PROTEST OF JAPAN.

She Fears the Loss of Her Privileges in the Islands.

Washington, June 16.—Before the final signature of the treaty to-day the Secretary of State was presented a formal protest by the Japanese Government through its legation here. The protest is understood to be based on apprehension that the special treaties now existing between Japan and Hawaii, under which the Japanese enjoy advantages, will be affected injuriously by complete annexation.

Minister Hoshi of Japan declined to be seen to-day about the protest, and Secretary Matsui refused to discuss the matter in any way, but it is learned that the Japanese protest was made in person to the State Department by Minister Hoshi.

The news of the protest was a great surprise to the Hawaiian Legation, and as soon as intelligence of it was obtained, Minister Hatch started out to learn the particulars. The essential point as to the protest, it is said at the Hawaiian Legation, is whether the protest is against the annexation of Hawaii, or is simply a protest reserving to Japan all her rights under the existing treaty with Hawaii. It is believed to be the latter.

The Japanese treaty with Hawaii was made in 1871 and provides that natives or citizens of one country shall have the uninterrupted right to enter into, reside and trade in the other country, and shall also have the rights and privileges enjoyed by the people of any other country under treaty stipulations with Japan. Japan under the treaty consequently has a perfect right to have her immigrants enter the Hawaiian Islands. Under the international law the annexation of Hawaii to the United States would abrogate this treaty. Moreover, a new treaty between the United States and Japan made some time ago and to become effective in 1899 provides that the United States may exclude Japanese. If Hawaii is annexed the effect would be to permit the United States to exclude the Japanese from Hawaii.

At the Japanese Legation the document filed by the Japanese Minister is not regarded as a protest against the Hawaiian treaty, but is considered as a request for official information. There appears, however, to be no doubt that, as soon as Japan is notified officially of the signing of the convention, the Government of the United States will be informed that Japan expects and demands their recognition of all the rights and privileges which she now enjoys under the existing treaties with Hawaii.

While peaceful annexation of the Hawaiian Islands would abrogate the existing treaties of that country with foreign powers, Japan probably will contend that the United States must assume and respect Hawaii's obligations to foreign powers.

SIGNED AND SUBMITTED.

read to the Senate. They were attentively listened to.

In one part of the chamber there was a group of Senators who bitterly opposed the ratification of the treaty. Among them were Gray, Mills, Pasco, White, Caffery, Pettigrew and McEnery. As soon as the reading of the documents was completed Senator Davis, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, moved that the message and the treaty be made public.

Senator Gray objected to a vote on the motion and, under the rules, a single objection carried the motion over until tomorrow. Senator Davis gave notice that at the next executive session he would renew the motion for publication, as all the essential facts and almost a verbatim copy of the treaty had been published in the press of the country.

There was some discussion as to when the treaty might be considered and Senator White asked if it was the intention to press it at this session, and upon the reply being made that it was possible, the California Senator said: "I desire to announce that I am prepared to stay here all summer to prevent the ratification, which I consider a very bad proposition." "I'll join you," said Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota.
