REGISTERED CHINESE WITHOUT CERTIFICATES

The Documents Await Them at Internal Revenue Office—Between Two and Three Hundred.

An elderly Chinaman has come to town from Kona after his registration certificate. Having come on a boat in his distress, that gentleman conducted only one morning to the office of the collector of internal revenue. George Kim told a district reporter that between two and three hundred Chinese on the different islands who had registered were still without possession of their certificates. An impression was abroad among them that the important documents, assuring them the right of remaining in this territory, would be sent to each registered man by mail.

The number above given was substantiated by the Internal Revenue office. In round numbers there are 250 certificates awaiting delivery to their owners at the office, of which a majority belong to the island of Oahu. There are 67 belonging to Hawaii and 41 to Kauai. Of 21 credited to Maui, eight have gone to China not to return.

Chief Deputy Collector H. D. Couzens said the Kohala man should have received his certificate at home. The certificates had been sent to the deputies on the other islands for distribution and notices sent round the country asking the registered Chinese to call and receive their papers.

It would appear that many neglected to call at the proper time, and the deputies on concluding their engagements returned to the office all certificates not delivered. In the meantime some have shifted from one island to another, a few have died and others gone to China. Then many of those registering ran away with the idea that the identification slip, given them to prove their right to receive the certificates when prepared, was the only thing they required.

Certificates are not delivered by mail, as the Internal Revenue officials will take no chances of having them get into the wrong hands. Neither are they delivered to order or third parties, excepting upon the clearest evidence of good faith.

Deputy W. F. Drake is going to Hawaii next month and will carry with him certificates for Chinese on that island which have not been called for in the meantime at the office.

Ever since registration closed on June 14, all alien Chinese found in the Territory without certificates of registration have been and are liable to deportation. It is therefore important for such to have the little paper handy.

An Interesting Character.

One of the interesting "sunfish" of Honolulu is George Ward a colored man, who has been here ten or fifteen years. He was born at Fort Payne, Delaware, 60 or 70 years ago. Ward fought against the Maoris in New Zealand and formed a high opinion of their valor. "Alabama" Mitchell takes a kindly interest in the venerable dard.

The Cathedral was crowded with the society people of the city. Occupying front seats were Mrs. M. M. Scott, mother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Irwin and Governor and Mrs. Dole.

The bride was given away by her father. The maid-of-honor was Miss Marion Scott, sister of the bride and the best man was Harry Whitney of W. G. Irwin & Co. The bridesmaids were Miss Edith Spaulding and Miss Helene Irwin. The ushers were Messrs. John Tarn McGrew, Spaulding, P. M. Lansdale and George Potter.

Wray Taylor presided at the organ playing the Lohengrin wedding march in the beginning. Schubert's serenade during the ceremony and Mendelssohn's wedding march in conclusion.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. The newly married couple will leave this afternoon for the other side of the island to spend their honeymoon.

ATTACKED A HACKMAN.

Mow San, a reputable Chinese hack driver, has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of a certain white man who lives in one of the boarding houses on Nuuanu street, near Kukui. By means of this man, it is expected that the others will be gathered in by the police. This is the story of the hack driver:

"Four white men took my hack at 7 o'clock Sunday night. I drove them to Waikele and then back to town. At a place near the Orphanum on Fort street one of the men got out but soon returned to the carriage. I then drove the four to a boarding house on Nuuanu street. Two of the men jumped out and were about to disappear, when I leaped upon them. With this they set upon me. They tried to take the reins from me but I had them wrapped about my hands and held on like grim death. I succeeded in getting my horse started and ran away. I only know one of the men and he is a saloon keeper on Nuuanu street."

FEARLESS IN PILIKIA BREACH OF PROMISE

MARINE ENGINEERS MAKE DEMAND ON CAPT. BROKAW

Want Him to Carry Two Engineers—Demand Was Refused and Tie-up Now in Sight.

Captain Brokaw of the tug Fearless was served with a notice this morning by the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, that unless by 6 o'clock this evening, an assistant engineer at a salary of $110 a month was engaged, the engineer now in charge of the vessel would be called off, and no other engineers of the association allowed to work on her. The same notice was sent to the owners of the steamer J. A. Cummings.

Both the Fearless and Cummings are being run under special licenses which demand that they have but one engineer. This has been complied with and the engineers are being paid the regular schedule rate of $150 per month.

The action of the Engineers' Association is liable to cause a tie-up of the Fearless and other steamers unless the demand made is complied with and Captain Brokaw will lay the Fearless up rather than accede to the demand, which, under the vessel's license, he claims to be unjust. From the engineers' standpoint it is claimed that as all the other island steamers must have a first and second engineer the Cummings and Fearless must also carry the same complement. Under the harbor license of the Fearless she can not be compelled by law to carry more than one engineer and while the demands of the association have been met by both the steamer companies the tug and Cummings are holding out.

The tying up of the Fearless will mean a great hardship to shippers here, as there is no other vessel available for the purpose of towing or in case of the need of a fire boat. The Elva on account of a cracked shaft cannot tow cargo vessels and is not fitted with fire pumps.

WOMAN ASKS JURY FOR $5000 DAMAGES

Second Jury on Ejectment Case in Two Weeks is Dismissed Without Having Rendered Verdict.

Judge Gear is hearing the trespass case of Asia Brown vs. Andrew Bannister, on trial by the following jury: Edward Montgomery, E. Bufandean, Frederick Angus, Jas. H. Shaw, Ed. J. Crawford, W. G. Ashby, Geo. R. Rosette, W. B. Jones, Harry Z. Austin, Jas. D. Cockett, Wm. H. Holokahiki and Edward Dekum. Andrews, Peters & Andrews for plaintiff; J. T. DeHolt for defendant. The plaintiff claims $5000 damages of defendant for breach of promise of marriage after the two had lived together from March 7, 1897, to September 25, 1899, two children having been born to them prior to the beginning of this suit.

On cross-examination the plaintiff admitted having lived with and borne children to Eugene Devauchede prior to being taken up by Bannister, and before that again having been the mistress of one "Charlie," a white man. She averred that she had gone to live with Bannister and stayed with him solely on the consideration offered by him of legal marriage.

Judge Little this morning threw out of court the ejectment case of Bishop, Robert, trustee, vs. Solomon Kanihi and others. He denied the motion of plaintiff to admit new evidence and granted the motion of defendants for a non-suit. The jury was dismissed. An appeal from both rulings was not by the plaintiff. J. McCants Stewart and Mazon & Thompson for plaintiff; Kinney, Hailon & McClanahan and Holmes & Stanley for defendants. This case has been twice begun, two juries having been empanelled within two weeks. In the first instance a verdict was entered because the term was likely to end before the trial. The greater part of a week has been consumed in the second attempt, ending in a non-suit.

BIAS OF THE ADVERTISER

The Advertiser comes out this morning with a most cumbersome attempt at discrediting the story of the Bulletin regarding the senior barge race between the Myrtle and Healanis last Saturday. The story reads of smells familiar to the paper mentioned. It criticizes the statement made by the Bulletin that it is the opinion of those most interested that there will be no hesitancy on the part of the boat clubs about rowing the race over again on Saturday.

An usual, the Advertiser lists to the voice of a part of a whole—the captain of the Myrtle crew—and makes no attempt to inquire into the sentiments of the crew that rowed against the Healanis.

Again, it absolutely ignores the decision of the judges that the answers of the two crews must be handed in on Wednesday and the fact that anything given out by any member or members of either crew before that time, is unofficial. It takes the word of Harris, previous to the time set for the official announcement, as settling the whole matter and disregards the fact that "there are others."

Good sportsmen of the city want the senior barge race rowed over again. In no other way will they be satisfied.

There are five persons interested in this deal each putting up $2000. They do not care at present to make known their identity for reasons best known to themselves.

NOT A FIGHTER.

In the Police Court this forenoon, Muniz, a Portuguese, was fined $25 and costs on the charge of assault and battery on John Welsh, a soldier. The affair took place in Kakaako on the 14th inst. The two patrolmen who saw the trouble stated that Muniz struck Welsh in the mouth without warning, and when the soldier was leaning against a telephone post, to do no harm to anybody. Muniz said Welsh had made a motion toward his pocket and that it was then he struck the blow.

In sentencing Muniz, Judge Wilcox remarked that he did not believe him much of a fighter. His ears were not close enough to his head.

THE BRYANT WINS AGAIN

Judge Estee, in the United States District Court this morning, dismissed the libel in admiralty of Pearson & Potter vs. Jack C. D. Bryant. The claim was for $1000 on account of merchandise lost by fire on board the defendant vessel. It had been stipulated by the attorneys on both sides that the evidence in McNerny's suit against the same vessel be used, with the addition of Captain Colly's deposition taken by commission. Upon such testimony the libel was dismissed without prejudice to other proceedings.

Judge Estee heard argument in the case of John H. Brown vs. T. F. Davidson and others, the plumbing trust case, on the motion to strike out certain defendants on the ground of no service. The matter was taken under advisement.
