That aggregation of Senators and Congressmen will be a source of great pleasure to Honolulu. The first question that will be asked, however, is "Which one is Alice Roosevelt?"

WORK THROUGH THE DELEGATE.

The secret of Hawaii's success at the last session of Congress is found in the fact that the work was done by and through the Delegate, the man elected by the people to represent them.

This thought runs through the remarks of Secretary McClellan though he does not say so in so many words. And the people of Hawaii who have yet to be convinced of this fact and act accordingly are just so far distant from an appreciation of the spirit of the United States Congress.

SPITE PROGRAMS.

Honesty is the best policy. The investigation of the twilit social evil problem has not demonstrated that there has been any graft or official or semi-official corruption. The law, the Edmunds law, has not been enforced, but this was done with the absolute cooperation of Territorial and Federal representatives and the community as well.

Those who were behind the furor with its imputations of personal and official graft have made an ignominious failure in their struggle to besmear the reputation of individuals and officials. The only thing brought out as a strong characteristic is the evidence of personal spite on the part of those who think they are operating in secret.

If Carter, Henry, Cooper or any others associated are to be condemned for the situation at twilit, then United States Judge Dole is in a thousand times more serious position for failure as the judicial officer of the United States to call attention to the condition and stop it. Judge Dole has known of what was going on at twilit and he no doubt believes it has had the support of public opinion. No one doubts what Estee would have done.

The men who have stirred up the subject to carry out purely spiteful aims must discover when brought before the bar of public opinion that honesty on their part would have been the best policy. The public understands their motives.

Much the same state of affairs is found to exist as the investigation of the Molokai trip and President Pinkham's acts on that occasion, develop. Testimony given before the committee proven to the satisfaction of honest-minded men that it is preposterous to attempt to saddle upon Pinkham the responsibility for irregularities or infractions of the law at the Settlement on an occasion when every pre-conceived plan was upset by wind and sea. Had Pinkham done what it is claimed by those most viciously attacking him, the chances are ten to one that there would have been an inquiry to determine what right he had to interfere with people who were practically guests of the legislators.

sten. This might be said of any officer of any government. But those reasons have not been made known in a manner that would convince anyone, who did not have a personal spite against the officer or a friend who is wanted in his place. The people are not slow to catch the drift of spite-work and personal animosity when it figures in public affairs.

TAX LAW AND COUNTY.

The tax law just passed by the House and awaiting action by the Senate is vital to the establishment of local self-government in this Territory as the County law itself. The friends of County government must be as solicitous for its speedy passage as they are for the completion of the County law, and any failure on the part of the legislators to support this measure and put it beyond the danger line of possible veto can only be interpreted as a failure to fulfill the solemn pledge to the people made by every member.

The tax law has been slow in its progress. Whether this was intentional or not may or may not be obvious later. Under any circumstances there is no doubt as to what should be done now. A move to delay it in committees or slight it in any way thereby setting the time of its passage back, will be a move to jeopardize the whole County scheme.

Enemies of local self-government would like nothing better than the failure of this or any other measure associated with the success of County government.

It is up to the friends of the people, their true representatives, to be watchful—and active themselves.

Senate Amendments To County Bill Not Concurred In

REFERRED TO CONFERENCE COMMITTEE. FORTY-SECOND DAY. The County Bill, House Bill No. 1, as prepared by the County Commission for the action of the Legislature, as amended and passed in the House, and as further amended and passed in the Senate, and as sent back to the House for consideration of amendments, came up for discussion in the House this forty-second day of the session and occupied a word-crowded hour.

Finally, a motion to the effect that the House do not concur in the Senate's amendments was carried and a committee of seven was appointed, to confer with a similar committee from the Senate on the final handling of the most important measure of the session. Speaker Knudsen named the following to serve on this committee: First District, Rep. Fernandez. Second District, Rep. Holstein. Third District, Rep. Hala. Fourth District, Rep. Harris. Fifth District, Rep. Waterhouse. Sixth District, Rep. Rice. At Large, Rep. Aylett.

There were three motions before the House in a very short space of time, after prayers had been said and the minutes read, in relation to the County Bill: 1. Rep. Aylett, not to concur in the Senate amendments. 2. Rep. Holstein, to concur in all amendments except that pertaining to Section 12a: "The Board of Supervisors of each county with the exception of the County of Oahu, shall consist of one member from each district. The Board of Supervisors of the County of Oahu shall consist of seven members—4 from Honolulu, 2 from Iwa, 1 from Waianae and Waialua, and 1 from Koolauloa and Koolahoukai." 3. Rep. Kanoho, to refer to a conference committee.

Rep. Kalino, referring to promises made for county government, suggested that unless this Legislature gave to the people a system of county government, the people mock their representatives as faithless. Senators, if their amendments killed the bill, might have to hide and avoid the hailstorm of sticks and stones aimed for their faces. (Continued on Page 5.)

OREGONIAN IN FROM PUGET SOUND PORTS

The American-Hawaiian steamship Oregonian came into port this morning, ten days out from Puget Sound. The Oregonian sighted Koko Head shortly after 9 o'clock last night, and anchored off Diamond Head at midnight, lying there until this morning. She came into the harbor early, and after the usual maneuvering in the harbor mud, tied up at the A.-H. dock at 8:30 o'clock.

The Oregonian left Seattle on the night of Saturday, March 25, and made the run in slightly over ten days, being delayed somewhat by storms. On Sunday, March 26, the big freighter ran into a storm off Cape Flattery, and during all the rest of the trip the weather was disagreeable. The cargo of the Oregonian is all low down in the hold, and the vessel rolled badly, in spite of water-ballast. On last Sunday another storm was encountered, not so severe as the first. A heavy groundswell was reported during the early part of the trip.

The Oregonian carries about 3,000 tons of freight. The principal item in the list is 1700 tons of coal. Honolulu's threatened coal famine has proved so threatening, after all, but the arrival of this shipment is timely, and any shortage will be filled now.

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME

Are Never Without Peruna in the House for Catarrhal Diseases.

W. D. WATSON, Clovis, Fresno County, Cal., writes: "God bless you for what you have done for me. The rheumatism has all disappeared, and today all exclaim, 'How well you look!' I tell them you, and I owe it all to Dr. Hartman for his good advice to me. To-day finds me as free from pain as I ever was. The rainy season has set in here, but the change hasn't affected me as it used to. I am very thankful that I have found out that you can and will help the suffering ones that will follow your advice. Several have asked me what the medicine is, and I tell them. They get the medicine then. We keep Peruna in the house. My daughter has two rooms, and they keep well and go to school, and they take the medicine every day." "My wife was troubled with a pain in her side for years. Now she is taking your medicine and is real smart. I will do all for you and for those who need your advice." Mr. J. O. Atkinson, Independence, Mo., Box 272, writes: "Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more. Catarrh cannot exist where Peruna is taken according to directions. I am completely cured by wife and I of catarrhal troubles of twenty-five years standing. In my opinion as a traveling man I am a walking advertisement of Peruna." "For special directions everyone should read 'The Ills of Life,' a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Peruna is for sale by all chemists and druggists at one dollar per bottle, or six bottles for five dollars. Those wishing direct correspondence with Dr. Hartman and can wait the necessary delay in receiving a reply should address Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A. Benson, Smith & Co. will supply the retail drug trade in Honolulu." "Who Old People are Especially Liable to Systemic Catarrh. When old age comes on, catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people. This explains why Peruna has become so indispensable to old people. Peruna is their safeguard. Peruna is the only remedy yet devised that meets these cases exactly. Such cases cannot be treated locally; nothing but an effective systemic remedy could cure them. This is exactly what Peruna is. If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O."
