TOO MUCH LIQUOR

Waialuku, Oct. 4.—Solomon Pettef, a native of Waiehe, made an attempt to end his life last evening between 9 and 10 o'clock. The row started from the wine glass, young Solomon, a six-footer, having imbibed too freely with the other members of the family. As length his sister uttered something that angered Solomon, who demanded an apology or he would do something rash. He had made this threat often, so no notice was paid to his utterances. Solomon repaired to his room and in an instant a pistol report was heard, and when his family entered his room he was found with a bullet wound on the side of his neck below the right ear. He was removed to Waialuku Hospital, where Dr. Weddick is attending to his wounds, which are not of a serious nature, and he may recover. Solomon is about 30 years old and was formerly a member of Company I. He severed his connection with the military long before the company received its arms, so Solomon's shooting propensities could not have been acquired while serving his apprenticeship as a private in the militia. Mr. Solomon's friends cannot account for his rash act, as he is considered a good-natured young man.

ALEXANDER HALL SOCIAL.

Waialuku, Oct. 4.—Miss Mary Huntington and Mrs. W. E. Beckwith of the Waialuku Kindergarten will tender a social at Alexander Hall this (Saturday) evening. OKOLEHAO STILL AT KAHALA FOUND BY POLICE

After a night of hard work and disappointed search Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth yesterday morning located another okolehao still and captured its owner. This still was situated in the algerobia and lantana covered country which lies mauka of the beach at Kahala on the other side of Diamond Head. The police have for a long time been aware of the fact that several of the Japanese who live there besides being engaged in the pig and honey business, were manufacturing okolehao, in most cases making the mash from the honey. The dense growth of lantana and algerobia and the ingenuity which the Japanese display in hiding their stills have, however, made it almost impossible to locate them.

It was about 1 o'clock Sunday morning when the deputy sheriff accompanied by Officer Dan Renner, a Japanese special and a Bulletin reporter, started from town in a surrey. After a rapid trip out to Kahala, the rig was left behind and the four men proceeded on foot into the tangled brush. The night was so dark that one could only see a couple of feet ahead and the dense tangle and bewildering trails also added to the difficulties.

The deputy sheriff knew the country well and for hours the party pushed along through the darkness, visiting all the Japanese clearings where it was suspected that a still might be. As it is the habit of the okolehao makers in this vicinity to have their stills in the tangled brush which surrounds their houses, close search was made for trails leading from the clearings but in the darkness, it was almost impossible to locate them as the entrances to these are so well hidden that it is a difficult matter to locate them even in the day time.

NEW PUUNENE HOSPITAL KEAHI'S FOOT WANDERS

WILL BE UP-TO-DATE IN EVERY PARTICULAR OPERATING ROOM MODELED AFTER BELLEVUE—DR. DINEGAR TO HAVE CHARGE. X-RAY MACHINE.

Waialuku, Oct. 4.—A new hospital is in course of construction at Camp 1, Puunene. The orders for the interior fixtures of the building have all gone to the States.

The operating apartments will be modeled after Bellevue Hospital, New York, in fact, it will be when completed an exact reproduction of that famous hospital. Everything in the room will be made of glass and iron with dressing cement floor and walls, and everything will be sterilized with steam. It will also be furnished with an electrical apparatus, and an X-ray machine will be a feature of the establishment. Gauze and surgical dressings will be manufactured at the hospital.

Outside patients will be received as special apartments will be provided for such patients. Arrangements have been completed with the Kahului Railroad Co. and Kihel Plantation Co. by which these corporations will have their employees received at the hospital at 75 cents per day. Dr. R. H. Dinegar, formerly of Kihel, will be in charge of the hospital, and expects to be ready for business on or about the first of December. The hospital will be not only up to date, but it will equal the best on the Islands in the way of modern appliances and arrangements, special pains having been taken for the comfort of the patients.

CAN'T VOTE THIS YEAR.

Waialuku, Oct. 4.—Chas. Buchanan of Molokai came over to Waialuku last Saturday to forswear his allegiance to King Edward VII, but he got here one day too late, as Judge Kalua had closed the special term for naturalizing aliens on the previous day. Mr. Buchanan made use of his time while here in renewing old acquaintances and in that way he felt himself quite repaid for the trouble he took to come to Waialuku, although he felt disappointed in losing his opportunity to vote this year for the Republican candidates.

After working almost the whole night without success, the party finally came to a Japanese house at about 6 o'clock in the morning. It was occupied by two men and a woman. The officers chatted with them a little while, whereupon the deputy sheriff left the others and began searching the edges of the clearing for trails. Presently he found a promising looking opening and followed by one of the men, he plunged down the narrow trail. After a few minutes the still was located and Chillingworth sang out to his followers to hurry back to the house and arrest the occupants. The Japanese, however, had had their suspicions aroused on seeing the officers go down the trail leading to the still and on seeing them returning on a run one of them, Ohara, who later on was found to be the guilty party, ran back of the house, carrying with him a bag.

The officers followed him and Ohara quickly threw the bag into the bushes. He was then caught by Renner while the other man found the bag, which contained a demijohn partly filled with okolehao. The still was a very good one and bore signs of recent use. Three large mash barrels were all empty, showing that the brew must have been a large one. The house was also searched and in it was found a new condenser, made from a kerosene tin and almost completed.

Ohara made a complete confession, acknowledging that he had made the okolehao and was the owner of the still. The other man he said had not been implicated in the business. As much of the still as could be conveniently packed away was taken along as evidence and the deputy took several pictures of the still. Ohara was brought along to town.

WALTER WRIGHT IN PRISON

Walter A. Wright, formerly deputy assessor and collector of taxes for Waimea, Kaula, is in Oahu prison awaiting trial for the embezzlement of $250 of public funds while holding that office. He was brought to town in the steamer W. G. Hall. Assistant Attorney General Douthett, who went up Kaula on the information brought here by Assessor Conant, met Wright at Waimea. Sheriff Conroy and Mr. Conant assisted in the interview, the result of which was a confession of the crime by Wright. Mr. Conant stated that about $630 of the shortage was committed to Treasurer W. H. Wright. This amount is debited to the account of the higher officials' theft, as it seems he never turned into the treasury this amount restituted by his brother.

Walter A. Wright is held under commitment to the March term of the Fifth Circuit Court, the Lihue magistrate having fixed the amount of bail at $6000.

STRANGE KAHUNA STORY TOLD BY DR. MOURITZ

Puko, Molokai, Sept. 26.—Miss Margaret Tollefson of Waialua severely injured her arm by being thrown from her horse. Edgar Morton of Maui, did not leave on the Lehua with the crowd. He has charge of the finances of the party that has been traveling with the Board of Registration. Chas. Buchanan has gone to Waialuku to be naturalized. Dr. Mouritz tells a true and interesting kahuna story. It seems that some time ago Sam Kekahuna and Keahi Ulu went out duck shooting together in Waialua valley. Keahi was accidentally shot in the foot by his companion. He was taken home and put to bed and the best kahunas in the valley were summoned to treat him.

For five days Keahi was treated by the several weird ways known to these natives but all the time his foot got worse and worse and even the kahunas say that he was about to die. As a last resort Dr. Mouritz was sent for and upon his arrival found that the only chance in the world to save the man's life was to cut the injured foot off. The sick man's friends would not stand for this at first but after considerable persuasion they allowed the doctor to perform the operation. In the course of a few days the man died and was buried but not in the same grave with the foot which had been cut off.

Now the funny side of the story comes. Since Keahi died all the natives residing in Waialua valley have been unable to sleep well as the severed foot goes from house to house every night knocking upon the doors trying to find Keahi's body. This self same foot even sneaks up behind the poor innocent natives while they are stooped over at work in their taro patches and kicks them in the back for ever allowing Keahi's body to be cut up and buried in different places.

"Jim" Hill Defends The Big Combines

St. Paul, Sept. 27.—In an address at the Grant county fair at Elbow Lake last evening, President J. J. Hill of the Great Northern Railway and of the Northern Securities Company, said: "Your chairman said that there are a great many people apprehensive of the great industrial enterprises which are being carried on and well they may be. There are so-called industrial enterprises whose only industry is in running printing presses to print shares of stock. I tell you if there is no harm in an enterprise, if there are five or ten of them that are good there is no bad in them and when you put them together there is no bad in the entire mass. But if the object is to get something for nothing, to get something that does not belong to them, that get money out of another man's pocket, the money he has worked for and put into their own—if that is the object it is all wrong, but some of these great enterprises are absolutely sound and right."

Continuing, Mr. Hill said: "Some people advocate, our President advocates, turning everything over to Congress. What sort of a Congress would we have after a while if all the business of the country were turned over to it? I think they would be doing business in the hall of Congress, but the business they would do would not bring business to you that you want. I think I should hold every man responsible for himself and his own acts. If he does wrong punish him; if he does right, protect him. When that is done those persons will take care of themselves."

Mr. Hill told how his efforts toward reducing rates on grain had been thwarted by the consolidation of the lake boats in making a corresponding raise.

"What did we do then?" said Mr. Hill. "We built six schooners to carry grain from Superior to Buffalo and the other boats have not secured a dividend since. We did not want to go into elevator business at Buffalo, but we had to in order to keep the other elevators from overcharging and working other extortions. As a result the elevator charges of Buffalo are now half a cent a bushel where it was 1 1/2 cents."
