THE UNRIVALED

ST. LOUIS BEER

Will be served ON DRAUGHT at the

Hawaiian Hotel.

To meet the times and competition, it will be furnished at 12½ cts. Per Glass

We quote from letter of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, dated August 8th:

"Your honorable firm having represented us for so many years we believe it useless to call your attention to the merits of our article, but we should like to repeat again and call your attention to the fact that ours is THE ONLY PURE BARLEY MALT BEER MANUFACTURED, and corn extract and other adulterants as well as acids, for the preservation of beer, are unknown in our establishment. With the above you may go before the public in our name."

No encomium of ours can add to the high reputation of Anheuser Beer. Its introduction in any and every market makes it an immediate favorite. It stands without a peer, without a rival, without even a competitor. It received the highest awards at the Columbian Exposition. The reduction of the draught Beer to the prevailing price of 12½ CENTS PER GLASS, places it within the reach of all, and he is a wise man who gets the best quality for the least money.

A TERRIBLE CASE OF ECZEMA

CURED BY
Ayer's Sarsaparilla
Mrs. E. Wyatt, of Port Road, West Hindmarsh, So. Australia, writes of the sad condition of her little daughter, whose portrait she also sends:

"My daughter was afflicted with Eczema of the most aggravated type. The disease first appeared in eruptions on her head, then her hair began to fall out, and in spite of the best medical advice and treatment she grew steadily worse. The sores were full of matter and were extremely offensive. Her eyes became affected, and she was, in truth, in a terrible state. My neighbors were very sympathetic and took great interest in the case. They persuaded me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and I am most thankful to be able to say that this wonderful medicine completely restored my daughter's health. She has now as good a head of hair as anyone could wish, her eyes are perfectly well, and she is a fine girl of eight years with every prospect of growing up to be a strong and healthy woman."

THE DARDANELLES FORT

HOW THE EMPIRE OF THE SULTAN IS PROTECTED.

Forty-seven Miles of Battery-Crowned Hills Provided with Four Hundred and Eighty-seven Guns.

Now that the eyes of the whole world are turned on Constantinople, and a British fleet of forty-seven vessels is only awaiting the order to force the passage of the Dardanelles, a description of the work cut out for the English admiral will be of interest.

Between her capital and the impending danger Turkey has the Dardanelles, with its forty-seven miles of battery-crowned hills of far greater importance to her defense than her small and inefficient fleet. In the hands of any other power the passage of these straits by a hostile fleet would be utterly impossible, but just how much of an obstacle they will prove should the British fleet attempt to force a passage it is difficult to say.

From the Aegean mouth to the Marmora entrance is forty-seven miles, with a general width of three or four miles. In some places, however, it is much narrower and with a difficult channel and swift currents. At Chainak-Kalesi, fifteen miles from the Aegean mouth, it is less than a mile from shore to shore, and the clear passage way not more than 500 yards in width. At Naghara point, some distance further up, it is about the same, and with the fortresses on the hills of both the European and Asiatic sides the chances of forcing a passage are at least problematical, to say nothing of the torpedoes with which the channel is said to be everywhere underlaid.

As to the condition and equipment of the various fortresses and batteries, reliable figures are from the nature of the case very hard to get. A late issue of the Sailing Directions for the British Navy gives the following, and is very probably not far from the mark:

The Aegean entrance is guarded by the two fortresses Sedil or Seddah Bahr or new castle of Europe on the west side, and Kum-Kaleh or new castle of Asia on the other. These mount twenty-five guns each, most of which are said to be of Armstrong and Krupp make. Further up Shakim Kaleh-si, on the European side, has fifteen guns, and Kephir, nearly opposite, eighteen.

Then comes at the narrow throat of the Straits Charnak-Kalesi, or old castle of Asia, on the one side, and Kalid Bahr, or old castle of Europe, on the other.
The first has three separate forts, mounting together 182 guns, and the other two forts, with fifty four guns. Next comes Namazieh Dunabuma and Cham-Kaleh, on the west side. Three forts with thirty-three guns, and Mejedieh and Besuh Kaleh on the opposite shore, with two forts and twenty-nine guns. And lastly Kinley and Boka-Kaleh, near Gallipolis, with two forts and forty two guns, and Naghara point on the Asiatic side, with two forts and sixty four guns.

These give a total of 167 mounted guns on the European side and 318 on the Asiatic side, 487 in all.

There are a number of guns in each of these fortresses that are of modern build and long caliber, but the larger number are of old and obsolete styles. Many of them were intended to throw balls made of marble and granite, and these can still be seen piled near, ready for use, some of them 600 pounds in weight. They were used with some effect on Admiral Hornby's fleet when he forced a passage in 1878, but it is doubtful if they would do more than jar such ships as the Ramillies and Trafalgar.

Leaving the very uncertain element of torpedo defense out of the question, and there is little doubt that with his large number of heavily armed ships of the latest build, and the readiness to sacrifice some of them if the occasion requires, that Sir Culme Seymour can silence and dismantle every fort on both sides the Dardanelles and be in front of Constantinople within a very short time if he once determines to make the passage.

Killed by a Skyrocket.

New York, Sept. 16.—James Turner, a truckman, was watching the parade Tuesday night, when a skyrocket ignited by one of the paraders struck him in the mouth, passed a short distance into his throat and exploded. Turner was removed to the hospital, where he died.

Sure to Win.

The people recognize and appreciate real merit. That is why Hood's Sarsaparilla has the largest sales in the world. Merit in medicine means the power to cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures—absolutely, permanently cures. It is the One True Blood Purifier. Its superior merit is an established fact, and merit wins.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy to operate. Cure indigestion, headache.

WHAT THEY BOTH CLAIM

McKINLEY FORCES SATISFIED WITH 278 ELECTORAL VOICES.

While the Democrats Don't Claim New York They Expect to Fence in the Rest of the Earth.

General Grover of Athens, Ohio, is known as the McKinley statistician, and the remarkable manner in which his forecast of McKinley's strength was verified in the St. Louis convention gives his statements and claims considerable weight. On September 20th, at the request of members of the press, he gave out the following table of estimates of the probable result of the coming election:

The six New England States, with thirty-nine electoral votes, will go to McKinley, so I head my table as follows:

New England.....	39
New York.....	36
New Jersey.....	10
Maryland.....	8
Delaware.....	3
Pennsylvania.....	32
West Virginia.....	6
Ohio.....	23
Indiana.....	15
Illinois.....	24
Michigan.....	14
Wisconsin.....	12
Iowa.....	13
Minnesota.....	9
South Dakota.....	4
Kentucky.....	13
Oregon.....	4
Washington.....	4
California.....	9
Total.....	278

Here is a total of 278 votes, or 54 more than sufficient to elect, all of which are practically sure for McKinley. I come to some States which are still in doubt, but which, under the high tide of Republican success now sweeping over the country, will be almost sure to vote for McKinley—if not all of them, at least a very large proportion of them, to wit:

Kansas.....	10
Nebraska.....	8
North Carolina.....	11
North Dakota.....	3
Wyoming.....	3
Total.....	35

Here are thirty-five electoral votes, from which McKinley will surely receive enough to make good any accident that may befall the total of 278. Of the remaining States:

Louisiana.....	8
Tennessee.....	12
Missouri.....	17
Texas.....	15
Virginia.....	12
Total.....	64

Are one or more of them within the line of possibility, I might almost say reasonable probability?
I concede to Bryan and Watson, or Bryan and Sewall, or Bryan and whoever it may be at the right time:

Alabama.....	11
Arkansas.....	8
Colorado.....	4
Florida.....	4
Georgia.....	13
Idaho.....	3
Mississippi.....	9
Montana.....	3
Nevada.....	3
South Carolina.....	9
Utah.....	3

These are practically sure for the opposition, although there may be a possible dispute even along that line.

Now for the Democratic claims.
On September 17th, or just three days previous to the publication of General Grover's figures, the press bureau at National Democratic headquarters of Chicago issued the following statement:

DEATH OF JUDGE AUSTIN

THE AGED JURIST EXPIRES
SUDDENLY AT WAIMEA.

He Was the Oldest Member of the Hawaiian Bar—The Funeral Takes Place Tomorrow.

The steamer Keauhou, which arrived from Hawaii this morning, brought intelligence of the death of Judge Stafford L. Austin, which occurred suddenly yesterday at 10 o'clock at Waimea from apoplexy. Private letters to relatives here confirm the sad news.
The deceased jurist was on the way to Kohala where he was to hear some probate matters on Tuesday. He was accompanied by his daughter Hattie, who was with him at the end.

The deceased jurist was 71 years of age last April and was a native of Buffalo, New York. He came to the islands in the early '50s, having been admitted to the Hawaiian bar by the Superior Court on September 8th, 1852. He was appointed Circuit Judge of Kohala on May 1, 1887, and on May 1, 1891, was reappointed under the new Practice Act, which provided that the oldest judge should take both of the Circuits of Hawaii in one. He was reappointed to the position under the Republic.

He was a brother of the late Justice James W. Austin, who was admitted to the Hawaiian bar in 1854 and was appointed Second Associate Justice of the Supreme Court on June 10, 1868, and resigned after serving one year. He died abroad on the 15th of October of last year.

Judge Austin leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss.
Frank, the eldest, is in California, with his brothers Wallis, John and Ephraim. Bert, the second son, is the assessor at Hilo, and Hattie, the only daughter, was with her father at his death. Mrs.
Austin left Hilo on a sailing vessel some weeks ago and is now supposed to be in California visiting her children. The sad news of her husband's death will go forward by the Australia today.

Judge Austin's remains are being conveyed from Waimea to Hi-lo, where the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon. He was hale and hearty for his years and his death was quite unexpected. Since coming to these islands Judge Austin has lived almost entirely on Hawaii, where he had large business interests. At one time he was almost the sole owner of Onomea plantation, but afterwards disposed of his entire interest therein.

Memorial Resolutions.

At a meeting of the Bar Association this forenoon, the following committees were appointed to draft memorial resolutions for the late Judge Austin and Mr.
Nawahi:

Austin committee—E. P. Dole, Gardner K. Wilder and J. K.
Kaula.

Nawahi committee—W. S. Eddings, J. M. Kaneakua and E.
Johnson.

The resolutions will be presented to the Supreme Court at 10 o'clock Monday with appropriate remarks.

Did Not Know His Own Ship.

The similarity in the outer appearance of the twin steamships Australia and Zealandia has been preserved to a remarkable degree considering that they are pretty well along in years. Yesterday the Australia was scheduled to go to the sugar refinery to discharge sugar and did so. When Captain H. C. Houdlette, master of the Australia, visited the Pacific street dock about noon, the Zealandia was occupying the Australia's berth. The captain remarked the fact that his vessel was there and stood the laugh and the treat when he found he was mistaken.
