HEAD OF MAUNAOLU.

Waialuku, Feb. 28.—Manager D. C. Lindsay, of Pala plantation, acting on behalf of the Board of Trustees of Maunaolu Seminary, has written to Miss Snow of Hampton Institute to take charge of the seminary in place of Miss Mary E. Alexander, the present incumbent, who tendered her resignation to the board six months ago and which was accepted with much reluctance. Miss Snow is said to be well conversant with all the industrial branches of Hampton Institute, a fact which has strongly induced the trustees to secure her services. Miss Correll, an assistant at Kawahau Seminary, will be the next choice should Miss Snow prefer to continue in her present post.

DEATH OF DR. REID

Hilo, Feb. 27.—Dr. R. H. Reid died at his home in this city Thursday night of last week after being confined to his bed two days. The cause of his death was heart failure.

The funeral was Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Hall Church and was one of the largest ever held in Hilo. At the church, the members of Company D were in charge. The Elks and Knights of Pythias officiated at the grave.

The church was packed to more than its seating capacity. The militia and the two fraternal organizations were present in a body. The casket was covered with floral offerings. The service in the church was simple. Music was rendered by the choir; prayer was offered by Rev. S. L. Desha and Rev. Mr. Nash read from the scripture. The procession to the grave was led by the Company of National Guard to which deceased belonged. The Knights of Pythias followed. Then came the Elks, then the hearse and carriages. The pall bearers were: W. H. Smith, C. P. Benton, A. Humburg, Chr. Castendyck, Robert Hawhurst, Jr., and A. W. Richardson. The only relative to follow the remains to the grave was the widow, the mother of the deceased, Mrs. C. L. Stobie, being prostrated by the shock and under the care of a physician.

At the grave the impressive burial service of the Elks was pronounced. The amaranth of the Elks and the myrtle of the Knights were dropped into the open grave. The firing squad from Company D fired the salute and the bugle sounded. The crowd thereupon dispersed.

Dr. Reginald H. Reid was born in Michigan, 29 years ago. He was a brilliant student and at an early age graduated from the Detroit College of Medicine. He finished his professional education with a post graduate course in the University of Berlin.

He was for one year police surgeon for the city of Detroit, and was house surgeon at St. Luke's Hospital in that city for one year.

In 1896 he came to the Hawaiian Islands and has been since that time on the staff of government physicians at different stations.

In 1897 he married Miss Bernice Stansfeld Halstead, who with Carol, their only child, survives him.—Tribune.

A TELEPHONE WANTED.

Although every store on home of any importance in the town of Lihue, Kauai, is furnished with a telephone, the post office, around which centers the interest of every citizen, irrespective of nationality, is forced to do without one. Frequently people of Lihue desire information which is there by a telephone in the post office, would save them many a trip and much valuable time. Citizens of Lihue and other parts of the island have been kicking for some time on the state of affairs but have not yet succeeded in getting a telephone installed at the post office.

HAWAII WAS GOLD

Hilo, Feb. 27.—The snow on Mauna Kea this week crept down from the summit a distance of more than a mile. It touched the summits around Kailua hills, which are below the 7000-foot line. Gold trade winds have blown across the windward side of Hawaii every day this week, and teeth have chattered every morning from Mahukona to Kalapana.

At Puna, on W. H. Shipman's ranch, thirty-one miles from Hilo, the thermometer registered 30 degrees above zero Wednesday, February 18th. On the 19th it was 10 degrees warmer; the 20th the temperature was 38 and on the following day 36. These readings were taken by Mr. Shipman at 6 o'clock a. m. each day.

At night Hilo is swept by mountain breezes which pass over an area of snow and ice wider in extent than has been known on this island for many years. The effect has been remarkable on the climate, even at the ocean's edge, where the tropical billows of the Pacific sigh in vain for the whiffling bather at Coconut Island.—Tribune.

OGG GOES TO PAHALA

Waialuku, Feb. 28.—W. G. Ogg, assistant manager of Waialuku plantation, has accepted a similar position at Pahala plantation, Kau, Hawaii. Mr. Ogg has had a varied experience as a sugar planter, having served in various capacities at Makaweli, Waianae, Paia and other plantations. He was for a number of years the successful head tona of the Waialae branch of Waialuku sugar plantation and is considered a very shrewd sugar planter. Mrs. Ogg will be greatly missed from this community, where she has won the hearts of her numerous associates by her sunny disposition and genial manners. They will leave for Hawaii next week.

HILO BOARDING SCHOOL.

Hilo, Feb. 27.—The plans for the new building at Hilo Boarding School are gradually assuming shape under the architect's supervision. Preliminary work on the grounds is already being done. The old building erected in 1856, which has served its purpose for forty-seven years, was moved back during the Christmas vacation to a point about one hundred feet in the rear of the original site. Here it will continue to be used for class-room purposes until the new building is completed. After which the plan is to use it for a work shop for the manual training department.—Tribune.

MAUITES WORKING

The committee of seven appointed by Senator S. E. Ka'aine at a public meeting held in Waialuku some weeks ago, held several sessions this week to consider matters relating to much needed improvements in Waialuku District. The proposed memorial to the Legislature by the committee is not quite ready but will be sent down as soon as all the necessary data are gathered in. Magistrate W. A. McKay, chairman of the committee, has compiled in statistical form, a table showing the resources (from taxes and other sources and also what has actually been spent in Waialuku. Last year, nearly $95,000 were collected from all sources in Waialuku alone, taking in taxes, court fees, both inferior and superior courts, etc., but in figuring out the contra, less than half was spent in Waialuku, counting the pay of officials and what had been expended on public roads, bridges, etc. The committee were of the opinion that if the revenues raised by Waialuku alone in years past were expended in Waialuku, this town would vie with the ancient city of Rome in the matter of public improvements. The committee were pleased to learn of the measures already introduced in the House by Representative Kellinoh, but the appropriation was not sufficient in a few instances. About $15,000 would be asked for repairing and regrading Iao road. Iao Valley has been declared by many and by Senator Clark of Wyoming to be the Yosemite of Hawaii. If this road is opened up it would be an incentive to tourists. Tantalus Heights are beautiful but Iao Valley is beyond comparison.

The committee have also sent out petitions for signatures in favor of Waialuku as county seat. Those who are canvassing for signatures in East Maui are meeting with great success. The committee of five of the Waialuku Republican Precinct Club, who have been entrusted with the arduous task of making suggestions in re provisions of the County Bill, are ready to report. Sheriff L. M. Baldwin is chairman of this committee and the Legislature will soon hear from them. The Maui police watch with a great deal of interest the proceedings of both branches of the Legislature, but Spenser Beckley's House Committee have caused no small amount of adverse comment.

Among the recommendations by this committee will be county control of schools, consolidation of tax assessor and collector as one; election of district magistrates, etc.

PEARL HARBOR DEPTHS

The statement in the Advertiser that "now that there is a depth of twenty-six feet of water on the Pearl Harbor bar, the Cummins can enter and steam clear around Ford's island," caused a smile all along the front Saturday. The Cummins is one of the few vessels which have always been able to enter the harbor at Pearl River and last Saturday day took a crowd of people down to see the races there.
