WEDNESDAY, JULY 26, 1902

The statement made by the First National Bank showing its condition during these hard times, should be a source of confidence in the future of the Territory and gratifying to stockholders and the community at large. When the youngest financial institution of the country can show such good results, it is at once complimentary to the capacity of the management and strengthens the financial standing of all Hawaii's business interests.

MR. LAUKA'S VIEWS.

The manifesto issued by Curtis P. Lauka on the question of county and municipal government comes as a surprise to this paper. The Bulletin has never doubted the position of Mr. Lauka, but from the tenor of his statements it would appear that he has found a strong opposition to a positive local government plank in the party platform.

Expressions by the Republican organization, Chairman Robertson, and citizens who two years ago were opposed to the municipal government program have led this paper to the conclusion that the party mind was practically made up as to the decisive character of the municipal plank; that factional division on this line was an exception; that the party was a unit for the enactment of municipal legislation by a Republican Legislature.

Mr. Lauka is one of the solid men of the Territory. He is a staunch party man, deeply interested in the welfare of the Territory and free from class or race prejudice. He does not play politics for personal gain, hence is free from the possible charge of ulterior motives. As a Hawaiian-American universally respected he is in a position to see clearly and carefully judge the temper of the electorate. His conclusions carry weight.

Lauka's intimation that a conspiracy is on foot to place the party in an evasive attitude toward the main issue of the campaign will cause sincere regret in the mind of every loyal party man who has come to feel that sharp differences within the party had been wiped out and the leaders and rank and file were forging ahead with the determination to put factionalism aside, meet the issues of the hour frankly and make the best of the splendid opportunity at hand for making the Republican party the majority party of this Territory. As Mr. Lauka says a defeat this year will be a disaster. A vacillatory declaration on municipal government would alienate votes of Republicans and almost guarantee another Home Rule Legislature and a Home Rule Delegate.

The Bulletin believes with Mr. Lauka, Chairman Robertson and the present party organization that county and municipal government is an issue on which the election must be fought; that the declarations in the primaries, the conventions, the platform and on the stump must be clear cut and ring true. The idea of going into the campaign merely attacking Wilcox and the Home Rule party, without proposing a more definite program than the general promise to assure better government, is sadly erroneous. If there are gentlemen contemplating a sacrifice of the local government plank in the Republican platform, it is to be hoped they will study well the attitude of the electorate before making a campaign within the party which has every promise of sending the party to defeat.

OELRICHS-MARTIN

Newport, R. I., July 24.—Miss Lily Oelrichs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs of New York, and Peter Donahue Martin of San Francisco were married here today in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, which was crowded with the fashion and wealth of the Newport summer colony. The guests represented the families prominent socially and financially in this country, many having come from California to be present at the wedding.

The service was simple, the nuptial mass being omitted by special dispensation.

BISHOP OF MANILA

Rome, July 22.—Besides an apostolic delegate for the Philippine Islands, the Vatican is preparing to appoint an Archbishop of Manila, who probably will be Bishop Sebastian Gebhard Measner (a Swiss). Bishop of Green Bay, Wis., since 1892. Three new Philippine dioceses will also be created. Governor Taft expressed a desire that the Bishop of one of the new dioceses be a native Filipino.

The coroner's jury in the case of the remains found in the crate of Diamond Head the other day, and supposed to be those of Hornet, will sit some time this afternoon.

BURTON OF KANSAS ANXIOUS TO COME

[From the New York Sun.]

Washington, July 22.—In the dying hours of the late session of Congress, when minor legislation was not enacted with too much care, a resolution was introduced in the Senate and passed by that body authorizing the appointment of a sub-committee of the Committee on Pacific Islands to visit Hawaii, between now and next December, for the purpose of investigating industrial and commercial conditions there. The resolution was introduced by Senator Mitchell of Oregon, at the request of Senator Burton of Kansas. Mr. Mitchell said he was not interested in it, but was willing to accommodate Mr. Burton. The Kansas Senator said he did not wish to introduce the resolution because he expected to ask for appointment on the sub-committee, and he thought that the thing would be too patent if he should propose a junket for himself.

After the passage of the resolution, President pro tem Frye, named these members for the Hawaiian junket: Mitchell of Oregon, Foster of Washington, Burton of Kansas, Cockrell of Missouri and Blackburn of Kentucky. Since the adjournment of Congress at least two of the five members have said that they do not wish to make the trip, and two others are indifferent. Senator Mitchell says he would not have introduced the resolution if he had known his appointment would follow, and he has almost refused to go. Senator Foster, chairman of the full Committee on Pacific Islands, insisted, however, that since Mr. Mitchell was the nominal author of the resolution he must be appointed on the sub-committee. Senator Cockrell refuses flatly to make the trip. Senator Foster wants to stay at home and Senator Blackburn is indifferent. Senator Burton has led his colleagues to believe that he will go, even if he has to go alone. The expenses of the trip will be paid out of the contingent fund of the Senate.

STRONG RUNS OFF WITH YOHE'S JEWELS

It is believed he lost the money in Wall Street and at the race tracks. Young Strong has been seen at the races very much of late. At the suburban he had Miss Yohe with him. He bet heavily that day and lost a big roll. He had a habit of taking $1200 with him each day and betting $200 on each race.

Today Miss Yohe sent a cabdriver to the man with whom she pawned many of her jewels in Yokohama last year, saying that she would be in that city just as soon as the next steamer would bring her there. Emanuel Friend, the woman's lawyer, stated that there was no arrangement for Strong and Miss Yohe to meet again at the other side of the world.

The negotiations with the Strong family were carried on with secrecy. At 4:30 o'clock Mr. Friend, who had been in communication with Hedges earlier in the day, drove to the latter's office with Miss Yohe. Hedges there said he was authorized by the Strong family to make a settlement, in return for which Miss Yohe must agree to drop all charges against Strong. Miss Yohe was asked to state carefully the value of the property illegally taken from her by Strong. At first the woman said that she thought the jewelry Strong had taken from the safe deposit vault was worth $300,000. Hedges declined to figure on that basis. Then Miss Yohe said that it was worth $150,000 anyway, and a settlement was then reached.

Whatever the terms of settlement were, they were evidently very satisfactory to Miss Yohe and her lawyer. They came out of Hedges' office jubilant. Miss Yohe's face was wreathed in smiles and she kept patting lawyer Friend on the back.

A detective went with Miss Yohe to the pawnbroker's shop. Miss Yohe strode into the store, and tossing a bundle of pawn tickets down on the counter, said: "I want the diamonds these call for."

It took four clerks almost half an hour to get the stuff together, but it was finally bundled up and turned over to the woman. Miss Yohe and Friend paid the pawnbroker an amount said to be $7500. Immediately on leaving the pawnbroker's Miss Yohe, with Friend and the detective, drove to the Sturtevant House, where they went into a cafe and ordered Scotch high balls.

The belief that Strong has started for Yokohama is based on a talk a friend had with him one day last week in the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Strong said then the way men cut and laughed at him had become unbearable and he had determined to go to Japan, where he had one or two business opportunities.

A friend of the family gave out the statement today that when Strong and Miss Yohe left this city to go to San Francisco, Strong had $20,000 of his own. The purpose of this statement is

Roosevelt WANTS Littlefield

Washington, July 20.—There is no longer any doubt in Washington that President Roosevelt stands ready to throw the influence of the Administration to Representative Littlefield of Maine if he can be induced to become a candidate for speaker against General Henderson in the next Congress. Some go so far as to say that Littlefield is already being groomed by Administration leaders with this object in view. Close followers of the Administration do not deny that the President has decided leanings toward the Maine Representative for this high office, and that recent events point most decidedly in this direction.

The Administration does not disguise its dissatisfaction with the present leadership in the House. At the beginning of the one great fight of the session, Cuban reciprocity, the President found every one of the old leaders arrayed against him. It was only by the most persistent work on the part of the President that the House leadership was swung into line, and then it was thought that the Speaker and his immediate friends were working more to save their own prestige than the Administration's.

Littlefield was in open opposition to the Administration on this question, and very soon began to attract the attention of the President by his frankness and independence. The President told him frankly that while there were some things on which they had not agreed, there were many public questions on which they did hold common views, notably the issue of trusts. This led to a long conference between the two men, in which each freely expressed his views. It was after this that the report went abroad, which has never been denied by friends of the Administration, that Littlefield, at the President's invitation, had made a close alliance with the Administration, and might be looked upon as the Administration leader in the House. Now it is announced that the President will be Littlefield's guest in Maine.

to show that Strong did not live all the time on Miss Yohe's money, as she says he did. Lawyer Friend admitted last night that when Strong first began going around with Miss Yohe he had about $15,000, all of which, however, he soon spent.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 22.—There is every reason to believe that Putnam Bradlee Strong was seen in this city this afternoon. Graham S. Perry of a stock brokerage firm of Wall Street, who says he knows Strong personally, followed him some distance on the Duane Hotel turned and spoke to him. Strong at once, after a violent start, said, "You have made a mistake, sir; my name is Reed." He then walked hurriedly into the hotel through the office and came out through the side entrance to Ocean Avenue. Jumped into a bus and drove off in the direction of the railroad station.

PLACE FOR BYNUM.

Washington, July 18.—Henry Tichenor of Indiana, it is said, is to be appointed Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, to succeed General Spaulding soon to retire. Tichenor is a son of George M. Tichenor, recently deceased, who was a member of the Board of General Appraisers.

William D. Bynum is slated to succeed the elder Tichenor on the Board of Appraisers. Bynum dined with the President last night, returning today. He declined to discuss the matter, but from an authentic source it is learned that the President tendered the appointment to him. Bynum was appointed Appraiser by President McKinley as a Gold Democrat, but the Democrats of the Senate objected to his confirmation. If appointed now he will go in as a Republican.

GRIEF OF THE LAUNDRYMAN.

Cambridge, Md., July 16.—Tong Jack, a Chinese laundryman, made a remarkable demonstration of grief here yesterday at the funeral of James A. McAllister, who had saved him from the persecution of hoodlums ten years ago. During McAllister's last sickness the Chinese sent flowers and delicacies to him. When he died the grief of the Chinese was intense. Just before the funeral ceremony he went to the home and offered prayers. He hired thirty carriages for the funeral, so that all who desired might go, but he himself walked behind the hearse all the way from the church to the grave. He was clad in white from head to foot. When the grave had been filled Tong Jack covered it with flowers.

HER JEWELS PAID FOR.

New York, July 22.—Wherever Putnam Bradlee Strong may be, he is now safe from arrest on the charge of grand larceny made against him on Monday by Miss Yohe, as the Strong family settled that woman's claims against him today. A sum of money said to be between $15,000 and $20,000 was paid to Miss Yohe and her lawyer this afternoon in the office of Job E. Hedges, for many years the legal representative of the family, and in pursuance of her agreement Miss Yohe and her lawyer went at once to police headquarters, where they announced that they no longer wanted Strong arrested. Friends of Strong believe that he has gone back to Japan.

HOBSON FIGURES IN YOUNG LADY'S FOLLY

St. Louis, July 16.—But for the stork arm of Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson Miss May Cerf of 1907 La Salle street, East St. Louis, would have been drowned. She was standing on the deck of a river yacht when she passed the naval officer swimming in the water. She had met him before, and as she smiled at her, the girl called out banteringly: "If I should fall in, Captain Hobson, would you rescue me?" "I most certainly would," replied the Captain. The words had hardly left his mouth when there was a splash, and the girl sank in the waters of the Mississippi.

Captain Hobson realized the danger. He saw the joke had been carried dangerously far, and started with long, strong strokes for the spot where the girl had sunk. Albro Giberson of Elm, Ill., his companion, swam with him. To the terrified men and women on the deck of the yacht it seemed an age before Hobson reached the spot where the white sailor hat was last seen. Suddenly he dived, and after a few seconds, reappeared on the surface with his arm grasping the shoulders of the struggling girl. It was all the two men could do to keep the girl's head above water until the yacht was finally brought so close that those on board could assist in the rescue.

After a vigorous pounding and administration of restoratives Miss Cerf revived, very limp, but smiling. To one of her girl friends she said: "I know it was very foolish, but I knew I should be rescued."

Then she looked at Captain Hobson, who smiled rather grimly as he leaned against the dock rail. He congratulated her on her narrow escape from death and went into the cabin to put on his flannels.

SPooner FACTION DEFEATED

Madison, Wis., July 16.—The followers of Governor La Follette won a decisive victory over the so-called stalwarts and United States Senator John C. Spooner in the Republican State Convention here today. The strife was sharp and bitter, and there were exciting scenes on the convention floor, but the real battle was fought in the committee on resolutions, which was in session six hours and on which the convention waited until nearly 9 o'clock tonight. The committee came in with majority and minority reports. After a sharp and decisive contest the followers of La Follette carried the day, adopting the majority report, and adjourning the convention until tomorrow morning.

Baltimore, July 20.—A fierce tornado, characterized by a wind of extraordinary velocity, thunder, vivid lightning and a heavy rain, burst upon Baltimore at 1:30 p. m. today, coming from the southwest, with the net result that eleven persons lost their lives, hundreds of houses were unroofed, trees in the public parks and streets were torn up by the roots, many buildings damaged and several people injured. The storm exhausted its fury in less than fifteen minutes. The damage done in the business part of the city was comparatively slight, being confined to the blowing down of signs and injuries to roofs. It was in the residence portions, along the river front and in the harbor where the wind spent its violence.

Of those who perished nine were drowned in the harbor from open boats, one was killed by a falling tree and one by a live wire.
