It was necessary to prove the death of one of the parties to a contested case, and this is the manner in which Dr. N. E. Whitmore, of Elk River, the attending physician, proceeded to do so.

Their Literary Honor.

On going in to the library, Mr. Jones asked what were the favorite books of the prisoners, and was told, to his surprise, that Buchanan's "Domestic Medicine" was more frequently asked for than any other.

It is estimated that only one wage-earner in 100.0 in the United States is a millionaire.
