

MORE "WANT ADS" IN THE EVENING BULLETIN
EVENING BULLETIN

THAN ALL OTHER HONOLULU PUBLICATIONS TOGETHER.

AIDS TO ADVERTISING

A polite clerk is an effective aid to your advertising, but a sour one will kill the best advertisement in the world.

VOL. XI. No. 1013.

HONOLULU, TERRITORY OF HAWAII, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1901.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

RAMER TABLE.

Table with 2 columns: Name, Date. Includes S. F., Dec. 10, and other names.

RECESS DECLARED FOR SIXTY DAYS

Action of Fire Claims Commission Taken Yesterday.

TIME WILL BE IMPROVED BY REGISTERING AWARDS

Hearing of Remaining 1800 Claims Next Week--About Half the Claims Already Adjudicated.

At an executive session of the Fire Claims Commission yesterday it was decided to take a recess of sixty days from Saturday next.

Fred W. Macfarlane, chairman of the Commission, is going to the Coast in the steamer Sonoma, due to sail next Tuesday. In his absence, for the rest of the week, A. N. Kepoikai will preside over hearings of claims.

There is in reality going to be no delaying of the work of the Commission through the recess of sixty days, as will be clearly perceived from a view of the facts. On the contrary, the business is likely to be expedited besides a considerable degree of economy effected.

With the close of yesterday's session there remained about 1800 claims to be heard. It was calculated that these should all be overtaken by next Saturday. At the same time, there have been from 2400 to 3500 claims adjudicated--that is, the awards made. This is about one-half of the total number of claims filed.

According to the law creating the court, an award is not complete until it has been entered on the great register prescribed. The entering up of awards involves no small amount of clerical labor, an every particular and each stage of procedure a claim must be set forth. It was estimated at the executive session that this process would take the clerk and an assistant at least two months. Stated otherwise, the Commission is ahead of its work by the number of claims adjudicated, for no claims can be paid before being registered as described.

While the clerk and his assistant are performing the registration of awards during the recess, their salaries will form the entire expenses of the Commission for the time being. Neither the Commissioners, the Government counsel, the stenographer, bailiff nor janitor will draw any pay for that period of sixty days. Yet the potent work of the Commission will be advanced to the extent of perfecting the awards already made. Thus economy will be subserved.

NEGRO HIGHWAYMAN.

It was at about 1:30 o'clock this morning that a Chinaman, the driver of Hack 270, called at the police station and laid in a complaint that he had been robbed of $23.75 and several small articles which were in his pockets.

He made the statement that, at about midnight, two negroes hired his hack. He picked them up at the corner of Bethel and Hotel streets and the men told him to drive out to Lunaliho Home. Upon arrival at a dark spot near that place, the negroes drew revolvers, made him get out of the hack and robbed him.

He refused at first to be searched but the negroes threatened to kill him. One of the number pulled him in the shoulder with his revolver, drawing blood.

The police are out after the two men but have not got on the track of them yet.

Dr. Eliza M. Mosher, dean of the women's department and professor of hygiene at the University of Michigan, said in her address to the State Federation of Women's Clubs at its recent meeting in Ann Arbor: "I believe co-education is one of the best means of preparing young men and women to be comrades in married life." There are 719 young women now studying at Michigan University and several thousand young men.

A BUNGALOW . . . COTTAGE

Well located at Makiki. Conveniently arranged, and containing six rooms, Laid dining room and upstairs mosquito proof. One of the neatest little homes in the city.

$3000 will buy it, only one-sixth of which need be cash.

Let us show you this property.

Geo. B. McMillan & Co.
REAL ESTATE - INSURANCE - INVESTMENTS.

SOUGHT VAGS AND GOT SPARROWS ONLY

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth and a number of special officers returned early this morning from a trip out around Diamond Head in search of some cave dwellers reported by people of the vicinity. They were empty handed and all they got for their pains was in the case of each, a mass of achting bones. Mr. Chillingworth tells the following story:

"We thought that we might get on the track of some vagrants out there but we were mistaken. We found the cave that was supposed to be the haunt of a party of men of ruffianly appearance. We entered it carefully, all prepared for a struggle. Suddenly one of my officers made an exclamation. He had been hit in the face by a sparrow, frightened from its roosting place. It was not long before all of us were exclaiming for the sparrows came out in a perfect swarm."

CHINAMAN CUTS HIS THROAT WITH KNIFE

At about 12 noon today, Yong Ning, a despondent Chinese tailor, cut his throat with deadly intention. He went into the water closet in the rear of his shop on Nuuanu street, near Love's bakery, and there committed the rash deed. He was soon discovered by people about the place and police headquarters were communicated with. The Chinaman was not yet dead when found and he was removed to the Queen's Hospital where he succumbed after about a half hour.

The Chinaman used a common bone handled knife to do the deed but it was sharpened until it had an edge like a razor. The throat of the suicide was cut from ear to ear.

Deceased left a note written in Chinese. In this, he stated that he had a lot of money troubles and that everybody was down on him. Under the circumstances, he considered it would be best for him to die and get away from it all.

It is probable that a Coroner's inquest will be held to investigate into the matter.

LAST GAME TODAY

The series of intercollegiate football games comes to an end today in the contest between the Artillery and Honolulu Athletic Club teams on the campus at Onohu College, beginning at 3:30 o'clock. Following is the personnel of the teams:

H. A. C.--Cunha, center; H. Cockett, right guard; L. Cockett, left guard; C. F. Chillingworth, right tackle; Barney Joy, left tackle; Murray, right end; Barry, left end; Thompson, quarter; Gleason, right half-back; Long, left half-back; and Blaisdell, full-back.

Artillery--Comiskey, center; Pliny, right guard; High, left guard; Voszallas, right tackle; High, left tackle; Burbank, right end; Prints, left end; Smith, quarter; Bennett, right half-back; Hoctor, left half-back; Brickley, full-back.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

The first league match of the Association football season takes place at Makiki this afternoon, the kick-off to be at 4:15 o'clock. The following teams will play:

Wanderers--Goal, W. Notley; full backs, W. Wright and Jas. Williams; half backs, Simpson, Stokes and Cockburn; forwards, Jamieson, Blackman, Catton (captain), Osborne and Aylett.

Malle Hlmas--Goal, Clement; full backs, R. Anderson and J. C. McGill; half backs, J. Anderson, J. Craik and J. Brown; forwards, Munro, Cumming, Boyle, Bolster and Len Qui.

SHERIFF OFFERS REWARD.

High Sheriff Brown has offered a reward of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of the murder of Herman Lubek in Honolulu, Friday night, November 29, 1901. The police have done their best to bring the guilty party or parties to justice but have failed to get any clue whatever. A reward is now to be tried. It may serve to open the mouths of some who have been, it is understood, very close mouthed up to the present time.

George McCarthy, the driver of Engine No. 1, who found himself, his engine and his horses piled up on the sidewalk outside Central Union church the other night, is not to be dismissed. Chief Thurston said yesterday that the accident was caused by a refusal of the lines to work through some hitch in the harnessing. He states further that McCarthy has been with the department several months, has driven to many fires and has always proved a most efficient man in his capacity as driver. The accident was not due to any fault on his part.

A PROMISING FAIR AT ST. CLEMENT'S

Rectory in Gala Attire For To-day's Big Event.

"YE OLDE CURIOSITIE SHOPPE" AN ATTRACTION

Candy and Refreshment Tables Will Furnish Many a Delicious Morsel --Fancy Table Another Feature.

The St. Clement's chapel fair begins at 2 o'clock this afternoon and ends at 10 o'clock tonight. Take the Rapid Transit cars and get off at Makiki street where a long string of flags will show you the remainder of the way to the grounds of the parsonage. By all means go for the ladies will have things to sell and to show that have never been equalled in Honolulu before. The band is to play during the afternoon and the members of the Woman's Guild will aid in making everything pleasant for everybody.

The parsonage will be a scene of beauty this afternoon. Situated as it is in a secluded spot, with trees, shrubs, vines and ferns on every hand, it is just the place where a person can sit and enjoy a pleasant afternoon or evening. Shady nooks are on every hand and of cool, inviting spots there are many.

The first thing that strikes a person on entering the grounds of the parsonage is the display of flags of all nations which begin at the gate and are carried by means of ropes to the parsonage proper. A very large French flag is displayed on the front lawn.

Underneath the place where this array of flags ends, is a tent where candy will be sold. This, at the time of the visit of the Bulletin reporter to the place, was being decorated in orange, with a liberal sprinkling of maiden hair ferns. Fair hands will parcel out sweetmeats to the buyers.

The largest table is the one where the fancy articles will be sold. This is situated under the trees and vines on the mauka side of the house and in close conjunction therewith. The decorations of this table are in red, maiden hair ferns and other graceful greens will play a prominent part in the scheme of decoration.

The refreshment table will be on the lanai proper. The decorations will be in red, white and blue and the ladies in attendance will be dressed in the same colors.

The fish pond will delight the children. It is out on the lawn where, when the children have fished up their prizes from the bottom of a mysterious box, they may go out and play to their heart's content.

The most interesting thing about the room just off from the drawing room. Above the door will be seen the words "Ye Olde Curiositie Shoppe," and inside the room will be found a cream of old relics and curiosities loaned by people of the city who have been anxious that the fair shall prove a success. The admission will be twenty-five cents but, in the opinion of those who have seen the curiosities, twice that amount should be charged.

One of the curiosities that comes in a tapestry of Rubens, loaned by E. A. P. Newcomb, the architect. It was bought for the old Deacon House, Boston, from the Chateau Montpensier, France. This with other tapestries of Rubens, was hung in the streets of Antwerp when Marie de Medici visited Charles V.

One of the most interesting articles closer home is an old silk dress which was worn by the great grandmother of Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, Mrs. Col. George Hale, of Glastonbury, Conn., in 1783, when she was eighteen years of age.

Still another interesting article is a poisoned ring of ancient fame. On the inside of the inoffensive circle of gold is an opening supposed to contain an instantaneous poison. By pressing the hand of an enemy, the poison entered the system and death occurred at once. The ring belonged to Colonas and was loaned by Mrs. A. G. Hawes.

Side by side with this ring is a snake necklace over 150 years old. A deadly poison was supposed to be secreted in the pendant for the purpose of doing away with enemies in a quiet manner. The necklace was in the Carlton family of England for many years. It was loaned by Mrs. A. G. Hawes.

King Kalakaua knew the weaknesses of his countrymen so well that he had a board and a society whose duties were to lay the ghost of all genealogies--and it was then a leading aspirant to chiefly rank whose claims were based on a borrowed pedigree.

Judge Fornander's "Polynesian Races" are no doubt responsible for a great deal of the ghostly eruptions of pedigrees, and perhaps for a few people know that it was this troublesome pedigree question which caused the suppression of the fourth volume of the learned Judge's valuable and interesting work. READER: Honolulu, December 7, 1901.

M.P.D.

The Merchants' Parcel Delivery COMPANY. Delivers packages to any part of the city for 10c up wards. Try them. Phone Blue 821. Packages shipped to all parts of the United States and Europe. Office, 1047 Bethel St. opposite Honolulu Market.

A Persian embroidery possibly 200 years old, is displayed in a prominent place. Such work is no longer done. This piece of embroidery was loaned by W. R. Castle, Jr.

A piece of a silk dress, worn by Marie Antoinette, was loaned by Mrs. Wallbridge. The pattern of embroidery is still as bright and pretty as it was when it adorned the person of the French Queen.

There are many other rare bits on show. In all, there must be at least a hundred and fifty articles, comprising lace, shawls of ancient manufacture, bric-a-brac, brasses, china, paper and metal currency of different countries, miniatures, silver, medals and many other things too numerous to mention.

NEW EATING PLACE PALACE GRILL OPENS WITH DINNER TODAY

Started by Dick Daly in Waverly Block--Everything First-Class and Prices to Suit the Times.

Lately Town Talk of San Francisco, in its Honolulu gossip, announced that a swell French restaurant was to be opened in Bethel street. The whole secret, if it ever was such, came out this morning and the complete revelation will make its advent at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

"The Pacific Grill," done in the highest type of the sign writer's art with gold and rainbow pigments, appears on the windows of a store in the Waverly block. Dick Daly, whose reputation as a caterer stands below none, is to be seen inside calmly but energetically supervising preparations for the opening of this new place of refreshment whereof he is the proprietor.

All of the appointments are most attractive. The floor is covered with new linoleum. There are four private stalls, each containing a table to accommodate six persons with ease and four more on a piazza. Eight tables of the same size are set in the open. Fine linen and silver spoons and cutlery afford a recherche aspect to the settings. Mr. Daly has a knife cleaning machine that will keep the implements always bright.

There is a huge range installed, supplied with capacious coppers equal to any demand.

Mr. Lambert, lately of the Hawaiian hotel, is chef of the Palace, and the night cook is from Delmonico's, New York, having arrived in the last steamer.

Mr. Daly will serve none but the best meats, fish and game on the market. Saddle Rock oysters will be served but only from the shell. No canned goods will be handled.

The Palace Grill will open with dinner at 5 o'clock this afternoon, never to close day or night. "Everything first-class and prices to suit the times," is the motto Mr. Daly has adopted for the establishment.

SUGGESTION TO GENEOLOGISTS

Editor Evening Bulletin: Since some of our townspeople are rushing strings in print for the doubtful glory of parading a rather formidable family tree, I would like to suggest that the biography of those formidable personages be also published. It would be worth the while remembering the name of Kalanimoekewaikali, for instance, if this gentleman proves to be the hero who slew the tyrant Hoanui in the island of Lanai, or if he was the historic battler of Kipapa. Ewa, if Kapohanaaupuni, for instance, proves to be the celebrated ancient astronomer who discovered and reported the fall of a great meteor on the island of Lanai, or if he was the same person who advanced the theory that a slice of the new moon was sweeter than a piece of cooked pork.

Now the New England Yankee does the genealogy business with a more method in his madness. When a man were to lay the ghost of all genealogies, he has been acting as a galloper, financier, or as a merchant, the Smith, Jones, or Winthrop genealogies adds his name and biography to the family history, which is readily sold to members of the clan at $10 a volume. The effect New Englander glories in his family tree just as the aristocrat glories in pedigrees with jaw-breaking names.

King Kalakaua knew the weaknesses of his countrymen so well that he had a board and a society whose duties were to lay the ghost of all genealogies--and it was then a leading aspirant to chiefly rank whose claims were based on a borrowed pedigree.

Judge Fornander's "Polynesian Races" are no doubt responsible for a great deal of the ghostly eruptions of pedigrees, and perhaps for a few people know that it was this troublesome pedigree question which caused the suppression of the fourth volume of the learned Judge's valuable and interesting work. READER: Honolulu, December 7, 1901.

Miss Rosalie Loew has been appointed for the New York Legal Aid Society, which recovers wages wrongfully withheld from poor people, especially foreigners. Miss Loew is a remarkably able young lawyer, a Jewess, with a wide knowledge of languages. She has been acting as a galloper, financier, or as a merchant, the Smith, Jones, or Winthrop genealogies adds his name and biography to the family history, which is readily sold to members of the clan at $10 a volume. The effect New Englander glories in his family tree just as the aristocrat glories in pedigrees with jaw-breaking names.

King Kalakaua knew the weaknesses of his countrymen so well that he had a board and a society whose duties were to lay the ghost of all genealogies--and it was then a leading aspirant to chiefly rank whose claims were based on a borrowed pedigree.

Judge Fornander's "Polynesian Races" are no doubt responsible for a great deal of the ghostly eruptions of pedigrees, and perhaps for a few people know that it was this troublesome pedigree question which caused the suppression of the fourth volume of the learned Judge's valuable and interesting work. READER: Honolulu, December 7, 1901.

Miss Rosalie Loew has been appointed for the New York Legal Aid Society, which recovers wages wrongfully withheld from poor people, especially foreigners. Miss Loew is a remarkably able young lawyer, a Jewess, with a wide knowledge of languages. She has been acting as a galloper, financier, or as a merchant, the Smith, Jones, or Winthrop genealogies adds his name and biography to the family history, which is readily sold to members of the clan at $10 a volume. The effect New Englander glories in his family tree just as the aristocrat glories in pedigrees with jaw-breaking names.

APPEAL AGAINST MONEY AWARDS

Coffee Planting Lawsuit Between Hackfelds and Grossmans.

LIEN UPON REMISES OWNED IN DENMARK

Two Plumbing Firms Seeking Pay of Bills--Many New Appeal Cases --- The Divorce Calendar.

Russell & Watson for defendants have given notice of appeal from the Circuit Court's decree in the case of Adelaide Schillef and husband vs. Joseph Clark and others, specifically from those portions awarding a commissioner a fee of $500 and allowing Will E. Fisher $1148.20 for his services as auctioneer.

F. Wundenberg, trustee for the W. H. Cummings heirs, has taken an appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision of Judge Humphreys sustaining the demurrer of George Markham and dismissing the appellant's complaint.

Gehring & Butzke have appealed from Second District Magistrate Lyle A. Dickey's judgment of nonsuit with costs of $11.59 against them in their suit to recover $76.87 from Choe Wo for plumbing work and materials.

The W. J. England Plumbing Company has brought notice of claim of mechanics and materialmen's lien against M. W. McChesney & Sons for $168 contract price of plumbing labor and materials. It is mentioned that the premises involved are held by the McChesney firm under lease from the heirs of L. H. Anthon, all residents of Copenhagen, Denmark.

Vincent Fernandez has appealed from judgment by District Magistrate Dickey against him and in favor of C. C. Billing for $25.80 on a promissory note.

Adachi's trial for selling liquor without a license yesterday resulted in a verdict of guilty and a fine of $250.

Sylvano de Nobrega has filed a bond with M. A. Goncalves as surety on his appeal from Judge Gear's decision of $19,000 alimony against him. Judge Humphreys was hearing the divorce calendar this morning.

The Supreme Court this forenoon was hearing the controversy relative to coffee planting at Oha between H. Hackfeld & Co. and Grossman Bros. There was a contract in which the Hackfelds were to advance money to the Grossmans. When $17,000 had been thus paid out, H. Hackfeld & Co. stopped the expenditure on account of the unprofitableness of the enterprise.

BOSTON CONCERT COMPANY.

Music-loving people of Honolulu will have only two opportunities to hear the Boston Concert Company, namely, on Saturday evening of next week and Monday evening of next week. They leave on the Sierra for Auckland, New Zealand, on Wednesday, to fill their engagements there. After filling this engagement in New Zealand and Australia they leave for Calcutta, Manila, China and Japan.

From the large sale of season tickets as well as single tickets, they are assured of two large audiences. These two concerts will be the musical events of the season. Admission $1.50, $1 and 75 cents. Reserved seats on sale at Wall, Nichols Company.

Ventura, a Porto Rican, appeared in the Police Court this forenoon on the charge of vagrancy. As in a number of cases recently, the young man stated that he had been working. On this showing, the case was continued until Monday next.

Up to the time of going to press, there were no signs of the transport Egbert, expected today from the Coast. She will probably be in Sunday morning.

The Kinau was telephoned 20 miles off Diamond Head at about 12:10 p. m.

Postage on the Bulletin's special industrial edition is three cents to all parts of the States.

That the children of the Duchess of Albany may some time come into royal courts no one who knows the diplomacy of England doubts. If the Duchess marries Lord Rosebery and receives a share of the immense fortune which his lordship holds by his own right, the children of the Duchess will rank among the most eligible of the old country. As grandchildren of Queen Victoria they have blood, and as the children of their stepfather, they will have money. The two will carry them into royal courts.

Mrs. Sarah Bernhardt, it must be explained, goes to her romantic castle to escape civilization. She only sees two or three intimate friends there, and spends her time yachting, boating, fishing and, generally speaking, lives as much on or in the sea as possible. One of her pet hobbies is collecting curious marine plants. Of these she has some remarkable specimens, which she has used as motives for decoration in leather and metal work. This year Madame Sarah Bernhardt went in for yachting a great deal.

FOUR PORTUGUESE ASSAULTED OLD MAN

P. Machado, M. S. Pedro, J. Machado and Manuel Silva appeared in the Police Court this forenoon on the charge of malicious injury. J. M. Vivas appeared for the prosecution and L. M. Straus for the defense. The charge of malicious injury was dropped and that of assault and battery of Respino da Camara substituted. A plea of guilty was entered.

Mr. Vivas stated that on Sunday night last the four young men went to da Camara's house and peiled it with stones because Camara's daughter, a pretty young lady, had refused to accept the attentions of one of the Machado boys. Some of the missiles had struck the old man, and the men then, after having finished the peiling, went into the house and attacked the old man. It became necessary for the neighbors to interfere, and a watch on the house throughout the night was kept.

On being asked what penalty he would propose, Mr. Vivas said the case was not a very serious one, in that the old man was not hurt. Evidently the young men had been drinking a little too freely. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Had the regular prosecuting officer been in charge of the case, there is no doubt whatever that it would have been pushed for all there was in it. The offense was indeed very serious in that the four men invaded the privacy of a home in a most ruffianly manner. The cause of the whole trouble was jealousy. Miss da Camara had looked favorably on another young man, who was in the house at the time the bombardment took place.

On being asked what penalty he would propose, Mr. Vivas said the case was not a very serious one, in that the old man was not hurt. Evidently the young men had been drinking a little too freely. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Had the regular prosecuting officer been in charge of the case, there is no doubt whatever that it would have been pushed for all there was in it. The offense was indeed very serious in that the four men invaded the privacy of a home in a most ruffianly manner. The cause of the whole trouble was jealousy. Miss da Camara had looked favorably on another young man, who was in the house at the time the bombardment took place.

On being asked what penalty he would propose, Mr. Vivas said the case was not a very serious one, in that the old man was not hurt. Evidently the young men had been drinking a little too freely. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Had the regular prosecuting officer been in charge of the case, there is no doubt whatever that it would have been pushed for all there was in it. The offense was indeed very serious in that the four men invaded the privacy of a home in a most ruffianly manner. The cause of the whole trouble was jealousy. Miss da Camara had looked favorably on another young man, who was in the house at the time the bombardment took place.

On being asked what penalty he would propose, Mr. Vivas said the case was not a very serious one, in that the old man was not hurt. Evidently the young men had been drinking a little too freely. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Had the regular prosecuting officer been in charge of the case, there is no doubt whatever that it would have been pushed for all there was in it. The offense was indeed very serious in that the four men invaded the privacy of a home in a most ruffianly manner. The cause of the whole trouble was jealousy. Miss da Camara had looked favorably on another young man, who was in the house at the time the bombardment took place.

On being asked what penalty he would propose, Mr. Vivas said the case was not a very serious one, in that the old man was not hurt. Evidently the young men had been drinking a little too freely. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Had the regular prosecuting officer been in charge of the case, there is no doubt whatever that it would have been pushed for all there was in it. The offense was indeed very serious in that the four men invaded the privacy of a home in a most ruffianly manner. The cause of the whole trouble was jealousy. Miss da Camara had looked favorably on another young man, who was in the house at the time the bombardment took place.

On being asked what penalty he would propose, Mr. Vivas said the case was not a very serious one, in that the old man was not hurt. Evidently the young men had been drinking a little too freely. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Had the regular prosecuting officer been in charge of the case, there is no doubt whatever that it would have been pushed for all there was in it. The offense was indeed very serious in that the four men invaded the privacy of a home in a most ruffianly manner. The cause of the whole trouble was jealousy. Miss da Camara had looked favorably on another young man, who was in the house at the time the bombardment took place.

On being asked what penalty he would propose, Mr. Vivas said the case was not a very serious one, in that the old man was not hurt. Evidently the young men had been drinking a little too freely. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Had the regular prosecuting officer been in charge of the case, there is no doubt whatever that it would have been pushed for all there was in it. The offense was indeed very serious in that the four men invaded the privacy of a home in a most ruffianly manner. The cause of the whole trouble was jealousy. Miss da Camara had looked favorably on another young man, who was in the house at the time the bombardment took place.

On being asked what penalty he would propose, Mr. Vivas said the case was not a very serious one, in that the old man was not hurt. Evidently the young men had been drinking a little too freely. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Had the regular prosecuting officer been in charge of the case, there is no doubt whatever that it would have been pushed for all there was in it. The offense was indeed very serious in that the four men invaded the privacy of a home in a most ruffianly manner. The cause of the whole trouble was jealousy. Miss da Camara had looked favorably on another young man, who was in the house at the time the bombardment took place.

On being asked what penalty he would propose, Mr. Vivas said the case was not a very serious one, in that the old man was not hurt. Evidently the young men had been drinking a little too freely. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

Had the regular prosecuting officer been in charge of the case, there is no doubt whatever that it would have been pushed for all there was in it. The offense was indeed very serious in that the four men invaded the privacy of a home in a most ruffianly manner. The cause of the whole trouble was jealousy. Miss da Camara had looked favorably on another young man, who was in the house at the time the bombardment took place.

A GRUESOME FIND OUT KAKAOKO WAY

Six or Seven Months Old Foetus Buried in Sand.

DISCOVERY MADE BY SOME PORTUGUESE BOYS

Captain Parker Visits Scene and Removes Body to Morgue.--Crime is Suspected By Police.

A six or seven-month foetus was found at Kakaoko this morning. It is now at the morgue in the cottage on the grounds of the Judiciary building, where it was removed by Senior Captain Robert Parker. The police are investigating, but at present there have been no clues.

The body was discovered by a number of Portuguese boys who, by way of spending their Saturday, had started out just at the break of day to hunt the small crabs that are known to the Hawaiians as aliamini. They walked along the beach in the vicinity of the sewer outfall and then proceeded in the direction of Kalia.

Upon arriving at a position just below the Hospital for incurables, they spied a favorable spot and, going down on all fours, started in to dig at the holes into which the crabs were supposed to have gone.

It was not long before one of the boys gave a scream of terror and, jumping away from the hole he had just been digging, he called his companions to his side. He had come across what he believed to be the claws of a good-sized crab and, making a grab, had pulled at the protruding object. He was horrified to find disclosed a small human arm.

The boys notified people in the neighborhood and the body of a six or seven-month foetus was disclosed. Someone ran over to the offices of the Union Food Company and Frank Vida telephoned to the police station. Captain Parker was at once despatched to the scene. Securing a bag, he placed the body in it and then took it to the morgue.

That some foul deed was done during the darkness of the night seems to be the theory of the police. Captain Parker, when seen by a Bulletin reporter this morning had the following to say:

"The foetus was not buried very deep in the sand and there was every evidence that the person or persons who did the job were in a great hurry. On top of the grave was a big coral rock and this strengthens my opinion that the baby was not dead when it was hurriedly deposited in the sand. Again, the whole appearance of the body would lead one, at a casual glance to the same belief. There are blood clots under the skin and the position of the body would indicate that the poor little thing writhed while in the grave."

Captain Parker says the child is undoubtedly of white parentage.

Murphy Club.