Just Like Gold Coin.

For more than fifty years has PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER stood the test against all remedies prepared to eradicate pain, and today stands at the head of the list among the medicines that are so essential to keep at hand in the home.

It is not a new fangle remedy nor do the proprietors lay claim to any wonderful revelation of the ingredients that enter into the manufacture of this ever popular remedy.

It is perfectly harmless, you need have no fear of becoming habitually inclined to its use.

For Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, Colds, and all painful affections, a few doses will certainly give relief. You cannot afford to be without a bottle in the house.

Your forefathers used it and found it beneficial.

Why experiment with some remedy that is new and its effect on the system unknown?

It has many rivals but no equal.

The new 35c. size contains over double the quantity of the 25c. size.

WHAT TO WEAR.

Styles to Be Adopted For Spring and Summer Wardrobes.

A perfectly plain decoiletage is seen in some of the newest evening bodices, the edge being finished without a border or even a ribbon band. This style can only be worn, of course, when the neck and shoulders are unusually beautiful. The decoiletage carried straight across the top of the arms is also seen.

Among pretty spring wraps are very short capes having a fancifully cut yoke of silk or velvet embroidered with beads and spangles. A full plaiting of lace or mousseline de sole, with a silk lining, is mounted on the yoke and is prolonged in a slight point in front. The collar is always high and flaring and is lined with lace or ostrich plummage.

Crepe de chine, tulle, gauze and mousseline de sole carry all before them and enjoy unlimited favor. They will be much worn all summer and are certainly capable of most charming developments.

Even in summer travelers always require warm wraps, and the half length capes of soft, thick wool, with capuchons, are exactly what is required. They are so warm as to require no lining, but are yet light in weight. The two sides are entirely different both in color and design, as a rule, and the outside is often of a plain, subdued color, while the inside is of bright plaid. The inside color serves for revers and for the capuchon.

Thin black cloth, richly embroidered, composes entirely new and very fashionable spring jackets of novel cut. The busque is always short and quite flat, ruffles having disappeared from the domain of the reigning mode. A belt is often a feature of the jacket, and a high, flaring collar is inevitable.

The picture given in today's issue shows a new model for a house gown. It is of mauve woollen goods and has a yoke covered with bands of black satin ribbon. The body of the gown fits at the sides, but has a double wateau plait at the back and a stole plait in front outlined with the black ribbon. Four wide tabs of material, bordered with black ribbon, form a berth around the yoke. The loose shawl is gathered into a black satin band at the wrist, from which falls a deep cuff of material edged with ribbon.

THE APPROACH OF SUMMER.

The Prospect of Warm Weather Brings Out a Host of Pretty Things to Wear.

Black and white, always a fashionable and effective combination, appears this spring in a new form, one of the novelties presented as models of future fashions being a half length jacket or coat of white cloth, with revers, cuffs and buttons of black velvet. Such a coat as this could only be adopted by a woman with an extensive wardrobe, as it is too striking to be worn for general service, even were it not easily defaced.

Taffeta blouses are as much worn as ever, but they are not so full and are more variously trimmed. Tiny tucks, bands and ruffles of narrow ribbon, ruffles of tulle or mousseline de sole and even little frills of valenciennes lace are the ornamentation.

Parisian women, who find themselves overwhelmed with social duties, have taken to afternoon teas in self defense, as it is simpler to drive from one house to another before dinner and drink a cup of tea for politeness' sake than it is to go to an equal number of formal balls and receptions after dinner.

Gray cloth, combined with white, composes some charming new toilets, which are often adorned with buttons of rock crystal, a striking novelty.

It has been already mentioned in this column that batistes, lawns and zephyrs embroidered with black dots are a summer novelty. These in straw, sky blue, green, pink or mauve composes exceedingly pretty shirt waists, which are already put upon the market, although it is only as yet for such thin apparel.

A pretty summer gown is shown which is made of ecru linon with green silk stripes, which are arranged horizontally. A blouse of plain ecru linon embroidered with scallops gives a redingote effect to the skirt. The blouse bodice is draped with a flou which is edged by a plaiting of pink mousseline de sole. The belt is of green and pink changeable taffeta, as is the high, soft collar. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Any One Would Do.

Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts tells a good story on himself and President Eliot of Harvard. When Phillips Brooks was elected bishop, President Eliot met Dr. Lawrence, who was then dean of the Episcopal Theological school at Cambridge and said to him: "The church has made the greatest mistake of a lifetime. Brooks was the pivot around which we revolved in Boston. Now you have spread him all over the state. Any one would have done for bishop."

Years after, when Phillips Brooks had gone to his reward and Dean Lawrence had been chosen in his place, he met President Eliot in the street again. The latter was warm in his congratulations. "My dear bishop," he said, "I must congratulate you. The church couldn't have made a better selection. I thought you should have been the choice when Brooks was chosen."
