Stock and dairy men should obtain some seeds of the Australian saltbush, lately received by Commissioner Marsden, of which a description is given in another column. The last trip of the Kinau was the smoothest experienced in years. The delay in coming into port yesterday was owing to an unusually strong current in the channel. The attendance is excellent for the early stages of a revival meeting. Rev. Romig is a man of pleasing address and Prof. Harrell is a fine soloist and leader of song. The subject tonight will be "The Great Physician." Up in a Balloon. Prof. Price is around town today arranging the details for his balloon ascension and parachute leap next Saturday at Remond Grove. A few minutes talk with the Professor this morning elicited the information that in his opinion Remond Grove is a perfectly safe place for a balloon ascent; he has no fear of the trade winds. If he feels himself being carried seaward it is an easy matter to cut the parachute loose and descend gradually to mother earth. That it will be a sight worth seeing no one doubts. A large crowd is expected to attend, as the O. R. & L. people have promised accommodation to all who desire to attend. Trains will leave at 1:45 and 3 p. m., the inflation of the balloon will take place at 3:45 and the ascension will be made at 4:15 sharp. The Last Performance. Tonight will be the last opportunity given to Honolulu people to see the circus. A program of extra length and attractiveness has been put on and Mr. Wirth himself enters the ring as a performer, for the first time in six years. The show has made money here and in return has given entire satisfaction to both the public in general and those who had monetary dealings with it. Mr. Cameron, the manager, has carried out every promise he has made.

It's a lot of bother keeping promises when a big store like ours has to be made ready and filled with the choicest goods from the United States and Europe.

The store will be open on Monday, but the goods will not be as well arranged as we had promised; the time was too short, so we have done the best we could under the circumstances.

The departments are fairly well-filled and there will be no delay in waiting on you and filling your orders. We've arranged that part of the business better than we have the stock. The latest in cash carriers and some wide-awake clerks will look after you, but you will never be asked to buy. The goods are for your inspection, and you are welcome at all times to come in and admire, to buy if they suit you and the prices are right.

You will find the store divided into departments and you can see at a glance where the article you want is to be found—there's no mixing up of goods—hardware is with hardware and glassware with glass, not with crockery or stoves.

The second floor is principally for housefurnishing goods—novelties in these lines that will surprise you. Take elevator at rear of the store near the office.
